Issues/Programs
First Quarter 2017

Below is a listing of some of the issues and/or problems that we have addressed during this past quarter and a description of some of the programs that we aired to address these issues.

FAITH IN ACTION is a locally produced 25 minute program. It is co-hosted by station manager Jim Ganley and MJ Krauter. Each program features one or more in-studio guests (or occasionally a guest by phone) and addresses a particular issue. Each week, two different programs are produced and aired. Each program airs a total of five times during the specific week indicated. Some of the programs and their topics are listed below. The programs are aired every week on the following schedule:

Schedule A

Monday 10 AM, Tuesday 4 PM, Thursday 10 AM, Friday at 4 PM and Saturday at noon.

Schedule B

Monday 4 PM, Tuesday 10 AM, Thursday 4 PM, Friday at 10 AM and Saturday at 12:30 PM

Addiction to Pornography

The growth of pornography and the ease with which people (especially young people) can acquire it because of the internet, smart-phones and other modern electronic devices is a problem. Pornography creates erroneous impressions and attitudes that make it difficult for its victims to enjoy a good and healthy marriage.

To address this issue, on February 9, 2017, we broadcast a half hour program featuring Steve Wood. He spoke about the New Threats from the Plague of Pornography.

On February 28, 2017, as part of the Morning Glory Show, host Brian Patrick and Dr. Peter Kleponis spoke about pornography addiction and how it affect not only the pornography viewer but his or her whole family.

Mental Health Issues

In today's ever more busy lifestyle people are often stressed to the point that they cannot function in normal rational ways as the normally might in a better environment. This affects their family life as well as their social life and even their employment.

On February 16, 2017 at 12:00-1:00 PM, on the Take Two Program with hosts Jerry usher and Debbie Georgiani talked about "worrying and do the concerns of life keep you awake at night". They took call from listeners and offered advice on how to cope with worrying for a healthier lifestyle.

On February 15, 2017, for approximately 10 minutes, on the Son Rise Morning Show, host Brain Patrick talked to Dr. Jim Schroeder about the psychological benefits of silence.

Suicide Prevention

Indiana has one of the highest suicide rates in the country, especially among teens and young adults. To address this issue, we broadcast the following programs.

Five times during the week of February 27-March 4, 2017, on our Faith in Action program (schedule A), Charis Webb and Mary Carajewski discussed an upcoming “Out of the Darkness-Suicide Prevention Walk” at Butler University. They talked about suicide, how to recognize signs that someone might be considering suicide and how to help that person.

On March 31, 2017 from 1:00-2:00 PM, Dr. Ray Guarendi, a clinical psychologist, took calls from listeners and discussed struggling with family members who are diagnosed with depression.

Raising Healthy Well Adjusted Children and Teens

Five times during the week of February 13-18, 2017 on our Faith in Action program (schedule A), we interviewed Veronica Gibbs and Dawn Holifield about the DOVE Program, a program that offers parents tips on how to raise children with positive family values including such things as modesty and respect for authority.

On February 2, 2017 at 4 PM (live), re-broadcast on February 4th, 11th, 18th and 25th at 4 PM, on our Faith Filled Physician program featured Dr. Holly Smith, MD and Fr. Ryan McCarthy. They talked about dangers of increased sexual activity among teenagers both physically and mentally.

On February 21, 2017, on the Take Two program at noon, hosts Jerry Usher and Debbie Giagorni talked about encouraging a struggling child. This hour long call in show offered information to help a child who is struggling with school, family and social issues.

On March 14, 2017, on the Son Rise Morning Show at 7AM, host Brain Patrick talked to Danielle Bean for approximately 10 minutes about “Honing in on Your Kids Talents”.

Resources for Crime Prevention and Crime Victims

Five times during the week of January 2-7, 2017 on Faith in Action (schedule A), we featured Jan Edwards speaking about sex trafficking... how pervasive it is even locally... tips on how to spot it... how to report it... how to avoid becoming a victim of it... ect.

Five times during the week of January 23-28, on our Faith in Action program (schedule B), Lindsay Hill Stawick and Janet Kamri spoke about “Teen Dating Violence Prevention Month”. They offered information for both parents and teens on this important issue.

Five times during the week of March 20-25, 2017 on our Faith in Action Program (schedule), Michael Hurst from Legacy House (a local agency that provides no charge legal help and counseling to individuals of any type of violence). He spoke about various kinds of crime that are often perpetrated on low income individuals and programs that are available to help the victims.
