This plan includes a provision for elective abortions. Under pressure from pro-life groups the students were given a chance to opt out of this plan but they still had to pay the same premium. A growing number of Americans are very concerned about the United Nations International Baccalaureate curriculum. More than 1000 schools in the US now use this program. It is strongly supported by President Obama and national education leaders. It is extremely hostile to Christianity and against American family values. It openly teaches that all religions are equal and incorporates assumptions favoring global warming, extreme environmental protection and global redistribution of wealth. Opponents of this secular program are concerned that parents have no idea these anti-American things are being taught to their children. Wake up Americans to what is going on in our nation.

The state highway patrol in one state in the US had given families of fallen officers the choice of how they would like to honor their family member. Everyone of them chose crosses. When the crosses were erected the state officials ruled it unconstitutional for them to honor their fallen comrades with crosses. A small group of atheists got upset and took the officers to court, to its shame the Tenth circuit court agreed with the atheist saying it looked like government taking sides with religion. This shows when a small anti God minority take a stand what can happen. We Christians need to stand up and be heard.

But when the college students want to join student groups that uphold Biblical standards they are told that liberty requires them to admit into their group those who mock Biblical standards and openly practice sexual sins. Individual liberty to live as the Bible commands is under assault in our country. If our liberties continue to perverted or twisted our children will never know true freedom as our forefather wanted.

Teen pregnancy is on the decline compared to the 1991 peak high. Thank God for the teaching implemented into our public schools on abstinence back in the 19890's and is still being taught today.

An important question for our Nation, will the Constitution of this United States of America in the year 2030 bear any resemblance to the Constitution that was passed in 1787? This is important due to some popular and large political forces today want to change the very nature of America's Constitution that has rules our country for two century's, the document that made America the freest and most prosperous country in the world. Proponents of what they call a "Living Constitution" wants to change the document that limits the power of government and change it into a document that mandates what the government must provide and do for people. Americans must remember that our rights come from GOD or we will be living under a very different constitution in 2030.

Is assisted suicide a right to chose or is it evidence of lack of hope. Assisted suicide advocates call it humane, a dignified way to die. It promotes freedom of choice. Opponents see it for what it really is, a sign of hopelessness and despair. If the desire to die is from a painful health condition there are ways to eliminate pain without killing the patient. By far the most evident reason for suicide is the person feeling like a burden or not wanting to be cared for by others. Assisted suicide is not the way to help people out of difficult situations . God gives life and God takes it away.
Legal Alert	Government Housing	2/24/2011	5:45pm	1:30
Sometimes our government does make good decisions. A young lady advertised in a message on a church bulletin board for a Christian roommate she was charged with religious discrimination in housing under the Fair Housing Act. The government would not touch this and said she had not crossed any boundaries. The charges were dropped. People do have the right to ask for certain requirements in roommates and not have to worry about government interference. Housing discrimination does not have anything with people living in their own homes.

Legal Alert	Education Government	3/2/2011	5:45pm	1:30
Our public schools should encourage our students to express their points of view whether or not it is like theirs. All teachers should understand it is not unconstitutional for them to engage students to share their views no matter whether it is on religion or world views. America was founded on Christian principals and our legal system was based on Judeo-Christian concept of fairness and justice. Yet public school children are being mocked even by teachers when they express a religious view on something. We need to stand up so our teachers understand the students rights. It is not unconstitutional for them to express their beliefs in God.
Legal Alert	Abortion Government	3/4/2011	5:45pm	1:30
It is important that America protect the hospitals that do not agree to perform abortions. After the Supreme Court found a constitutional right to abortion in 1973, congress protected hospitals who refused to perform abortions. There was the Church Amendment that assured these hospitals could receive Federal funding without doing the abortions. Since 2005 a similar amendment has been included in every federal funding bill. This provided that any agency will lose its own federal funding if it discriminates against any hospital that refuses to do abortions. Today the new Healthcare law is threatening these hospitals. Please pray this assault against human life will be stopped .

