SIX IN THE MORNING – (M-F) 120-minute news program airing 7:00AM to 9:00AM featuring news, information, weather and special reports designed to get our viewers off to a good start. (Produced by KQCW sister station KOTV).

KQCW The News at 9pm – (Mon-Sun) The News on 6 at 9 airs 60 minutes in length from 9:00pm-10:00pm.

II. PROGRAM AND PROGRAM SEGMENT RESPONSES TO PROBLEMS, NEEDS AND ISSUES- KQCW provides its viewers with programming and public service announcements that address issues of concern to our local community. Among the issues determined to be of most concern to the community during the preceding calendar quarter were safety, health and well-being, business development, city services and infrastructure, and children/youth impact.

Specific descriptions of KQCW's issue responsive programming are described on pages 8 through 20 of this document.

CRIME

KQCW CHANNEL 6 NEWS – 4/19 (7AM) (40)

This type of random shooting puts a lot of people on edge. Doctor Stevan Lahr with Family and Children's Services says when we hear more about crime, people become hyper-vigilant. He tells us anxiety is a normal response to fear. Doctor Lahr says exercise, sunshine, quality time with family and friends, deep breathing, and a media detox can help with anxiety. Dr. Stevan Lahr, DO and Medical Director of Family & Children's Services in Tulsa: "If you're telling yourself the sky is falling, the sky is falling, is the sky falling or is it just a feeling that it's falling? Feelings are a lot easier to manipulate than facts are." He says if you start isolating, avoiding places, you're not eating, and not sleeping, it's time to talk to a mental health professional.

KQCW CHANNEL 6 NEWS – 4/20 (7AM) (40)

Tulsa Mayor G-T Bynum is asking the city council to approve the largest budget in the city's history for the next fiscal year. The more than 966-million-dollar plan includes a utility rate increase of nearly six and a half dollars each month for people living in Tulsa. The budget also calls for creating 12 new civilian jobs at the Tulsa Police Department to free up officers from jobs that do not require police training. Mayor GT Bynum / Tulsa stated, "by having that civilian do that work, you can put that officer back out in the field fighting crime rather than being behind a desk handling, for example, special event coordination" The public can give input on the proposed budget during meetings on May 17th and 24th before the city council votes on it.

KQCW CHANNEL 6 NEWS – 5/18 (8AM) (29)

Governor Kevin Stitt vetoed a bill that would have expanded the state's 85-percent crime law. Under current law someone convicted of first-degree murder, rape, child pornography and other violent and sexual crimes needs to serve at least 85-percent of the sentence. Lawmakers added shooting into a home or public PLACE as an "85-percent crime. "They also added PEOPLE convicted of attempting to commit a violent or sexual crime. The governor says those additions went too far AND he sent the bill back to the legislature.

KQCW CHANNEL 6 NEWS – 5/31 (7AM) (1:00)

New this morning, Tulsa Police are investigating a shooting near 31st and Mingo that sent one man to the hospital. News On 6's Jonathan Polasek is LIVE with the details. Jonathan? Tulsa Police tell us that man is in a Tulsa hospital with non-life-threatening injuries after he was shot just before 2 this morning. Police say officers were near 31st and Mingo when they heard shots fired. Shortly after that, someone called 9-1-1 about a shooting in the area. Police say the victim was shot in the leg near a vehicle, which had some bullet holes in it. Neighbors told police after the shooting they heard a vehicle speed off. Police say they are still investigating, but they think the victim also fired back. Police say officers are gathering information about what the suspect's vehicle looked like and any suspect description.

KQCW CHANNEL 6 NEWS – 6/5 (7AM) (40)

Tulsa Police say there is a threat to the public because the suspect is armed and dangerous. Investigators say they want people to know this was not a random shooting, but because he is armed, they want the public to be on high alert. Capt. Richard Muelenberg/Tulsa Police "He clearly had a specific target or group of targets here but he's still armed and dangerous so whether he has other targets whether he will do something irrational if backed into a corner we don't know that right now so all we are asking is to have a heightened sense of awareness as you should." Police tell us they searched a home for the shooter but did not find anyone inside.

KQCW CHANNEL 6 NEWS – 6/19 (7AM) (29)

This summer you may notice more police officers on patrol in Downtown Tulsa. The Tulsa Police Department says it's because of a new initiative to help deter crime and keep the community safe. Capt. Billy White | Tulsa Police Department "Summer is always our busy time. Just in policing in general. Generally, the nicer it is outside, the more people that are out. The more people that are out, the more crime there is, unfortunately." The department says it will soon have a Downtown Corridor Facebook page where businesses can share information between each other and police.

