COMMUNITY ROUND TABLE GUESTS & TOPICS DISCUSSED IN FOURTH QUARTER:

Jan. 7- The Community Round Table--Being a BIG, is a big deal! Big Brothers Big Sisters of the Central Gulf Coast continue to change lives.

Aimee Risser- CEO & President Big Brothers Big Sisters of the Central Gulf Coast Mission: To create and support one-to-one mentoring relationships that ignite the power and promise of youth.January is National Mentoring Month!

- Big Brothers Big Sisters of the Central Gulf Coast (BBBSCGC) is the largest one-to-one mentoring organization along the Alabama and Mississippi Coast. We enlist adult volunteers, "Bigs", and match them with "Littles," who are children between the ages of 6-18 and would benefit the most from having a Big. The purpose of our services is to give children a caring and supportive adult mentor, who's been thoroughly screened and trained, that will guide them to success, hold them accountable, and help them reach their full potential. Our Match Specialists are with the pair throughout their entire journey, advocating for them and helping them along the way. These relationships are professionally supported, differentiating us from all other mentoring organizations as we take a team approach.
- There are currently dozens of children on our waitlist waiting for a mentor, so volunteering is more important now than ever.
- We have a nationally recognized, turnkey Corporate Big Program that pairs Bigs at local businesses with various schools to mentor Littles for one hour each week.
- We know families go through tough times and there are essential needs they will go without if they do not receive assistance. As we touch base with our families through match support, they share with us their struggles. In turn, we connect them to services either through the Big Neighbors program or other social services offered in the community.
- School-based program: Although it takes place at schools, our School-Based Mentoring program isn't limited to the classroom. Of course, some Littles do talk with their Bigs about class, or do homework, or read together, but it's perfectly fine to shoot hoops in the gym or play on the playground. At the end of the day, it's really all about starting a friendship, providing guidance and inspiring them to reach their potential.
- Community-based program: Many relationships between Bigs and Littles are part of our Community-based programs. Community-based mentoring relationships involve one-on-one outings and activities, doing things the Big and Little enjoy together, like: Taking a walk in the park, Going to museum, Going to an event hosted by the local BBBS affiliate, Listening to music, Hanging out and talking Some Bigs meet their Littles on the weekends. Others get together with their Littles on weekday evenings. Each match is unique and develops a schedule that works for them.

- We're highly successful as an evidence-based prevention program.
- OUR 2022 PROGRAM OUTCOME EVALUATIONS REVEALED: 98% of our Littles kept or created plans for high school graduation and beyond. 86% of our Littles stayed on track with improved grades. 83% of our Littles continued or engaged in volunteerism or participated in after school activities.86% of our Littles developed a spark, activities and interests that are important to them.

How can people help? Donate their time, money, items? How will those donations/funds be used?

BBBS is America's most impactful volunteer experience because our services provide a tangible way to change a life. We are not saviors or heroes. Instead, we create and professionally support meaningful match relationships to help children ignite and harness their own potential—the potential they have had all along.

- Attend one of our mission-supported events. (Plug King Cake Off on Jan 19)
- 2. Set up monthly giving or give a one time gift
- 3. Help share the mission of BBBS with everyone around you.

No gift is too big or too small.

Jan. 14- The Community Round Table--Protect your $$, Watchout for SCAMS, AI & Important APPS thanks to the BBB!

My guest:

Monde Donaldson

Vice President of BBB Educational Foundation

Better Business Bureau®

We discuss:

Artificial Intelligence (AI) - the FTC and Alabama Securities Commission said the biggest AI Fraud is people faking voices and targeting to two different audiences - one is targeting potential business owners offering help on money making opportunities in the marketplace and the other is veterans faking real government agencies.

Things to watch for in 2024:

Automatic renewal scams

A renewal request scam mimics auto-renewal services to trick you into paying for subscriptions you don't need or want. The scammer sends out renewal notifications saying you will be automatically charged to renew your membership. If you want to dispute the charge or cancel, the notice says you must call a phone number within 24 hours. Companies being impersonated include Best Buy Debt consolidation scams

Seniors - health care, grandparent scams and with Valentine's right around the corner romance scams

Scamtracker report will be out in March and I predict employment scams (which we will talk about), online shopping to be the top 2

Ther most recent FTC reports, job scams using APPs that are very prevalent in 2024.

Ways to give back:

o Volunteerism

§ Alabama HOPE Project: This initiative created by Dr. Pierce and modeled after the "Witness Project" in Arkansas focuses on increasing cancer prevention screenings. We partner community members and cancer survivors together to go into their churches, community centers, community outreach activities and talk about cancer prevention. The community member will deliver the educational part of the conversation and the cancer survivor will share their cancer journey. We hope that these interactive conversations will increase cancer screening.

