2. History	History Detectives Special Investigations “Civil War Sabotage?” With a death toll of 1,500, the mysterious explosion of the Mississippi steam boat SS Sultana, on the way north at the end of the Civil War, is one of the worst maritime disasters in U.S. history. Team members forensically examine the original investigative report and scientifically test theories of the boilers’ failure. History Detectives Special Investigations “Texas Servant Girl Murders” In 1885, six African-American servants and two white society women were killed in Austin, Texas – almost all bludgeoned with an ax, dragged from their beds and raped. No killer is identified despite many arrests and a high-profile trial. Team members search records and apply cutting-edge police techniques to try to find an answer. Al Capone: Icon Self-made, flamboyant, gangster, killer, man-about-town political power-broker Al Capone sparks images of pinstripe suits and bloody violence. This film dives into the past to find answers to the gangster’s enduring impact, and his connections to modern organized crime and police work. Panama Canal: The Eighth Wonder of the World Completed in 1914, the building of the Panama Canal is a story of epic proportions, filled with political deception, power struggles, and the tragic deaths of thousands. This film traces the engineering feat in the face of nature, politics and yellow fever.	7/1/14 9:00 p.m. 1 hour 7/15/14 9:00 p.m. 1 hour 7/22/14 8:00 p.m. 1 hour 8/13/14 9:00 p.m. 1 hour

	The Roosevelts: An Intimate History This film encompasses the events the Roosevelts helped shape – the digging of the Panama Canal, the New Deal, the defeat of Hitler, and the postwar struggles for civil rights at home and human rights around the world in which Eleanor Roosevelt played a central role. But it is also an intimate human story about love and betrayal, family feeling, personal courage, and the conquest of fear.	9/14/14 – 9/20/14 8:00 p.m. 2 hours each day Total of 14 hours
3. Local Community Interest	Outdoor Idaho “Inspired by Nature” Cameras capture Idaho artists and their work, which is drawn from the Gem State’s natural riches whether in wood carvings, mixed media, plein air paintings, or fused glass. Outdoor Idaho “Idaho Fairways” This program visits some of the state’s golf courses that cater primarily to locals and are gathering places for the community. Some are on naturally challenging terrains, others are designed and creates; some are built by farmers, others by a more formal process. From hillsides to canyons, from sharing space with an airport to links behind protective woods, Idaho’s small courses offer unique experiences. Outdoor Idaho “Flying Idaho” This program visits wilderness flying veterans, a wilderness flying school operator, and individuals who build their own planes, including a replica of the first plane to fly into Idaho. Cameras capture the action at an air show, visit an upscale boutique aircraft business, and reveal the constantly changing scene that is Idaho from the air. Bluebird Man Produced by Boise-based Wild Lens Inc., this film chronicles the efforts of 91-year-old Idaho resident Alfred Larson, who has been monitoring and maintaining more than 300 nest boxes for bluebirds in the Gem State for 35 years. The film captures Larson in Idaho’s Owyhee Mountains as he monitors every stage of the breeding process from nest building to egg laying, hatching, and finally the fledging of the bluebird chicks. When the chicks reach a certain age, Larson bands each one with a federal aluminum leg band. He has banded more than 27,000 bluebirds. Outdoor Idaho “Still Kickin” This program goes into the backcountry and down roadways with Idahoans who continue to inspire and amaze, long after most people are ready to call it quits.	7/10/14 8:00 p.m. 30 minutes 7/17/14 8:00 p.m. 30 minutes 7/24/14 8:00 p.m. 30 minutes 7/24/14 8:30 p.m. 30 minutes 9/25/14 8:00 p.m. 30 minutes

4. Nature	Science Trek “Birds of Prey” Birds of prey are raptors. The word ‘raptor’ comes from the Latin word, rapere, which means to seize or capture. That’s one of the things raptors do best. They are great hunters. They have special adaptations that make them unique in the natural world. Greg Kaltenecker, Executive Director, Intermountain Bird Observatory, Boise State University; and Bill Heinrich, Interpretive Center Director, World Center for Birds of Prey discuss birds of prey. Outdoor Idaho “Idaho Geology, A Convergence of Wonders” The Gem State’s story is written in stone, which reveals the forces that produced a landscape that unites, divides and binds together Idahoans. Science Trek “Bats” Bats are the only mammals that fly, and they play an important role in our ecosystem. They help pollinate plants so we have food, and they eat insects so bugs do not overwhelm us. Rita Dixon, state wildlife action plan coordinator for the Idaho Department of Fish and Game; and Jesse Barber, assistant professor of biology at Boise State University, discuss bats and why these amazing creatures are so important for our environment.	8/26/14 2:00/1:00 p.m. MT/PT 30 minutes 9/4/14 8:00 p.m. 1 hour 9/16/14 2:00/1:00 p.m. MT/PT 30 minutes
5. Outdoor Adventures	Outdoor Idaho “River of No Return: Idaho’s Scenic Salmon” This program profiles the river and the people who live, work and visit the famous waterway. The Hog Heaven Muzzleloaders of Moscow attempt to run the Salmon River in a dug-out canoe. Outdoor Idaho “Idaho’s Scenic Byways” Cameras capture scenes from the state’s system of more than 2,400 miles of official Scenic, Historic or Backcountry byways. The routes crisscross the state to reveal natural wonders, geologic and historic sites, and the varied topography of Idaho. Outdoor Idaho “Salmon River Lodges & Legacies” This special travels the Salmon River, stopping each night at a historic lodge to meet the people who continue in the footsteps of hearty pioneers in the wild heart of Idaho. Each stop reveals a rich history. Rafters, guides, boat operators and residents all reveal how they are drawn to the river repeatedly – or permanently.	8/14/14 8:00 p.m. 1 hour 8/28/14 8:00 p.m. 1 hour 9/11/14 8:00 p.m. 1 hour

