Dear President Abouzeid:

Recently on the show Jeopardy! on WDTN 2 was the clue "In Arabic it means 'greater' and often follows 'Allahu'". The correct response was "What is Akbar?". I question the incorporation of such a phrase into a show like Jeopardy!. I, like many freedom loving Americans, associate it with Islamic terror. It was used by the terrorist at Fort Hood in Texas on November 5, 2009. Why was it allowed on that show in this post-9/11 world?

I ask that you pressure Sony Pictures Television and the people behind Jeopardy! to apologize for having such a clue on the show. Please keep this complaint in your public file.

Sincerely,

James C. Schul
