Earlier this year, a California statewide Resolution inspired by Grades of Green Youth Corps student, Antonio, officially passed in support of No Idle Zones for all California schools. The result? 6 million California students could soon be breathing cleaner air. After championing Grades of Green's No Idle Zone Activity at his school in Long Beach, then 8th grader (now an 11th grader) Antonio worked with Grades of Green, who introduced him to partnering organizations such as the Coalition for Clean Air and the South Coast Air Quality Management District, and then to California Assembly member David Hadley to take No Idle Zones to the state level. Assembly member Hadley sponsored ACR 160 to encourage all California schools to create No Idle Zones around their school campuses. The state Resolution passed on the Senate floor on August 1, 2016 and is now law. No Idle Zones encourage parents to turn off their car engine while waiting in school pick-up lines, resulting in better air quality and decreased emissions. We're incredibly proud of Grades of Green student Antonio for his passion and dedication to create a healthier school environment through No Idle Zones. It was during those trips to the hospital with his dad that Ryan first encountered the pediatric patients battling cancer. The truth is that while many of these kids will win their battle with cancer, some will not, and for those kids this Christmas might be their last. It was with that realization that Ryan was inspired to make it the best Christmas he possibly could for the children of City of Hope. In 2006, Ryan reached out to his church and a local school for help and "Wish Upon a Toy" was born! The response was overwhelming and the "Wish Upon a Toy" was a tremendous success! "Lupus is an incurable disease that has taken a toll on 5 million lives in this world and not even half the amount of that number is aware of what lupus is," said Kat. She continued, "My main motive for beginning this club was the fact that my older sister was diagnosed with lupus at the age of 16 and I have a first-hand experience of how damaging it can be to one's life." awesome, super-sized obstacles and mud from start to finish. This event is built for laughs, but also on a serious mission to support people living with multiple sclerosis and to bring us closer to a world free of MS. 100% of fundraising dollars go to the National Multiple Sclerosis Society. The MS part of MuckFest MS stands for multiple sclerosis, an unpredictable, often disabling disease of the central nervous system, which interrupts the flow of information within the brain, and between the brain and body. Symptoms range from numbness and tingling to blindness and paralysis. The progress, severity and specific symptoms of MS in any one person cannot yet be predicted, but advances in research and treatment are moving us closer to a world free of MS. Most people with MS are diagnosed between the ages of 20 and 50, with at least two to three times more women than men being diagnosed with the disease. MS affects more than 2.3 million worldwide. This is the reason for MuckFest MS "to rally friends in support of people living with MS in our community. The SoCal MuckFest MS will take place Saturday, November 12, 2016 at Prado Regional Park!

inspired by Grades of Green Youth Corps student, Antonio, officially passed in support of No Idle Zones for all California schools. The result? 6 million California students could soon be breathing cleaner air. After championing Grades of Green's No Idle Zone Activity at his school in Long Beach, then 8th grader (now an 11th grader) Antonio worked with Grades of Green, who introduced him to partnering organizations such as the Coalition for Clean Air and the South Coast Air Quality Management District, and then to California Assembly member David Hadley to take No Idle Zones to the state level. Assembly member Hadley sponsored ACR 160 to encourage all California schools to create No Idle Zones around their school campuses. The state Resolution passed on the Senate floor on August 1, 2016 and is now law. No Idle Zones encourage parents to turn off their car engine while waiting in school pick-up lines, resulting in better air quality and decreased emissions. We're incredibly proud of Grades of Green student Antonio for his passion and dedication to create a healthier school environment through No Idle Zones. This Resolution will ultimately "Lupus is an incurable disease that has taken a toll on 5 million lives in this world and not even half the amount of that number is aware of what lupus is," said Kat. The truth is that while many of these kids will win their battle with cancer, some will not, and for those kids this Christmas might be their last. It was with that realization that Ryan was inspired to make it the best Christmas he possibly could for the children of City of Hope. In 2006, Ryan reached out to his church and a local school for help and "Wish Upon a Toy" was born! The response was overwhelming and the "Wish Upon a Toy" was a tremendous success!
