

WKNZ, WNKZ, WNJH, WNJB Programs & Issues 4th Quarter
October, November, December 2023

Issue: Medical Debt Relief

(11/30/23) Duration: 2 minutes, done twice

Program: “Bridging the Gap” and “The Morning Show with Bill, Denise & Chris”

Hosts Bill Sammons, Denise Harper and Chris Scotland shared the medical debt need for Delmarva and how the Chick-fil-A’s in the region were tackling a million dollars of medical debt. The mission was to raise $10,000 from customers and partnering with RIP Medical Debt to buyout $1 million worth of medical debt.

The portion of programming is also available in full on the station website and was shared via social media.

Issue: Arts & Education

(12/19/23 8am hour) Duration: 30 minutes

Program: “Bridging the Gap” and “The Morning Show with Bill, Denise & Chris”

Hosts Bill Sammons, Denise Harper and Chris Scotland interviewed local educator, Jolene Workman. She is part of the Woodbridge High School Arts staff, and brought the Ensemble Choir and Handbell Choir to the studio to discuss and show the importance of arts and music in schools. This was also a stop on their day long tour of sharing these talents in our community. Workman welcomed the public to attend a Christmas concert even, that evening to see in person.

The portion of programming is also available in full on the station website and was shared via social media.

Issue: International Poverty and Human Trafficking

(11/10/2023) Duration: 7 minutes

Program: “Bridging the Gap” and “The Afternoon Show with Mark Dickey”

Host Mark Dickey interviewed comedian and found of CUPS International, Mike Williams about his organization and how they are working to help reduce poverty and trafficking in the Dominican Republic and Malawi Africa, by teaching locals a trade to help the supply financial assistance to their family, and with local churches to help bring young boys and girls out of trafficking situations. Dickey and Williams were joined by national recording artist, Coby James.

Williams then invited people to join them for a comedy extravaganza fundraiser, and awareness raiser on November 10, 2023.

The portion of programming is also available in full on the station website and was shared via social media.