LOST AT SEA

ABC News Correspondent Linzie Janis speaks exclusively to Nathan Carman about his rescue from the ill-fated fishing trip that claimed his mother's life. Nathan claims it was an accident that sunk his fishing boat, but authorities are still investigating the circumstances of her disappearance on September 17, 2016. Nathan and his mother, Linda, left a Rhode Island marina sailing far out to sea to fish for tuna. When they did not return, the Coast Guard sent out a search team. Seven days later a freighter rescued Nathan from a small life raft, but Linda was nowhere to be found. 20/20 reports.

EXCLUSIVE INTERVIEW: LEANNA TAYLOR

In an exclusive interview, Amy Robach speaks with Leanna Taylor about the tragic death of her 22-month-old son Cooper Harris in a hot car. On a routine day when, her now ex-husband, Justin Ross Harris drove to work, he left him in the car instead of dropping Cooper at daycare. Detectives questioned whether this was a tragic accident or deliberate crime. However, Leanna's defense of her husband were scrutinized, causing police to question her possible involvement, but she was never charged. Ross was found guilty of multiple charges and sentenced to life in prison. Leanna plans to raise awareness about hot car deaths, hoping to stop them from happening.

A BOY NAMED LUCAS

ABC News Chief Investigative Correspondent Brian Ross and the ABC News investigative team follow the journey of 16-year-old gay teen Lucas Greenfield, who was sent by his mother to a series of Christian-run youth camps in Alabama that practice so-called “gay conversion therapy” for teens, where Lucas says beatings were commonplace.

Around the country the issue of “gay conversion therapy” remains highly controversial, with five states now making it illegal for a licensed mental health care practitioner to practice. However, the “20/20” investigation found teenagers being sent too often to secretive, Christian-run residential youth camps across the country that claim they can change the declared sexual orientation of their children.

DISAPPEARANCE OF KELSIE SCHELLING

Kelsie Schelling mysteriously vanished into thin air in Pueblo, Colorado, over three years ago. The family says surveillance video, text messages and other evidence point to her boyfriend's involvement; yet, to their outrage, police have not yet classified the case as a homicide and have not charged him with a crime. But then a series of Facebook messages to Kelsie's mother raise new theories. "20/20" Correspondent Ryan Smith investigates. (Rebroadcast. ABC OAD: 5/13/16)

WHAT THE CAMERA DIDN'T SEE

Nique Leili was found dead a week after going missing. Her family suspected husband Matt, who filed for divorce within days of her disappearance. He claimed Nique was "crazy" and that she stormed off. Their two young daughters, steadfastly supported their father, even posting a long YouTube video defending him. Matt, who had installed 21 cameras and other surveillance devices in his home, always keeping a constant watch on the spouse he did not trust, refused to help police with their investigation. Nearly four years later, prosecutors determined there was enough evidence to charge Matt and take the case to trial. Jim Avila reports. (OAD: 2/19/16)

PROFESSOR MURDERED

"20/20" dives into an alleged murder-for-hire case that investigators suspect is the result of a fatal family feud. When criminal law professor, Dan Markel, is shot, police only have one clue to follow, an eyewitness report of a green Prius fleeing the scene. Police trace that green Prius back to two alleged hit men, Sigfredo Garcia and Luis Rivera, someone police say is a leader of the Latin Kings Gang in Miami. Police are stumped, why would Sigfredo and Luis want Markel dead? After a lengthy investigation police suspect Markel's ex-brother-in-law Charlie Adelson may have hired these alleged hit men. Markel and Wendi Adelson had bitterly divorced a few years earlier, and when he refused to let their children move hours away to live closer to her family in south Florida, her family was furious. ABC News Correspondent Matt Gutman reports. (OAD: 9/16/16)