§ Chemosabes are individuals what want to share their time in the chemo infusion suites with patients undergoing therapy. They often assist the patients with refreshments, provide support, read to them, and sometimes just "sit" with them.

Feb. 18- The Community Round Table--Meet 8 year old Justice Nodd/Author "True Beauty"/Artist/Survivor and her proud mom and dad who are 100% inspiring the masses!

My guests:

Daughter: Justice Nodd/Mom: Ashley Chaney Nodd

The mission of my organization is to encourage, inspire, coach, and empower people to achieve their highest level of success and greatness.

Justice currently goes to Orchard elementary. She is 8 years old but will be turning 9 March 1. She enjoys drawing, reading, and writing. Justice was in a horrific house fire 8 years ago when she was 8 months old. In that house fire she loss her oldest sister. Justice has undergone over 30 surgeries to reconstruct some of the areas that the fire left disfigured and constricted. We discuss:

- Justice and the family journey after the house fire
- My daughter book "True Beauty"
- My life coaching business (Elevation to success)! A life coaching service that was created in October of last year.
- Nonprofit organization (Lon'Dons Playhouse) helps young women that suffers from low self-esteem, bullying, abandonment, or mental health issues caused by childhood trauma. Lon'Dons playhouse provides monetary donation, referral services, talk therapy, and spiritual guidance.
- Future Endeavor such as two more books that will come out later this year. "Vampire Dad" (expecting around father's day) and "Little Ladybug" (expecting around Thanksgiving) and the hopes of a book tour.

How can people help? Donate their time, money, items? How will those donations/funds be used?

Right now, we need sponsorship, investors, grant writers, content creators,

About Ashley: The name of my business is Elevation to Success Life Coaching Services. I am a certified life coach that focuses on the environmental and human prospect. I'm also a mental health therapist. I have a master's in counseling and my undergrad in criminal justice. I currently work for a mental health facility as a mental health coordinator of an intensive and rehabilitation day treatment for individuals who suffers from serious mental health issues. All the books that me and my daughter are writing has a moral meaning behind them but all of them are based on true events.

The funds will be used on traveling to different cities to promote the books and life coaching business, software to help create a better intake process and assessment to help coaches assess with what level of care each client need, hiring professional staff such as managers, assistants and other life coaches, purchasing more books to go into stores and small business, funds to help publish more books and office space to promote professionalism and organizational structure.

As we write more books, we would like to get our story and vision to a higher platform and the only way that can happen is from support, pro bono work, and investors. We are worth the bid.

My goal is to push realness into a society that has an unrealistic expectation of life.

Notable memories:

One of the memories that I remember the most was the moment the Doctor walked into Justice's hospital room maybe 3 hours after they had landed and told me "I'm sorry I know you just loss your daughter, but your daughter (Justice) is not going to make it through the night. The next night the nurse walked in the same room at the same time and said she was wrong your daughter is a survivor and she will make it through and do remarkable things because at eight months old with this amount of injuries she should not be alive, she has a purpose you guy have a purpose and I will be glad to see the day that your purpose is fulfilled. I remember that day and I believe that nothing in unintentional, so I can say that was the moment that changed my life forever. Stay Connected:

Feb. 25-The Community Round Table--Meet the young lady named PURPOSE and YES, she has SUPER POWERS that are helping to educate ALL, near and far!

My guest: Purpose Copeland & Dr. LaTracey McDonald, Mom-Manager for Everyone's Purpose.

The goal is to assist Purpose with her goals. People need to know that having a disability won't stop the ability to succeed. We discuss:

The Entrepreneur- The Model

About the National American Miss Pageant (Successful, empowered young women don't put limits on themselves. They mentor, challenge, and encourage one another in every aspect of their lives. No matter their age, girls are never too young to learn that they can do anything they set their minds to. Skills like clear communication, carrying yourself with poise, and speaking with confidence about herself and her passions are things that every young woman should have the chance to practice. National American Miss sets the stage to learn those skills. Each participant has the opportunity to be a trailblazer... charting the course for her future successes. More than just a pageant, National American Miss is a program all about growing confidence[™]. We emphasize the importance of developing real world skills and are shaping the future leaders of tomorrow. Forget everything you thought you knew about pageantry.) This is a program that empowers beyond a crowning moment...we are more than just a pageant. Dr. LaTracey, Purpose's mom says this: During the pandemic, education was not as easy as most can imagine with a child on the spectrum and having a learning disability. At the time, I was undergoing treatment for a brain tumor while home schooling Purpose. During this time, I challenged Purpose to do whatever she felt that she needed to do creatively during this time. Especially since she didn't want to read; I strongly encouraged her to write. Pulling out the whiteboard, Purpose built a business where she sold her self care products (soaps, candles and sugar scrubs) as well as her books. She desired for some of her proceeds to help those less fortunate than we are. She began modeling and her siblings taking pictures which were her inspiration to visuals of her book. After participating in a few modeling events the opportunity for the NAM pageant came at a time when faith to win overcame the fears that come along with being on the spectrum.

