

Issue	Date	Time	Duration	Show	Segment Title	Description
sports	07/03/18		15	Morning	Moneyball	Our senior sports correspondent LaToya "Moneyball" Smith checks in to talk about NBA free agency. We're only 2 days into this year's free agency and already we've seen the stars of the league trade in their old jerseys for new ones. Money tells us what it all means for the league.
technology	07/03/18		45	Morning	Tech talk	Mike McGee is Director of Programs at CodeNow, a non-profit transforming underrepresented youth into coders, designers and product managers. He is also our senior tech correspondent bringing us the latest in tech talk. This morning he bring us news from Google. The tech giant says it doesn't go through your inbox anymore, but it lets other apps do it. Though you may know them for their car service, lyft just became America's biggest bike share company. And finally the App of the Week! Curie: the healthy way to work. Forget back and neck pain, reduce the risk of serious health problems from sitting all day. This app shows you how.
arts	07/05/18		15	Morning	Featured interview	Chicago Hip Hop artist Fury recently released her psychedelic and wavy Ep, Black Magic. The album is her first recorded with a live band and has the talented MC navigating topics such as Black girl magic and Black boy joy, the commodification of Black culture, and the idea of karma.
arts	07/06/18		15	Morning	And ya don't stop	Vocalo's very own swag master general and senior Hip Hop correspondent Gabe Mendoza comes to the table with a review of Drake's new album Scorpius. Find out if its fuego, mild sauce, or ketchup.
arts	07/06/18		45	Morning	The Reel Critic	Reggie "The Reel Critic" Ponder is Vocalo's senior film correspondent and is in studio this week to discuss which movies were winners at last weekend's box office. As usual he'll also talk about new releases and community	07/09/18		15	Morning	Dan Ryan Shut Down	Saturday, hundreds of protestors took over all northbound lanes of traffic on Interstate 94, the Dan Ryan Expressway, to protest gun violence in the Chicago. The "Dan Ryan Shut Down," as it was billed, was organized by Chicago Strong, a group of students advocating to reduce gun-related deaths in the city. WBEZ reporter Michael Puente was at the scene and joins the Amp with the details of yesterday's protest.
social medi	07/09/18		45	Morning	Hashtag	Curtis Shaw Flagg is the operations manager at Laugh Factory Chicago, and the Director of Marketing for Open Books. He's also Vocalo's senior social media correspondent and brings us trending news from the web and beyond. Facebook has confirmed a "Your Time on Facebook" feature that would show users how much time they spend using the service over the last week and the average time spent for the total week. Gulp. Recently, details about one of Facebook's patents surfaced where it describes technology that could be used for activating the microphone of a user's device to listen as TV ads are being watched. The viral #PlaneBae story is raising some serious questions about how creepy social media arts	07/10/18	15	Morning , Snoop retrospective	West Coast entertainer has a career that has spanned more than 2 decades, multiple album releases, movies and more. The prolific artists has never shied away from taking risks especially when it comes to shifting his sound away from rap. Now, the born again Christian has a gospel record ujder his belt called Bible of Love. To mark the occasion the Morning Amp will look back on the illustrious career of Calvin Broadus arts	07/10/18	15	Morning , Live From Studio 10	Latin-Soul singer Lester Rey grew up in Chicago's Humboldt Park and began his musical journey playing congas in church. Equally inspired by his Puerto-Rican musical heritage – the sounds of Bomba, Rumba, Boogaloo and Reggaeton, as well as contemporary influences of Hip Hop, Footwork and Trap, Lester has found a unique voice to express himself artistically and address global issues like justice, peace and equality. We're excited to welcome the talented artist in our studio to talk about his musical journey and his music live. This morning you'll hear a preview of

technology	07/10/18	45	Morning , Tech talk	Mike McGee is Director of Programs at CodeNow, a non-profit transforming underrepresented youth into coders, designers and product managers. He is also our senior tech correspondent bringing us the latest in tech talk. YouTube is adding “authoritative” context to search results about conspiracy-prone topics like the Moon landing and the Oklahoma City Bombing, as well as putting $25 million toward news outlets producing videos. It's the 10-year anniversary of the App Store! As the App Store turns 10, how have apps improved your life?
arts	07/12/18	15	Morning , New music	Akenya is a multi-genre singer, pianist, composer, and arranger. Her music places a strong emphasis on jazz and incorporates elements of hip-hop, funk, pop, classical, and world music. The talented artist has collaborated with artists like Chance the Rapper, Smino and Mavis Staples. This morning we premier Akenya's new song Decay.
community	07/12/18	15	Morning , Bridges	The Marriott Foundation Bridges program helps young adults, with disabilities ages 18 to 24, with job placement and retention. Shebtufi Kushma of the Marriott Foundation joins the Amp to talk about the initiative and their upcoming open house.
social justic	07/12/18	45	Morning , Peace Council	Mario Smith is a media personality and cultural critic discussing issues on the intersection of Race, Politics and pop culture. Exavier Pope is host of the Suit UP Podcast, a sports legal analyst, and an award winning sports and entertainment attorney. Both men make up today's Peace Council. This morning we discuss Trump's Supreme Court nominee Brett Kavanaugh and the impact his appointment may have on civil rights. We'll also talk about a viral video that shows a man verbally harassing a woman for wearing a Puerto Rico shirt here in Illinois.

arts	07/13/18	15	Morning , Oye como va	Sandra Trevino is the Founder and editor of Enchufate.com, one of the city's leading resources for Latin Alternative music and news. She drops in this morning to let us know what's happening around town and to premiere new music from Budaya and Bumbac Joe.
arts	07/13/18	15	Morning , And ya don't stop	Vocalo's very own master of ceremony, our senior Hip Hop correspondent Gabe Mendoza comes to the table with a review of Childish Gambino's Summer Pack, a pair of new songs, "Summertime Magic" and "Feels Like Summer". Find out if its fuego, mild sauce or ketchup.
arts	07/13/18	45	Morning , The Reel Critic	Reggie "The Reel Critic" Ponder is Vocalo's senior film correspondent and in studio this week to discuss which movies were winners at last weekend's box office. He'll also review the new Dwayne Johnson movie, community	07/16/18	15	Morning , This Is What Chicago Sou	This week, we continue our This Is What Chicago Sounds Like series. The Vocalo segment features the voices and people who contribute to our city's rich cultural diversity. Chicago is a city known for its it creative community of artists, activists and influencers. This month we celebrate individuals in Chicago who work to create spaces that keep the city festive. Today, you'll hear from Fernando Nieto Founder & Director of Operations at Grass Root Events the entity responsible for The Chicago Michelada Fest, My House Music Fest, Pilsen Taco Fest and Dia De La community	07/16/18	15	Morning , Silver Room Block Party	The Silver Room Block Party draws over 30,000 festival goers each year. This year's theme is entitled 'Beautiful People' and the fest takes place on Saturday, July 21st in Hyde Park's Harper Court. Eric Williams and Rob McCay are co-curators of the Silver Room Block Party and join the Amp to talk about the seminal Chicago festival.
social medi	07/16/18	45	Morning , Hashtag	Curtis Shaw Flagg is the operations manager at Laugh Factory Chicago, and the Director of Marketing for Open Books. He's also Vocalo's senior social media correspondent and brings us trending news from the web and beyond. If you're single and tired of swiping on photos or browsing endless profiles in the hope of the perfect match, a dating app is now using an AI algorithm to do the work for you. Match-owned Hinge dating app uses 'stable marriage' AI algorithm for its matches. Last week, Twitter began slashing tens of millions of suspicious accounts from users' followers, after mounting skepticism from advertisers and users about the accuracy of the company's most visible measure of popularity. Snapchat may gain a feature that links products to Amazon.

