Voters in Massachusetts are raising serious questions about Question One.

So, before you vote, here's what you need to know:

Question One creates a government mandate that would make it illegal for nurses to care for even one more patient beyond a set quota.

A cookie-cutter approach to healthcare, with rigid staffing ratios at every hospital.

Massachusetts hospitals are rated best in the nation – and every hospital is saying “vote no on Question One.”

A coalition of more than one hundred leading health organizations is opposed, including the Massachusetts Medical Society, the Emergency Nurses Association, and the Massachusetts College of Emergency Physicians.

The consequences are real: your hospital won't be able to care for as many patients...your wait times will increase...and your costs will skyrocket.

Question One: It puts patients at risk...and that patient could be you.

Vote No on One.

Paid for by the Coalition to Protect Patient Safety.

AFTER AIRING OF BROADCASTS:

Note: Because the FCC requires that the political file contain the actual time the rate for spots "communicating a political matter of national importance" air, that information should be included in the file as soon as possible. If that information is only generated monthly, the file should include the name of a contact person who can provide the times that and rates for specific spots aired. The FCC's online political files include a folder for "Terms and Disclosures." NAB suggests that, for stations subject to the online public file rule, the names of contact person(s) be placed in that folder.
