

We are continuing our increase in the volume of Spanish language PSA regarding the same information. When not available in audio files, WRMC has been self-producing Spanish language PSAs. We have seen a marked increase in Spanish language produced health and vaccine related productions. We weight these individually for our demographic and air appropriately. WRMC has increased its commitment to indigenous communities and non-English speakers by airing appropriate language health and vaccine related productions at all hours of the day, not limited to a specific language genre time slot. We have, for the specific benefit of our student population and community at large, increased our public awareness campaigns concerning mental health issues.

Date(s): Continuous Time of Day: Run 300x00:30 spots weekly at various time loads

Issue: Large liberal (L) community searches for outlet of alternative news than standard in the region.

To address this, we: Program DemocracyNow! As the sole radio station in Vermont airing this show live in real-time allowing for call in active participation in the program. Additionally, WRMC is the sole provider of Spanish language Public Service Announcements on coronavirus and the pandemic. Our commitment to supply accurate information with a scientific background comes from a daily drop-in from Berkley College of Medicine (aka; The Lowdown) and a daily drop-in from Albany Public Radio (Strange Universe).

Issue: Public Affairs

To address this: On average, fully 10% of WRMC's broadcasting day is dedicated to presenting a divergent voice from mainstream broadcasting. Hosts, students from a broad spectrum of regions and cultures, are allowed within good taste access to air. This can take the form of community centric Public Affairs Programming, interviews with local guests, current News and Commentary, issue of Cultural Events or Diversity Discussions.

---

Issue: News and Information specific to women's health and well being and WRMC commitment to various equity of representation issues on air

---

To address this: WRMC has added a weekly programming slot aimed specifically toward female health, growth, accomplishment and well being; produced by the NPR outlet at WAMC, Albany, NY. - 51%. Naturally, as a college station, a significant portion of our population is female and have been impacted by recent political and judicial decisions and practices.

Issue: THE PANDEMIC! Continuing reporting and information from all sources.

WRMC has to the best of its ability attempted to be responsive to the public and State government by providing news updates, switching scheduled airtime with public news conferences and creating localized voice-overs of public news bulletins received from the Governor's Office of Health.

---

Please note: The individual topics and content, except for the live call-in show ( Welcome to America) are a matter of each individual producer and available in both their public offerings and within the station logs. This is also correct for the public service announcements and their respective titles and topics. As such, they are not included within this filing, but since all logs are saved for 5 years, readily available. We file as additional, samplings of our quarterly content.
