AGRICULTURE, ENVIRONMENT, AND NATURE

Issues affecting the community, like natural wonders, exploration, eco-conservation, natural history, water issues, and beauty of the geographic region, are crucial to a region that is a major agricultural supplier for the entire planet. The station continues to air its national program America's Heartland, which includes regional stories. America's Heartland gives consumers an inside look at the people and processes involved in bringing food, fuel, and fiber to those in the United States and worldwide. ViewFinder, produced by the station, focuses on regional issues and people important in the environment, nature, and agriculture. Other programs highlight the diversity and needs of the station's geographic viewing area and beyond.

AMERICA'S HEARTLAND

(26:46) Magazine (Local)

Dates, subjects, and times vary – see below.

America's Heartland celebrates the people who grow the country's crops, raise its livestock, tend its nurseries, and prepare its food. America's Heartland taps into the national fascination with food and curiosity about unfamiliar places and ways of life while also exploring the American values of family, hard work, and the spirit of independence. The series, produced entirely on location, portrays the worlds of agriculture, horticulture, and aquaculture with fascinating stories, compelling characters, innovative ideas, and enticing travel destinations.

CALIFORNIA'S GOLD: THINGS THAT COME BACK #1005

(27:56)

At one time, Tulare Lake was the largest freshwater lake west of the Great Lakes. In the 1930s, farmers choked off the four major rivers that fed the lake, and it quickly dried up. Once the home to millions of birds and herds of tule elk and antelope, the lakebed is now covered in agriculture. But like all things great in California, the lake refuses to disappear completely. During very heavy winters, the lake partially re-fills with water and stops motorists in their tracks as they come across a huge lake amongst the vineyards and orchards that fill the valley. Huell and Luis take a very special canoe ride in this magical lake. Anybody who has studied California history knows the name James Marshall and his discovery of gold which sparked the beginning of the gold rush. Does the name Jenny Wimmer ring a bell? Probably not, but she played a major role in Marshall's discovery. Jenny Wimmer cooked for and took care of twenty men who worked at Sutter's Fort, including James Marshall. When Marshall reached down into the tailrace of the mill and picked up a small shiny nugget, it was Jenny Wimmer he went to for confirmation. Jenny had done quite a bit of mining and knew how to test for gold in a lye bucket she used for making soap. Huell and Luis travel back to Coloma to re-create that historic moment. As a special treat, the actual "Wimmer Nugget" comes home for the day, as do many of Jenny's descendants.

ARTS AND EDUCATION

The station brings attention to local artists and the arts community through its local productions. Some programs listed provide access to the arts not easily obtained or attended in person by the community and have a national culture-sharing opportunity. Inside California Education, produced by the station, features stories from all over the Golden State about California's public education system. KVIE Arts Showcase, produced by the station, features local and national artists. Studio Sacramento, produced by the station, features the people and organizations that create, elevate, cultivate, and champion the arts and education in our region. ViewFinder, produced by the station, takes an in-depth look at essential arts organizations and people serving the region. Some of the programs offer intersectional stories across the categories in this report.

AFROPOP: THE ULTIMATE CULTURAL EXCHANGE – REWIND & PLAY #1505

(56:46)

Improvisational pianist and composer Thelonious Monk is among the 20th century's most revered jazz luminaries. This film by Alain Gomis, features raw footage from an interview the artist gave to French state television in 1969. It shows Monk in the grip of a violent factory of stereotypes, offering an unfiltered glimpse at the racial indignities some artistic geniuses are asked to endure.

CITY VOICES: HOMELESSNESS TO HOPEFULLNESS #0

(59:00)

City Voices follows the lives of six members of the Norfolk Street Choir, a choral group comprised of Hampton Roads residents affected by homelessness. Every Friday morning, the group gathers at Freemason Baptist Church for breakfast and a choir session under the tutelage of Virginia Symphony Chorus Master Robert Shoup. Follow Willie, Johnnie, Kim, Big Mike, Nadine, and Jurrell as they struggle with the hardships of the streets, the ups and downs of relationships, and the frustration of finding housing. See how a small community coming together under the single purpose of choral music can find friends, hope, and their voice.

