

QUARTERLY ISSUES AND PROGRAMS REPORT

FOR

WWMX HD2

4th QUARTER, 2015

(October 1 through December 31, 2015)

Prepared by:

Diane Lyn, Director of Public Affairs, CBS Radio/Baltimore

Issues of Concern to Baltimore
Addressed in Responsive Programming in the
4th Quarter 2015

Subject	Description of Issue of Concern
1. Poverty	Services and Programs that benefit low-income residents of Baltimore and the surrounding communities
2. Education	Programs that promote Education and improvements to our area schools
3. Youth Advocacy/ Mentorship	Needs of youth, especially in areas of education, recreation and mentorship
4. Community Development	Preservation of communities and neighborhoods in Baltimore and programs that support and strengthen them and their residents
5. Arts & Humanities	Promotion of Fine Arts programs in Baltimore and surrounding counties
6. Financial Literacy	Programs that promote financial literacy
7. Crime	Crime prevention, crime fighting programs, crimes against women
8. Substance Abuse	Baltimore continues to wage a battle against substance abuse; focus on programs to assist in the battle
9. Health	Women's Health, General Health Issues
10. History	Celebrating and promoting Baltimore's rich history

CBS Radio Baltimore Programs That Address Community Issues
(Regularly Scheduled Public Affairs Programs)
4th Quarter 2015

Public Affairs Program	Schedule and Description
1. "Sunday Morning"	This is a 30-minute program, produced and hosted by Diane Lyn, Ken Merson and Gina Crash airing weekly on Sundays from 6:00 to 6:30 a.m., WLIF and WWMX. Airing on WJZ FM 5:00 to 5:30 a.m. "Sunday Morning" addresses various issues ascertained as important to the greater Baltimore area.
2. "On Time"	This is a 30-minute program, produced and hosted by WJZ-TV's Gigi Barnett and Marcus Washington and Linh Bui. "On Time" airs from 6:30 to 7:00 a.m. (WJZ FM airing 5:30 to 6:00 a.m.) and addresses various issues ascertained as important to the greater Baltimore area.

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter 2015
(October 1 through December 31)

ISSUE:           Community

Sunday Morning
November 1, 2015
6:00 a.m.
30 minutes of a 30 minute program

Megan Bosse/Communications Associate/Baltimore Office of Promotion and the Arts was Ken Merson's guest to talk about the Baltimore Farmers' Market and Bazaar. It is open every Sunday on Saratoga Street between Holliday and Gay Streets, underneath the Jones Falls Expressway, thru November 22. It is Maryland's largest producers-only market is presented by Mayor Stephanie Rawlings-Blake and managed by the Baltimore Office of Promotion & the Arts. One-stop venue for the community to shop for festive meals, unique hand-crafted gifts and late-season holiday decorations grown, produced and presented by local farmers and craftspeople. It is free to the public.

Sunday Morning
November 15, 2015
6:00 a.m.
15 minutes of a 30 minute program

Diane Lyn's guest Laurie Schwartz, President of Baltimore's Waterfront Partnership discussing what's new on Baltimore's waterfront. New green spaces were promoted, the second Water Trash Wheel was introduced, the Great Oyster Partnership and Alley Makeover projects were assessed. Upcoming holiday events were discussed featuring the brand new, public Inner Harbor Ice Rink.

Sunday Morning
October 18, 2015
6:00 a.m.
30 minutes of a 30 minute program

Jen Swanson, Executive Director- The Humane Society of Harford County was Gina Crash's guest. HSHC also has a new shelter was promoted for Harford County. The interview also covered how people can adopt or foster a pet and/or volunteer to help combat pet over-population. Some upcoming charity events were promoted.