This pageant will afford her the tools and resources to overcome the challenges of having superpowers while building her confidence and character.

About Dr. LaTracey McDonald:

Founder of Black Authors Rock and BAR Arts Collective Explains how Purpose has superpowers and how that's impacted her life. (ADHD, Autism and Dyslexia).

Mar. 3- The Community Round Table--From Baseball to Archaeology to becoming a local recording artist! HB1 & Rando "The Illustrator" takes us behind the scenes of "Empyrean Tides"!

My guests:

Hanan Browning aka "HB1."

Rando Dixon/Artist/Flatline Comics

We discuss:

HB1's journey from Mobile, out into the world, and back home.

I was born and raised in Theodore, specifically Hollinger's Island. I started playing and writing music at 8 years old, but it never was something I wanted to make a career of; music just came out of me. I NEEDED to write and play music as a form of therapy, but I was just as happy doing it by myself as I was playing for other people; happier, honestly. Playing music is an intimate and vulnerable experience for me, so performing for others has always given me a great deal of anxiety.

I graduated from Theodore HS and went off to Hattiesburg to chase my first dream (Baseball). I left from there to go to Birmingham to chase my second dream (Archaeology). That took me to New Orleans, where I eventually just started chasing the American dream (money). When I finally came home I was a road warrior, blue collar, oil and gas guy. In 2022, I had finally had enough of "struggle-climbing" up the middle-class rungs; making other people rich. So one day I just guit. I literally left for lunch and never went back. Shortly after, I dedicated myself to being a recording artist. And a few weeks ago a very kind FedEx driver became the final person to help make that dream a reality when he dropped off a pallet of 500 freshly pressed vinyl records: with my music on them. So after guitting my job, I started hosting small house parties. Breaking into the music scene (even the local scene) in your mid-40's is difficult. I knew my music needed to be listened to in environments other than loud, crowded bars. But I was unknown and older; an outsider. So, I started hosting private concerts at my house. The Vinyl Room Sessions, I called it. Rando, a lifelong friend, has been to every one of them, and has been so encouraging. So when I told him I wanted to spend a bunch of my savings on recording an actual album, he was immediately supportive and offered his artistic mind to the endeavor.

Rejecting the "rental system" and making an album meant putting together a "total package." The artwork matters. Like, it really, really matters. The final product was the result of hundreds of hours of conversations between us. We would hang out multiple times every week, open a bottle of wine, listen to vinyl records front to back. Obscure stuff. B-sides. and pour over the artwork, the lyrics, the font and graphics. And eventually, Rando had a vision.

You have to buy the vinyl to get the digital versions of my music (a download and a streaming code come with every album). Every album is signed by both of us. If people want to see me live/purchase the album, they can follow me at HB1 on Facebook, HB1music on IG, or (hb1music.com). If you're local, I'll even drive the record to your house!

I play the last Friday of every month at Oyster City Brewing on Government, downtown, but you can catch me most Tuesdays at Cedar Street Social Club; where some of the finest musicians in the city gather every week for an unplugged, unscripted, jam session. It is the most pure and beautiful expression of music I've ever seen anywhere in the world. It is free! Tuesday nights at Cedar Street are magic!

Virginia Guy/Executive Director/Drug Education Council

The annual luncheon is Monday, March 11, Lorna Luft is the keynote speaker. The drug education council is here to help individuals and families. Addiction is treatable/recovery happens.

The mission is to make sure the issues surrounding, addiction and prevention remain of priority in our community. People can help by donating their time and resources and talk to others to help reduce the stigma.

This annual luncheon is our largest fundraiser and helps support all the programs that we do throughout our community.

Our mission: Adapting to the critically changing needs of the communities we serve by providing a continuum of services. We work with the community for Prevention, intervention and Recovery.

Please share any notable memories

Lori: I lost my son in 2022 to an overdose to fentanyl and since that time, I have been working with Virginia to help and break the "stigma" of addiction ABOUT US

The vision of the Drug Education Council is to promote healthy choices by helping to impact the hearts and minds of individuals and families and by working to change the community narrative when it comes to substance use disorder and addiction. The agency is licensed to serve the state of Alabama and is currently providing services in Baldwin, Clarke, Conecuh, Escambia, Mobile, Monroe and Washington Counties. The agency has offices in Mobile and Baldwin Counties. Each of our many programs and practices is based on the four core beliefs that provide the guidance and vision of the agency. These core beliefs are listed below.

Every one of us is important and deserves to be nurtured.

Every one of us has a responsibility to promote healthy choices.

The abuse of alcohol and other drugs is preventable.

