Alone in the Wilderness, Parts 1 & 2

Thousands have dreamed it, but Richard Proenneke lived it. This is a simple account of his day-to-day life alone in the wilderness of Alaska, and nature's events that kept him company.

Frederick Law Olmsted: Designing America

Known as the father of American landscape architecture, Olmsted was co-designer of Central Park, head of the first Yosemite commission, leader of the campaign to protect Niagara Falls, designer of the U.S. Capitol Grounds, and planner of park systems in many cities. To Olmsted, a park was both a work of art and a necessity for urban life. His efforts created an "environmental ethic" decades before the environmental movement became a force in American politics.

American Experience Freedom Summer

During the summer of 1964, the nation's eyes were riveted on Mississippi. During ten memorable weeks known as Freedom Summer, more than 700 student volunteers joined organizers and local African Americans in a historic effort to shatter the foundations of white supremacy in the nation's most segregated state. The campaign was marked by deadly violence, including the murders of three civil rights workers.