CHILDREN AND YOUTH

KQCW CHANNEL 6 NEWS – 4/14 (7AM) (1:15)

An area coffee company is giving back to Tulsa youth through a one-day fundraiser. News On 6's Alyssa Miller is live with details on who it will benefit. Dutch Bros locations across Oklahoma are donating $1 of every drink sold today to local CASA chapters. CASA stands for "Court Appointed Special Advocates" who are volunteers WHO speak for the best interest of abused and neglected children in foster care as they navigate the court system. Dutch Bros says its focus on helping area youth made the partnership a perfect fit. Currently 16-hundred children are in foster care in Tulsa County and only 250 have a CASA advocate. They say every dollar given today will go a long way in helping train more volunteers. Samuel Craven / Dutch Bros Tulsa "We really focus on our youth in our communities, that's super important to us at Dutch Bros. Obviously CASA, their main goal is to advocate for children who need advocacy from CASA so it just made sense for us to get together with them and hopefully help the youth in our communities." Dutch Bros says it usually sells over 2,000 drinks a day at each of its locations.

KOTV CHANNEL 6 NEWS – 4/20 (8AM) (16)

Hundreds of Tulsa students got to take in some baseball at One-oak field. Coming up after the break, we'll tell you all about the first kids' day of the season and we'll show you how the San Diego Padres stepped up to the plate to help kids who are battling cancer in their community.

KQCW CHANNEL 6 NEWS – 5/8 (7AM) (1:30)

Housing Solutions Tulsa is working to make more resources available to youth or young adults experiencing homelessness. News on 6's Autumn Bracey joins us now live with details on the latest efforts. AUTUMN? The group is wanting local organizations to come up with a project to help reduce homelessness here in the community. Housing Solutions Tulsa is working alongside several area nonprofits including Youth Services of Tulsa for this initiative dedicated to helping take area youth off the streets in Tulsa County. The organization is now ASKING people or organizations to submit proposals on how to build a program to help provide additional support ranging from food, shelter, or other essential services. Youth Services of Tulsa Brian Young says his nonprofit is now working on a plan with young people who have been homeless to help guide their work and resources needed to help solve the issue. They hope TO expand their street outreach hours so youth can drop in at the center and get basic need support. Young SAYS overall this will help them impact youth in an even greater capacity. Brian Young, Youth Services of Tulsa Right now we own 4 apartment buildings and we're looking to expand, and we hope to add a new building soon. So, we're kind of on the lookout for housing options where young people can move in off the streets and into a apartment. Proposals are due on solutions to help end youth homelessness by May 26th.

KQCW CHANNEL 6 NEWS – 5/11 (8AM) (42)

Elementary school students cruised around Tulsa on bikes on Wednesday to cross the finish line with Bike Club. 400 students rode from USA BMX Headquarters to Gathering Place for four miles after a year of developing skills and training. Bike Club is a cycling non-profit serving kids at Tulsa Public Schools - where the students ride once a week after school. The organization hosts 31 after-school clubs as well as programs for 3rd graders all centered around youth cycling. Lance Miller / Program Manager, Bike Club Tulsa: "Some of these students probably ride their bikes at home all the time and some of these students, when they get a bike here next week at the end of our program, might be the first bike they've ever owned." Bike Club will start again in the fall with a new group of students.

Fixins Soul Kitchen is one step closer to the grand opening in the Greenwood District. We gave you a sneak peek of this location first on 6 in the Morning last week... Wednesday night - they held an official ribbon cutting ceremony. GENERAL MANAGER Derek Allen says this location was intentionally chosen to pay tribute to the history and rebuilding of the Greenwood District. THE restaurant is donating a portion of its opening week's profits to Greenwood Rising and the Thunder Fellows Program. Fixins says these partnerships will continue to work hand in hand to serve the community and develop youth to offer them a better future. Derek Allen | Fixins Soul Kitchen "we're always going to be able to have a partner and be able to grow our youth. One way we do it is we keep them out of the streets, keep them working, give them a job skillset. They may not necessarily want to be in the restaurant business, but at least they'll have the opportunity to be able to learn how to work." Fixins Soul Kitchen will be open to the public on June 12th.