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter 2015
(October 1 through December 31)

ISSUE:           Community

Sunday Morning
December 13, 2015
6:00 a.m.
30 minutes of a 30 minute program

Ken Merson interviewed Byron Logan/Executive Director of the Maryland SPCA. The discussion centered around various topics: The non-profit adoption center, looking for homes for 3000 needy dogs and cats yearly, pet fostering programs and the Kibble Connection program. This collects unopened bags/cans of dog/cat food which is distribute to Meals on Wheels clients with pets so their owners can care for them. Nearly 30 tons of food has been their owners each year providing them the tools to improve pet behaviors.

On Time
November 1, 2015
6:30 a.m.
10 ½ minutes of a 30 minute program

Gigi Barnett talks with Marceline White from the Maryland Consumer Rights Coalition about their SOAR – Securing Older Adult Resources – events that are designed to educate and prevent seniors from falling victim to fraud. She discusses predatory practices that have targeted the elderly. Workshops are being held in multiple senior centers around the city.

On Time
November 15, 2015
6:30 a.m.
5 minutes of a 30 minute program

Now in its 27th year, the Festival of Trees benefits the children at Kennedy Krieger Institute. Lainy LeBow-Sachs tells Gigi Barnett how the festival has changed to include more offerings for the entire family – from the fairytale forests to the gingerbread towns. This year's festivities will feature ice carving.

On Time
November 22, 2015
6:30 a.m.
5 1/2 minutes of a 30 minute program

Laurie Schwartz gives Gigi Barnett a preview of upcoming holiday events centered around the Baltimore harbor from the Inner Harbor to Harbor East. She discusses the economic benefits of the harbor to the city and stage. Special activities planned in November and December are designed for locals to take advantage of dollar day discounts and special events – many of which are free.

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter 2015
(October 1 through December 31)

ISSUE:           Community

On Time

November 22, 2015

6:30 a.m.

5 1/2 minutes of a 30 minute program

MTA administrator Paul Comfort tells Gigi Barnett about the transit administrations plans to revamp mass transit through coordinated campaign known as Baltimore Link. He discusses how existing bus routes will be revamped to reflect new transportation needs to link city residents with job opportunities in Ft. Meade, Columbia, Owings Mills, Annapolis and Abingdon. New color coded routes will make bus navigation easier. Other plans call for coordinated routes between different modes of transportation: buses, light rail, metro and MARC.

On Time

November 22, 2015

6:30 a.m.

5 1/2 minutes of a 30 minute program

MTA administrator Paul Comfort tells Gigi Barnett about the transit administrations plans to revamp mass transit through coordinated campaign known as Baltimore Link. He discusses how existing bus routes will be revamped to reflect new transportation needs to link city residents with job opportunities in Ft. Meade, Columbia, Owings Mills, Annapolis and Abingdon. New color coded routes will make bus navigation easier. Other plans call for coordinated routes between different modes of transportation: buses, light rail, metro and MARC.

On Time

December 27, 2015

6:30 a.m.

2 minutes of a 30 minute program

Tracy Baskerville tells Gigi Barnett about Baltimore's plans to usher in 2016. The New Year's Eve Spectacular is presented by Ports America Chesapeake and features a top 40 band performing at the Inner Harbor's amphitheater at 9pm followed by fireworks at midnight.

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter 2015
(October 1 through December 31)

ISSUE:            Education

Sunday Morning
November 8, 2015
6:00 a.m.
30 minutes of a 30-minute program

Dr. Cynthia Campbell, from The Maryland Association of Adult, Community & Continuing Education (MAACCE) and Sonia Socha, Board Member & Advocacy & Communications Chair (MAACCE) were Gina Crash's guests. Discussed was how MAACCE works to increase awareness and funding for adult literacy & education, and provides professional development for adult literacy educators. Their recent Go Green for Adult Literacy wristband & social media campaign was part of the interview. The Governor's office in Annapolis state proclamation declaring Maryland's Adult Education & Family Literacy Week was discussed.

