

QUARTERLY ISSUES AND PROGRAMS REPORT

FOR

WWMX HD2

4th QUARTER, 2014

(October 1 through December 31, 2014)

Prepared by:

Diane Lyn, Director of Public Affairs, CBS Radio/Baltimore

Issues of Concern to Baltimore
Addressed in Responsive Programming by CBS Radio Baltimore in the
4th Quarter 2014

Subject	Description of Issue of Concern
1. Poverty	Services and Programs that benefit low-income residents of Baltimore and the surrounding communities
2. Education	Programs that promote Education and improvements to our area schools
3. Youth Advocacy/ Mentorship	Needs of youth, especially in areas of education, recreation and mentorship
4. Community Development	Preservation of communities and neighborhoods in Baltimore and programs that support and strengthen them and their residents
5. Arts & Humanities	Promotion of Fine Arts programs in Baltimore and surrounding counties
6. Financial Literacy	Programs that promote financial literacy
7. Crime	Crime prevention, crime fighting programs, crimes against women
8. Substance Abuse	Baltimore continues to wage a battle against substance abuse; focus on programs to assist in the battle
9. Health	Women's Health, General Health Issues
10. History	Celebrating and promoting Baltimore's rich history

CBS Radio Baltimore Programs That Address Community Issues
(Regularly Scheduled Public Affairs Programs)
4th Quarter, 2014

Public Affairs Program	Schedule and Description
1. "Sunday Morning"	This is a 30-minute program, produced and hosted by Diane Lyn, Rachel Logan and Brenda Carl airing weekly on Sundays from 6:00 to 6:30 a.m., WLIF and WWMX. Airing on WJZ FM 5:00 to 5:30 a.m. "Sunday Morning" addresses various issues ascertained as important to the greater Baltimore area.
2. "On Time"	This is a 30-minute program, produced and hosted by WJZ-TV's Gigi Barnett. "On Time" airs from 6:30 to 7:00 a.m. (WJZ FM airing 5:30 to 6:00 a.m.) and addresses various issues ascertained as important to the greater Baltimore area.

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter, 2014
(October 1 through December 31)

ISSUE: Poverty

On Time

October 26, 2014

6:30 a.m.

8 minutes of a 30 minute program

Councilwoman Mary Pat Clarke joins host Gigi Barnett to urge low income city residents to pre-apply for the city's section 8/housing voucher program by midnight on October 30. Applications are only being taken online so residents need to get access to smart phones or computers with access to the internet. She explains that the pre-application process is not accepting any paper applications. This list will be used for the next 6 years to select section 8 recipients.

Sunday Morning

November 9, 2014

6:00 a.m.

15 minutes of a 30-minute program

Diane Lyn's guest Lyndsay Crone, Marketing Director for the Y Of Central MD, spoke their charity Turkey Trot in conjunction with their "Give Every Child A Chance" campaign. The event provides financial assistance for children living in poverty. Turkey Trot is held Thanksgiving morning at all of the Y locations.

Sunday Morning

December 28, 2014

6:00 a.m.

30 minutes of a 30-minute program

Brenda Carl interviews Mike Posco, Executive Director Habitat Chesapeake and Jen Miller, ReStore Development Manager about donating old and unused household items to Habitat Chesapeake ReStore for those less fortunate. These items donated also helps community landfills with recycling issues.

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter, 2014
(October 1 through December 31)

ISSUE: Education

On Time
October 5, 2014
6:30 a.m.
10 minutes of a 30-minute program

Reyna Grande, the author of “The Distance Between Us: A Memoir” talks with Gigi Barnett about having her book chosen as the Maryland Humanities Council’s One Maryland One Book campaign. She discusses how her parents left Mexico to pursue the American Dream while leaving their children behind with grandparents. She rejoined her parents at the age of 9 and became the first person in her family to graduate from college.

On Time
October 5, 2014
6:30 a.m.
9 minutes of a 30 minute program

Dr. Carla Hayden discusses new renovations to the Pratt’s Central library that preserves the historic past while incorporating modern technology. She tells Gigi Barnett about structural changes that include developing areas like creation stations for teens and young adults and using audio video technology for resumes and teleconferencing.

On Time
October 12, 2014
6:30 a.m.
8 minutes of a 30-minute program

Gigi Barnett spoke with Junior Achievement is helping K-12 and college students with entrepreneurial opportunities. School-based programs help students to understand business and give them an opportunity to explore different career options. Frank Bonsall is being honored for his work in the entrepreneurial field at Towson University by the JA board at an upcoming fundraiser featuring musician Kenny Loggins.