In our classrooms we have teachers who are publicly sarcastic toward parents and students when it comes to their religious beliefs. A biology teacher stated at a conference that her class would be studying evolution and not creation, stating her class was not a religious class. This openly violated the establishment clause of the United States Constitution by mocking. Courts have said Teachers may neither promote nor denigrate the religious faith. To many school officials forgets the second part of the clause, it prohibits the denigration of their religion. The CLA wants to remind us of our rights as parents to stand up for our students.

In the groundbreaking elections of 2010 there were three Supreme Court Judges who lost their position. Why? Because they previously ruled in same sex marriage, which was in total opposition to what their state people stood for. Many states have thus followed and voted out many judges who do not stand for what their state stands for. We still have states who are not standing and thus are putting up with bad judges. Stand for your rights, vote.

When a church is faced with an abuse charge there are several steps to follow. First you should notify your insurance carrier, next church officials should issue a written statement to the press and then post it on the church web sight. It should state that the church is cooperating with the law enforcement and praying for all of those involved. Generally the Senior Pastor should be the only spokesperson for the church. Any and all statements made early in an investigation can be used against the church and thus no one should be talking about this issue openly. Any questions please call CLA.

Many of the 20th century history books are leaving out more truth about our Nation. These books hide the facts that this United States of America was founded on the fear of God and Trusting in Him for direction. The books from the 19th Century still tell the truth. It has been stated in a book as old as 1843 where American educator Emma Willard wrote "the government of the US is acknowledged by the wise and good of other Nations to be the most free, impartial and religious government of the world." In order for our country to be sustained it has to stand for truth and right.

What do Equal Access Laws have to do with churches and public schools? When churches want to invite students to special programs, they are legally permitted to use public school notices in the same way secular organizations advertise their events. Under Equal Access Laws religious organizations must be treated the same as secular. When the advertising is done the religious groups cannot add scripture or any other means of reaching people for the Lord.

A Federal Court upheld the Constitutionality of the Pledge of Allegiance with the "under God" in it. A state passed a law requiring their schools students to recite the Pledge of Allegiance. There was a lawsuit brought against the state. The judge said the Pledge recited was not promoting religion but patriotism. The law also stated when it was recited those not wanting to take part must be quiet and respectful of others who wanted to say the Pledge of Allegiance.

Obscenity on TV is becoming an ever increasing problem in the home and in the law. In July 2010 a Federal court overturned Decency rules developed by the Federal Communication Commission for television programing. These rules had put limits on both language and indecent content. Since this overturn there has been a sharp increase in profanity and obscenity on TV especially during the "family time" between 8 and 9pm. One study showed that the use of profanity has rising over 70% since 2005. The courts has said in essence that they will protect "free speech" and therefore allow this obscenity. Parents must guard their children.

Christian organization all too often have to fight for equal treatment. A man wanted to start a Christian Athletes group at his middle school, a woman wanted to start a Bible Club at her high school, a church wanted to use a school auditorium for a non religious performance. These three situations were all legal and must be treated just like the secular groups in every public school. Not all school administrators are in the know about the law concerning religious freedom.

The science of frozen embryos is providing the bases for some usual families and law in America. Two siblings born 20 years apart to two different mothers are still biological related. In 1990 a couple used In-vetro fertilization to conceive a child, their remaining embryos were frozen. Then 20 years later another family adopted some of the remaining embryo and conceived. Thus making these children related. These are the same frozen embryos that the embryonic stem cell researchers advocates want to destroy for research purposes. We live in a day of science that must be governed by what the scripture teaches.

Roger Sherman from Conn was also a signer of the Declaration of Independence was also one of the best cost cutter in our Congress. He served on the Congressional committee that examined the cost of materials bought by our army. We need to have people in our government that are mindful of what they are paying for material for our US military.

Legal Alert	Community Planning	3/30/2011	5:45pm	1:30

There was a person who went door to door in a community witnessing. At one home no one answered the door, the person opened the storm door and inserted a tract. The door was not closed properly and was damaged in a storm that arose that day. The church who was named on the tract received a call with threat of being sued for damages. The church called their insurance company and agreed to pay for the damages. We do have the right to go door to door but we do find pitfalls along the way. We are responsible for any property damage that might occur after we have been on the premises.