Sunday Morning
December 27, 2015
6:00 a.m.
30 minutes of a 30-minute program

Diane Lyn's guest, Lisette Morris Director of the Ingenuity Project of Baltimore City. The project assists Baltimore City school gifted or advanced high schoolers, supporting their ability participate in STEM. After school and summer programs were discussed for 11th and 12th graders. It is the longest running program in the city for these students. Several of Ingenuity's alumni were spotlighted. Morris discussed how they are funded and what future projects are in the works for the next 5 years.

On Time
November 22, 2015
6:30 a.m.
8 1/2 minutes of a 30-minute program

Gigi Barnett talks with Sonia Socia and Joan Stanley about the importance of offering adult literacy program. They discuss how the need has grown with more people on a 6 month waiting list to get into literacy programs. Increase literacy is a win win for both the adult learner in terms of increased wage earning and the state that increases its tax base.

On Time
December 20, 2015
6:30 a.m.
6 1/2 minutes of a 30-minute program

Anthony McPhail tells Gigi Barnett about the importance of the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Scholarship Breakfast in raising scholarships for Morgan State University students. He discusses how he was mentored while attending Morgan and why it's important for the school's alumni to continue to help today's students.

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter 2015
(October 1 through December 31)

ISSUE:            Education

On Time

December 27, 2015

6:30 a.m.

10 minutes of a 30-minute program

Gigi Barnett talks with Dr. Renee Foose and Florence Hines about the Teachers for Tomorrow program designed to diversify Howard County schools by offering scholarships to low income county students to attend McDaniel College. At the completion of the 4 years, students must become certified to teach and then will be hired for 3 years in the Howard County School system. McDaniel College was chosen because of their diverse student body and commitment to education. Three of the last five Maryland Teacher of the Year were alumni of the college.

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter 2015
(October 1 through December 31)

ISSUE:        Financial

On Time

December 27, 2015

6:30 a.m.

10 minutes of a 30 minute program

Paula Miller tells Gigi Barnett about changes she is making to the county's public library system since taking over a little more than a year. She discusses how library systems are balancing the old (books, CD's & DVD loans) with the newer electronic & technology changes that consumers are demanding including eBooks and music and movie downloads. Each library branch has unique offerings based on the communities they serve.

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter 2015
(October 1 through December 31)

ISSUE:           Arts

Sunday Morning

October 4, 2015

6:00 a.m.

30 minutes of a 30 minute program

Ken Merson's guest, Gayle V. Economos talked about the 44th Annual Greek Food & Cultural Festival – The oldest Greek festival in Maryland at the first Greek Orthodox church in the state (109 years) Held at the Greek Orthodox Cathedral of the Annunciation, Baltimore. Free to the public, this event celebrates the food and Culture of Greece. All proceeds benefited the Greek Orthodox Cathedral of the Annunciation and its outreach programs.

Sunday Morning

December 6, 2015

6:00 a.m.

15 minutes of a 30 minute program

Berndette Berry from Kent County Historical Society and Tourism, spoke with host Diane Lyn, the holiday events at Maryland's Eastern Shore county. Chestertown has been declared an Arts and Entertainment District, with new attractions for visitors. Berry talked about what's new for 2015. A music festival, a winery tour and new sites for a brewery and distillery.

On Time

November 15, 2015

6:30 a.m.

11 minutes of a 30 minute program

Gigi Barnett talks with Darin Atwater, founder and artistic director of the Soulful Symphony about their upcoming 15 year anniversary concert being held at the Meyerhoff Symphony Hall. He discusses why he formed the orchestra comprised of African American and Latino musician. At the anniversary concert he is featuring a new suite he composed based on President Obama's political best-seller, The Audacity of Hope. The orchestra will also be performing in Washington at the Smithsonian Museum of African American History and Culture for its countdown to the grand opening later in 2016.