Sunday Morning
October 12, 2014
6:00a.m.
30 minutes of a 30-minute program

Rachel Logan interviews Russell Hurd, Chair of the Heather Hurd Foundation tragically lost his daughter Heather due to a driver who was texting and driving. The foundation's goals have been to show that texting and driving is as dangerous as drunk driving. The 6th Annual Heather Hurd 5k Run and 1 Mile Fun Walk on November 8th, was promoted. The proceeds go directly to Harford Community College book scholarships where they have now raised over $100,00 in books for their students.

On Time

October 19, 2014

6:30 a.m.

9 minutes of a 30-minute program

Gigi Barnett talks with Maryland Public School Superintendent Dr. Lillian Lowery about Common Core – from what it is to who developed the program and why there is so much controversy around the concept. Dr. Lowery recounts that the development of the program originated with input for state school superintendents with a goal of giving all students a chance to improve their education by sharing best practices from successful schools like Maryland with lesser performing schools like those in Mississippi. Dr. Lowery also discussed how Maryland needs to close the achievement gap between majority and minority students in Maryland.

On Time

November 16, 2014

6:30 a.m.

10 minutes of a 30-minute program

Gigi Barnett talks with Political Science Professor John Bullock about the state's recent elections. He breaks down what went right for Larry Hogan, the Republican candidate and what didn't work for Lt. Gov. Anthony Brown, the Democratic nominee. Lack of turn out by democratic voters in Baltimore Brown's negative campaign ads also propelled Hogan into the spotlight, while Hogan's ads reflected on his anti-tax message.

On Time

November 23, 2014

6:30 a.m.

8 minutes of a 30-minute program

Deborah Phelps tells Gigi Barnett how the Education Foundation of Baltimore County Public Schools is enriching the learning experiences of students by funding extra programs and projects that complement the core class work. She discusses how these enrichment programs are helping to broaden students' horizons and are influencing them in the post high school graduation studies.

On Time

November 23, 2014

6:30 a.m.

7 minutes of a 30-minute program

Gigi Barnett spoke with The Baltimore Leadership School for Young Women, based in Baltimore City offers female students opportunities to mature and grow without the distractions of young males. Teacher Shardae Shipman and student Dayla Williams talk about the bonding that occurs in an all girls school. The nurturing school environment encourages more girls to pursue STEM – science, technology, engineering and math – subjects. The school is based on a school in NY's Harlem that develops today's girls into tomorrow's leaders.

On Time

December 28, 2014

6:30 a.m.

7 minutes of a 30-minute program

Dr. Carla Hayden tells Gigi Barnett about the impact the library has had on individuals by providing over 60 million dollars in services to their patrons – from books, e-readers, computer classes, resume writing workshops and access to the internet. All of their programs are free. To support these programs the Pratt holds several ticketed items including the Pratt Contemporaries Black and White Party, Booklovers' Breakfast and Mr. Pratt's Gala.

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter 2014
(October 1 through December 31)

ISSUE: Youth Advocacy/Mentorship

On Time

October 19, 2014

6:30 a.m.

7 minutes of 30-minute program

Gigi Barnett's interview discovered what was originally a home for German orphans during the Civil War is now a comprehensive foster care program for abused and neglected 13-21 year olds. Board members Susan Brown and Dr. Antoinette Coleman tell Gigi Barnett about their home-like shelter programs that nurture young people and guide them into independence once they "age-out" of the foster care system. Many of their graduates continue their education by attending local colleges like Morgan State University.