Addiction is treatable and recovery happens.

Our prevention programs and services are based on the following premises: Prevention strategies must be comprehensive in nature and should be structured to reduce individual and environmental risk factors and to increase protective/resiliency factors in the populations served.

Community involvement and collaboration is a necessary component of an effective prevention strategy.

Prevention messages and approaches that are tailored to different population groups are most effective.

Prevention must be integrated into the general health care and social services delivery systems of the community.

Prevention must include a full continuum of services: education and information dissemination, intervention, referral, and recovery support.

Paul Giardina, Executive Director, Ronald McDonald House Charities of Mobile

Misty Whitehead, chair, Little Black Dress; member and former Board President of RMHC Mobile Board of Directors

The Mission: To provide a loving home away from home for families with seriously ill or injured children being treated in area medical facilities. We discuss:

1) Little Black Dress is the signature fundraiser for RMHC of Mobile; first time back since per-Covid.

2) Changes this year – The food changes and the afterparty with live music.

3) All proceeds benefit families who are dealing with childhood illness.

4) How people and businesses can get involved. Sponsorships with models; individual tickets go on sale March 25.

1) We depend on volunteers to keep the House running smoothly 7 days/week. Volunteers are also needed for our two Family Rooms located in USA Health Children's & Women's Hospital.

2) Family meals. We provide a hot meal for our families every evening. Groups, businesses, organizations can sign up to provide a meal.

3) Wish List items can be found on our website.

4) Monetary donations are needed year-round. It does not cost our family anything to stay at the Ronald McDonald House, so donations allow us to provide everything a family needs during their stay.

Little Black Dress Runway Show Gala, benefiting Ronald McDonald House Charities of Mobile, is presented by Barnes Family McDonalds, on Thursday, April 25, in Fort Whiting Reception Hall.

The runway show will feature 40 local women and men modeling the latest in 2024 fashion--styled by Dillard's. Guests will enjoy an elegant cocktail party with heavy hors d'oeuvres and an after-party with music by Jenna McClelland following the show.

Every year hundreds of families from across south Alabama and coastal Mississippi count on Ronald McDonald House Charities of Mobile to be their home away from home while their child is in the hospital. Families stay from one night to many months at a time, and all their basic needs are met, including comfortable private rooms, a fully stocked kitchen, laundry facilities, and the loving support of staff, volunteers, and other families who share their same hopes and fears. During Little Black Dress, guests will hear from a family as they share their story of their child's medical journey and the impact that Ronald McDonald House had on their family. "Because of the incredible support of the community, and events such as LBD, we do not ask our families to pay anything during their stay with us," Paul Giardina, executive director of RMHC of Mobile said. "Our goal is to ensure that all their needs are met so they can focus on their child's health 100 percent of the time. We know families must take care of themselves so they can be there for their children."

Tickets go on sale: March 25th

Mar. 31- The Community Round Table--NFL Hall of Famer, "Dr. Doom", Robert Brazile Jr. talks: football, family and the moment he had to make the most important decision of his life!

Robert Lorenzo Brazile Jr. (born February 7, 1953) is an American former professional football player who was a linebacker in the National Football League (NFL). Nicknamed "Dr. Doom", Brazile played from 1975 to 1984 for the Houston Oilers and was elected to the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 2018.

Professional career

Brazile was taken with the sixth pick of the first round of the 1975 NFL Draft. It was part of the bounty Sid Gillman acquired along with Curley Culp when he traded John Matuszak to the Kansas City Chiefs. However, it would be new head coach/general manager Bum Phillips who made the selection.[1]

Phillips' arrival in Houston also brought a change in the base defense the Oilers ran, switching from a 4-3 to a 3-4. The 3-4 would prove to be a perfect fit for Brazile's combination of size (6'4", 230 lbs) and great speed. While most cite Lawrence Taylor as the prototype of the pass-rushing outside linebacker in the NFL,[2] there are some, including Phillips, who say Brazile was the one who first made the 3-4 popular for sending an outside linebacker to rush the quarterback.[3] Brazile also performed well in pass coverage and against the run, consistently ranking at or near the top for the team lead in tackles even though opponents often avoided his side of the field.[4]

Brazile found immediate success with the Oilers, winning the NFL's Defensive Rookie of the Year award for the 1975 season. He was named to the Pro Bowl seven straight seasons, was All-Pro five straight seasons (1976–80),[5] and was selected to the NFL's All-Decade Team for the 1970s. In 1978 and 1979, Brazile was a key member of Oilers teams that went to back-to-back AFC Championship games.