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter 2015
(October 1 through December 31)

ISSUE:       Arts

On Time
November 29, 2015
6:30 a.m.
11 minutes of a 30 minute program

Gigi Barnett talks with Amy Landau about the exhibition, Pearls on a String, which highlights the Walters Art Museum's collection of Islamic Art that is supplemented with additional paintings, manuscripts, and objects on loan from other collections. This exhibition focuses on a writer, painter and patron and spans the 16-18th centuries. The exhibition features special events including a calligraphy workshop.

On Time
November 29, 2015
6:30 a.m.
18 minutes of a 30 minute program

Gigi Barnett talks with Gamynne Guillotte and Oliver Shell from the Baltimore Museum of Art about their new Center for Art and People, and the new exhibition, Imagining Home. They discuss how the new center and exhibition are using technology and interactive elements to expand the art experience. Several elements in the new exhibition feature audio recorded from the location of the artwork in an effort to expand the art's dimension.

Marco Merrick tells Gigi Barnett about the upcoming 6th Annual Fall Concert featuring the Community Concert Choir of Baltimore. This free concert features over 120 members singing sacred music, Negro spirituals, and gospel. The concert is sponsored by Alpha Phi Alpha and the concert benefits students like Alex Harper who was one of the 2010 Beautillion Scholars. He discusses how the fraternity mentors the young men in the program and guides them in their career path.

On Time
December 6, 2015
6:30 a.m.
8 minutes of a 30 minute program

Ursula Battle and Dr. Gregory Branch tell Gigi Barnett about their upcoming production of "My Big Phat ghetto FabuLESS Wedding" that benefits the Unified Voices of Hopkins, a choral group that performs at various community events. They discuss with Gigi Barnett how laughter is the best medicine as evidenced by the reaction of the patients at Hopkins who attend the dress rehearsals in Hopkins' Turner Auditorium.

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
(October 1 through December 31)

ISSUE:       Arts

On Time

December 13, 2015

6:30 a.m.

2 minutes of a 30 minute program

Dr. Marco Merrick tells Gigi Barnett that the Community Concert Choir of Baltimore is preparing for their annual Christmas Concert on December 20. Over 200 choir members from Baltimore, DC, Virginia, Pennsylvania will be performing along with several guest artists. The concert is sponsored by the Open Church and is being held at New Shiloh Baptist Church. The concert is free and open to the public.

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter 2015
(October 1 through December 31)

ISSUE: Youth

On Time

November 1, 2015

6:30 a.m.

13 minutes of a 30 minute program

Violet M. Apple tells Gigi Barnett how the Girl Scouts are preparing young women to excel in STEM – Science, Technology, Engineering and Math – in addition to the Arts. She explains how the STEAM festival features professional women in the STEM fields hosting lectures, seminars and demonstrations for young girls and their parents.

Wide Angle Youth Media offers after school programs to middle and high school students who want to learn about photography including video. Susan Malone and Breonna Roberson talk to Gigi Barnett about the program that helps young people express themselves through video. The youth films are shown at film festivals and at special showings. Their upcoming gala will help fund the after school programs.

On Time

October 4, 2015

6:30 a.m.

7 minutes of a 30 minute program

The Children's Home has been providing services and shelter to disadvantaged children since the Civil War. Now the Home offers shelter to children who have been removed from their homes due to abuse and neglect. Gail Lee and Jacqui Lampell explain how the home offers educational and life skills programs designed to prepare the young people to lead independent lives. Each year the Home has a fundraiser that features the artwork of the young people of their program.

On Time

December 20, 2015

6:30 a.m.

9 minutes of a 30 minute program

College Bound Foundation provides counselors in 14 Baltimore City high schools that assist students and parents with the college application process. Jimmy Tadlock and Terri Williams tell Gigi Barnett that many of the students they help are the first in the family to attend college. They help families apply for financial aid and college applications. The foundation also awards scholarships and last dollar grants to students who come up short on securing college funds.

