Short Description (250 Characters):

Tulsa Tri-City Collective leaders Carlos Moreno and Bracken Klar talk about the history of Greenwood, a Tulsa neighborhood founded by and for Black and Indigenous people at the beginning of the 20th century.

Long Description:

Black Wall Street, or the historically Black neighborhood Greenwood, Oklahoma is the site of a prosperous, thriving, Black community. It is also the site of the 1921 Tulsa Race Massacre, a violent attack waged by white supremacists, killing hundreds of residents and leveling homes and businesses.

In the second episode of our three part Black History Month series, we talk about how the community built back. In fact, Greenwood's economic heyday came 20 years later, in the 1940s. Then came the 1950s-60s, when Urban Renewal projects gave the city of Tulsa federal funds to buy out Black land owners. This loss of ownership undercut Greenwood's very existence. Now Greenwood Okies, pulling from their history, are building Tulsa's future, despite continued discrimination.