community	07/17/18	15	Morning , This Is What Chicago Sou	This week, we continue our This Is What Chicago Sounds Like series. The Vocalo segment features the voices and people who contribute to our city's rich cultural diversity. Chicago is a city known for its it creative community of artists, activists and influencers. This month we celebrate individuals in Chicago who work to create spaces that keep the city festive. Today, you'll hear from Chicago Dj Dave Mata, co-founder of Chicago singer songwriter Brandon Fox has recently released his debut album The Remedy. The album is filled with uplifting songs over a Pop R&B backdrop. Jesse spoke with Brandon about his new album. Brandon also treated us to an acoustic performance art	07/17/18	15	Morning , Featured interview	Mike McGee is Director of Programs at CodeNow, a non-profit transforming underrepresented youth into coders, designers and product managers. He is also our senior tech correspondent bringing us the latest in tech talk. Uber's gender discrimination problems are the focus of a federal investigation. Lyft will offer discounts to people who use bikes and scooters to connect to transit. And finally, the app of the week: Youper helps you feel your best with quick conversations and tools to take control technology	07/17/18	45	Morning , Tech talk	This past weekend Team Vocalo was on site at the Pitchfork Music Festival in Union Park. Jill Hopkins will break down the highlights from a weekend of music that including performances from Chaka Khan, Lauryn Hill (yes, she showed up) and others.
arts	07/23/18	15	Morning , P4K	Detroit underground hip-hop artist Black Milk has a career that has spanned more than a decade, several studio albums, and countless well received collaborations. His recent album is Fever, his seventh. Jesse Menendez spoke with the talented MC and producer about the motivation for his eclectic production and his current album.
arts	07/23/18	15	Morning , Featured interview	Curtis Shaw Flagg is the operations manager at Laugh Factory Chicago, and the Director of Marketing for Open Books. He's also Vocalo's senior social media correspondent and brings us trending news from the web and beyond. It turns out the time wasted on social media could be costing us trillions in lost productivity. Is it legal to livestream unsuspecting Uber and Lyft passengers? Facebook suspends another data-analytics firm for potential policy violations. Yikes!
social medi	07/23/18	45	Morning , Hashtag	Raphael Saadiq is an American singer, songwriter, musician, and record producer. The seminal artist came to fame with R&B group Tony! Toni! Toné! And has also produced songs for such artists as Joss Stone, D'Angelo, TLC, En Vogue, Kelis, Mary J. Blige, Whitney Houston, Solange Knowles and John Legend. This weekend at The Pitchfork Music Festival Jill Hopkins spoke with Saadiq.
arts	07/24/18	15	Morning , Featured interview

technology	07/24/18	45	Morning , Tech talk	Mike McGee is Director of Programs at CodeNow, a non-profit transforming underrepresented youth into coders, designers and product managers. He is also our senior tech correspondent bringing us the latest feminism	07/25/18	15	Morning , Global Youth Ambassadors	A joint program of Chicago Sister Cities International (CSCI) and the University of Illinois at Chicago (UIC), the Global Youth Ambassadors Leadership Summit is an intensive leadership program in Chicago designed to build the next generation of global leaders. Veronica Arreola of The Gender and Women's Studies Program at UIC joins the Amp with some of this year's Global Youth Ambassadors.
arts	07/25/18	15	Morning , Reclaimed Soul	Ayana Contreras is the host of Vocalo's Reclaimed Soul. This morning, she's previews tomorrow night's show which features a deep dive into some of Ayana favorite soul artists.
arts	07/25/18	15	Morning , Wakanda Forever	Wakandacon is where you can be a nerd about anything – pop culture, gaming, tech, womanhood, politics, or your own beautiful Blackness. They are creating a space for people of all types to come together, educate one another, and celebrate their passion. It's an event where one can dress up, dance, connect, support each other, and celebrate the entire diaspora looking past the present and into the future. Jill Hopkins spoke with Wakandacon founders David Barthwell, Ali Barthwell, and Matt Barthwell arts	07/26/18	15	Morning , LOL	Dwayne Kennedy is a stand-up Chicago comedian, actor and writer whose TV writing credits include The Arsenio Hall Show, The Orlando Jones Show, and the critically acclaimed FX/FXX original series, Totally Biased with W. Kamau Bell. This weekend, the comedian comes back home to Zanies for a run of shows that start on Friday. This morning he's arts	07/26/18	15	Morning , Let's get fresh	The PRESH CollectVe is a group of creative organizers consisting of Missy Perkins, Crown B Studios, Paradigm CreatVe Group, and Melloe Drama. Phresh CollectVe has been chosen to host Wicker Park Fest Art and Music Stage curating live art murals, multiple live performances, ping pong activities Dj showcases and more. Missy Perkins and Roe Melloe with Phresh CollectVe will be in studio with the AMP.