KQCW CHANNEL 6 NEWS – 6/16 (8AM) (56)

The U-S Supreme Court upholds the 19-78 Indian Child Welfare Act in a seven-to-two decision. A Texas couple brought the challenge arguing the law discriminates on the basis of race, among other things. The decision allows the lower court ruling to stand- meaning ic-wa is upheld for now. The Cherokee Nation responded to the decision saying quote 'tribes can't continue to exist if their culture and their language isn't transmitted from one generation to the next.' Principal Chief Chuck Hoskin Junior says the decision is a win for tribal nations. Principal Chief Chuck Hoskin Jr., Cherokee Nation "To be a 7 to 2 decision, that's very powerful. And I think we take that as vindication, but we also know in Indian Country we've got to remain vigilant because the next challenge is just around the corner." The National Congress of American Indians released a statement saying in-part "This ruling respects the work that tribal nations have done for millennia to ensure Native kids stay connected to their families, communities and cultures whenever possible."

CIVIC, NEIGHBORHOOD

KQCW CHANNEL 6 NEWS – 4/12 (9PM) (24)

It's not every day you see a former Governor out filling neighborhood potholes... especially movie star former governors. That's Arnold Schwarzenegger along with his staff filling a pothole in his Los Angeles Neighborhood. He said on Twitter the whole neighborhood was upset about the pothole which was damaging cars and bicycles for weeks. He Tweeted "I always say, let's not complain, let's do something about it. Here you go."

KQCW CHANNEL 6 NEWS – 4/17 (7AM) (20)

Broken Arrow Police say one person is dead and two others ARE hurt after a shooting on Sunday. It happened in a neighborhood on 61st and Garnett. They say a man and two women were shot. Police say the man died AND ONE woman is in the hospital. The other woman was treated at the scene and released. POLICE have not released any names or suspect information.

KQCW CHANNEL 6 NEWS – 5/17 (7AM) (35)

A man who was arrested after Tulsa Police say he shot his own roommate... is scheduled to appear in court today. Officers tell us Matthew Villarreal shot his roommate because he was tired of being insulted by him. The shooting happened yesterday afternoon in a neighborhood near 81st and Sheridan. Police say the suspect and victim had been roommates for about a year... and Villarreal says the roommate insulted him all the time... so he grabbed a pistol and shot him several times. Police say the victim is expected to survive.

KOTV CHANNEL 6 NEWS – 5/25 (7AM) (35)

Blue Cross Blue Shield of Oklahoma now has two beehives living at ITS downtown Tulsa headquarters. The two hives have 50-thousand Italian bees that will help pollinate close to 50 million flowers, shrubs and trees in the area. Jason Brown with Blue Cross Blue Shield of Oklahoma says they pollinate within a three-mile radius. He says this is to help the bee population and environment. Brown 1 "Very excited to see our colonies grow, very excited to see what they produce, and more importantly see what they do for the surrounding neighborhood as far as pollination." Each fall they hope to collect 100 jars of honey from the bees.

Tulsa's historic south Boston or "sobo" district is getting new life. News On 6's Autumn Bracey spoke with leaders about what's being going on there. Autumn? SOBO business owners are teaming up to bring new energy to the district to help it grow. Kimberly Honea tells me, for decades Sobo business leaders have worked to make this area a destination. She says it's important to revitalize the area near 18th and Boston and get people excited about bringing it back to life, so they've formed the Sobo Business Owners Association. In the next year, the group expects about 19-thousand people TO visit the district. Improvements being done now include beautifying neighborhoods and launching new logos promoting the area. New businesses are also opening up---the latest, hotel Brut, in the next few months. Kimberly Honea, President of Sobo Business Owners Association "Sobo has a history, I mean Eric Clapton's played here, Bonny Raitt. There is some intense music history here. So it has that gritty vibe to it, but it also is located between 2 historic neighborhoods of Tulsa. So just this entire area is our little corner of the world. the gateway to downtown." SoBo business owners are now working with the city to create a better infrastructure plan in the district. They are hoping all the new additions help bring more traffic to the area. The State Senate is locked in a battle with the Governor over the future of education in Oklahoma. Governor Stitt vetoed more than 20 Senate Bills saying he won't sign anything from lawmakers who won't push his education and tax plans through. The Governor and the House want tax reform, parent choice tax credits and teacher pay raises approved. BUT state senators are backing their agenda -- BY gutting other bills that came into their chamber. President Pro Tempore Greg Treat / (R) Oklahoma City "we're very open to looking at those veto messages, we want to be treated with respect and dignity that our members put a ton of effort into passing those to his desk, they dealt with a ton of constituencies, it was not a flippant move like his veto messages have been" state senators added back in paid maternity leave and a tax credit bill. They also blocked the confirmation of two cabinet members in response to the governor's vetoes.

