

2018 QTR 4 Issues and Programs List (KHWG)

October 3, 2018 12:00 PM Time 28:11 That's America to Me with host Chuck N Baker

Mama's Wranglers, a family band based in Southern Nevada that provides concerts to veterans' organizations throughout the year. Concerts raise funds for veterans' groups and create awareness of the work veterans' accomplishments

October 10, 2018 12:00 PM Time 27:58 That's America to Me with host Chuck N Baker

Representative of the French Consulate discussed the mission of the French government to award the French Legion of Honor to American veterans who helped liberate that nation during WWII. The French coined the phrase Liberty, Equality, Fraternity, and put it into action when they present the medals to American veterans.

October 17, 2018 12:00 PM Time 28:22 That's America to Me with host Chuck N Baker

Arnold Stalk, director of the local non-profit Veterans Village. The organization provides free and low-cost housing to veterans and families who have fallen on hard times. In addition to regular housing, a new Women & Children campus has been developed to house women veterans and spouses who have been subject to family abuse at home

October 24, 2018 12:00 PM Time 28:45 That's America to Me with host Chuck N Baker

Report on depression and veterans' suicide. Medical experts and those who have suffered from depression spoke about the causes of the illness and how to overcome it. A report from the VA was included that explained depression and its role in veterans' suicide. Listeners were urged to call the 800 Veterans Crisis Line for help.

October 31, 2018 12:00 PM Time 27:36 That's America to Me with host Chuck N Baker

Report on current relations between the White House and North Korea, and the prospects for continued cooperation between the two governments. Historic government recordings explaining the history of Korean War were played.

November 7, 2018 12:00 PM Time 28:27 That's America to Me with host Chuck N Baker

Brenda Villatoro, director, Cookies for Troops. Her non-profit bakes thousands of cookies each year and sends them overseas to U.S. troops, and also gives them to veterans at the local VA and other venues.

November 14, 2018 12:00 PM Time 28:18 That's America to Me with host Chuck N Baker

Alan Livingston, author, "Intersection with History, How my Family Crossed Paths with President Kennedy and Lee Harvey Oswald." November is the month that JFK was killed in 1963. In a tribute to the former commander in chief, I discussed JFK's career and the assassination. The author discussed how as children in Ft. Worth, his brother was singing in a boys' choir and shook hands with JFK before the president flew to Dallas. Later that day in Dallas when Oswald was accused of shooting JFK, Livingston's teacher mother realized Oswald was a former student of hers. She was later called to testify to the Warren Commission.

November 21, 2018 12:00 PM Time 28:42 That's America to Me with host Chuck N Baker

Repeat: Alan Livingston, author, "Intersection with History, How my Family Crossed Paths with President Kennedy and Lee Harvey Oswald." November is the month that JFK was killed in 1963. In a tribute to the former commander in chief, I discussed JFK's career and the assassination. The author discussed how as children in Ft. Worth, his brother was singing in a boys' choir and shook hands with JFK before the president flew to Dallas. Later that day in Dallas when Oswald was accused of shooting JFK, Livingston's teacher mother realized Oswald was a former student of hers. She was later called to testify to the Warren Commission.

November 27, 2018 12:00 PM Time 28:42 That's America to Me with host Chuck N Baker

Mitchell Langdon, Navy veteran and professional survivalist. Using tactics, he learned in the military as well as additional training, he discussed how soldiers use whatever is available to survive in an emergency. He then explained how anyone can make use of such information in the event of civilian emergencies such as out-of-control fires (as in California), earthquakes, medical trauma, terrorist attacks or other situations.

November 28, 2018 12:00 PM Time 28:17 That's America to Me with host Chuck N Baker

Joe Tasby the regional director of Blinded Veterans Association. Joe talks about the BBA.

December 5, 2018 12:00 PM Time 28:40 That's America to Me with host Chuck N Baker

Charm McElree, volunteer with Operation Recognition. She works with veterans from WWII, Korea, Vietnam, Middle East wars, who left high school to join the military. The State allows eligible veterans to apply to receive their high school diploma, since they left school to join the military. Most eligible veterans are not aware of the program, but McElree seeks them out and helps them file the correct paperwork.

December 12, 2018 12:00 PM Time 28:10 That's America to Me with host Chuck N Baker

God Behind Bars. Director Jake Bodine and his staff visit veterans in various jails and prisons and Departments of Corrections and helps them turn their lives around through religion. In addition to Nevada, the non-profit group also visits nearby States such as Arizona and Utah.

December 16, 2018 12:00 PM Time 28:40 That's America to Me with host Chuck N Baker

No guest. Over the air I provided spoken book reviews about recently published military books. I suggested that veterans and families might want to buy the books for themselves or buy them to give as Christmas gifts for others.

December 26, 2018 12:00 PM Time 28:31 That's America to Me with host Chuck N Baker

Goodwill Career Centers. Outreach coordinator Jennifer Remieh discussed the local Veterans Outreach Centers that provide help to veterans who are unemployed. A new center opened last month, and provides classes on resume writing, how to prepare for an interview, how to dress, etc. Goodwill also has a Job Bank with companies that hire veterans.