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter 2015
(October 1 through December 31)

ISSUE:           Health

On Time
October 4, 2015
6:30a.m.
8 minutes of a 30-minute program

Gigi Barnett talks with Dr. Athol Morgan and nurse Deborah King about sudden cardiac death. They discuss the different types of heart disease and how CPR can help save lives. Deborah King recalls how she survived sudden cardiac arrest because her husband performed CPR when she went into arrest. As a nurse she taught her family members how to perform CPR and continues to teach this life saving skill today. They tell Gigi Barnett that at the Greater Baltimore Heart Walk, CPR will be taught after the walk concludes.

On Time
October 11, 2015
6:30a.m.
7 ½ minutes of a 30-minute program

Alzheimer's disease is projected to dramatically increase unless a cure is found. Elizabeth Li and Kisha James tell Gigi Barnett about a new drug that's undergoing a clinical trial here at Hopkins. They discussed how the disease affects the African American community. They have an upcoming symposium targeting issues in the African American community. Funding for their programs and research comes from their community walks being held in multiple communities during October.

On Time
October 25, 2015
6:30a.m.
6 ½ minutes of a 30-minute program

Randi Alper Pupkin, the founder and director of Art with a Heart tells Gigi Barnett how the visual arts program has expanded from four classes a week to over 10,000 classes being offered over the course of a year. She discusses how her program works with at-risk populations including homeless families with children, senior citizens living in shelters and nursing homes. Her program employs young people in the Summer Jobs program and trains them how to market and sell art. Once component of the program, HeartWares, is a retail store that sells artwork created by their participants. An upcoming concert featuring George Benson will help fund their programs.

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter 2015
(October 1 through December 31)

ISSUE:           Health

On Time

December 6, 2015

6:30a.m.

8 minutes of a 30-minute program

Gigi Barnett talks with medical oncologist Dr. Teresa Diaz-Montes about GYN cancers and the difficulty in diagnosing and treating the disease. Dr. Diaz-Montes discusses the 5 different types of GYN cancers, their symptoms, diagnostic and treatment options. Mercy Medical Center is the only community hospital to receive a grant from the Ovarian Cancer Research Fund to establish a Woman to Woman peer counseling program to help newly diagnosed women.

On Time

December 13, 2015

6:30a.m.

10 minutes of a 30-minute program

Gigi Barnett talks with Carolyn Quattrocki from the Maryland Health Benefits Exchange about upcoming deadlines to enroll in health care. She discusses the changes that have been made to the website that are easier to navigate for consumers. Nine out of ten who have applied for benefits through their program have received federal subsidies or qualified for Medicaid. She mentioned that the health care plans are affordable and new this year are dental options. The deadline to enroll is December 15 for coverage starting on January 1. The last open enrollment is January 31 for coverage that starts March 1.

Emerge, Inc. has been providing individualized services to people with disabilities for almost 40 years. David Wamsley and Tonya Williams tell Gigi Barnett about their programs from residential services to job placement. The program serves 450 individuals living in the Central Maryland corridor.

On Time

December 20, 2015

6:30a.m.

8 minutes of a 30-minute program

Dr. Chloe Carmichael talks with Gigi Barnett about strategies to employ during the holidays when couples are faced with challenging situations ranging from difficult family members including pressures to get married or start a family. She discusses how the holidays can be very stressful on relationships. She offers recommendations from taking personal time out away from family gatherings to using technology and mobile apps to keep track of fertility sequences.

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter 2015
(October 1 through December 31)

ISSUE:           Health

Sunday Morning
October 25, 2015
6:00a.m.
30 minutes of a 30-minute program

Guests from Komen MD Race For The Cure, Kim Chappinili and Kelly Kessler, spoke with Diane Lyn about the big event in Hunt Valley benefitting Breast Cancer research. Discussed: The run down of the entire Race For The Cure day and strides in Breast Cancer research.

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter 2015
(October 1 through December 31)

ISSUE:       Crime

Sunday Morning

October 4, 2015

6:00a.m.