social justic	07/26/18	45	Morning , Peace Council	Terrence Chappell is a social justice writer with bylines in Ebony, Huffington Post, Advocate, and now Teen Vogue. Jenn Jackson is a PhD candidate at UChicago studying race, gender, and sexuality and a columnist at Teen Vogue. Both make up today's Peace Council. We're discussing a new FX series called Pose and an article Terrence wrote for Teen Vogue called, "Pose" Takes Place in the 1980s, But Conversations About LGBTQ Homelessness and AIDS Are Still So Important. We're also talking Milwaukee Brewers fans cheering their pitcher Josh Hader as his old racist, homophobic and misogynistic tweets were uncovered and how its even more head scratching compared to how kneeling NFL players protesting racial injustice have been treated.
arts	07/27/18	15	Morning , Oye como va	Sandra Trevino is the Founder and editor of Enchufate.com, one of the city's leading resources for Latin Alternative music and news. She drops in this morning to let us know what's happening around town and to premiere new music.
arts	07/27/18	15	Morning , And ya don't stop	Recently Chicago Hip Hop star Chance the Rapper dropped 4 new songs on the masses. Our senior mic checka Gabe Mendoza lets us know whether young Chancelor's new songs are hot sauce, mild sauce, or Reggie "The Reel Critic" Ponder is Vocalo's senior film correspondent and in studio this week to discuss which movies were winners at last weekend's box office. And Matt Fagerholm, Assistant Editor at RogerEbert.com and the Publisher of Indie Outlook, joins Reggie for the festivities. Both will talk about the new Mission Impossible movie and arts	07/27/18	45	Morning , The Reel Critic	After an impressive debut Ep, Atlanta's Berhana has spent the last two years touring and building his buzz. Jill Hopkins spoke with the talented R&B singer at the year's Pitchfork Music Festival.
arts	07/30/18	15	Morning , Featured interview	Curtis Shaw Flagg is the operations manager at Laugh Factory Chicago, and the Director of Marketing for Open Books. He's also Vocalo's senior social media correspondent and brings us trending news from the web and beyond. Last week, Facebook saw its stock price drop over 20% in after-hours trading after it announced its second-quarter earnings on Wednesday. Find out why. On Friday, Twitter reported that it was seeing less monthly active users than analysts were expecting due to the shutting down of millions of fake accounts. Since outspoken Trump supporter Roseanne Barr was fired from the ABC show bearing her name, some conservatives have been eager to see liberals face similar repercussions.
social medi	07/30/18	45	Morning , Hashtag community	07/31/18	15	Morning , Job fair	Skills for Chicagoland's Future is a public-private partnership working to match businesses that have current, unmet hiring needs with qualified, unemployed and underemployed job seekers. Skills looks to create demand-driven solutions for employers to get the unemployed and underemployed to work. This Friday Skills is hosting The Southwest Side Opportunities Fair at the Rauner Family YMCA at 2700 S Western Ave. This morning Sherita Ellens, Executive Vice President of Business Operations and Communications at Skills for Chicagoland's Future, joins

technology	07/31/18	45	Morning , Tech talk:	Mike McGee is Director of Programs at CodeNow, a non-profit transforming underrepresented youth into coders, designers and product managers. He is also our senior tech correspondent bringing us the latest in tech talk. Twitter is funding college professors to audit its platform for toxicity. One menswear CEO in San Francisco wants to take the psychology of music a step further and suggest clothing for men based on their music preference. And finally, the Product of the Week: Segway's arts	08/01/18	15	Morning , Featured interview	Anne K. Ream is an a gender justice advocate and the author of "Lived Through This," She's also the founder of The Voices and Faces Project, an award-winning testimonial writing program. Anne is a passionate fan of all things rock 'n roll, and a regular contributor to New City Chicago, where she writes about the intersection between music, gender, and social justice. Jill Hopkins spoke with Anne about New City Chicago: "Taking back Guyville". The piece is a curated list of 15 acts and artists to check out if you're a feminist music fan. "Taking Back Guyville" will run in arts	08/01/18	15	Morning , Reclaimed Soul	Ayana Contreras is the host of Vocalo's Reclaimed Soul. This morning, she's previews tomorrow night's show which features a deep dive into some of Ayana's favorite soul artists like Esther Phillips, Brenda and Albert, and the Philadelphia All-STARS feminism	08/01/18	45	Morning , The Council of Feminist T	Whitney Capps is a leadership and team effectiveness coach. She is a freelance post-secondary counselor and an associate with Clearspace, LLC and she is the co-creator and host of two podcasts: Art Break and Split the Difference. Ashley Tribble is the host of the podcast P Power Radio, facilitator for the monthly womyn's panel "Chit Chat" which is hosted by the Cliché Collective and she's a resident artist at AMFM. This morning we're talking about the random murder of Nia Wilson and the call for White Feminists to acknowledge her death with social media posts. We'll also talk about the historic amount of women who have expressed interest in running for office since the 2016 election.

arts	08/06/18	15	Morning , Lolla	After four days in the unforgiving Sun, Jill and Jesse are back from Lollapalooza. This morning they'll unpack their experience and play some audio from the fest. This morning you'll hear Jill's conversation with California Hip Hop artist Wes Period.
social medi	08/06/18	45	Morning , Hashtag	Curtis Shaw Flagg is the operations manager at Laugh Factory Chicago, and the Director of Marketing for Open Books. He's also Vocalo's senior social media correspondent and brings us trending news from the web and beyond. Social media is making children regress to the mentality of three-year-olds, says top brain scientist. Employers grapple with screening job applicants' online personas, including years-old tweets. European authorities fined Google a record $5.1 billion for abusing its power in the mobile phone market and ordered the company to alter its practices.
arts	08/09/18	15	Morning , Featured interviews	Jill and Jesse are back from this year's Lollapalooza. This morning you'll hear conversations with G Herbo, Valee, and Emeila Ali.
arts	08/09/18	15	Morning , Street art	Prolific street artist Sent Rock is hosting an exhibition this weekend at Galerie F on Milwaukee. This morning Sent Rock joins the Amp to talk about the event.
arts	08/10/18	15	Morning , And ya don't stop:	Vocalo's very own swag master general and senior Hip Hop correspondent Gabe Mendoza comes to the table with a review of Travis Scott's new album Astroworld. Find out if its fuego, mild sauce, or community	08/10/18	15	Morning , House music	This weekend is the third annual My House Music Festival, a FREE two-day music experience celebrating the origins and growth of House Music. This year's festival runs on August 11-12 from 12-9:30 pm in Pilsen. This morning Fernando Nieto joins the Amp to talk about the fest.
arts	08/10/18	45	Morning , The Reel Critic	Reggie "The Reel Critic" Ponder is Vocalo's senior film correspondent and is in studio this week to discuss which movies were winners at last weekend's box office. As usual he'll also talk about new releases and community	08/13/18	15	Morning , Poetry Slam	In-studio is Mojdeh Stoakley, Director of National Poetry Slam in Chicago. This year's festival takes place 8/13 - 8/18 at multiple venues in Wicker Park, Hyde Park, and Downtown with Finals taking place at the UIC Forum on Saturday 8/18.
social medi	08/13/18	45	Morning , Hashtag	Curtis Shaw Flagg is the operations manager at Laugh Factory Chicago, and the Director of Marketing for Open Books. He's also Vocalo's senior social media correspondent and brings us trending news from the web and beyond. West Virginia to offer mobile block chain voting app for overseas voters in November election. Uber, Lyft, and Air BnB have been hit with a cap from New York City Officials. Your brain on drama: what social media means for your personal growth arts	08/14/18	15	Morning , Featured interview	Erzulie (pronounced ah-zih-lee) is a 5-piece Chicago jazz metal band inspired by Haitian voodoo, Panamanian folklore, and urban grit. They blend trash metal, Latin jazz, indie rock and blues to generate raw melodies. Jill Hopkins spoke with the band about their music and album, AudioHex: Bad Blood Saga EP.