The Oklahoma Virtual Charter School Board approves what would be the nation's first publicly funded religious charter school. The Board voted 3-2 to let the Catholic Archdiocese of Oklahoma City to establish Saint Isidore of Seville Virtual Catholic Charter School. Governor Kevin Stitt applauded the board for approving the school, saying it's a win for religious liberty and gives parents more options for education. But Attorney General Gentner Drummond says the approval goes against state law and IS not in the best interest of taxpayers -- and could open the state up to lawsuits.

It's "Oklahoma Work Zone Awareness Week," As the Governor calls on everyone to drive safely in and around work zones. News On 6's Alyssa Miller spoke to a family who Lost a loved one to a distracted driver. Alyssa? 72 Oklahoma transportation workers have lost their lives in work zone collisions - ODOT says that's the most of any agency in our state outside the military. One of those killed was Jarrell Gray - a transportation superintendent who was hit by a distracted driver In May 2016 while supervising brush removal along highway 20 in Delaware County. He left behind three sons - twins Nick and Ben and their younger brother Xander. They tell me it's been hard growing up without their dad and not having him there for life's milestones. The family hopes sharing their story will encourage others to use caution in work zones. Ben Gray / Jarrell's Son "I've always, ever since that, made it a priority for me to make sure that even if I'm holding up the line going through a work zone that I'm going the speed limit and everything I can to protect other drivers and more importantly the people that are working." O-DOT says the number one thing drivers need to do in work zones is TO PUT the phone down and pay attention.

It's national work zone safety awareness week and ODOT is reminding drivers to slow down in work zones. The department has a new safety campaign called 'Make it home safe, Make Oklahoma Safe.' O-DOT says spring and summer are busy months, and there are more than 160 work zones planned statewide. Lisa Shearer-Salim, ODOT Spokeswoman: "It's more than just themselves at risk if they make an error in a work zone. Our people are there, that's their office and that's where they're working every day and they have families to go home to. We want everyone to get home safe." O-DOT says drivers should stay off their phones, merge ahead of time, slow down and don't follow too closely. The 'drive Oklahoma' app and 'oktraffic dot org' will give you real time traffic information.

You can expect more delays on the Broken Arrow Expressway near downtown. O-DOT says Both directions narrow to one lane between Lewis and Highway 75 for two weeks starting tomorrow. Crews will resurface the road, add shoulders and a barrier wall. KQCW CHANNEL 6 NEWS – 6/5 (7AM) (23)

Heads up for downtown Tulsa drivers, the I-244 on-ramp at 1st street is closed starting today. Crews there will be rehabilitating the bridge through the rest of the year. And if you're heading down to Norman, GET READY- the next phase of construction at the I-35 and I-240 interchange in Oklahoma City STARTS today. O-Dot says drivers can expect traffic delays throughout the project and it won't be done until 20-25.

KQCW CHANNEL 6 NEWS – 6/8 (9PM) (42)

It's slow going for drivers hitting the B-A Expressway as road construction narrows some lanes even further than before. Both directions are narrowed down to just one lane between Highway 75 and Lewis. The area had been narrowed to two lanes since construction started in January. O-DOT says the work is necessary and will mean the highway won't need any more major maintenance for years. TJ Gerlach/ODOT Gerlach 4 "once we're able to get through this single lane narrowing, then we're going to be able to move everybody onto the new pavement, and they're going to be off of that old, cracked up, rough-patched pavement" O-Dot says this part of the project should take about 30 days, but could be finished earlier. It recommends drivers give 10 extra minutes for their commutes.

Tulsa Police say a homeless man attacked another with a machete in Brookside yesterday afternoon. Police say one of the men exposed himself and another man took offense to that. That man then chased after him with a machete in each hand. The man who police say exposed himself was issued a citation for public indecency, while the man who attacked him was released. Witnesses say they are glad officers got there quickly and were glad other people stepped in to help. Cameron Johnson // Witness "The emergency people did a great job of de-escalating, and the construction guys and private security people came out and held them down." Police say the man who attacked the other with a machete was released because the victim did not want to press charges.

