

MAINE PUBLIC TELEVISION

First Quarter 2024 - TV Issues/Programs List

INTRODUCTION

This report is divided into three pertinent areas – Children’s Programs, National Programming, and Independent/Locally Produced Programs.

Maine Public Television Children’s Programs continue to attack the problem of potentially harmful television exposure by providing a substantial schedule of programs which consider the greatest needs of youngsters, and which meet those needs with programs that are truly educational. The programs assist children in realizing their value with respect to their peers. They offer an understanding of humanity, behavior, and tolerance, and present the environment of the world and its surroundings in a context that will help that young person cope with challenges all his or her young life. And these programs provide young pre-school children with the skills and understanding they need to successfully begin their schooling.

National Programming, supplied by the Public Broadcasting Service and other organizations, helps the citizens of Maine to understand the policies and principles of our government, its agencies, and representatives, and assists each viewer in making informed choices on enabling every viewer to listen, to understand, to choose and to act. Other programs give insight to historical, cultural, artistic, philosophical, or religious implications of American life, a perspective not available on other television outlets. This listing of National Programming is not comprehensive but includes a representative selection of programming from this quarter targeted to community issues/problems.

The Locally Produced Programs of Maine Public Television are the results of our continuing assessment of the needs, requirements and wishes of the citizens of the state, and of a cohesive season-long effort to meet those needs in the most-timely and efficient manner possible. The variety of the programming, as well as the award-winning productions, speaks to the general relevance and quality of those efforts. These programs are focused on subjects and topics not covered by other media in the state. The scope and quantity of local programming is one of the highest priorities of the organization, measuring the importance attached to the needs of the citizenry. The subjects of the topical and timely public affairs programs usually cover public policy or controversial issues, and the programs serve to enlighten and educate viewers on the information on both sides of issues.

Maine Public Television’s overall approach to issues and problems is to provide a substantial schedule of programs of a substance, a quality, an indispensability, and relevance unmatched by other broadcast outlets.

CHILDREN'S PROGRAMMING

Molly of Denali

Airs: Weekdays, Saturdays, & Sundays @ 7am.

This series follows the adventures of Molly, a feisty and resourceful Alaska Native girl, as she helps her parents run the Denali Trading Post in their Alaskan village. 30 Minute Program

Work it Out Wombats!

Airs: Weekdays @ 10:30am.

Work It Out Wombats! follows a playful trio of marsupial siblings -- Malik, Zadie, and Zeke -- who live with their grandmother (named Super!) in a fantastic treehouse apartment complex. The Treeborhood is home to a diverse and quirky community of neighbors who just happen to be wombats, snakes, moose, kangaroos, iguanas, fish, tarsiers, and eagles! Each day drops a new challenge into the Wombats' laps, requiring them to find, debug, fix, order (then re-order) -- and create, test, and re-create when things don't go according to plan. But thanks to their creativity and collaborative spirit, their sense of family, and the role they play within the larger Treeborhood community -- as problem-solvers, friends, and neighbors -- the Wombats always win the day. With an educational focus on computational thinking, Work It Out Wombats! introduces preschoolers to a way of thinking that enables them to solve problems, express themselves, and accomplish tasks using the practices, processes, and ideas at the core of computer science, laying important groundwork for success in school and life.

30 Minute Program

Donkey Hodie

30 Minute Program

Elinor Wonders Why

Airs: Weekdays @ 12 Noon.

This animated series for preschoolers aims to encourage children to follow their curiosity, ask questions when they don't understand and find answers using science inquiry skills. The main character Elinor, the most observant and curious bunny rabbit in Animal Town, introduces kids ages 3-5 to science, nature, and community through adventures with her friends Ari, a funny and imaginative bat, and Olive, a perceptive and warm elephant. As kids explore Animal Town, they meet all kinds of interesting, funny, and quirky characters, each with something to teach us about respecting others, the importance of diversity, caring for the environment, and working together to solve problems.

30 Minute Program

Nature Cat

Airs: Weekdays @ 12:30pm.

Nature Cat follows Fred, a house cat who dreams of exploring the great outdoors. In each episode, once his family leaves for the day, Fred transforms into Nature Cat, "backyard explorer extraordinaire." Nature Cat can't wait to get outside for a day of backyard nature excursions and bravery, but there's one problem: He's still a house cat with no instincts for nature. Like many of today's kids, Nature Cat is eager and enthusiastic about outside activities, but is at times intimidated by them. With the help of his animal friends, Nature Cat embarks on action-packed adventures that include exciting missions full of nature investigation, "aha" discovery moments and humor, all while inspiring children to go outside and "play the show."

30 Minute Program

Pinkalicious & Peterrific: Cupid Calls it Quits.

Now, the two-time Emmy Award-winner embarks on her next journey with her new travel series SAMANTHA BROWN'S PLACES TO LOVE. Unlike a traditional travelogue show with a formulaic itinerary, PLACES TO LOVE delivers decidedly refreshing and enriching travel experiences by taking viewers on a discovery of the emotional heart of travel and highlighting the people who are changing, challenging, and strengthening a destination. From Brooklyn, New York and Monterey, California to Shanghai, China and Donegal in Ireland, Samantha seeks out the little-known spots and haunts where innovators and disrupters are creating a brand-new travel experience. Whether it's through food and drink, art and design, culture or adventure, at the end of each episode, viewers will have a well-curated list of new experiences that focus on not just how to visit a destination, but how to fully immerse themselves in it. The 13-part series encourages viewers to experience the passion of people and the soul of a place in a way that only traveling can do. Samantha's career as a television travel host happened by accident. A producer spotted her work in a commercial and recommended her to the Travel Channel in 1999 to audition for a new show called Great Vacation Homes. A decade of various series followed, including Great Hotels, Passport to Europe, Passport to Latin America, Samantha Brown's Asia, The Trip, 50/50, and many others. Samantha's fun-loving style has made her a beloved and engaging television personality whose approach is less expert and more a person you would want to travel with.