technology	08/14/18	45	Morning , Tech talk	Mike McGee is Director of Programs at CodeNow, a non-profit transforming underrepresented youth into coders, designers and product managers. He is also our senior tech correspondent bringing us the latest in tech talk. Mike will tell us how to stop Google from tracking your location. A team of Nigerian schoolgirls won a top Silicon Valley prize for a fake-drug detector. App of the Week: Stationhead - Raekwon says his social radio app Stationhead will change the world arts	08/16/18	15	Morning , Citizen Illegal	José Olivarez is the son of Mexican immigrants, the co-author of the book of poems Home Court, and the co-host of the poetry podcast, The Poetry Gods. He is a graduate of Harvard University and the Marketing Manager at Young Chicago Authors. In his solo debut, Citizen Illegal, Olivares explores the stories, contradictions, joys, and sorrows that embody life in the spaces between Mexico and America. Jesse Menendez spoke with Olivarez about his new work.
arts	08/16/18	15	Morning , Reclaimed Soul	Ayana Contreras is the host of Vocalo's Reclaimed Soul and joins the Amp to preview tonight's show which pays tribute to the Queen of Soul Aretha Franklin and celebrates her contribution to the culture.
arts	08/16/18	15	Morning , Featured interview	Tasha is a singer, poet, and Black queer organizer from Chicago, IL. The multi-talented artist first made waves with her poignant debut release Divine Love. Armed with an electric guitar, Tasha seamlessly incorporates poetry into her sets; speaking on Black joy, self-love, and radical softness. Jesse Menendez spoke with Tasha about her music, activism, and her arts	08/17/18	45	Morning , All hail the Queen	Yesterday, the world lost the Queen of soul Aretha Franklin. She was just 76 years young. This morning The Amp is opening up the phone lines to allow listeners to share their thoughts on the passing of the legendary arts	08/17/18	15	Morning , Oye como va	Sandra Trevino is the Founder and editor of Enchufate.com, one of the city's leading resources for Latin Alternative music and news. She drops in this morning to talk about the impact Aretha Franklin has had on Latin Alternative music.
arts	08/17/18	45	Morning , The Reel Critic	Reggie "The Reel Critic" Ponder is Vocalo's senior film correspondent and in studio this week and Matt Fagerholm, Assistant Editor at RogerEbert.com and the Publisher of Indie Outlook, joins Reggie on the line to talk about how Aretha Franklin's only movie role helped shape the

community 08/20/18	15	Morning , This Is What Chicago Sou	This week, we continue our This Is What Chicago Sounds Like series. The Vocalo vignette features the voices and perspectives of people who contribute to our city's rich cultural diversity. Chicago is a city of neighborhoods and communities. Within each community you'll find individuals providing leadership and creating supportive spaces. This month we tip our proverbial cap to those serving as educators and mentors to this great city of ours. This morning you'll hear from Vanessa Sanchez, the director of Yollocalli Arts Reach, the youth initiative of the National Museum of Mexican art. She's also a practicing artist, music
social medi 08/20/18	45	Morning , Hashtag	Curtis Shaw Flagg is the operations manager at Laugh Factory Chicago, and the Director of Marketing for Open Books. He's also Vocalo's senior social media correspondent and brings us trending news from the web and beyond. SWIPE LEFT! Several current and former Tinder executives have filed a $2 billion lawsuit against the parent companies of the dating app. Leading content network company Revcontent has announced that it is working with the Poynter Institute's International Fact Checking Network to punish publishers that spread misinformation. This past week, Facebook announced a huge fundraising milestone. Facebook said that people raised over $300 million for the causes that they care about through the birthday fundraiser feature built into the social network.
community 08/21/18	15	Morning , This Is What Chicago Sou	This week, we continue our This Is What Chicago Sounds Like series. The Vocalo vignette features the voices and perspectives of people who contribute to our city's rich cultural diversity. Chicago is a city of neighborhoods and communities. Within each community you'll find individuals providing leadership and creating supportive spaces. This month we tip our proverbial cap to those serving as educators and mentors to this great city of ours. This morning you'll hear from Luis Crespo Director of Youth Programming Chicago for Collaboraction, non-profit arts organization that is committed to the power of theatre and art to cultivate empathy, knowledge, dialogue and action for the betterment of technology 08/21/18	45	Morning , Tech talk	Mike McGee is Director of Programs at CodeNow, a non-profit transforming underrepresented youth into coders, designers and product managers. He is also our senior tech correspondent bringing us the latest in tech talk. Streaming TV services are now used by 5 percent of US households with Wi-Fi. Walmart is looking into making your shopping experience more robust through virtual reality. App of the Week: HiHello allows you to seamlessly share with the people you meet.