After a third straight postseason loss in 1980, Phillips was fired by Oilers owner Bud Adams and the team entered a period of steep decline. The constant losing wore on Brazile and caused him to contemplate retiring.[6] However, he has said it was the death of his first wife, Cookie, in a car wreck in Houston in 1984, that made the decision for him.[7]

Officially, Brazile finished his career with 11 quarterback sacks. Unofficially, his career sack total is 48 (sacks did not become an official NFL statistic until 1982).[8] He is also credited with 1,281 tackles, the second highest total in Houston Oilers / Tennessee Titans history.[9]

On August 24, 2017, Brazile and former Green Bay Packers guard Jerry Kramer were named as seniors committee finalists for the Pro Football Hall of Fame Class of 2018.[10] He was announced as member of the class of 2018 on February 3, 2018. Robert Brazile was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame on Saturday, August 4, 2018, and his bust was sculpted by Scott Myers. Bronze bust of Robert Brazile, enshrined at the Pro Football Hall of Fame, Canton Ohio, USA, 2018

On October 14, 2018, Brazile was inducted to the Titans-Oilers Ring of Honor Mobile, Ala. — Five artist submissions for the statues that will be featured in the City of Mobile's "Hall of Fame Courtyard" will be on display at the Mobile Arts Council this week. The courtyard will eventually be a featured piece of Cooper Riverside Park honoring five Mobilians inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame.

Five finalists have submitted miniature statues to showcase their design concepts. They will be reviewed this week by a selection committee that will make a final decision on which artist will create life-sized bronze statues of Hall of Famers Henry "Hank" Aaron, Satchel Paige, Billy Williams, Ozzie Smith and Willie Lee McCovey.

There will be press availability and an opportunity for B-roll of the statue submissions at the Mobile Arts Council (6 S Joachim Street) today at 11 a.m. The City of Mobile's Director of Civic Cultural Affairs, Matt Anderson, will also be available to answer questions about the project and the selection process.

251 NOW GUESTS AND TOPICS DISCUSSED IN FIRST QUARTER:

Jan. 7- 251 NOW with Kelly Finley--People United to Advance the Dream Mobile invites EVERYONE to help bring about positive change across the community (Part 2)

My guest:

Rev. David Edwards Jr.

President

People United to Advance The Dream Mobile, Inc.

We discuss:

1). The challenges Dr. King was addressing when he was alive.

2). The challenges that we face today, and identifying them with solutions.

3). Poor voter turnouts.

4). Developing and supporting minority businesses to reduce unemployment and crime in our communities.

5). Mentoring our youth on challenges they perceived as important.

6).Encouraging our Churches to extend their ARMS into the communities around them

The Mission is to embrace Dr. King's dream by empowering the underserved through overcoming social disadvantages by increasing racial equity and increasing financial literacy.

We need support in the area of volunteers, financial sponsorships, get your Ticket/Table for the Gala.... these proceeds will go to sponsor our youth for the advancing the vote tour, by taking them to Selma, AL educating them on the civil rights voting act and what it means for their future.

Also giving out Grants to assist in furthering their education.

NOTABLE MEMORIES OR MOMENTS..... Each year when we travel to Selma we conduct an informative question and answer session on each bus, on the way to and back from selma. The engagement among our youth going there is rather apathetic and uninformed. However, the ride back from Selma is significantly different. They are engaged and competitive in their responses, they are excited about sharing what they have witnessed and learned. This year we plan to develop different teams to create objective strategies and tactics they can develop and employ to make a difference in their communities. Stay Connected:

Jan. 21- How The Mobile Area Education Foundation continues to advocate for local & state educational reform...(Part 1)

My guest: Dr. Jeremiah Newell

CEO of the Mobile Area Education Foundation (MAEF)

We discuss:

The (MAEF) mission?

To realize bold solutions that dramatically improve the success of youth in the Mobile area.

The Mobile Area Education Foundation (MAEF) was founded 30 years ago by Carolyn Akers to press for local and state educational reform. Carolyn created a community-wide public engagement process that resulted in community demands and benchmarks for success for all students. Carolyn Akers is retiring and turning over the reins to her mentee Jeremiah Newell. They first met decades ago when he was a high school student and got involved with MAEF with the goal of a career impacting educational reforms and programs for all students in Mobile County. After receiving several degrees and a doctorate from Harvard Jeremiah returned to Mobile to join MAEF.

The future of MEAF is positioning itself to focus on the three pillars: Engaged Community, Excellent Schools, and Career-Ready Youth

- Engaged Community To effectively address the challenges facing our youth, our schools need the support and engagement of our entire community.
- Excellent Schools Every child in Mobile County deserves to receive an excellent education.
- Career-Ready Youth For Mobile to truly thrive in the future, its young people must be ready for employment in the thousands of high-wage, high-demand jobs in our region

How can people help?