6. Culture	Dialogue “Author Anthony Doerr” Idaho author Anthony Doerr, whose latest book, All the Light We Cannot See, debuted at #10 on the New York Times’ Best Sellers list in May and has received glowing reviews around the country. Doerr, who lives in Boise, talks about his novel, which took ten years to research and write. The story depicts the lives of two European children in World War II, children whose lives ultimately intersect in war-torn Saint Malo, France. The town was nearly destroyed by Allied forces at the end of the war. Doerr discusses the book’s themes, which include the power of radio during that time period, and the moral choices faced by civilians during wartime. Dialogue “Walking the Way with Kurt Koontz” Boise resident Kurt Koontz talks about his book, A Million Steps, which chronicles his journey along the Camino de Santiago trail in northern Spain. The 500-mile route, known colloquially as The Way, was originally a trek made by Catholic pilgrims to the Santiago de Compostela Cathedral, believed to be the burial place of St. James, an apostle of Jesus. Today, 200,000 seekers a year from all backgrounds traverse the path. Koontz talks about why he decided to take the journey, what he learned along the way, and why he wanted to write a book about his experiences. Dialogue “S.C. (Sam) Gwynne” Gwynne is the author of Empire of the Summer Moon: Quanah Parker and the Rise and Fall of the Comanches, the Most Powerful Indian Tribe in American History. The book, which spent four months on the New York Times’ Top 10 Best Seller’s List, was a finalist for the Pulitzer Prize in 2011, a National Book Critics Circle Award Finalist and the winner of both the Texas and Oklahoma Book Awards. It paints the epic story of the Comanches, who at one time ranged over an estimated 250,000 square miles of the American Plains, an area now part of five states. It also draws the more intimate story of Cynthia Ann Parker, a nine-year old girl who was kidnapped by Comanches during a raid on the family’s Texas homestead. Parker subsequently spent 24 years with the tribe and had three children, including Quanah, who would become one of the Comanche’s most skilled warriors. But the two were ultimately separated. Gwynne talks about why he was drawn to the stories of the Comanches, the Parkers and Quanah, why their history is not more broadly known, and why he thinks the Comanches were the most powerful tribe in America.	7/11/14 7:30 p.m. 30 minutes 8/1/14 7:30 p.m. 30 minutes 9/19/14 7:30 p.m. 30 minutes

7. Health	Second Opinion “HPV Vaccine/Cervical Cancer” Cervical cancer is caused by several types of a virus called human papillomaviruses (HPV). There are certain types of human papillomavirus that are spread through sexual contact, and can lead to cervical cancer. There is a vaccine for HPV, but it is only effective in 70% of cases. As with any medical decision, open and honest communication between you (the patient) and your healthcare provider is critical to making decisions that are right for you. Second Opinion “Melanoma” Melanoma is the most dangerous form of skin cancer, these cancerous growths develop when unrepaired DNA damage to skin cells (most often caused by ultraviolet radiation from sunshine or tanning beds) triggers mutations (genetic defects) that lead the skin cells to multiply rapidly and form malignant tumors. These tumors originate in the pigment-producing melanocytes in the basal layer of the epidermis. If melanoma is recognized and treated early, it is almost always curable, but if it is not, the cancer can advance and spread to other parts of the body, where it becomes hard to treat and can be fatal. While it is not the most common of the skin cancers, it causes the most deaths. Second Opinion “Whooping Cough” Pertussis (whooping cough) can cause serious illness in infants, children and adults. The disease usually starts with cold-like symptoms and maybe a mild cough or fever. After 1 to 2 weeks, severe coughing can begin. Unlike the common cold, pertussis can become a series of coughing fits that continues for weeks. In infants, the cough can be minimal or not even there. Infants may have a symptom known as “apnea.” Apnea is a pause in the child’s breathing pattern. Pertussis is most dangerous for babies. About half of infants younger than 1 year of age who get the disease are hospitalized. Second Opinion “Food Allergies” Food allergies are a growing food safety and public health concern that affect an estimated 4%–6% of children in the United States. Allergic reactions can be life threatening and have far-reaching effects on children and their families, as well as on the schools or early care and education (ECE) programs they attend.	8/16/14 7:00/6:00 a.m. MT/PT 30 minutes 9/6/14 7:00/6:00 a.m. MT/PT 30 minutes 9/20/14 7:00/6:00 a.m. MT/PT 30 minutes 9/27/14 7:00/6:00 a.m. MT/PT 30 minutes
