

2022 4th Quarter Report

For all of our interviews, portions were used within our newscasts on that day or soon after

Friday October 7, 2022

AZ Adoptive Water Sports - Founder Jo Crawford talked to us about how her organization makes it possible for people with disabilities, even severe disabilities, can take part in water skiing, and other water activities. The following week they were to be at lake Powell for local folks with disabilities.

Friday October 14, 2022

Belinda Blake - Representing Banner Page Hospital, Belinda Blake talked to us about Breast cancer Awareness Month, October. Ms. Blake talked to us about changes in how the disease is detected, and how now, more than ever, early detection can be so important.

Tuesday October 18, 2022

Megan Moore - The Page Unified School District's Athletic Director brought us up to date on school sports currently going on at Page High School. Football was the main topic. But also, Megan brought with her several girls and boys soccer coaches from the high school.

Wednesday October 19, 2022

Linda Nolan PUSD - From Page High School, Ms. Nolan, and several student actors, were at the radio station to talk (and sing) about their upcoming performances of "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat" at the high school.

Friday October 21, 2022

Krista Allen - Krista Allen, a graduate of Page High School and Northern Arizona University, was recently named the Editor of the Navajo Times. The Navajo Times is the major newspaper on the Navajo Nation, and we felt that the people of Page would be so proud to find out about her promotion, and what thoughts she brings to the important position.

Tuesday October 25, 2022

Kay Leum - Ms. Leum is the Executive Director of Extended learning at the Page campus of Coconino Community College. Kay was in the studio to talk about what was coming up in the near future, and to give us a sneak peak at the Spring Semester that was beginning in January, 2023.

Wednesday October 26, 2022

Judy Franz - Judy is the Executive Director of the Page/Lake Powell Chamber of Commerce. She was on-air to talk about the details of her favorite event of the year, the Chamber's Street fair, which is in association with the Page Balloon Regatta, coming up November third through the sixth. She gave us information on how vendors, and others, could still get involved.

Wednesday November 2, 2022

Bryan Hill - For the 19th year, Mr. Hill was preparing to be the Balloon Meister for the Page Balloon Regatta coming up this weekend. Mr. Hill gave us a lot of background information, such as how many balloonists will be in town and how he prepares for the weekend, in particular, how he makes decisions pertaining to the weather.

Friday November 4, 2022

Five Write-in Candidates for Justice of the Peace in Page - Since the incumbent, Judge Donald Roberts, passed away shortly before the November 8th Election Day, and was still on the ballot, five people became write-in candidates, and we interviewed all five of them and aired them twice on this day, in the morning, and again in the afternoon in reverse order.

Monday November 7, 2022

Megan Moore - Megan came in to bring us up to date on winter sports at Page High School, and the Page Middle School, too.

Friday November 11, 2022

Mayor Bill Diak - Mr. Diak was always a regular guest with us through the years. In this episode he went over his thought about Election Day, three days previous. His thoughts weren't on the city, but on the state and regional contests in Arizona.

Wednesday November 16, 2022

Lynn Cormier - Lynn is the longtime Community and recreation Services Director for the city of Page. She had a lot on her mind about events coming up in and around the city, but especially the Christmas Parade in December. She was hoping people would come forward for the parade and the Christmas Tree lighting event.

Bryan Hill - Mr. Hill is the longtime General Manager of Page utilities. He was with us again, this time, concerning the Page Balloon Regatta, which had been a great success in early November. He was announcing that he is no longer going to be the Balloon Meister, and instead would simply be one of the sixty or seventy balloonists.

Tuesday November 29, 2022

Kay Leum - Hard to believe, but Spring Semester at Coconino Community College would be getting started in mid-January. Ms. Leum, as the Executive Director of Extended Learning, spoke mostly about a CDL class, and one for EMTs. The idea was to get people thinking about these two professions before it was too late to sign-up.

Tuesday December 6, 2022

Megan Moore - The Page High School's Athletic Director was here to talk about the Girls' Holiday Basketball Classic, which was coming up the next weekend. Eight high schools would be coming to Page to participate. And of course, the Page girls, would be in the thick of it.

Wednesday December 7, 2022

Justin Smith - Coach Smith heads the boys' varsity basketball team, and was here to talk about the approaching Boys' Holiday Basketball Classic. The people of Page know Coach Smith very well, as he has three State Basketball Titles on his resume; two with the girls and one with the boys (2020-2021 Season). After spending one year coaching at nearby Tuba City, the Coach was back in Page and the people of Page were glad.

Friday December 9, 2022

Janet Brown - The owner of lake Powell Communications, since 1990, was with us on-air to talk about the closing of the radio station at the end of December. Her efforts to sell, up until this point, had not panned out. She wanted the people of Page, and beyond, to know what was going on. What was going on was that she hadn't been able to sell the station, and would be turning it off at the end of December.