Explore the MAEF website and go to the Support MAEF section located at the top of the homepage. Within this section, visitors can discover information on volunteering, partnering with, or making donations to the organization. Notable memories:

In 2001, Mobile County voters passed a historic tax referendum that put more money into our public schools than had been allocated in more than 40 years. The Mobile Area Education Foundation and our i-LEAD Student Advisory Board are proud to present the 2024 i-LEAD Summit on Tuesday, Jan. 23.

The i-LEAD Summit began last year as a forum to engage a diverse group of local high school students in exploring challenges and envisioning solutions to improve the success of all youth in the Mobile area. This year, we are looking to extend the work of the Summit by having our Student Advisory Board partner with local civic leaders and business owners in bringing solutions proposed at the Summit to life.

OUR VISIONMobile is a community that puts children first, a place where all are provided with whatever it takes to reach adulthood ready to succeed.

MAKE A CONTRIBUTIONThank you for considering an online contribution to the Mobile Area Education Foundation. With every dollar contributed toward financing and enriching our programs, your investment in MAEF is an effective and efficient way to be engaged in the betterment of public education for all children in Mobile County. Feb. 11- How to pick a good Real Estate Agent, why curb appeal matters so much and how you can make your property stand out from the rest...(part 2)

Roslyn Spencer is back with more Real Estate 101 information to help you sell your home, purchase a home, invest in land and more!

Mission: My mission has always been one of service and with real estate my mission is to help people along their home buying journey #RozTheRealtor says:

The first thing to do is find a real estate agent. If there's not someone that you already know, there's definitely nothing wrong with interviewing a few agents to see who you feel most comfortable with. (SN, be prepared, you and your agents will become besties lol)

Once you've found your agent, they'll work on a market analysis to make sure your home is priced correctly which is how you make sure that the home sells quickly.

Also, be sure to discuss with your agent your desired timeframe to move and how soon you would like your home listed. Once you've discussed these details, you'll most likely go through a series similar to this checklist prior to your listing going live: a. Consider your curb appeal

- b. Declutter living areas
- c. Depersonalize your space
- d. Repaint walls to neutral tones
- e. Touch up any scuff marks
- f. Fix any loose handles

3. Is it possible to sell my house and use the cash from that sale to buy my new home"? Yes, it's actually quite common...and both the sale of the current home and the buying of the new home can happen within 24 hours within one another. One of the first things to do is to already have your current home listed (if possible) and consider the price range of the new home you would like to be in...(SN: be sure you have talked to a loan officer to finance any amount the cash from sale would not cover.).

Once you've found the home you'd like to make an offer on, your realtor will write that offer with a "First right of refusal" contingency, which gives you a chance to get an offer on yours so that those funds can be used for the new home. Stay Connected:

Feb. 18- The 2024 Festival of Flowers wants you to "Make Your Mark"! (Part 1) Kendall Hurley/Development Officer/Providence Foundation Riley Brenes/Artist

The Festival of Flowers, an annual garden and flower show, supports the special charitable community programs of USA Health's Providence Hospital's healing ministry. The Festival of Flowers is dedicated to the promotion of gardening and horticultural excellence while encouraging the preservation of the natural resources. As it grows and expands the Festival has as a continuous goal of remaining one of Mobile's major cultural events and one of the premier events in the Southeast.

We discuss:

How Riley along with the Nest of Mobile and The Juvenile Court of Mobile County have allowed him to highlight the importance of engaging at-risk-youth with community service focused on beautification and cultural inclusion. If the young people seem to be the ones tearing down the community with violence and theft- then perhaps we need to show them how to build the community with aspects of our culture they aren't involved with yet.

Yes, Mobile is known for her Mardi Gras and revelry but her botanical beauty and local camaraderie is her finest legacy!

Horticulture is our shared culture and should be celebrated.

Life started in the garden and we need to remember that our connection to creation is crucial to our self care. The first thing we learn about God is he is a creator. When we create beauty, in my opinion, we are praising Him.

Our city needs God more than ever and I believe Providence's faithful service to the call of charity is deeply rooted in our community's culture and we need to continue to foster that growth any way we can.

Young people need to be included in all cultural aspects of our local community. We shouldn't just motivate them- we should mobilize them to work alongside us to continue building the city's legacy of volunteerism through beautification.

The Sam Lackland Mural that will be the stage setting for The Festival's "Make your Mark" theme pays tribute to the ideals of creative altruism. That in 1929 young people from the Mobile JayCees planted and distributed hundreds of azaleas all across the city. It was strong leadership and young people working together that gave us our identity as "The Azalea City" which spawned our early tourism industry, the world renowned Trail Maids, and the annual Trail Run.

The mural illustrates Lackland writing, surrounded by the Azalea Trail as he, along with the youth, make their mark in Mobile's History. Imagine young people planting across the city every fall and spring season. They will see they are valued and that their legacy can grow here too! It's the simple things, like planting a tree or painting a mural to brighten up a community space, that have a lasting impact.