community	08/22/18	15	Morning , This Is What Chicago Sou	This week, we continue our This Is What Chicago Sounds Like series. The Vocalo vignette features the voices and perspectives of people who contribute to our city's rich cultural diversity. Chicago is a city of neighborhoods and communities. Within each community you'll find individuals providing leadership and creating supportive spaces. This month we tip our proverbial cap to those serving as educators and mentors to this great city of ours. This morning you'll hear from Ray Salazar. Ray Salazar has been an English teacher in the Chicago Public Schools since 1995 and he blogs about education on The White Rhino arts	08/22/18	20	Morning , Featured interview	Chicago's Liberty Jones's creates music in the vein of Sharon Jones, Billie Holiday, Nina Simone, Aretha Franklin along with hints of Anita Baker and Diana Ross. Her songwriting style is filled with power, passion, depth, and messages that resonate with the soul, spirit, and mind. Her goal is to connect with love, teach, liberate, empower, and relate to her audience through her music and any creative expression or project that she produces. Jesse Menendez spoke with Liberty Jones about her debut EP
community	08/23/18	15	Morning , This Is What Chicago Sou	This week, we continue our This Is What Chicago Sounds Like series. The Vocalo vignette features the voices and perspectives of people who contribute to our city's rich cultural diversity. Chicago is a city of neighborhoods and communities. Within each community you'll find individuals providing leadership and creating supportive spaces. This month we tip our proverbial cap to those serving as educators and mentors to this great city of ours. This morning, you'll hear from Add 2, Hip Hop artists and youth mentor at Haven Studio. Haven Studio aims to build confidence within each student through music, mentorship, and community service. Each week students not only create music but they also take part in community improvement projects and team building field trips. The program is meant to be a safe environment for at-risk young people who come together to make their community a safer place for arts	08/23/18	15	Morning , Melanin voices	Melanin Voices is a performance collective series of poetry and live literature purposed to showcase the local, unsung voices in literature and highlight the narratives illuminated from their writings. Audiences will be taken on a poetic journey through the work of the collective. The theme of this year's show series is "The Black and Latinx Connection". Audiences will be taken on a poetic journey to uncover the sociopolitical parallel narratives between the Black and Latinx community. Glenance Green is the founder of A g Thing, which presents Melanin Voices, and Kim Chayeb is a passionate pisces, political pantheist, and poetic performer in the Melanin Voices Collective. They join the Amp to talk about this arts	08/24/18	15	Morning , Villapalooza	The Little village Music Festival, is dedicated to promoting non-violent spaces for arts, culture, and community engagement. We are able to accomplish this by convening community organizers, volunteers, educators, artists, youth, and other community stakeholders in the creation of the festival. Jesse Menendez spoke with Vanessa Sanchez, Vice President of Villapalooza, about this weekend's free event.

community	08/24/18	15	Morning , This is What Chicago Sou	This week, we continue our This Is What Chicago Sounds Like series. The Vocalo vignette features the voices and perspectives of people who contribute to our city's rich cultural diversity. Chicago is a city of neighborhoods and communities. Within each community you'll find individuals providing leadership and creating supportive spaces. This month we tip our proverbial cap to those serving as educators and mentors to this great city of ours. This morning, Tracy Baim is publisher and executive editor at Windy City Times, which she co-founded in 1985. In 2014, she was inducted into the National Lesbian and Gay Journalists
arts	08/24/18	45	Morning , The Reel Critic	Reggie "The Reel Critic" Ponder is Vocalo's senior film correspondent and is in studio this week to discuss which movies were winners at last weekend's box office. As usual he'll also talk about new releases and Chicago Hip Hop artist Rich Jones is riding the success of a string of eclectic releases. Now the versatile artist is back with a double shot of wavy with stand-alone tracks Dangerous and Rainy Days. This morning Rich Jones joins the Amp in studio.
arts	08/27/18	15	Morning , Featured interview
arts	08/27/18	15	Morning , The Five Heartbeats	In 1990, actor, comedian, writer and director, Robert Townsend, went against every obstacle in Hollywood, relying on his faith, street smarts, and tenacity to bring his passion project, 1991's The Five Heartbeats, to big screens. The Motown-flavored story of the rise and fall of an African-American vocal group in the 1960s, the musical drama is the subject of Townsend's documentary, Making The Five Heartbeats. The documentary chronicles the inspiring journey of a young black writer/director determined to present a new image of black people in cinema while endeavoring to create a classic. Reclaimed Soul's Ayana Contreras recently spoke with Actor, Director, and Chicago native Robert Townsend. They talked about the making of his classic film, The Five Heartbeats, the struggle for filmmakers of color, and how his upbringing on the West Side of Chicago

social medi	08/27/18	45	Morning , Hashtag	Curtis Shaw Flagg is the operations manager at Laugh Factory Chicago, and the Director of Marketing for Open Books. He's also Vocalo's senior social media correspondent and brings us trending news from the web and beyond. Facebook has begun to assign its users a reputation score, predicting their trustworthiness on a scale from zero to 10. What is the Digital Economy Act? The new bill, which passed into law last year with little fanfare, covers a wide range of issues governing media regulation and access to online content. The Chicago Board of Education last week approved sweeping requirements that govern how students and staff communicate with each other online, even as board members expressed concern about the need to train workers and kids on the new rules.
arts	08/28/18	15	Morning , Featured interview	These days, Chicago is an undeniable force in Hip Hop music and culture. Oak Park native Rich Robbins is the latest talented artist to emerge from the area. Jesse Menendez spoke with Rich about his current album Red Butterfly and the experiences that informed the project.
technology	08/28/18	45	Morning , Tech talk:	Mike McGee is Director of Programs at CodeNow, a non-profit transforming underrepresented youth into coders, designers and product managers. He is also our senior tech correspondent bringing us the latest in tech talk. Apple to launch three new iPhones, Watch with larger screen, updated iPad Pros. New details emerge about Disney's streaming service, which will have less (and cost less) than Netflix. And the Product of the Week: LogicInk - Programmable 'tattoos' that visually transform to inform arts	08/29/18	15	Morning , Reclaimed Soul	Ayana Contreras is the host of Reclaimed Soul, which airs right here on Vocalo at 8pm on Thursdays and 8am on Sundays. This week, she drops in for her weekly preview of the show and takes us on a journey down the river of soul. This week, we're talking about the Dells, and hear a bit of her conversation with Robert Townsend, the director of the iconic film, "The arts	08/29/18	15	Morning , Featured Interview	The web series PinkSlipped follows the lives of three Latinx best friends all on the verge of losing their jobs with a focus the themes of tokenism, equal pay and immigration. The show has gained steam and the trailer alone has a reach of over 20k+ and over 12k+ views on Facebook. Joining us in the studio today is Jacqueline Priego, the writer, creator, co-director, and one of the stars of Pink Slipped.