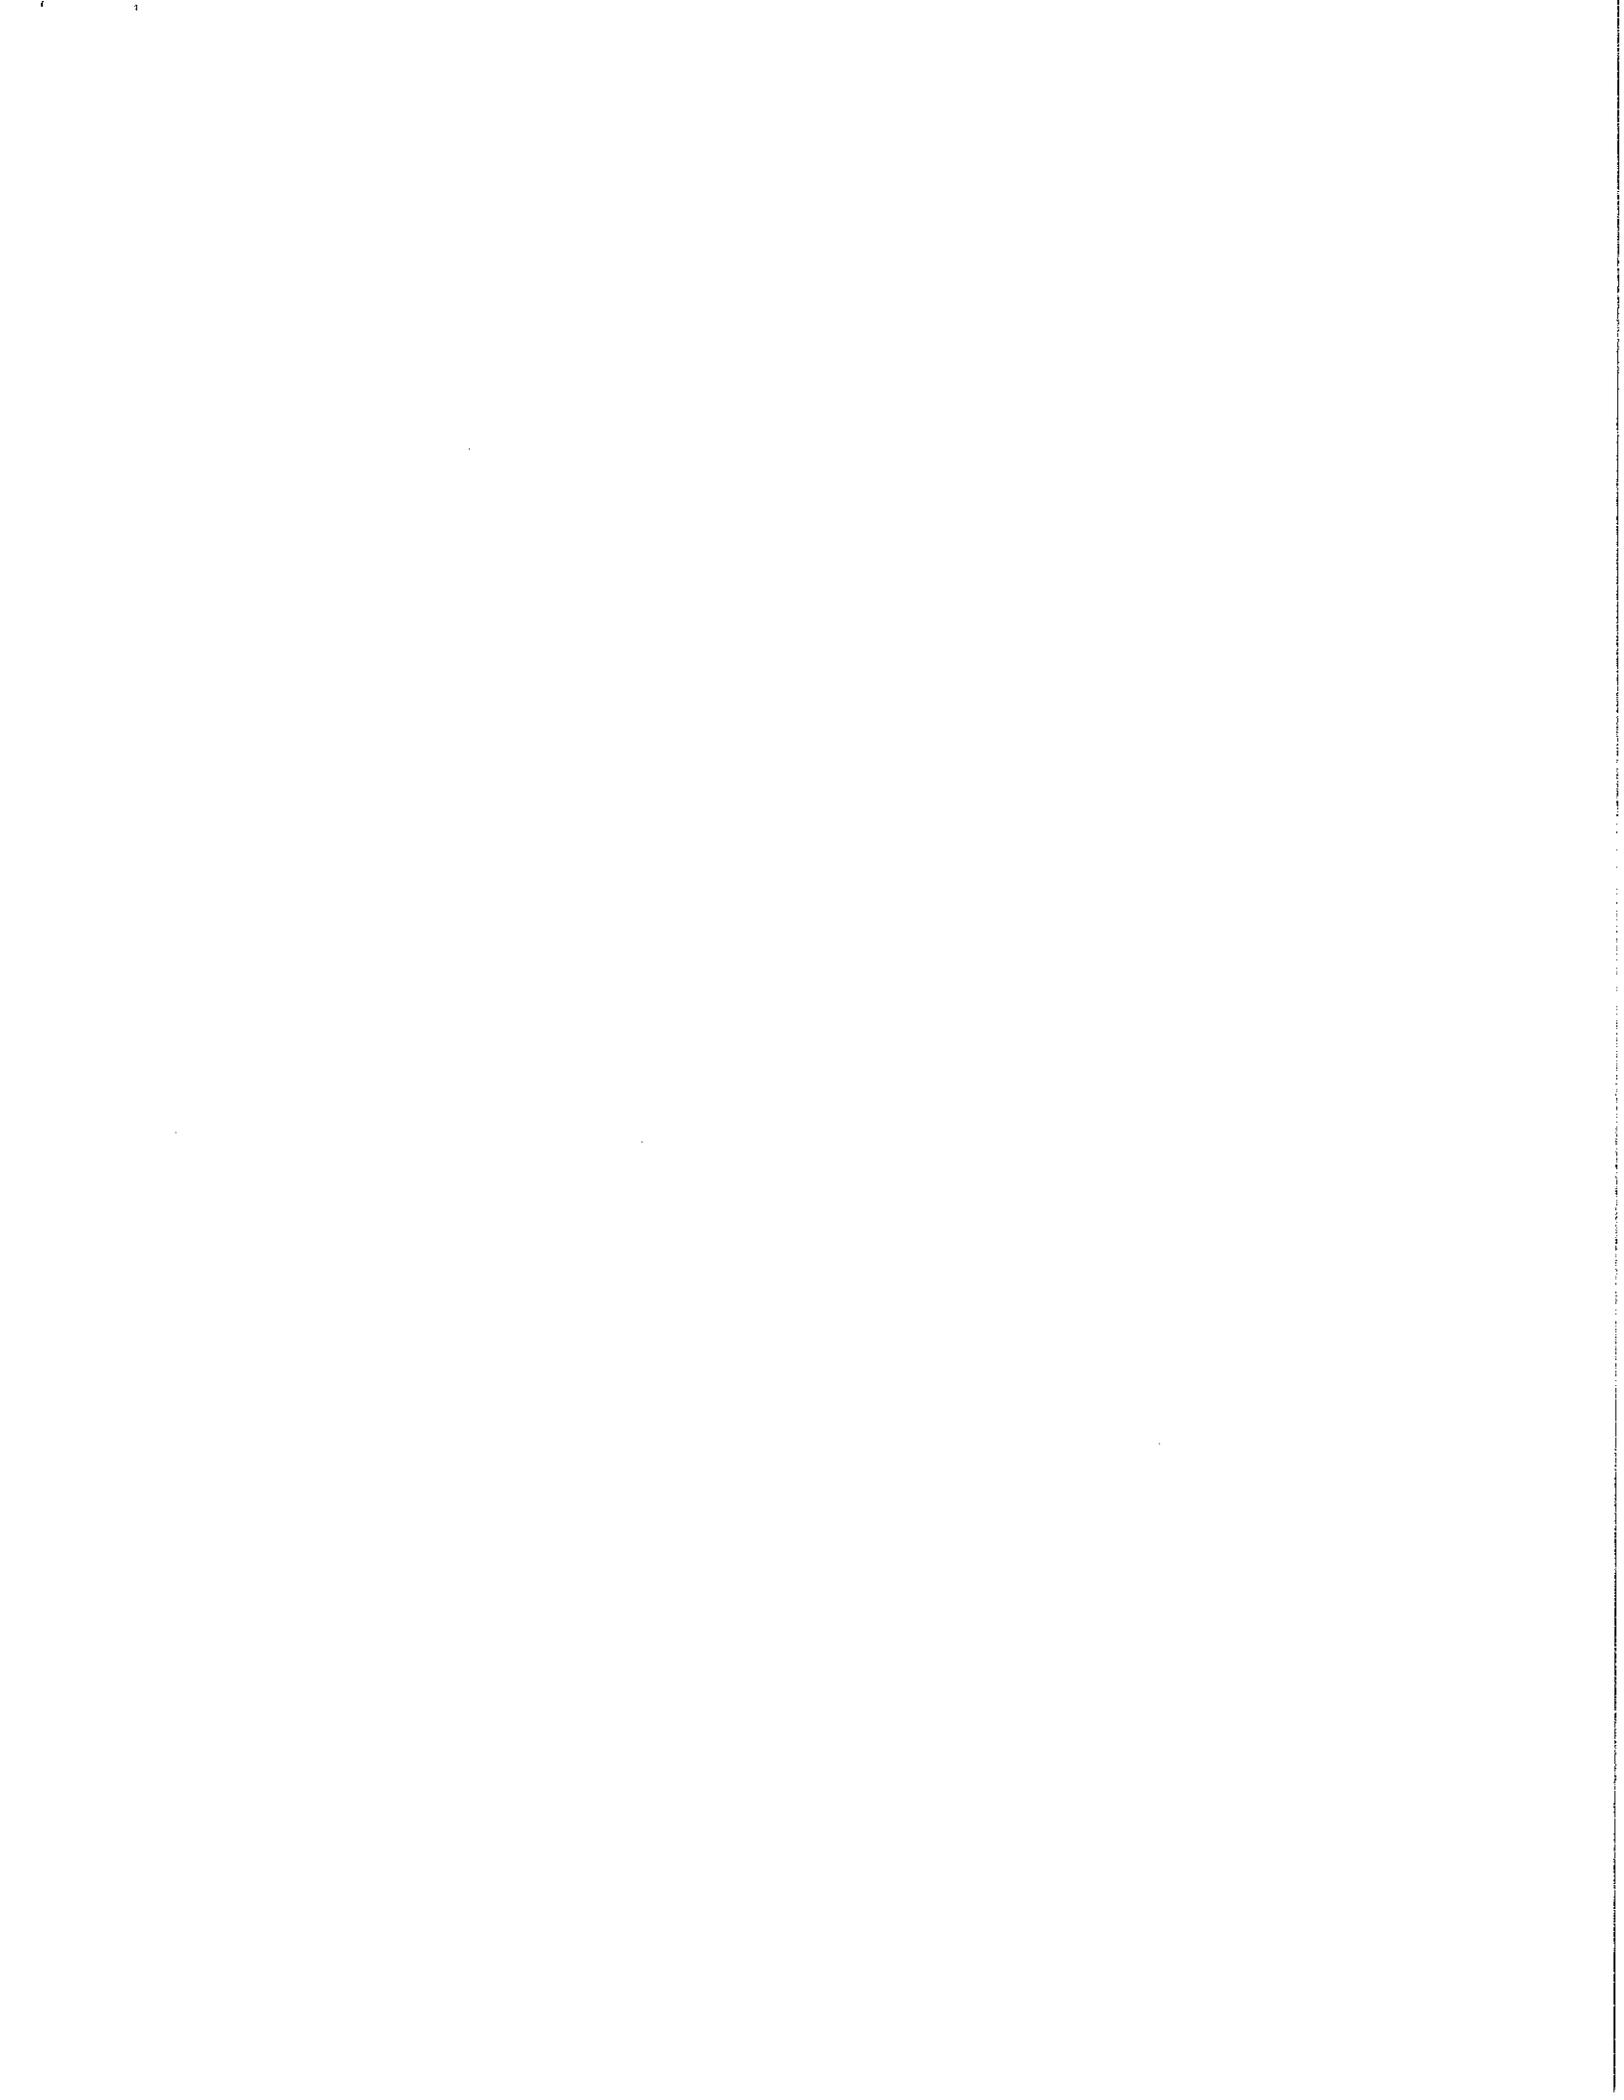

On Time

December 28, 2014

6:30 a.m.