15 minutes of a 30-minute program

Diane Lyn's guest, Russell Hurd from the Heather Hurd Foundation, talking about the 7th Annual Walk in honor of his daughter, Heather. She was killed by truck driver, who was texting in 2008. Discussed were Maryland's texting laws and how negligent cell phone use while driving has become a criminal offense. The walk is a fund raiser for public awareness. American Red Cross and the Maryland State Police partner with the Hurd Foundation. New this year, a Trick or Treat Walk along with the usual 5k.

On Time

November 15, 2015

6:30a.m.

7 minutes of a 30-minute program

Tessa Hill-Aston tells Gigi Barnett about the work of the 100+ year old civil rights organization and why the NAACP is just as needed now as when it was formed in the early 1900's. She discusses how the Baltimore City Branch responded to the Freddie Gray uprising by opening a satellite office in Sandtown Winchester to help individuals with expungement of criminal records and other needed services. Her branch was honored at the National NAACP convention for their outstanding community service. The upcoming Freedom Fund Banquet helps fund their work in the community.

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter 2015
(October 1 through December 31)

ISSUE:           Poverty

Sunday Morning
November 15, 2015
6:00 a.m.
15 minutes of a 30-minute program

Suzanne Green from the Y of Central MD and Peter Bealinson from Evergreen Health were Diane Lyn's guests discussing the Y's Turkey Trot. The charity 5K benefits educational and enrichment opportunities for under privileged kids and lower income families. About $500,000 was raised during Turkey Trot last year. Over 12,000 people are expected to participate Thanksgiving morning.

Sunday Morning
November 29, 2015
6:00 a.m.
30 minutes of a 30-minute program

Gina Crash interviewed, Brian & Greg Vetter, brothers & business partners of Baltimore's Tessemae's All Natural + organizers of the national campaign 'Crop Circles'. This program helps alleviate food "deserts" in neighborhoods where access to healthy produce & quality grocery stores is extremely limited, in lower income areas. They collected over 40,000 pounds of produce-enough to feed more than 5,000 people

Sunday Morning
November 22, 2015
6:00 a.m.
30 minutes of a 30-minute program

Ken Merson's guest Deborah Flateman from the Maryland Food Bank, discussed the history and mission of the Maryland Food Bank. The public is desperately needed for food donations and volunteering opportunities. During the holiday months, the Food Bank gets impacted. Low income and poverty stricken families in Baltimore is on the increase.

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter 2015
(October 1 through December 31)

ISSUE:           Poverty

Sunday Morning
December 20, 2015
6:00 a.m.
30 minutes of a 30-minute program

Kevin Kennedy, General Manager, Hyatt Baltimore & creator of the annual Hyatt Blankets Baltimore Drive; Christian Metzger, Executive Director of the Franciscan Center; Jeffrey Kendrick, Executive Director, MD Center for Veterans Education & Training, Inc. (MCVET); and Linda Childress, PR & Outreach, New Vision House of Hope, were Gina Crash's guests to talk about #HYATTBLANKETSBMORE. Between Thanksgiving & New Year's Eve 2015, the Hyatt pledged to collect & donate 1,000 new blankets to be distributed to those in need here in Baltimore within our local community through The Franciscan Center, MCVET and New Vision House of Hope.

On Time
November 8, 2015
6:30 a.m.
4 minutes of a 30-minute program

Mark Furst tells Gigi Barnett about the United Way of Central Maryland's campaign, Harvest of Plenty, designed to raise funds and volunteer help to feed the hungry during Thanksgiving. Donations of $15 can help provide a traditional turkey meal to those who are food insecure. Families receiving subsidies can register to get help for the program by calling 211.