This film traces the people and events that shaped her remarkable career, as well as the important role that Catholicism played in her writing. Featuring expert commentary and rare photographs, Uncommon Grace will give you a new appreciation for this highly celebrated, yet often misunderstood, storyteller.

60 Minute Program

Urban Conversion

Airs: Saturdays @ 4pm (starts March 30).

"URBAN CONVERSION follows fiscally conservative businessman and host Rodman Schley as he seeks to learn more about the sustainability movement. It is all in an effort to get on the same page as his wife Gina, who wants their family to lead an eco-friendly, environmentally conscious lifestyle. While Rodman enjoys living with all the modern conveniences of the city, Gina would rather move the family to a simple, low impact life in a rural setting. In the spirit of compromise, Rodman and Gina begin to seek ways to bring the country to the city and begin their own ""Urban Conversion"". Each episode goes beyond the buzzword to find out first-hand what the ""green scene"" is all about. Cultivating an urban farm, understanding backyard beekeeping, and learning about alternative fuels are just a few of the issues Rodman explores. Schley lends his common sense (and often humorous) perspective to the viewer through hands-on learning experiences, interviews with experts, and profiles of eco-leaders who have built their lives around living more sustainably. The series is set in Colorado but takes the Schley family across the nation to cities like Detroit, where urban farming is helping to heal a community, and Washington D.C., where White House chef Sam Kass gives them an educational tour of First Lady Michelle Obama's vegetable garden. "

"TRUTH TELLERS is a film about American courage. For more than 20 years, artist and activist Robert Shetterly has painted a collection of more than 250 portraits entitled ""Americans Who Tell the Truth."" From contemporary activists for racial justice such as Zyahna Bryant and Rev. Lennox Yearwood to climate activists like Bill McKibben and Kelsey Juliana to great civil rights leaders like John Lewis and Fannie Lou Hamer, Shetterly has captured great Americans and etched their inspiring quotes into the backgrounds of each painting. From the fight to remove symbols of hate to sustainability and climate activism, from whistleblowing to the rights of Indigenous people, Shetterly uses his art to explore these activists' responses to some of the most pressing issues of our time. "

60 Minute Program

We Are the Warriors

Aired: Thursday, Feb. 15 @ 9pm. Saturday, Feb. 17 @ 2pm.

As the harmful phenomenon of Native American mascots continues to be challenged nationally, public school systems are addressing their own use of Indigenous team names, icons, and imagery. We Are The Warriors is a documentary following residents of Wells, a small town in Maine, as they take on this polarizing issue after facing public allegations that Warriors football fans mocked Indigenous culture. The school district investigates the incident and forms a Mascot Advisory Committee to hear Wabanaki perspectives and consider the fate of their beloved mascot. We Are The Warriors reveals how difficult conversations about identity and history are key to addressing Native American mascots. The film's Co-Directors, both graduates of Wells High School, gathered interviews and insights from residents of Wells and Wabanaki people from what is now Maine, Quebec, and the Canadian Maritimes. Revelations about the town's brutal colonial history and difficult conversations about the actual impact of the intended honor were key to changing the hearts and minds of committee members. The film highlights evolving opinions of residents with a secondary focus on the history of the region, and after months of informed consideration, the committee votes to recommend retiring the mascot to the school board and the policy is adopted. Winner of the 2023 Maine International Film Festival's Tourmaline Prize for best feature made in Maine.

Whatever Works: Exploring Opiate Addiction

Aired: Thursday, March 14 @ 9pm. Saturday, March 16 @ 2pm.

Whatever Works: Exploring Opiate Addiction was filmed in Washington County in Winter of 2016, by University of Maine at Machias Student Directors: Marc Brine, Natalie Cline, Jose Gurrola, Brennon Chipman, Carolin Moreta, Maximiliaan Peeters, Ciara Schoppee, Lorenzo Segura, and Media Professor Alan Kryszak, in a personalized look of an epidemic affecting every neighborhood in America. Through the eyes of Clinical & Faith-Based Therapists, an ER Doctor, Emergency Medical Responder, District Attorney, Lobster Fisherman, Vietnam Veteran, Chief of Police, Addiction Survivors and an incarcerated heroin dealer, the documentary explores beginnings, consequences, and solutions for the national epidemic of opiate addiction. The YouTube link generated over 7,000 views in two months. Professional contributions include Dr. Cathleen London (Milbridge Treatment Provider); Paul Trovarello (ARISE Addiction Recovery), Anne Leaver (UMM); Emergency Responder Lois Libby, Dr. Michael Bell (Downeast Community Hospital); Chief Pete Bickmore and District Attorney Matthew Foster (Ellsworth/Project Hope). Individuals from Washington County tell their direct, unfiltered stories of their own struggle, their loved ones' struggles and those who did not live to tell their story. Survivors include Amanda Smith, Brian Frutchey, David Cole, David Nielsen, Justin (Of his Parents? Addiction) & ARISE program clients: Tristen, Erik, Kevin, and Cameron. Four 8th Grade students from Elm Street Elementary School in East Machias also chat about what they know now and what they can expect, as they promise to watch out for each other and meet up with us in five years for an update. Since opiate addiction often begins in the 13-to-18-year age range, the film includes participants from that age group, since the goal is to freely distribute the film to all schools interested in hearing these stories, to prevent the start of a life of addiction.