The Oklahoma Senate approves a bill to help homeless people with severe mental illness. Senator Julia Kirt says many people with mental illness often experience homelessness, and House Bill 27-46 would help their families get them the help they need. The bill creates criteria for guardians of those with disabilities to get access to transportation and care. It now heads to the Governor's desk.

KQCW CHANNEL 6 NEWS – 5/8 (8AM) (1:35)

Housing Solutions Tulsa is leading this effort. The group is working to build a partnership with agencies to give more support to youth experiencing homelessness. They are now looking for groups to submit proposals of potential projects so they can give agencies money to help support the cause. Brian Young with Youth Services of Tulsa says his agency is working to increase support for several of their existing programs. One of those is the transitional living program which gives housing, employment, and educational support for youth dealing with homelessness. Last year, Youth Services of Tulsa helped 98 homeless youth exit homelessness by helping provide them with housing, work on educational goals, and get a job. Young tells me youth who are homeless experience big struggles and need someone who understands what THEY ARE going through and can help them come up with a plan to become independent and housed. Brian Young, Youth Services of Tulsa "It is hard for them to ask for help and it's just kind of a stark reminder that these kinds of things can happen to anybody. It's just especially hard for young people in that situation because they don't have the life skills or the resources to kind of climb out of that on their own. So, they just need caring adults to help them through that." To help in their long-term efforts 'Youth Services of Tulsa' is asking the public to give money or donate household goods. Proposals are due on solutions to help end youth homelessness by May 26th.

State Superintendent Ryan Walters is coming to the defense of a conservative group after they were labeled an extremist group by the Southern Poverty Law Center. Mom's For Liberty - which has three chapters in the state including one in Tulsa - was named an anti-government extremist group. They have help lead campaigns to have books they deem inappropriate banned from school libraries. Ryan Walters issued a statement saying in part: "This is yet another example of left-wing extremism and their insidious methods of labeling moms engaged in their kids' education as public enemy number one." The Tulsa Classroom Teachers Association also released a statement turning Walters' words back on him saying "This is yet another example of right-wing extremism and their insidious methods of labeling teachers engaged in their job of educating as public enemy number one."

Good Sunday morning... I'm LeAnne Taylor with this morning's medical minute... Exercising in the afternoon -- could help lower blood sugar for people with type-2 diabetes. A new study tracked more than 2-thousand people and found the greatest improvement in glucose control among those active in the afternoon.

Researchers say more needs to be done to understand why. A study in the American journal of clinical nutrition found eating foods high in flavonols - like apples and blackberries - was associated with lower odds of developing frailty in older adults...Which leads to a greater risk of falls, hospitalization and death. The oral anti-viral pill paxlovid now has full, official approval from the f-d-a to treat covid-19 in adults. The medicine is for mild-to-moderate cases in high-risk patients and has been widely prescribed for more than a year under emergency use authorization. That's your Sunday morning medical minute... have a great day!

Good Sunday morning... I'm Dave Davis with this morning's medical minute... Some news from a study aimed at athletes that could benefit us all. Researchers say eating colorful fruits and vegetables can help your "visual range". Compounds in foods like leafy greens, and yellow and orange produce have been shown to improve how well a person can see a target clearly over distance...Which is crucial in most sports. Light to moderate alcohol consumption may be associated with a lower risk of heart disease. A new study says having one drink per day for women, or one to two for men, can reduce stress signaling in the brain...Which in turn can reduce the possibility of heart attacks or strokes. Still, researchers say drinking has other negative effects...including a higher risk of cancer. The food and drug administration has drafted new guidance on tattoo ink to protect consumers from microorganisms that can cause infections. The f-d-a is offering recommendations to help manufacturers and distributors identify when ink is contaminated with bacteria or mold... and how to prevent it as well. Since 2003 there have been at least 18 recalls due to microorganisms. That's your Sunday morning medical minute... have a great day!

The Tulsa Drillers WERE without their manager Scott Hennessey after he announced he will be taking a medical leave of absence following a cancer diagnosis. Hennessey says he's grateful for the outpouring of support from current and past Drillers. He says he knows even with him stepping away for treatment, the team will be able to carry on. "Not to be arrogant, but the work we've put in the culture's here the culture's going to be the same, whoever they bring in to manage they're dodgers, their all dodgers and we're all capable and we're going to keep this train rolling." Hennessey says he starts treatment later this month which will last for seven weeks. He says he's confident he will beat the disease. Later on in Sports, Jonathan Holcomb will have more on the Drillers game tonight against the Northwest Arkansas Naturals.