On Time
November 29, 2015
6:30 a.m.
6 minutes of a 30-minute program

Dr. Carla Hayden tells Gigi Barnett about Pratt Library's plea for donations during Giving Tuesday. The Baltimore library system has challenged their counterparts in Cleveland over the Monday night football contest between the Ravens and Brown that kicks off the night before Giving Tuesday on December 1. Library patrons are asked to donate during the football game up till the next night at midnight. If the Pratt Library raises the most money then their Cleveland counterparts need to videotape their recitation of Edgar Allen Poe's The Raven. Likewise if the Pratt comes in 2nd place, they get to sing "Who Let the Dogs Out".

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter 2015
(October 1 through December 31)

ISSUE:        Poverty

On Time

December 5, 2015

6:30 a.m.

8 minutes of a 30-minute program

Gigi Barnett talks with representatives from Youth Reach Md about their recent attempts to document homeless youth and young adults up to age 24 who are hiding in plain sight all across the state. They surveyed areas in Baltimore City and seven counties in the fall in order to get an accurate number of homeless youth. The results of the survey will be used to create better programs to serve this vulnerable population.

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter 2015
(October 1 through December 31)

ISSUE:           History

Sunday Morning
December 6, 2015
6:00 a.m.
15 minutes of a 30-minute program

Diane Lyn spoke with Gayle Economos representing Holidays at Hampton commemorating 200 years as a National Historic site. This free weekend at the homestead, happens during the second weekend in December. The yuletide event features candlelight tours, musical and dance performances, holiday shopping, storyteller and craft making.

On Time
November 8, 2015
6:30 a.m.
15 minutes of a 30-minute program

Gigi Barnett talks with Franklin Beaird who enlisted in the Marines during the early 1940's and was assigned to boot camp at Montford Point, a segregated facility for the newly admitted African American marines. He describes training at the separate facility at Camp Lejeune as well as the limited supportive role African Americans performed during WWII. For his service he received a Congressional Medal of Honor in 2012.

Dr. Skipp Sanders and Dr. Barbara Paca discuss the new exhibition, Ruth Starr Rose (1887-1965) Revelations of African American Life in Maryland and the World that opens at the Reginald F. Lewis Museum. They tell Gigi Barnett that Ruth Starr Rose was a Caucasian who lived on the Eastern Shore and who painted African American portraits. The artist was part of the community and personally knew those she painted – which was unheard of back at the turn of the century. In addition to the portraits, she illustrated religious manuscripts and documented African American spirituality.

On Time
November 29, 2015
6:30 a.m.
7 minutes of a 30-minute program

Gigi Barnett talks with Ranger Vince Vaise about the Hampton National Historic Site's Annual Holidays at Hampden. He discusses how the mansion, the northern-most plantation in the National Park Service, is America's answer to Downton Abbey and is free and open to the public for tours. Each room represents a different era. Special activities include period dances, music and children's crafts.

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter 2015
(October 1 through December 31)

ISSUE:           Substance Abuse

On Time

October 11, 2015

6:30 a.m.

7 ½ minutes of a 30-minute program

Gigi Barnett talks with Baltimore City State's Attorney Marilyn Mosby about the role the state's attorney office plays in helping to reduce crime and drug trafficking. She discusses several community outreach initiatives she's started that target school-aged children. The Junior State's Attorney Program ran over 6 weeks during the summer and exposed 8th grade students to the workings of the criminal justice system including 911 calls to trials. She discusses her upcoming community day in court that examines domestic violence issues. The event is free to the public.

Public Service Announcements
4th Quarter 2015
(October 1 through December 31)

Throughout the quarter the station aired [daily/periodic] PSAs providing information on a variety of local community activities and issues. Representative examples of such PSAs include the following:

[LIST PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENTS]

Am. Diabetes Challenge-T. McGraw :60

Joni & Friends-google medical :60

PVA-veterans helping veterans :60

Sleep apnea Assoc.-my apnea :60

PVA-soldier says thanks :60

MSEA-adults can help stop bullying :60

Social Security-someday :15.

###