12/18/2023	The Broadcast	DJ Blue Sky	3:00:00 AM	5:00:00 AM	2:00:00	Music, weather (occasionally) education	Most of the music played is rock-centric, spanning the numerous genres and decades of rock since the 50s. This includes classic, psychedelic, stoner, indie, prog, goth, folk, and punk (to name a few). I also try to stick to deep cuts and tracks that are not well known or that are not too popular, such as songs that haven't received much air time on the radio, both in past and present. Every so often, where applicable, I'll also talk about a song or the album it's from more in-depth, whether it be a personal story that makes the song/album stand out for me, lesser-known facts about it, or just commentary about the artist's song/album. Besides playing a mix of older stuff and newer stuff, I occasionally have mini-themes in a set of songs (such as authority/government, love, war, geography, etc.) Besides rock, a little bit of jazz, swing and big band music is thrown into the mix every so often to try and have something for everyone. Outside of music, I will occasionally mention the weather or some greater trends and patterns regarding it, although I am limited to how in-depth I can go since my show is pre-recorded.
