

Quarterly Issue/Programs List for WFCL October 1, 2011 to December 31, 2011

WFCL provides classical music and arts programming for Nashville and middle Tennessee. The station serves and enriches the community by broadcasting classical music programming in a wide variety, accompanied by educational information in music history. Additionally, WFCL serves as a nexus for the arts community by providing information to listeners about arts and educational events throughout the coverage area.

Specialty programs featured on WFCL include the Nashville Symphony Orchestra Concert Series, Santa Fe Chamber Festival, the New York Philharmonic Orchestra Concerts, NPR's World of Opera and the Metropolitan Opera Series. St. Paul Sunday and Pipe Dreams Each of these programs features an educational aspect, providing thoughtful and useful information on the history and theory of the music featured on the programs.

Community issues are addressed and reported during hourly newscasts from NPR weekdays from 6:00 a.m. until 6:00 p.m. Additionally, information on science and the arts is provided daily through these feature programs: BirdNote, Writers Almanac, Composer's Datebook and StarDate.