community	08/30/18	15	Morning , The Robeson Project	In the Fall of 2017, it was announced that all four of the last remaining Englewood neighborhood high schools would be closing. Three of them will be dissolved over the next three years, but Paul Robeson High School, which opened in 1977, had its last day of school on Tuesday, June 19. It will be demolished to make way for a new, $85-million high school. For the past six months, we at South Side Weekly Radio—Erisa Apantaku, Olivia Obineme, Bridget Vaughn, and Bridget Newsham—have been collecting memories and experiences from former students, teachers, staff members, parents, and community members. In an hour of radio, we take you through those four decades of Robeson history, through the stories of people from the Robeson community. Jesse Menendez spoke with members of the Robeson Project about their audio doc.
social justic	08/30/18	45	Morning , Peace Council	Whitney Capps is a leadership and team effectiveness coach. She is a freelance post-secondary counselor and an associate with Clearspace, LLC and she is the co-creator and host of two podcasts: Art Break and Split the Difference. Claudia Garcia-Rojas is a Chicago based activist and writer. She is co-director of the Chicago Taskforce on Violence Against Girls and Young Women and a doctoral candidate in the Department of Black studies at Northwestern University where she is currently finishing a dissertation that examines the national security paradigm. This morning we discuss the men outed by the #MeToo movement and two years after she fatally shot an unarmed black man in Tulsa, Betty Jo Shelby, now a police officer in an adjacent county, is teaching a course on how to “survive such events” — legally, emotionally and physically. Let’s discuss.
arts	08/31/18	15	Morning , Oye como va	Sandra Trevino is the Founder and editor of Enchufate.com, one of the city’s leading resources for Latin Alternative music and news. She drops in this morning to talk about the impact Aretha Franklin has had on Latin Alternative music.
arts	08/31/18	15	Morning , The Peoples Karaoke	Chicago comes together through karaoke to celebrate the variety of musical experiences embodied by all of our neighbors. This one day festival organized by the People’s Stage karaoke with Pablo Serrano in the Pilsen neighborhood will feature karaoke on a fantastic stage all day long, along with food vendors. This morning, Pable Serrano
arts	08/31/18	45	Morning , The Reel Critic	Reggie “The Reel Critic” Ponder is Vocalo’s senior film correspondent and in studio this week to discuss which movies were winners at last weekend’s box office.
arts	09/04/18	15	Morning , Featured interview	D. Bess is a one-man band who loops all of his reggae/ska/soul/funk/blues/hip-hop sounds live. On his latest, "Man vs. Bear", he works with the legend Toots Hibbert from Toots and the Maytals. Today, we hear his conversation with Jill Hopkins.

community	09/04/18	15	Morning , WLWU 40th Anniversary	Former Vocalo Super Intern Kaylie Plouch is on the phone to tell us about Loyola University's student-run station WLWU's 40th anniversary concert on 9/7, with local bands Deeper, The Slaps, and more.
technology	09/04/18	45	Morning , Tech talk	Mike McGee is Director of Programs at CodeNow, a non-profit transforming underrepresented youth into coders, designers and product managers. He is also our senior tech correspondent bringing us the latest in tech talk. Facebook has reportedly targeted LGBTQ users with "Gay Cure" ads. Twitter's CEO personally weighed in on company's handling of Alex Jones, Richard Spencer accounts. And, the App of the Week is called Papa. This app lets seniors book "grandkids on demand"
arts	09/05/18	15	Morning , Reclaimed Soul	Ayana Contreras is the host of Vocalo's Reclaimed Soul. This morning, she's previews tomorrow night's show where, as always, she is your tour guide down the river of Soul.
feminism	09/05/18	45	Morning , The Council of Feminist T	Whitney Capps is a leadership and team effectiveness coach. She is a freelance post-secondary counselor and an associate with Clearspace, LLC and she is the co-creator and host of two podcasts: Art Break and Split the Difference. Ashley Tribble is the host of the podcast P Power Radio, facilitator for the monthly womyn's panel "Chit Chat" which is hosted by the Cliché Collective and she's a resident artist at AMFM. This morning the CoFT is the #ArethaHomegoing edition. We're discussing one reverend's decision to shame single mothers during the eulogy for a single mother (who just happened to be the Queen of Soul), and a pastor who couldn't keep his hands to himself, even on the pulpit.
politics	09/06/18	15	Morning , WBEZ Collaboration	The announcement by Mayor Rahm Emmanuel sent shock waves through the city, and cracked February's election wide open. There are the questions of "What's next for the exiting mayor?", "Will there be even more names on the ballot than the eleven already there?", and "Is there more to this decision that meets the eye?" Joining us in the studio to help find answers are WBEZ Politics Reporters Becky Vevea and Tony Arnold.

social justic	09/06/18	15	Morning , DeRay McKesson	In August 2014, following the fatal shooting death of Michael Brown by a white police officer in Ferguson, Missouri, DeRay Mckesson took to the streets in protest of police violence. He joined up with what went on to become the Black Lives Matter movement. Mckesson—with his signature blue vest - became one of the most recognizable faces of the growing action, and is now a formidable civil rights activist, community organizer, and he's the host of Crooked Media's podcast Pod Save the People. His first book, "On the Other Side of Freedom" is a timely exploration of social justice, race, and politics, delivered by someone with an insider's point of view. As we wait for jury selection in Chicago for the trial of Jason Van Dyke, the police officer who shot and killed LaQuan McDonald the same year Mike Brown met the same fate, that exploration is as relevant as arts	09/06/18	15	Morning , Featured interview	Calid B. is a Chicago based producer/emcee that is pioneering his own sound in which he describes as "Afrobang." The energy behind Afrobang fuses together contemporary hip hop production elements like trap drums, synths, and 808s with the tribal percussions and chants from west Africa. However, Afrobang is more than music - it is a necessary culture and a community that Calid plans on cultivating. Afrobang Vol. 3000 is the first EP of a series that Calid B. plans to release. Jesse Menendez sat down with Calid B to talk about the record and the concept.
arts	09/07/18	15	Morning , And ya don't stop	Vocalo's very own swag master general and senior Hip Hop correspondent Gabe Mendoza comes to the table with a review of Eminem's newest album, "Kamikaze." Find out if its fuego, mild sauce, or community	09/07/18	15	Morning , South Side "I Do":	This Sunday, September 9, from 12-4, is the South Side 'I Do' Hyde Park Wedding Stroll in Hyde Park. It brings together 35+ South Side wedding venues and vendors with everything couples need to plan their big day. We're giving away tickets to the big day where you can plan your big day.
arts	09/07/18	15	Morning , The Breaks	After a successful debut in 2017, The Break Music Festival returns to the Chicagoland area on Saturday, September 8 at Toyota Park. By A Thread Presents The Breaks Vol. II is an all-ages music event that will feature both classic hip-hop artists and newly emerging emcees, bringing multiple generations of fans together for one memorable show. The Wu tang Clan headlines the event! Co-Founder and Co-Owner of The Breaks, Chris Figgy, joins Jill to talk about the festival.
arts	09/07/18	45	Morning , The Reel Critic	Reggie "The Reel Critic" Ponder is Vocalo's senior film correspondent and is in studio this week to discuss which movies were winners at last weekend's box office. We'll also discuss new films "The Nun", and "Peppermint.", and the career of the late in Blanche Devereaux voice arts	09/10/18	15	Morning , Featured interview	In Night Moves, Jessica Hopper chronicles her time as a DJ, living in decrepit punk houses, biking to bad loft parties with her friends, exploring Chicago deep into the night. And, along the way, she creates an homage to vibrant corners of the city that have been muted by sleek development. A book birthed in the amber glow of Chicago streetlamps, Night Moves is about a transformative moment of cultural history—and how a raw, rebellious writer found her voice. Jill Hopkins spoke with Jessica about her

