In our ongoing effort to serve the public interest, station KFIL broadcasts programming responsive to issues of concern to Preston, MN and the surrounding service area. Following is a list of those issues, and of the station's most significant programming treatment of them.

Access Minnesota Played on Saturdays on KFIL-FM and AM at 8:45 a.m. to 9:15 a.m. This weekly public affair show features noted academics, authors, politicians and business leaders engaging in common sense conversations about compelling and relevant issues in the state of Minnesota, across the nation, and around the globe. Topics include:

January

January 7th Autism and Neurodiversity - In recent decades, significant attention has been paid to the civil rights of the physically disabled; but the same cannot be said for those suffering from mental disabilities such as autism. This week, the social stigmas attached to autism and how we can better understand autism through the lens of neurodiversity. This interview originally aired in January 2016.

January 14th Nondisclosure Agreements and Sexual Harassment - Hollywood producer Harvey Weinstein is facing multiple accusations of sexual misconduct dating back to 1990. Several of these incidences did not become public because Weinstein paid the women cash settlements that included nondisclosure agreements. This week, a look at how NDAs contribute to sexual harassment in the workplace and how these agreements are being reconsidered in the wake of the #MeToo movement.

January 21st Why Diets Don't Work - The dieting industry in America rakes in around $20 billion annually, yet some experts say that dieting simply doesn't work for most people. This week, a look at the science behind diets and strategies for healthier eating. This is a rebroadcast from July 2015.

January 28th Words of 2017 - What were some of the most used and significant words of 2017? This week, a look at what dictionaries chose this year and a discussion on the evolution and changing meanings of words in the English language.

February

February 4th Abuse Prevention for Vulnerable Adults - From physical harm to financial exploitation, many older Minnesotans in need of care are exposed to abuse. This week, a look at the risk factors, how to spot abuse and how Minnesota is working to prevent abuse in vulnerable adults. This show originally aired in February 2017.

February 11th 2018 Elections - Minnesotans head to the polls in November to vote for their members of Congress, State Legislators and the state's constitutional officers. Democrats are hoping to gain seats in Congress and the State Legislature, while Republicans strategize to maintain their majorities in both bodies. This week, a look at the up-coming 2018 elections.

February 18th Dental Care for Children - Many young Minnesota children from low-income families lack access to dental care. When oral health issues arise, caregivers often seek temporary and expensive treatment in hospital emergency rooms, but there's a simple and low-cost procedure that can protect kids from developing cavities. This week, the benefits of applying fluoride varnish to children's teeth.

February 25th Rise of Probation - The probation system, as we know it, dates back to the Progressive Era and was created to provide offenders with a supervised path to reintegrate into society. Contemporary critics say that probation is often arbitrarily enforced and is frequently a pipeline back to prison. This week, problems with our current probation system and its disproportionate impacts on African Americans.

March

March 4th Supreme Court Decisions - The US Supreme Court is the final arbiter of legal issues that can alter the course of history; yet, much of its decision-making process takes place in private. A citizen scientist research project aims to shed light on these closed-door deliberations.

March 11th Danger Associated with Oil - Oil is the lifeblood of industrialized countries. It powers our vehicles, produces electricity, is used in many products and allows us to wage war; but, oil consumption also takes an environmental and, sometimes, a human toll. This week, how our appetite for oil, puts us at risk.

March 18th The Gist of Reading - We live in an era of so-called fake news. Much of this misinformation is spread via social media and while we generally assume that we can separate fact from fiction, psychological research suggests otherwise. This week, a look at how the written word can distort our perception of reality.

Minnesota Matters is a public radio service that talks about what is on the minds of Minnesotans and how it can affect them. Minnesota Matters aired on Saturday on KFIL-FM from 8:45am to 9:15am.
