Quarterly List of Programming Responsive to Issues of Community Concern

4th Quarter
January 10, 2024

To serve the public interest, the station broadcasts programming responsive to issues of concern to the CSRA and its listening public. The following lists most significant to our programming and the treatment of them:

Issues of importance this quarter included the following during the months of October, November, and December: In the month of October 2023, we welcomed several guests. Mr. Thornton began the month by highlighting points regarding Medicaid enrollment and local events. The community note highlighted support groups and benefits of community gardens. Moving along the middle of the month, Mr. Thornton highlighted vouchers for the homeless, child abuse information, and local events. To end the month, the community note highlighted facts regarding Georgia unemployment and local events. The notes highlighted support services for children and local events at the beginning of November 2023. Mr. Thornton aired more support services for youth. Towards the middle of the month, the community note highlighted support services for women and local events. The community note covered Native Americans Heritage month, including the connection between Augusta, Georgia and Native Americans. It also covered updates regarding healthcare coverage enrollment, Georgia's options for surplus budget spending, and local events. In the month of December, the community note listed heating centers for the public and Mr. Thornton listed local events. Karen Wright Marshall appeared on the show to discuss building faith. Mark Steines was interviewed to talk about insights on immigration and Angela Marshall appeared on the show to discuss motivational moments. Mr. Thornton aired excerpts of his interview with Yvonne Carroll of St. Jude Research Center who discussed features of St. Jude's services. Towards the middle of December, the community note focused on school spotlights ( Columbia County schools in Georgia) and local events. Jennifer Lee appeared on the show to discuss value of education. Dr. Joan Luby was interviewed and talked about developing our children. As the month came to an end, Brennan Francois talked about getting inspired. The community note featured an excerpt from the interview wherein the guests discussed ways to cope with loss. Dr. Franklin Graves joined the show to talk about dealing with the blues. Mr. Thornton also aired Ms. Ernestine Smith's interview where she discussed the power of Head Start and Mr. Thornton discussed an upcoming bridal event.