6 minutes of a 30-minute program

The Daughter's of Dorcias is a group of 13 women who donate their time and resources to helping the orphans of Haiti. Jaki Hall tells Gigi Barnett that five years after the earthquake that devastated the Caribbean nation, thousands of children are orphans living in shelter camps. Her organization is collecting money to help fund education programs for these children.

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter 2014
(October 1 through December 31)

ISSUE: Health

On Time

October 5, 2014

6:30 a.m.

4 minutes of a 30-minute program

Fitness expert Donna Lynn shows Gigi Barnett some aerobic moves designed to help tone muscles and burn fat. She is the author of two books, "101 Ways to Stay Motivated to Lose Weight" and "Lose Your Stomach Forever the Donnacize Way." She discusses ways to incorporate exercise into everyday life and use the facilities in your own home.

On Time

October 12, 2014

6:30 a.m.

7 minutes of a 30-minute program

Alzheimer's disease is on the rise especially if you are an African American or a woman. Ernestine Jones Jolivet and Ellen Torres tell Gigi Barnett that more research needs to be done in order to find a cure and how important it is for people to be screened for early onset dementia. They discuss several awareness campaigns that are targeting the faith-based communities with messages about this disease and the toll it takes on caretakers.

On Time

October 26, 2014

6:30 a.m.

9 minutes of a 30-minute program

Gigi Barnett talks with Andrew Pekosz about infectious diseases like Ebola, Enterovirus and the Flu. He discusses symptoms of these diseases and how individuals can protect themselves especially by getting a flu vaccine which is readily available and inexpensive.

Sunday Morning

October 26, 2014

6:00 a.m.

30 minutes of a 30-minute program

Diane Lyn hosted Komen MD Race For The Cure committee. Discussed what to do in Hunt Valley race day: parking, registration, events, etc. Breast cancer research and stories were shared with Kelly Kessler and Danielle Lister.

Sunday Morning

November 2, 2014

6:00 a.m.

30 minutes of a 30-minute program

Kim Fabian, Executive Director for Junior Achievement and Reverend Barry Hargrove from the National Kidney Foundation spoke with Rachel Logan about Junior Achievement's excellent work in preparing kids for the business world and college prep starting in Elementary School and their event 'JA In A Day' – a full day of lessons on site in financial and career readiness. We also discussed their volunteer program that adults can get involved in to further impact the kids who participate.

On Time

November 16, 2014

6:30 a.m.

9 minutes of a 30-minute program

Kidney Disease affects many Americans - many who are unaware that their kidneys are not functioning until significant damage has been done. Ben Simpkins tells Gigi Barnett about dialysis prior to getting a kidney transplant from his mother. Now he chairs the Kidney Foundation's Sante event – a culinary odyssey. Dr. Matthew Weir explains what the kidneys do, from filtering blood and removing waste product, to regulating fluids, etc.

On Time

November 23, 2014

6:30am

8 minutes of a 30-minute program

Gigi Barnett talks with nutritionist, exercise physiologist and author of Living Skinny in Fat Genes, Dr. Felicia Stoler about making health eating choices over the holidays. Dr. Stoler tells Gigi about making healthy substitutions such as using whole grain pasta, multi-grain chips in place of the traditional white flour alternatives. She discusses portion control and the importance of getting more servings of fruits and vegetables over protein and grains.

On Time

December 7, 2014

6:30 a.m.

9 minutes of a 30-minute program

Gigi Barnett talks with Dr. Joshua Sharfstein and Carolyn Quattrocki about the state's healthcare marketplace where consumers can shop for healthcare insurance plans. They discuss how the website was revamped after last year's website crashed and had numerous flaws. The new website had a soft opening and enrollment in the health plans was up past 25,000 in just the first weeks. With the rollout of this year's campaign, health officials are holding enrollment workshops across the state and have counselors available by phone to help consumers.

On Time

December 7, 2014

6:30am

6 minutes of a 30-minute program

Arthritis isn't just an old person's disease. It's the leading cause of disability in the U.S. and affects 300,000 children. Dr. Joseph Ciotola, an orthopedic surgeon describes what arthritis is and how it affects the joints and bones. Lisa Boccia, director of the Arthritis Foundation, tells Gigi Barnett how the nonprofit helps arthritis sufferers and helps to fund research into the disease. Their upcoming Jingle Bells Run/Walk helps with their fundraising goals.

On Time

December 14, 2014

6:30 a.m.

9 minutes of a 30-minute program

Jules Shepard tells Gigi Barnett about her diagnosis with celiac disease and how she began experimenting with alternate flours that were gluten free. Her gluten free flour can be substituted in recipes with no change in taste. She explained how she struggled to get a diagnosis after suffering from the effects of the disease which causes the body to attack its small intestines.

