BULLY PREVENTION	COMMUNITY CONNECTION SHOW 1 JAN '14 - BULLYING	We have heard the term "bullying" so much today, and the issue seems worse than ever. We do know that bullying means a form of aggressive behavior that is intentional, hurtful, threatening, and persistent. It's in the classroom. It's in the workplace. It's in the locker room. It's in cyberspace. Bullying seems to be everywhere. Some statistics: every 7 minutes a child is bullied. This year, some 13 million American children will be bullied. I'm not including adult bullying in these statistics. Bonny Forrest, Psychologist and Attorney, is here to hopefully help make some sense of this. Bonny is also a published author, dynamic speaker, and a thoughtful blogger. Bonny is working on her first major book: Is That Normal?: A guide to understanding your child's behavior. More on that later ... Where and when does this type of bullying take place? www.bullyfree.com Why is this kept a secret by the person who is bullied? Are there different types of victims? What are the warning signs? And now, cyber bullying ... it's on the rise. www.huffingtonpost.com (Cyberbullying apps) Anonymous - easy to be cruel? Social combat is on the rise. Local example from 2012: Katie Uffens/Westview High School, Torrey Highlands. She was 16 at the time, the KKK (Kill Katie Klub) taunted her and she had to leave the school. Comments on Facebook, twitter, and threatening phone calls. Even after she left this continued. Two bullies were arrested. www.abcnews.com/US/taunted-san-diego-teen-dropped-alleged-bullying-continued/print	BONNY FORREST	01/04/2014 10:29 PM	029:51

CHILDHOOD VACCINATIONS	COMMUNITY CONNECTION SHOW 4 JAN '14 - CHILD VACCINATIONS	Vaccinations have saved the lives of millions worldwide, and have prevented diseases such as polio, tetanus, measles, mumps, and many other diseases. However, controversy has grown over the years about vaccinations, which has led to what were once unthinkable actions a few short years ago - parents deciding to prohibit their children from accepting the required vaccines. We'll discuss that and much more on how to keep your children healthy, with Dr. Mark Sawyer. Why do kids need immunizations? Are they safe? What immunizations do young children need as they go back to school? Top 5 fears: www.kansascity.com (from www.thebump.com) Side effects, Autism panic, too many shots, "stuff" in the shots, are vaccines useless? January is Cervical Health Awareness Month! HPV Vaccines prevent cervical cancer. Also discussed: some school districts are "hot spots" for lack of immunizations. These are areas (no specific places mentioned) which doctors are concerned about. Information is available online. 		into charities. The BBB mission, to sum it up in a few words, is to advance trust in the marketplace. How do you do that? How does a consumer file a complaint? The BBB reviews charities, programs/services, and issues BBB Accreditation. Current consumer issues ... data breaches are not changing people's habits. For example, the breach of the data from Target. An AP poll says nearly half of Americans say they are concerned; however, only 41% say they have checked their credit reports, changed passwords, or asked for replacement credit or debit cards. EDUCATION/SAN DIEGO SCHOOLS	COMMUNITY CONNECTION SHOW 4 FEB '14 - TEACH FOR AMERICA	Teach For America, a non-profit organization which trains teachers to teach in high-poverty schools, has been around for well over 20 years but has just appeared in the City of San Diego Unified School System in the past year. In those 20 plus years, Teach For America has generated a lot of research on how to improve teacher training, and has its share of successes and controversies. What was the inspiration of Teach For America? Can it be described as the "Peace Corps" for teachers? Your mission: recruiting, developing teachers, 2-year commitment. Let's talk about how you recruit, and what the training is like. You have run up against some opposition in some education communities. Teachers Unions say jobs are taken from veteran teachers, but you say that is not the case. Teach For America was considered here for years, but it took a number of years to be accepted. How does a Teach For America teacher get into a San Diego school? During the 2013-2014 school year, more than 11,000 Teach For America members are working in 35 states and D.C. 750,000 impacted nationwide by Teach For America teachers. Disparity in academic achievement is along racial lines in San Diego: 53% of middle to high income 8th grade math students scored 20% above the national average on math proficiency exams. In contrast, only 16% of their low income peers in San Diego scored above the national average.	DAVID LOPEZ	02/22/2014 10:32 PM	029:51

Here's Jo Hannah and Susanah Hoehn who will be taking part in this amazing event. WAYS TO WORK	COMMUNITY CONNECTION SHOW 3 MAR '14 - WAYS TO WORK	Public Transportation is adequate in San Diego; however, there are many areas of the city that you've just got to have a car to reach. Even if you can reach your destination by bus or trolley, it might take hours. There are times a vehicle is absolutely necessary. But if you don't have a vehicle due to low income issues, you have a real problem. How do you get to work, outside of riding a bike? This is where a national program called, "Ways To Work," now available in San Diego, may be able to help. "Ways To Work" offers working, but income-challenged San Diegans, affordable loans with no down payment to buy a car. My guests on Community Connection coordinate the "Ways To Work" program here. Veronica Villarreal is with the Community Resource Center in North County, and Ellen Broudy is from the Jewish Family Services. Jodi Cilley, the CEO of the Consortium and local award winning William Wall were the guests. The Film Consortium, San Diego has been mobilizing the local Film community since 2012. The Film Consortium is launching a Production/Film Database.
