

Issues and Asertainments January - March Quarter 1

Morning Show, Triad Today with Jeffrey Griffin

January 3, 2024

- Andrea Allen
- Solus Christus
- Conversation about local, residential-based resources and support systems available to women in the Triad area seeking to overcome addiction and rejoin society while being responsible for their own independence in a faith-based environment.

January 3, 2024

- Dr. Gary Chapman
- The Five Love Languages One-Day Marriage Seminar
- Conversation about the importance of cultivating and nurturing marriages on a consistent basis, while reinforcing and strengthening the framework of the nuclear family.

January 10, 2024

- Lea Thullbery
- City With Dwellings
- Conversation about resources available to individuals experiencing homelessness in the Winston-Salem community.

January 11, 2024

- Ann Olivia and Donald Whitehead
- National Alliance To End Homelessness and the National Coalition For the Homeless

- Conversation about how citizens can connect, and meaningfully interact, with legislative leaders, about the epidemic of homelessness and disproportionately damaging legislation that may unintentionally impact the ability of homeless individuals to rejoin mainstream society as self-sufficient citizens.

January 17, 2024

- Melanie Matthews
- Little Theatre Of Winston-Salem
- Conversation about the Little Theatre's production of "The Mountaintop," a look at, and reimaging of, the life and legacy of Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., as a man and private citizen, rather than the traditional image of a world leader, beyond reproach, without self-doubt and personal failures.

January 17, 2024

- Stephanie Antkowiak
- The Arc Of High Point
- Conversation about resources and engagement opportunities for Piedmont Triad area individuals with intellectual and physical disabilities, through the programs and services offered at The Arc Of High Point.

January 24, 2024

- Jimmy Renslow
- The 5:14 Initiative
- Conversation about ongoing efforts to assist and support immigrants and refugees who are no longer part of the resettlement agency, focusing on housing solutions and general advocacy.

January 25, 2024

- Tammy Brady
- Randolph County Sheriff's Citizen Academy

- Conversation about the opportunity for Randolph County residents to engage with, and learn more about, law enforcement, in order to make more informed judgments and increase awareness of the feelings and concerns of citizens and first responders.

January 31, 2024

- Rebeca Willie
- Music For a Great Space
- Conversation about the role and impact of North Carolina's musical heritage, specifically jazz, and how our legacy and traditions can be best taught and shared through timely performances with icons like Dianne Reeves.

January 31, 2024

- Lisa Fedele
- Small Museum Of Folk Art
- Conversation about the importance of introducing and connecting art fans and supporters from non-traditional demographic sectors to the presence and significance of folk art in all areas of society.

February 5, 2024

- John Dunn
- HealthTeam Advantage
- Conversation about opportunities and choices for individuals in the open enrollment period for Medicare insurance.

February 7, 2024

- Leigh Ann Woodruff
- Kaleideum
- Conversation about the grand opening of the "new" Kaleideum (a collaboration of SciWorks/Kaleideum North and The Children's Museum/Kaleideum Downtown) in downtown Winston-Salem.

February 14, 2024

- Sara Sorraia
- Duke Lemur Center
- Conversation about the importance of conservation and protection of lemurs, currently listed as one of the world's endangered species.

February 14, 2024

- Tonya Handford
- A Legacy Of Hope
- Conversation about the organization's continuing efforts to provide essential resources to women and girls experiencing homelessness and unstable domestic situations in the Triad area.

February 21, 2024

- Tiffany Jones
- RiverRun International Film Festival
- Conversation about "Breaking the News," a documentary about a broadcast media outlet startup, focusing on traditionally underserved voices in society.

February 21, 2024

- Amy Turner
- Poultry Jubilee
- Conversation about the significance, contributions and role(s) of the poultry industry in Eastern North Carolina.

February 27, 2024

- Konrad Walsh
- Forsyth Technical Community College
- Conversation about a grant from the Golden Leaf Foundation and its impact on real-life training for students in the first responder curriculum.

February 28, 2024

- Cindy King
- Abolition NC
- Conversation about human trafficking in the Piedmont Triad, North Carolina and United States as well as a brief dialogue about available resources for local victims of trafficking.

March 6, 2024

- Gene Brown
- Community Housing Solutions
- Conversation about the organization's efforts to make essential repairs, to help keep Guilford County low-income residents in their homes as long as possible and as safely as possible.

March 6, 2024

- Dr. Tina Merhoff
- Merhoff and Associates Pediatric Dentistry
- Conversation about the importance of incorporating National Children's Dental Health Month and National Dentist Day into everyday conversation with children and youngsters, to help establish and maintain healthy dental care.

March 12, 2024

- Jeff Fissell
- Earl Scruggs Music Festival
- Conversation about the festival and the world-class performers that will be performing and sharing bluegrass, country and folk music with fans from near and far, in a venue nestled in the Piedmont area of North Carolina.

March 13, 2024

- Tara O'Brien
- Cancer Services

- Conversation about the available resources and support services to cancer patients, cancer survivors, family members and medical professionals.

March 19, 2024

- Richard Beard
- Greensboro Sports Foundation
- Conversation about the impact of sports tourism in the Piedmont Triad region, in addition to the national recognition the community is receiving for its efforts to attract and retain amateur and professional sporting events.

March 20, 2024

- Christine John-Fuller
- Alzheimer's Association
- Conversation about the recently published data regarding the economic, social and medical impact of Alzheimer's patients and their caregivers in North Carolina and the United States.

March 25, 2024

- Lynn Gullett
- Piedmont Animal Rescue
- Conversation about the ongoing work of Piedmont Animal Rescue and their tireless efforts to rescue, rehabilitate and rehome hundreds of surrenders animals on yearly basis, as well as the need for financial and volunteer support.

March 27, 2024

- India Mack
- North Carolina Black Repertory Company
- Conversation about the NC BRC's production of "Coconut Cake" and the nationwide collaboration among numerous black theatre companies, leading to an unprecedented production involving hundreds of stakeholders, both locally and nationally.