Segment Topic: Operation Green Light Offers Fee Savings

Organization: Orange County Clerk of Courts

Guest(s): Tiffany Moore Russell, Clerk of Courts

Contact: Myorangeclerk.com

Date: 4/12/15

Duration: 20:00

Issues: Russell described Operation Green Light, a program through which collections fees will be waived for Orange County citations on two days in April. These are any traffic citations or criminal fines that are in collections and people can save 40% because the collections fees are waived. This will help people who couldn't afford to pay the fine and the collections fees and of course, helps the County raise funds by getting these citations off the books.

Organization: SIP Kids and Keeping Kids Safe Project

Guest(s): Lytishya Borglum, National Director

Contact: Sipkids.com

Date: 4/19/15

Duration: 15:00

Issues: Borglum's group is sponsoring a free fingerprinting event in Orlando and she invited parents to bring their children. She explained how such fingerprints can be used by law enforcement if it became necessary. She said that in the meantime, the images are taken digitally and that the parents get the only copy -- the original is deleted while the parents watch.

Contact: Wppl.org

Date: 4/19/14

Duration: 10:00

Issues: Winter Park Public Library is sponsoring a series for the community called Puzzle Pieces: Conversations about Social Justice. The next presentation in the series will feature author Robert Marovich who will discuss his book A City Called Heaven. In this segment Marovich described his book, saying that it follows the development of gospel music from early hymns and camp meetings through the migrations of gospel singers to Chicago. He says he will be playing some recordings of the music for the Puzzle Pieces participants.

Lori Schweitzer, Festival Art Chairman

Eleanor Jones, Festival Publicity

Contact: Apopkaartandfoliagefestival.org

Date: 4/29/15

Duration: 30:00

Issues: The guests invited listeners to the upcoming Apopka Art and Foliage Festival taking place at Kit Nelson Park. They described the many activities that will take place including the art, foliage, music, and nursery tours. This annual event brings out thousands of people and raises money for scholarships and non-profits across the town of Apopka.

Organization: Lawton House

Guest(s): Jovanna Nelson, Event Organizer, Lt. Colonel in the Army Reserves, and Gold Star Mother

Lars White, Oviedo Fire Chief, Organizer, and Lawton House Expert

Contact: (407) 339-0879 (Amber Richards, Wellons Communications)

Date: 5/17/15

Duration: 30:00

Issues:

The two guests invited listeners to participate in the Oviedo Memorial Day events to honor those who have fought and died for our freedom. Nelson, who lost her son during the war in Afghanistan, explained the meaning of Memorial Day. She said there will be a wreath laying ceremony and cross tribute for fallen military members on May 15th and that for the days following, people can view 390 crosses and wreaths set up at the Lawton House. The wreaths were created by Connor MacFarlane in honor of his father and are to be laid in place by his sister's Girl Scout troop. Each cross and wreath is in memory of a fallen hero. Chief White described the history of the Oviedo's Lawton house and explained how it came to be the location of this event.

Organization: Alliance for Neighborhood Restoration

Guest(s): Delores McLaughlin, Executive Director

Contact: www.facebook.com/juneteenthcocoa

Date: 6/14/15

Duration: 15:00

Issues: McLaughlin explained that Juneteenth is a national celebration of freedom related to Abraham Lincoln freeing the slaves. The word of the emancipation proclamation took time to travel across the nation, so it reached Texas in June and the celebrations broke out. This festival will honor that historic event and is scheduled to take place on June 20th in the historic Diamond Square area of Cocoa. She said her organization thought this festival would be a great way to bond the community and to raise money to support children's programs.

Organization: American Red Cross of Central Florida

Guest(s): Katherine "Boo" Gonzalez, Executive Director

Contact: 407) 644-9300; www.redcross.org/local/central-florida

Date: 5/17/15

Duration: 30:00

Issues: Gonzalez described the work of the American Red Cross and the ways that they assist people who want to prepare for natural disasters. She said that hurricane season is around the corner and an opportunity for the two million people in the tri-county area to prepare. There are, she says, three basic ways people prepare: have a disaster kit ready; have a disaster plan and exercise it with your family; and be informed about the types of disasters and communication channels of notification. Gonzalez also spoke about opportunities for training and for volunteering.

Issues: Parris gave some safety tips that will keep children safe and healthy. First, there have already been two child deaths in the state of Florida because those children were left alone in hot cars. So Parris emphasized that it is critical for care givers to do whatever is necessary to remember not to leave children in hot cars. Next he spoke about drowning prevention, pointing out that children must be closely monitored around the pool. Finally, Parris discussed child safety seats and how to use them properly.

Contact: <http://www.prepareseminole.com/prepare/>

Date: 5/24/15

Duration: 30:00

Issues: Harris discussed ways to prepare for hurricane season, which begins on June 1st. He says that although the number of forecasted storms for the upcoming season is low, it's important to prepare because it only takes one hurricane to cause disaster. This is a good time to prepare because although there have been some tropical storms in May, they usually hit Florida later in the summer. Specifically, he told listeners to have a disaster kit, a disaster plan, and stay informed about the weather. Harris also described the technology available to help everyone prepare.