social medi	09/10/18	45	Morning , Hashtag	Curtis Shaw Flagg is the operations manager at Laugh Factory Chicago, and the Director of Marketing for Open Books. He's also Vocalo's senior social media correspondent and brings us trending news from the web and beyond. Instagram has made the process of getting verified much easier. Instagram accounts that have a large following will be able to request for verification directly by filling out a form. U.S. President Donald Trump on Tuesday unblocked some additional Twitter users after a federal judge in May said preventing people from following him violated individuals constitutional rights. Facebook chief operating officer and Twitter CEO Jack Dorsey testified in front of lawmakers this past week about how both platforms are now in a better place for battling election arts	09/11/18	15	Morning , Featured interview	Blnk Haus Gallery is a collaborative group of professional artists, curators, teachers and healers. Blnk aims to explore, discover, showcase, and promote artists primarily in Chicago; while providing a platform for emerging multifaceted artists to cultivate and grow their potential for their careers as professionals. Jill Hopkins spoke with Rachel Lechocki and Andrew Rehs about their gallery and upcoming exhibit.
technology	09/11/18	45	Morning , Tech talk	Mike McGee is Director of Programs at CodeNow, a non-profit transforming underrepresented youth into coders, designers and product managers. He is also our senior tech correspondent bringing us the latest
arts	09/12/18	15	Morning , Reclaimed Soul	Ayana Contreras is the host of Vocalo's Reclaimed Soul and joins the Amp to preview Thursday's Reclaimed Soul Live show at Promontory arts	09/12/18	15	Morning , Featured interview	In her new book, My Own Devices: True Stories from the Road on Music, Science, and Senseless Love, Dessa gives an uncompromising and candid account of a life in motion, in music, and in love. Jesse Menendez spoke with Dessa about her new work.

arts	09/13/18	15	Morning , 96 Acres	Radioactive is a series of community-engaged radio/visual broadcasts located between the largest architecture of Chicago's West Side, the Cook County Department of Corrections, and the working-class residential area of the Lawndale communities. This morning, María Gaspar, Lead artist of Radioactive and Assistant Professor at the School of the Art Institute of Chicago, Michael De Anda Muñiz, co-instructor of Radioactive, PhD Candidate in Sociology at UIC, Rahmon Ali, Radioactive Ensemble member and Alexander Soto, Radioactive Ensemble member and artist join the Amp to talk about the project.
social justic	09/13/18	45	Morning , Peace Council	Exavier Pope is host of the Suit UP Podcast, a sports legal analyst, and an award winning sports and entertainment attorney. Evan F Moore is a Digital Content Producer-News at the Chicago Sun-Times. Evan is a Chicago based journalist who has written for publications such as Rolling Stone.com and DNA Info Chicago. He covers sports, politics, race and culture. Both men make up today's Peace Council. We'll discuss the U.S Open match where Serena Williams engaged in a series of verbal altercations with chair umpire Carlos Ramos, which eventually lead to her being handed a game penalty. We'll also talk about Nike's ad campaign which features former NFL QB and activist Colin Kaepernick.
community	09/17/18	15	Morning , This Is What Chicago Sou	This week, we continue our This Is What Chicago Sounds Like series. The Vocalo vignette features the voices and perspectives of people who contribute to our city's rich cultural diversity. This month we feature members of the Latix community doing good things in this city. This morning you'll hear from Olga Bautista, an environmental and social justice activist and community organizer with Southeast Environmental Task Force. She is a founding member of Chicago's Southeast Side
social medi	09/17/18	45	Morning , Hashtag	Curtis Shaw Flagg is the operations manager at Laugh Factory Chicago, and the Director of Marketing for Open Books. He's also Vocalo's senior social media correspondent and brings us trending news from the web and beyond. Facebook CEO Mark Zuckerberg recently wrote a note about how the company is preparing to defend against potential election interference issues. During hearings on Capitol Hill, Senate and House Republicans and Democrats applauded efforts by Facebook and Twitter to root out foreign election meddling. But they warned that regulation may loom for social media companies, which are largely unfettered by the kinds of rules that govern other large consumer companies.

community	09/18/18	15	Morning , This Is What Chicago Sou	This week, we continue our This Is What Chicago Sounds Like series. The Vocalo vignette features the voices and perspectives of people who contribute to our city's rich cultural diversity. This month we feature members of the Latix community doing good things in this city. This morning you'll hear from Dulce Maria Diaz, a Chicago based intuitive, self-taught Mexican artist and a producer at CAN T.V., where she hosts her television hotline, The S.H.E. Gallery Show, where she introduces local resources of inspiration, primarily artists and entrepreneurs.
arts	09/18/18	15	Morning , Featured Interview	THE AREA is a documentary about corporate cronyism and displacement on the South Side of Chicago. And it tells the story of Englewood resident Deborah Payne, one of hundreds of homeowners who were forced out of the neighborhood while Norfolk Southern Railway bought up, home-by-home, 85 acres of property to expand its freight terminal. The result? Tens of thousands of trains and trucks going through the community every day, increasing pollution and traffic, but also boosting the economic worth of the area. Joining us in the Vocalo studio, Deborah Payne,co-producer and protagonist of The Area.
technology	09/18/18	45	Morning , Tech Talk	Mike McGee is Director of Programs at CodeNow, a non-profit transforming underrepresented youth into coders, designers and product managers. He is also our senior tech correspondent bringing us the latest
community	09/19/18	15	Morning , This Is What Chicago Sou	This week, we continue our This Is What Chicago Sounds Like series. The Vocalo segment features the voices and people who contribute to our city's rich cultural diversity. Chicago is a city known for its it creative community of artists, activists and influencers. This month we celebrate Hispanic Heritage Month by highlighting Latinx people making an impact in their respective communities. Today, you'll hear from comedian Abi Sanchez, a Chicago native with Puerto Rican roots who's comedy is arts	09/19/18	15	Morning , Reclaimed Soul	Ayana Contreras is the host of Vocalo's Reclaimed Soul. This morning, she's previews tomorrow night's show which features a deep dive into some of Ayana favorite soul artists like Arnold Blair, Maurice Jackson, and arts	09/19/18	15	Morning , YAS! Fest	Mayor Emanuel and the Chicago Department of Cultural Affairs and Special Events announced the daylong YAS! Fest, happening on Saturday, September 22. The event will feature the work of THOUSANDS of Chicago's most promising artists - dance, visual art, spoken word, music, and it's free and open to the public. Joining us in the studio, Mark Kelly, Commissioner of Chicago's Department of Cultural Affairs and Special Events, and youth performers Vincent Molden, and Nia Parke.

