The first step will be to conduct engineering studies necessary for the construction to begin. He says hopefully those engineering studies will begin in the next three to four months with actual construction beginning later this year.

Description of Program Content:

Reported and discussed a news story about a proposed Evansville ordinance granting equal benefits to city employees in same-sex relationships hitting a road block. The ordinance was to be filed Tuesday, April 22nd with the clerk's office and would have had its first reading at city council's next meeting. Instead, council members told a local news outlet they would like the mayor's office to conduct a study to determine the financial impact on granting such benefits. The resolution submitted asks that the study look into the financial impact of granting benefits, rights and protections to not only couples in same-sex marriages, but also to those in civil unions and domestic partnerships. Councilman Jonathan Weaver says the study will help determine how much more it will cost to provide healthcare to those in these types of partnerships. Officials estimate the study could take between 60 and 90 days.

Air Date: 6/10/2014

Air Time: 6:40AM

Description of Program Content:

Reported and discussed a news story about a new traffic law taking effect July 1st, 2014 in Indiana that will allow scooter drivers to proceed through red lights under certain conditions. The law will help out scooter drivers waiting too long for the traffic light to turn green. Scooter drivers say traffic sensors on the road don't often sense scooters parked in front of traffic lights, due to the smaller size and weight of the vehicles. The new law states that if anyone driving a scooter, moped, or motorcycle sits at a red light for two minutes or longer, they may cautiously proceed through the intersections, without being cited. Many people believe the law will be abused by scooter drivers, as they believe many of them won't wait the full two minutes before driving through the intersection. Police say it will be difficult for them to enforce the law.