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter 2014
(October 1 through December 31)

ISSUE: Community Development

Sunday Morning

October 5, 2014

6:00 a.m.

30 minutes of a 30-minute program

Rachel Logan spoke with Odette Ramos, Executive Director of Community Development Network of Maryland. They discussed the goals of the organization to improve neighborhoods physically, socially, and economically. They partner with other non-profit organizations to provide affordable housing and afterschool programs.

On Time

October 12, 2014

6:30 a.m.

9 minutes of a 30-minute program

Gigi Barnett talks with Odetta Ramos and Jeff Mosley about new efforts to expand Community Development into additional neighborhoods. They explained how becoming part of a community development network benefits businesses to individuals and helps strengthen communities. Schools, local businesses and housing benefits from a united partnership to create communities where people want to live.

Sunday Morning

November 9, 2014

6:00 a.m.

15 minutes of a 30-minute program

Diane Lyn interviewed Aileen Gabbey, Executive Director of the MSPCA. This private, non-profit organization has been the Baltimore Metro with their pet adoption center. The growing stray pet problem was addressed. Overcrowding in their shelters a concern. Their new pet adoption center a White Marsh Mall was promoted and their new online lost and found portal. Contributions were requested for their "Kibble Connection" program in conjunction with Meals On Wheels, clients and pets program.

On Time

November 9, 2014

6:30 a.m.

12 minutes of a 30-minute program

Gigi Barnett talks with Carrie Evans and Janee Pelletier from Equality Maryland about LGBT issues after the passing of the Civil Marriage Act that allowed gay couples to legally wed in Maryland. They discussed how they are fine tuning several issues that have developed after the passing of the law including healthcare issues and transgender rights.

Sunday Morning

November 16, 2014

6:00 a.m.

15 minutes of a 30-minute program

Steuart Pittman, President and Founder of Retired Racehorse Project was Diane Lyn's guest. The RRP was founded by Pittman to help find retired racehorses a place to roam, safely on private farms in the Mid Atlantic region. Their annual fundraiser was promoted, "America's Most Wanted Thoroughbred" at Pimlico.

Sunday Morning

November 23, 2014

6:00 a.m.

30 minutes of a 30-minute program

Brenda Carl spoke with Marty Schwartz, president Vehicles for Change. The group helps families with financial hardships to achieve economic and personal independence through car ownership and technical training. Vehicles for Change is growing from a local Baltimore non profit to a national model for economic growth. Their benefits of ride sharing programs was promoted.

Sunday Morning

November 30, 2014

6:00 a.m.

30 minutes of a 30-minute program

Jeannette Kendall, Owner and Founder of Charity's Closet, Phil's Closet and Cherie Amour all under flagship company, Success in Style was Rachel Logan's guest. Her companies primarily provide business attire for men and women in the Baltimore area with the exception of Cherie Amour offering donated bridal gowns. Her stores provide those in need donated clothes from both individuals and from various outlets she partners with. Everything is free to clients. Clients receive an image consultation, counseling, and a plan of action to get them back into the workplace.

On Time

November 30, 2014

6:30 a.m.

8 minutes of a 30-minute program

Tom Bonderencko tells Gigi Barnett about the start of Moveable Feast and their mission to provide nutritious meals to AIDS patients. He explains how the program provides compassion to the homebound and now assists patients battling terminal illnesses like breast cancer. He discusses plans to educate the younger generation through programs on World AIDS Day that include the Living Red Ribbon and health fair at Morgan State University.

On Time

December 21, 2014

6:30 a.m.

10 minutes of 30 minute program

Clinical Social Worker & Psychotherapist Lisa Ferenze tells Gigi Barnett that the holidays can be especially difficult for victims of trauma who engage in self-destructive behaviors. The stress of the season can escalate negative feelings that cause self harm including eating disorders, drinking and drugging excessively, and self mutilation. Ferenze suggests people limit themselves to situations that trigger these behaviors. She offers suggestions on how to minimize explosive family situations and replace old broken traditions with new options including supportive friends who can buffer negative situations.

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter 2014
(October 1 through December 31)

ISSUE: Arts & Humanities

On Time

October 19, 2014

6:30 a.m.

7 minutes of a 30-minute program

The Walters Art Museum is turning 80 and the staff has created a new exhibit featuring some of the 22,000 collected by the Walters, father William Thompson Walters and his son, Henry Walters. Executive Director Alexander and Curator Dr. Jo Briggs tell Gigi Barnett about the free exhibition that features original purchases and what the collection means to the citizens of Maryland.

On Time

November 2, 2014

6:30 a.m.

