This week on In Focus, from IRSC Public Media, BlueBird Educational Foundation President Darryl Bey. He joins us to talk about the 'Jazz Master Class and Concert' with the Melton Mustafa Jr. Jazz Quintet that will happen here at Indian River State College on Wednesday January 17th. It's more than just a Jazz concert, for a select group of high school students, its an all-day event that offers them an opportunity to learn about jazz directly from those that make the music.

Then, the Co-Chair of the Caribbean American Cultural Group's MLK Scholarship Committee, Frances Coke, will be with us. She'll talk about their annual Celebration of Equity on the Martin Luther King Jr. Holiday coming up on Monday January 15th. The Caribbean American Cultural Group is celebrating its 40th year, and they hold this annual event to remind the community that Dr. King's message remains as relevant today as in the past.

This week on In Focus, with IRSC Public Media, we begin with the Martin County Taxpayers Association. Executive Director Darlene VanRiper and Vice President Tom Campenni will tell us about their non-partisan, non-profit, that is made up almost entirely of citizen volunteers. Founded in 1950, the Association has been keeping tabs on the County's spending of taxpayer funds for 73 years. They're not anti-tax, they're anti-waste. Their goal is to ensure that taxpayer funds are spent wisely.

Then we'll talk about the 7th Annual Highwaymen Heritage Trail Art Show and Festival, with Kimberlee Hinton, the Community Resource Specialist for the City of Fort Pierce. It's happening next weekend, on Saturday February 17 here in Fort Pierce, and some of the Highwaymen will be there to paint new pictures. It's a festival so there will also be food and music and a kids zone, as well as lessons on how to paint, like a Highwayman.

| This week on In Focus, with IRSC Public Media, its Juice and Jazz at the Backus museum next weekend on Sunday March 3. Backus Museum Ex. Dir. Marshall Adams is here with the details about this outdoor concert event with live music from the Fort Pierce Jazz and Blues Society. It gets underway at 10:30 Sunday morning and lasts until half past noon. It's one of the museums signature annual events. When Juice and Jazz winds down, a raffle will be held for an original masterpiece of Florida art from Guy Harvey whose depictions of marine life are known world wide. Then it's the annual Port St. Lucie Women's fashion show. Tickets are going fast for this well known annual event. It's happening on Saturday April 27 at the Harbor Ridge County Club. The theme this year is - "Boots and Bling"! The President of 'Port St. Lucie Business Women', Christina Lofthus joins us, along with past President Devon Dwyer. The fun is all for a good cause, scholarships for women at Indian River State College, and grants for women entering business. Over the last 40 years, 'Port St. Lucie Business Women' have given more than 300-thousand dollars to help young women start their own business. | 2/23/2024 | 2/24/2024 | 2/24/2024 |

| This week on in Focus with IRSC Public Media, we get an in depth look at the changes that have taken place at the Elliott Museum in Stuart. Rob Steele is in the studio, he's the President and CEO of the Historical Society of Martin County, which oversees the Elliott. The big story at the museum right now, says Rob is King Tut, a landmark exhibit for the museum which has drawn in big crowds. Rob will also talk about the history of the Elliott, and the House of Refugee, which is also overseen by the Historical Society. Both underwent an overhaul during the COVID pandemic, and re-opened with a brand new look. Then we welcome Antoinette Rolle, the Healthcare Administrator of the Homecare Program for the Council on Aging St. Lucie. The Council provides many critical services for seniors in the county, including Meals on Wheels. The Council is not a state or county agency, they are an independent non-profit and they need your support. Last year, for budgetary reasons, St. Lucie County dropped its financial support. So, the Council on Aging has now turned to fund raising. Their biggest fundraiser of the year is in September, and this year they're calling it - The 'Denim and Diamonds' fundraiser. Antoinette will tell us about their fund raising efforts and how you can help. | 3/1/2024 | 3/2/2024 | 3/2/2024 |