feminism	09/19/18	45	Morning , Council of Feminist Thought	Veronica Arreola is the Director of the UIC Women in Science & Engineering Program and the woman behind the blog, Viva la Feminista. Claudia Garcia-Rojas is a Chicago based activist and writer. She is co-director of the Chicago Taskforce on Violence Against Girls and Young Women and a doctoral candidate in the Department of Black studies at Northwestern University where she is currently finishing a dissertation that examines the national security paradigm. This morning, we discuss the sexual assault allegations levied against Supreme Court nominee Brett Kavanaugh, and the notion that boys will be boys. We'll also take a look at the recent split between #MeToo activists and Harvey Weinstein assault community	09/20/18	15	Morning , This Is What Chicago Sounds Like	This week, we continue our This Is What Chicago Sounds Like series. The Vocalo segment features the voices and people who contribute to our city's rich cultural diversity. Chicago is a city known for its it creative community of artists, activists and influencers. This month we celebrate Hispanic Heritage Month by highlighting Latinx people making an impact in their respective communities. Today, you'll hear from Thelma Uranga, a Chicago-based artist and self-described Juana of all trades. She is the Communications and Development Manager at the National Museum of Mexican Art and the owner of Rowdy Corazón, an online Etsy shop that sells unique handmade gifts and accessories with a cultural twist.
arts	09/20/18	15	Morning , Folded Maps	Chicago is known as one of the most segregated cities in the country — and that disconnect can sow prejudice, fear, and misunderstandings. Photographer Tonika Johnson decided to explore that segregation through the “Folded Map” project that brings people from opposite ends of the same street, in different neighborhoods, to meet and get to know one another. Joining us in the studio this morning to talk about the project and what's next for Folded Maps, is Tonika Johnson.
arts	09/20/18	15	Morning , Featured Interview	Jesse Menendez spoke to impossible to categorize Chicago rock band Blacker Face, and you'll get aquanted with them ahead of their show on Oct 1 at the Emporium in Wicker Park.
community	09/21/18	15	Morning , This Is What Chicago Sounds Like	This week, we continue our This Is What Chicago Sounds Like series. The Vocalo segment features the voices and people who contribute to our city's rich cultural diversity. Chicago is a city known for its it creative community of artists, activists and influencers. This month we celebrate Hispanic Heritage Month by highlighting Latinx people making an impact in their respective communities. Today, you'll hear from Pablo Ramirez, co-owner of Pilsen Outpost gallery , a multimedia artist that works with collage and plexiglass to create unique art, and a member of the ACT Collective - an organization that focuses on timely social justice-related arts	09/21/18	15	Morning , And ya don't stop	Vocalo's very own master of ceremonies, our senior Hip Hop correspondent Gabe Mendoza comes to the table with a review of Chicago MC Lupe Fiasco's newest album Drogas Wave. Find out if its arts	09/21/18	15	Morning , This is Your Brain On Bee	Mr. and Mrs. Smith Comedy was created by married comedians Ramon Smith and Leah Eva to create smiles in the world through comedy. The This is Your Brain on Beer Comedy Show is where comedians perform two sets: a sober set and a second set after indulging in a few brews. The aim of the show is to see how the Comedian's brain works with libation and if they can handle being funny while inebriated. Or sober.

arts	09/21/18	45	Morning , The Reel Critic	Reggie "The Reel Critic" Ponder is Vocalo's senior film correspondent. Matt Fagerholm is the Assistant Editor at RogerEbert.com and the Publisher of Indie Outlook. Together, they will talk about box office numbers, new releases, Lady Gaga in A Star Is Born, the new trailer for Disney's Mary Poppins sequel (that's a weird phrase), and the 70mm film arts	09/25/18	15	Morning , Live From Studio 10:	Chicago Rock and Soul band The O'My's have recently released their new album Tomorrow which finds band leaders Nick and Maceo at their most laid back, reflective and direct. The band took a collaborative approach to writing and arranging the album and focused on what they say are the most distinctive elements that make up The O'My's sound, namely, Nick's piano playing and Maceo's voice and guitar. We're excited to welcome the duo in our studio for a stripped down and intimate set of those core O'My's elements – piano, voice and guitar. Today, you'll hear a preview of their LFS10 full session, and a bit of their conversation with Jesse Menendez.
technology	09/25/18	45	Morning , Tech Talk	Mike McGee is Director of Programs at CodeNow, a non-profit transforming underrepresented youth into coders, designers and product managers. He is also our senior tech correspondent bringing us the latest in tech talk. Today, we'll learn about Snapchat's new camera that'll let you easily shop on Amazon, Sirius XM's purchase of Pandora, and the App of the Week! DRYP will help you fake having a green thumb. And, we're giving away tickets to the O'My's show at the Park West this Friday!
arts	09/26/18	15	Morning , Destinos:	The Chicago Int. Latino Theater Festival is back for its second year, and is currently running until Nov. 4th across several marquee theaters including Chicago Shakespeare, Goodman, Victory Gardens, Teatro Vista and many others. The festival features cutting-edge artists and companies from Chicago, Dallas, Los Angeles, Argentina, Colombia, Costa Rica, Mexico and Puerto Rico Joining us in studio are Sara Carranza and Christine Perez, from the Chicago Latino Theater Alliance.
arts	09/26/18	15	Morning , Reclaimed Soul:	Ayana Contreras is the host of Vocalo's Reclaimed Soul. This morning, she's previews tomorrow night's show where, as always, she is your tour guide down the river of Soul.

arts 09/26/18 15 Morning , ICUQTS

The International Chicago Underground Queer Transcendence Symposium is an all ages interdisciplinary art and community festival celebrating creative cultural engagement with local and international queer communities through exhibition and curation of visual art, installations, performance art, music, speakers, workshops, community organizations, and vendors in Chicago on September 29 & 30, 2018. Joining us in studio are Co-Founders Natalie Murillo and Jacquelyn Carmen Guerrero to talk about this year's symposium and they're looking to bring with it to Chicago and all the artists and events that are booked as part of it.