5 minutes of a 30-minute program

Gigi Barnett's interview was about the Baltimore Museum of Art turning 100! In honor of that milestone special festivity, events and the reopening of the American Wing are planned according to the BMA's Doreen Bolger and Gamynne Guillotte. The main entrance will be the museum's original Merrick entrance, the Zimoski entrance with the BMA shop is getting a make-over and the visitors will get a chance to add to the contents of the time capsule that is going to be buried for the next 100 years.

On Time

November 9, 2014

6:30 a.m.

4 minutes of a 30-minute program

The Festival of Trees is celebrating its 25 year when it returns to the Maryland State Fairgrounds. Lainy LeBow-Sachs tells Gigi Barnett how they will transform the Cow Palace into a winter wonderland with beautifully decorated trees and wreaths, Gingerbread villages, train garden, craft boutiques, children's activities and entertainment. Proceeds benefit the children at Kennedy Krieger Institute.

On Time

November 16, 2014

6:30 a.m.

5 minutes of a 30-minute program

Gigi Barnett's program featured Downtown Baltimore's ice rink, it has been 10 years since the last rink was used. Laurie Schwartz, president of the Waterfront Partnership explains how they were able to secure the location at McKeldin Square, in the heart of the Inner Harbor. Additional activities are planned from Thanksgiving to New Year's Day to celebrate the holidays – from Santa appearances, light shows, 100 tuba players performing holiday favorites and special dollar day admissions to the National Aquarium, Maryland Science Center, Top of the World, and Christmas Village on West Shore Park.

On Time

November 30, 2014

6:30 a.m.

10 minutes of a 30-minute program

Doris Ligon started the African Art Museum of Maryland thirty-three years ago. This museum is only one of three dedicated to African Art and is the only one founded by a person of color. She explains to Gigi Barnett how the museum began and how it continues to grow and educate new populations including school children. Their upcoming Jazz fundraiser was created by her late husband Claude Ligon and helps to maintain the museum in its new location in Maple Lawn.

Sunday Morning

December 7, 2014

6:00 a.m.

15 minutes of a 30-minute program

Diane Lyn spoke with Sandy Richmond from the Lyric Theater about the Lyric's rich history in the Baltimore arts community. Founded in 1894, the many shows thru-out the years were remembered. What the Lyric means to the community and how do they stay relevant. Some "secrets" about the Lyric's past and what's new for the future.

On Time

December 14, 2014

6:30 a.m.

7 minutes of a 30-minute program

Dr. Marco Merrick tells Gigi Barnett about the choir he founded in order to preserve the traditional spiritual music that was the hallmark of the African American church. Too often churches are not offering this music during regular worship services. The Christmas Concert is free and open to the public and features over 150 people in the choir.

Sunday Morning

December 21, 2014

6:00 a.m.

30 minutes of a 30-minute program

Rachel Logan spoke with Rebecca Dulka (Head of Events) and Dorothy Fuchs (PR and Market Association). It was brought to attention the agriculture in wine in the state of MD...70 wineries Maryland and what we are supporting when we attend a wine fest or event in MD. We discuss farming conditions and farmers themselves, the production of wine in MD from growing, to the event planning. We also put to rest some of the misconceptions when it comes to the production and encouraged listeners to attend a wine event whenever possible to keep the agriculture and wine thriving here in MD.

On Time

December 28, 2014

6:30 a.m.

6 minutes of a 30-minute program

Gigi Barnett talks with Sandy Richmond, president of the Lyric and Mayor Stephanie Rawlings-Blake about the impact of the 120-year old performing arts center has had in Baltimore. They discuss the diverse programming, arts education programs and the economic impact of a vibrant arts community.

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter 2014
(October 1 through December 31)

ISSUE: Financial Literacy

On Time

November 9, 2014

6:30 a.m.

7 minutes of a 30-minute program

Frederick Puente, the head of the Blind Industries and Services of Maryland tells Gigi Barnett They offer help with learning Braille, navigating with a walking cane in addition to providing manufacturing jobs in the textile field for blind workers. A majority of their clients have lost their eyesight due to illness or injury and have had to learn how to adjust their way of living how his program helps those who are blind or have low vision with rehabilitation..

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter, 2014
(October 1 through December 31)

ISSUE: Crime & Crime Prevention/Awareness

Sunday Morning

October 19, 2014

6:00 a.m.

30 minutes of a 30-minute program

Brenda Carl spoke with David Marks, Baltimore county councilman, 5th District. Marks represent the fifth District on the Baltimore County Council. The Fifth District stretches from Charles Street on the west to the Harford County line on the east, encompassing communities such as Towson, Loch Raven, Carney, Parkville, Perry Hall, and Kingsville. Discussed a variety of current issues affecting the 5th district, from the growing Towson Business District, to the crime issues plaguing the area near Towson University. Also discussed a new elementary school planned for the northeast.

