TEXAS FOLKLIFE FESTIVAL

The Sinclair San Antonio stations were the exclusive broadcast partners for the 45th celebration of the Texas Folklife Festival. Fox San Antonio's DAYTIME@Nine kicked off the weekend event with a live broadcast from the Festival on Friday June 10th. Esteban Solis and Kimberly Crawford highlighted many of the unique performers and tasty cuisine that make Folklife a popular summer event .

Our stations also had a booth on site for all three days where viewers could sign up for prize drawings, pick up free merchandise, and meet our personalities like Fox 29's Elisa Amigo.

Robert Price has been a key member of the news team for several years. First as a reporter, then a weekend anchor, and currently producing and anchoring the new LIVE DESK—taking our viewers to breaking events as they happen around the world.

Robert began his career in America's heartland as an Anchor/Reporter at KHAS-TV, the NBC affiliate for central Nebraska. While there, Robert received awards from the Nebraska Associated Press and the Nebraska Broadcasters Association. He then moved one state over to Cedar Rapids, Iowa to work for the Sinclair sister-stations KGAN CBS 2 and KFXA FOX 28.

When he's not out reporting, Robert likes to absorb pop culture, exercise his brain with trivia competitions and spend time with his family. He also fanatically roots for his Spurs, Cowboys, Rangers and Trojans.