Notable memories: One year, as many of the court involved youth's family came to see their children's hard work, a man and his son stood proudly and I took their photo. The father told his son "WOW! I never knew you had so much talent!" And the son replied "I didn't either." I watched the boy hold back tears as his father said he was proud while he Facebook lived the festival bragging about his son's work to his followers. For me, that's what it's about, for these kids to be seen as more than a "burden" but as the blessings they truly are. Sometimes we forget children are a blessing from God and that they need to be reminded their potential is perpetual. Just like our city's.

How can people help? People can help by volunteering their time, donating at the gate, voting on their favorite display, purchasing a Gala, Buds and Brews or Trivia ticket, shopping at our Festival Shop.

Funds will be used to purchase a new fleet of EKG monitors for USA Health Providence

Mar. 10-Inside the 2024 Wharf Boat and Yacht Show & "the Voice" of high school football! (Part 1) My guest: Jim Cox About the 2024 Wharf Boat and Yacht Show March 15th-March 17th

As one of the most iconic spots on the Gulf Coast, The Wharf in Orange Beach is known for many things. The Ferris wheel, concerts by the best artists in the country, shopping, and dining on Main Street, Blue Marlin tournaments, and a fun family destination for both locals and beach visitors. But for those who love boats, boating, fishing, and living the 'coastal lifestyle,' it's also has become known for something else over the past decade.

The Wharf Boat and Yacht Show is the Southeast's premier boat show. The Wharf is transformed into the 'Boating Epicenter' of the Gulf Coast each March. The region's top dealers, representing the country's best brands, bring over 800 boats totaling more than $100 million of marine inventory to Orange Beach. This year's show, which takes place March 15-17, will feature 140 sportfishing yachts, cruisers, and center consoles in wet slips at The Wharf Marina. In addition, another 700 trailerable fishing boats, pontoons, wake boats, and personal watercraft will be displayed throughout The Wharf's property. Alongside all that marine inventory are more than 100 exhibitors showcasing the latest and hottest trends in marine accessories, electronics, motors, and the best offerings to the coastal lifestyle.

With a proven track record of annually producing more than $20 Million in boat sales during the show weekend, The Wharf Boat and Yacht Show provides a win-win-win environment for buyers, dealers, and exhibitors.

Boat shows take place for one reason: to sell boats, lots and lots of boats, and marine products.

Boat and engine manufacturers, dealers, and marine exhibitors collectively harness the buying power of boat show attendees.

These sellers know it's a buyer's market at The Wharf Boat & Yacht Show. With so much competition all in one place, it allows potential buyers to compare models, dealers, and deals side-by-side exclusively at a once-a-year event. This drives special pricing and incentives, known as 'boat show pricing,' and it's also why the year's best incentives and deepest discounts end when the show closes. The Wharf Boat and Yacht Show is also a great way to spend a day or two enjoying not just the show but fishing seminars, kids' art classes, live music, food, cocktails, and luxury vehicles, all at the only venue capable of hosting such a weekend, The Wharf in Orange Beach.

Raising money for the Child Advocacy Center

We are asking everyone to buy tickets to the event and come enjoy great food, great music and great fun.

Cunningham Bounds has been the title sponsor since the cook-off began (2015). For more than 65 years, Cunningham Bounds has dedicated itself to the pursuit of aiding those in need. Aside from assisting families facing serious injuries or the loss of a loved one, the firm has also engaged in championing local charities, organizations, and agencies. Among these, the Child Advocacy Center stands out, dedicated to the noble mission of aiding children who have suffered from abuse.

Since 1988, the Child Advocacy Center has served thousands of children in the Mobile area. The Center provides a warm, non-threatening environment where professionals responding to reports of child abuse meet with their young clients. The Child Advocacy Center is intended to be a "special place" for any child who walks through its doors. Every aspect of the center is crafted to communicate that each child is valued by the professionals who dedicate their efforts at the Child Advocacy Center.

Since its inception, the cook-off has successfully generated over $455,000 in funds for the Child Advocacy Center and the children under their care.

This year we have 27 teams registered to cook. This is the most teams we have ever had participate. We expect this year to be our best year yet. We encourage the community to buy tickets early and come out to enjoy a day filled with great food and music.

People can help by buying a ticket and attending the Downtown Cajun Cook-Off on March 23. Ticket sales and proceeds from the event benefit the Child Advocacy Center and will help fund services the agency provides in our community for abused children and their families. The purchase of a ticket is a donation to the Child Advocacy Center.

All funds raised will be used to support the work of the Child Advocacy Center whose mission is to help children who have been victims of abuse. Tickets/Event Details

Mar. 24-Why the C3 Experience is exactly what you, your family and friends need to feel like ROYALTY (Part 1)!

Meet my guest: Dione Williams The C3 Experience

The C3 represents Canvas, Candles and Corks.