BIRTHING JUSTICE

(1:26:46)

Giving birth has turned into a battleground for too many Black women and their babies. Going behind the statistics and beyond grief, Birthing Justice places Black women at the center of the fight to fix a broken system as they transform the future for all women in this country. The documentary focuses on the progress being made by those on the frontline of this crisis and highlights solutions that can be replicated in communities across the country. In order to assure a broad spectrum of experiences, we focus on Missouri, Georgia, California, and the District of Columbia and elevate the lived experiences of Black women, including 11-time Olympic champion Allyson Felix and advocates like Dr. Joia Crear-Perry, founder of the National Black Equity Collaborative. Birthing Justice combines expert interviews with very personal pregnancy and birth stories that emphasize the dangerous terrain many traverses while celebrating their joyful outcomes.

OUR TIME: TEEN MENTAL HEALTH AND SUICIDE IN BLACK FAMILIES #201

(26:46)

Suicide is the second leading cause of death for teens in the U.S. While leaders acknowledge a teen mental health crisis, much discourse focuses on suicide as a white issue. The disposability of black lives, coupled with taboos associated with depression and self-harm, prevent many from breaking the silence. Filmmakers Kalia Hunter (Dom) and Kallista Palapas (I'll Be There) recount two young black lives cut short by suicide and, in doing so, compel communities to act.

POV: ON THE DIVIDE #3413

(1:26:46)

McAllen, TX, is home to the last reproductive health clinic on the Texas/Mexico border. It is the center of the tension between religious protesters who try to stop patients from coming inside and the security staff of the clinic who fight to protect it. On The Divide follows three different Latinx members of this community and the unforeseen choices they face for their daily survival.

HISTORY AND HERITAGE MONTHS: ASIAN AMERICAN AND PACIFIC ISLANDER MONTH, PRIDE MONTH, LGBTQ+ HISTORY, AND LOCAL HISTORY

The station shares stories about multicultural experiences in America and locally. During the reporting period, programs honoring Asian American and Pacific Islander Heritage Month, Pride Month, LGBTQ+ history, and local history were shown. Programs feature historical figures, movements, and moments – on the national stage and locally in the station’s region. Studio Sacramento, produced by the station, features local leaders and changemakers discussing the region’s past, present, and future. ViewFinder, produced by the station, takes an in-depth look at our history, present, and future. Each episode is a unique documentary-look at our community, bringing unique voices and stories to the front and framing them from a larger perspective. Other programs included feature topics that affect the community locally because they are a national issue. Some of the programs offer intersectional stories across the categories in this report.

AFROPOP: THE ULTIMATE CULTURAL EXCHANGE – CAN YOU BRING IT – BILL T. JONES D-MAN IN THE WATER #1501

(1:26:46)

Filmmakers Rosalynde LeBlanc and Tom Hurwitz trace the history and legacy of choreographer-dancer-director Bill T. Jones' ballet, “D-Man in the Waters.” Emerging in the age of AIDS, the 1989 ballet gave physical manifestation to the fear, anger, grief, and hope for salvation that Jones and colleagues experienced as AIDS took the life of their beloved co-founder Arnie Zane and other troupe members.

VIEWFINDER: SAVING AMERICANA – HUNTING THE TRAILS #2516H

(27:06) (Local)

Starting in the 1840s, America quite literally picked up and moved west. Hundreds of thousands of people hit the road, creating a long line of wagon trains that made up the Great Western Migration. Nearly two centuries later, a group of history buffs turned detectives are hunting for their old trails. This is the story of retracing the paths and wagon ruts that tell the story of the journey. Using pioneer diaries, these detectives are finding and marking the trails before they just disappear. Reporter Dave Courvoisier retraces 2,000 miles of trail and 170 years of history to tell the story of the men and women who are saving history by tracking down the old pioneer trails.

OUTSIDE: BEYOND THE LENS – CALIFORNIA’S NELDER GROVE #306H

(26:48)

The central Sierra Nevada mountains in California are home to big-name national parks like Yosemite and Sequoia-Kings Canyon. But a hidden grove of Giant Sequoia Redwoods can be found in the hills Jeff, Zack, and Dave all grew up in. They meet up with an old friend who now watches over Nelder Grove for a guided tour of the secret wonders found among the giants.