On Time

November 2, 2014

6:30 a.m.

16 minutes of a 30-minute program

Gigi Barnett talks with Baltimore City Mayor Stephanie Rawlings-Blake about a recent media report documenting police brutality and the cost to taxpayers. The Mayor discusses her decision to welcome a review by the Department of Justice's COPS program. She discusses the need for transparency in the new oversight. DOJ recommendations for best-practices will be implemented during the course of the review. Similar interventions by DOJ's COPS program have yielded significant improvements in other police departments.

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter, 2014
(October 1 through December 31)

ISSUE: Substance Abuse

Sunday Morning
December 7, 2014
6:00 a.m.
15 minutes of a 30-minute program

Diane Lyn's guest Volunteer's Of America spotlighting their faith-based organization operating in community corrections, mental health, homeless services and supportive housing for the less fortunate and victims of crime, etc. Life changing support and services for those with substance abuse. Five Weeks of Giving campaign, their biggest fund raiser was promoted.

On Time
December 21, 2014
6:30 a.m.
10 minutes of a 30-minute program

Clinical Social Worker & Psychotherapist Lisa Ferenze tells Gigi Barnett that the holidays can be especially difficult for victims of trauma who engage in self-destructive behaviors. The stress of the season can escalate negative feelings that cause self harm including eating disorders, drinking and drugging excessively, and self mutilation. Ferenze suggests people limit themselves to situations that trigger these behaviors. She offers suggestions on how to minimize explosive family situations and replace old broken traditions with new options including supportive friends who can buffer negative situations.

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter, 2014
(October 1 through December 31)

ISSUE: History

On Time

October 26, 2014

6:30 a.m.

8 minutes of a 30-minute program

The Benjamin Banneker Historical Park and Museum is commemorating Maryland's 150 anniversary of Emancipation with a new exhibit: "From Banneker to Douglass: The Quests for Freedom and Equality." Museum representatives Justine Schaeffer and Willa Banks tell Gigi Barnett who Benjamin Banneker was and his role in the pursuit for civil rights.

On Time

November 30, 2014

6:30 a.m.

6 minutes of a 30-minute program

Gigi Barnett's interview is about the success of the Star Spangled Banner. Organizers at various Maryland museums are joining together to commemorate the 70th Anniversary of the end of World War II. From Warfront to Homefront: WWII in Maryland kicks off on Pearl Harbor Day, December 7 and continues through next September and features new exhibits at a variety of museums across the state. Organizers Alice Donahue and Debi Wynn discuss the contributions to the war effort from the Glenn L. Martin Company which made aircraft at its Middle River factory. The National Electronics Museum features exhibitions of radar which was in its infancy during the war but significantly helped the allies protect the skies over London from German bombing.

On Time

December 7, 2014

6:30 a.m.

3 minutes of a 30-minute program

The B&O Railroad Museum is partnering with various other nonprofit charities during the holidays through their Giving Train which allows visitors to bring canned goods, coats, and books to the museum and in return they get a half-price admission. Courtney Wilson tells Gigi Barnett about their special events and holiday displays of model trains and train gardens.

On Time

December 7, 2014

6:30 a.m.

5 minutes of a 30-minute program

Vince Vaise tells Gigi Barnett about Holidays at Hampton and how the northern most plantation in the National Park Service celebrates Christmas. He discusses this year's theme of World War II that will feature big band swing music in addition to special dance performances, African American storytelling, candlelight tours and more and it's all for free.

Sunday Morning

December 14, 2014

6:00 a.m.

15/15 minutes of a 30-minute program

Diane Lyn's program spotlighted the Mount Claire Museum House and it's Holiday Celebration (like a visit to Williamsburg in Baltimore); living history at this 1750's Georgian Estate. Dave Shackleford from Mount Claire and the B & O Railroad Museum was her guest. Also discussed the B & O Railroad Museum Roundhouse's Christmas events. Promoted were the Magical Holiday Express and the Ellicott City Station.

Gayle Economos from Hampton Historical Society spoke about "Holidays At The Hampton's" in Towson. Diane Lyn's Guest talked about this free event at the living history museum in Towson.

Public Service Announcements
4th Quarter, 2014
(October 1 through December 31)

Throughout the quarter the station aired [daily/periodic] PSAs providing information on a variety of local community activities and issues. Representative examples of such PSAs include the following:

Aware RX :60

Social Security "Someday" :60

National Safety Council "Distracted" :60

Flu and You :15

MSEA "Bully Free" :60

Neighbor-works Loan Modification Scam Alert :30

March Of Dimes "Join the Fight" :60

DAV "Thank You" :60

Men's Health Network "Your Prostate" :60