The C3 Experience offers a unique blend of canvas painting and candle-making while enjoying wine.

The C3 Experience was birthed from a need of having not just something to do on the social scene, but something different. Our focus on creating a warm and inviting ambiance where guests can unleash their creativity while enjoying upscale amenities like curated wine selections and charcuterie boards is what sets C3 apart. You can go to any of your local retailers and get candle, canvas and corks, but there is nothing like a C3 Experience because it's not just about the activities; it's about "The Experience."

Three Key Components of The C3 Experience:

Community. Our guests bond with their friends and even make new friends.
Creativity. Our guests create a tangible and unique piece of fun art, not fine art, every visit.

3. Couture. Our upscale experience and relaxed vibe allows our guests to unwind. As an added bonus to our guests' experience we offer complimentary wine and charcuterie options.

Community is a core value and at the heart of The C3 Experience. We provide a welcoming and inclusive environment where guests come together to share in the joy of creativity. Whether they're painting side by side or enjoying a glass of wine with friends, our goal is to facilitate connections and create lasting memories.

At The C3 Experience, creativity is all about having fun and expressing oneself. Our guests create tangible and unique pieces of art during their visit, emphasizing the joy of the creative process over the pursuit of fine art perfection. Whether it's painting a canvas or crafting a custom candle, everyone leaves with something they can be proud of.

We prioritize every aspect of the guest experience to ensure it aligns with our upscale vibe. From the carefully curated wine selection to the ambiance of our venue, every detail is thoughtfully considered. Additionally, our staff is trained to provide exceptional service, enhancing the overall quality of the Experience. In addition to our canvas painting and candle-making experiences, we offer complimentary wine and charcuterie options to help guests unwind and indulge during their visit. Our venue is designed to be a welcoming space where guests can escape the stresses of everyday life and fully immerse themselves in the moment...an Experience.

What does The C3 Experience offer?

At The C3 Experience, you can enjoy an upscale atmosphere and vibe while enjoying:

- Canvas-Painting Experience

- Candle-Making Experience

- Complimentary Wine

- Charcuterie Boards and Cups

- Book Venue for Private Events: Birthday Parties, Bachelorette Parties, Kids Parties, Bridal Showers, Baby Showers, Church Events, Photoshoots, Team Building/Networking, etc.

MAR 31st- You are invited to the Dauphin Island Bird Banding Event, April 6-10th (Part 1)

Emma Rhodes, Director of Conservation and Scientific Research Banding Coalition of the Americas (BCA)

BCA is dedicated to avian research and outreach. By employing banding and cutting-edge tracking techniques, our goal is to connect the dots of birds' lives to fully understand their life cycles for conservation.

1. Spring Bird Banding on Dauphin Island: Where and when is this event occurring? It will occur on Dauphin Island and will run from April 6th-10th from 8-2pm every day. The event is co-hosted by BCA and Dauphin Island Bird Sanctuaries or DIBS.

2. Why should people attend this event?

We find that some of our guests are birders but many come to the banding event out of a love of nature, wildlife and outdoors. This is a family-friendly and free event for all ages. It is a unique opportunity to see the beautiful migratory bird species that pass through Dauphin Island in an up-close and personal manner while having access to experts. Ask questions, take pictures! Bring a chair and stay awhile.

3. What will you gain from attending?

Thousands of birds stopover on Dauphin Island during spring migration. Banding is a federally licensed capture and release method that allows us to study birds for conservation and research. Visitors to the banding site will be able to watch our researchers conduct the detailed process of collecting data and banding then releasing the birds. Additionally, we will be showing the birds for visitors to see and photograph before we release them. Our volunteer experts engage with visitors and discuss the birds, talk about their natural histories and answer questions.

How can people help?

• By attending the Dauphin Island Bird Banding Event and other banding events, visitors become more aware of the birds around them. We hope they leave the event with more knowledge of birds, conservation, and become a patron and/or donate to our non-profit, and also follow us on Facebook and Instagram.

BCA is an all-volunteer non-profit organization where donations truly support all our work. One can become a patron for as little as $5 monthly and receive exclusive news on our research projects and events.

DIBS is also an all-volunteer non-profit, working to preserve the migratory bird habitat on Dauphin Island.

Please share any notable memories or moments from previous years: My favorite thing about the event is watching how releasing a bird can really be a special moment for our guests. I have been able to watch multiple kids grow up attending the event every year. One girl in particular stands out since I've known her and her family since about 2010–when I was still training to become a bander. We have a photo of me letting her release a bird from 2014 and we recreated this photo this past fall at one of our events with her all grown up. Go to our website at bandingcoalition.org, and DIBS: dauphinislandbirds.com Also available on Facebook and Instagram

Facebook and Instagram you can find us with the handle @Bandingcoalition.
