48 HOURS: "The Widow on Solway Road" - an investigation into the murder case against Raynella Leath for the death of her second husband, David Leath, who was found shot dead in his marital bed, the trial, and the mysterious death of the widow's first husband, Ed Dossett, originally classified as an agricultural accident. Raynella and Ed Dossett were a power couple in Knoxville, Tennessee, where Dossett was the Knox County District Attorney General. Tragedy befell them, when Ed was diagnosed with terminal cancer; he then died in a freak accident on the family farm. Six months later, Raynella married David Leath, the local barber. After Leath's death, the wheels of justice moved slowly, and Leath's daughter, Cindy Wilkerson, filed a civil suit against Raynella. Prosecutors took notice and interest was revived in Dossett's death. One theory was that Dossett's unusual death was more about insurance money than cancer. His medical records were reviewed and the cause of death was ruled to be a morphine overdose. In 2009, Raynella went on trial for David Leath's death but the jury deadlocked. In the second trial, she was convicted of first degree murder and sentenced to life in prison. After six years, the conviction was tossed out, because the judge was revealed to have been impaired by drug addiction. In 2017, fourteen years after Leath's death, a third trial begins, but before the jury has a chance to deliberate, Judge Paul Summers (soon to be retiring), grants an acquittal (not guilty), dismissing the case; saying that prosecution had not met its case. Under Tennessee law, there is no appeal. Prosecutors are stunned. Jurors believe that, had they deliberated, they would have convicted her. Information also came to light about her trying to murder another man, Steve Walker, who had found out that his wife had given birth to Ed Dossett's biological child. Raynella Leath is a free woman. On-screen text graphic for the original broadcast and the 07/14/18 rebroadcast: Prosecutors intend to file a petition to exhume the body of Raynella's first husband, Ed Dossett, to gather more evidence. They will decide whether to review charges against her for his death. Raynella has moved back to the farm outside Knoxville on Solway Road. Interviewed: Diane Fanning (author); Cindy Wilderson (Leath's daughter); Beth Roberts (Leath's cousin); Steve Crump (prosecutor); Rebecca LeGrand and Josh Hedrick (defense attorneys); Dr. Greg Davis (Kentucky state medical examiner/defense consulting doctor); Steve Walker (intended victim); Paul Summers (trial judge, now retired); Michael Persicano, Jesse Caps, William McMichael (jurors) (C: Erin Moriarty – P: Josh Gaynor, Lisa Freed) (OAD: 09/30/17).

07/28/18

48 HOURS: "Death and the Dentist" (9:00 – 10:00p) – an updated rebroadcast of "Death and the Dentist" (OAD: 09/17/16), which includes an exclusive interview with Kingston, New York dentist Gilberto Nunez, who faces second-degree murder charges for the death of his lover's husband, Thomas Kolman, the case against him, and the secrets exposed during the homicide investigation. In 2011, Thomas Kolman was found dead by his wife, Linda, in his car outside of a gym he frequented. At first, no foul play was suspected; Kolman suffered from sleep apnea and was slightly obese. However, the medical examiner found an unusual drug in Tom's system -- midazolam -- a sedative sometimes used by those in the dental profession, and the death was ruled a homicide. Further investigation revealed that his best friend, Dr. Gilberto Nunez, was having an affair with his wife, Linda Kolman. Nunez told police Kolman knew about it and was fine with it. There were hundreds of text messages between all the parties, including some where Nunez impersonated other people. Even the name of the CIA was dragged into the case through a fake ID. It took four years for prosecutors to charge Nunez with second-degree murder and forgery. Nunez hired two top New York City defense attorneys who presented a very different scenario, saying Tom Kolman died of natural causes, insisting this was a murder case without a murder. The verdict: Nunez was acquitted of the murder charges and found guilty on the forgery charges. The Kolman family was unhappy with the verdict. Some former jurors were interviewed and were adamant that there were too many unanswered questions to prove the murder charges. Update for the 04/08/17 rebroadcast: In 2017, Nunez was sentenced for the forgery, insurance fraud and perjury convictions. He will spend the next two to seven years in prison. The Kolman family finds some comfort in knowing that he is behind bars. Original on-screen text graphic: Gilberto Nunez is expected to be sentenced on his forgery related charges later this year. On-screen text graphic for the 04/08/17 rebroadcast: As part of Gilberto Nunez's sentence, he was ordered to have no communication with Linda Kolman. A New York State review board is deciding if Nunez's dental license will be revoked. On-screen text graphic for the 07/28/18 rebroadcast: As part of Gilberto Nunez's sentence, he was ordered to have no communication with Linda Kolman. In May 2018, Gilberto Nunez was granted parole. His earliest release date is September 10, 2018. The New York State review board revoked Nunez's license to practice dentistry. 48 HOURS: "The Evidence Room" (9:00-11:00p) – An exploration of the sometimes emotional and occasionally frustrating preparations that go on behind closed doors before a jury ever walks into a courtroom as detailed in two cases prepared by The Evidence Room, a company run by CBS News Consultant Scott Roder. The Evidence Room prepares visual representations, made by cutting-edge forensic animators for either the defense or the prosecution and they may play a significant part in the trial or they may not, depending on the legal strategies the teams choose to take. As detailed in two cases, Roder and his team prepare analysis as detailed: 1) the murder cases against Colleen McKernan, charged with shooting her husband, Robert McKernan ten times on New Year's Eve in 2014. Her attorneys claimed it was self-defense and hired Roder to create visual representations of her story. The Evidence Room staff re-created the crime scene to prove the defense theory. As the case went to trial and testimony progressed, the prosecution had the re-creation excluded from the trial. The defense focused on battered woman syndrome and Colleen took the stand to testify. The verdict: a mistrial. At the second trial, with a new defense team, Roder presented some of the animation to the jury, but the result was the same – a mistrial. On March 17, 2017, a resolution was reached in the case: in a plea offer, McKernan pleaded guilty to one count of voluntary manslaughter. 2) in a civil suit, The Cochran Firm client Emmanuel Bracy was left partially incapacitated and in a wheelchair, after being shot by Los Angeles Police detectives. Bracy was the suspect in a string of robberies and police used Vehicle Containment Technology to capture him. Three of the four detectives claimed he had a gun, and a shootout resulted. Bracy was severely injured. Bracy pled guilty to the crime, but that did not stop him from seeking justice. After the shootout, Bracy and the car suffered heavy damage, but there was no gun in plain sight, although one was found wrapped in a cloth, hidden inside an air conditioning vent in the dashboard. The Evidence Room was hired to prove that the gun that was found was not used by Bracy. They re-created the entire scene with cars, guns and ammunition. In the end, after all the time and effort, the jury never saw the presentation. The state's forensic expert was not able to testify, and Roder, as a rebuttal expert on the case was not able to either. After nine days of testimony, the jury returned a judgement in favor of the LAPD. On-screen text graphic: Colleen McKernan is currently serving her sentence at the Ohio Reformatory for Women. She could be released as early as September 2020, by a judge's decision based on her behavior in prison. Interviewed. 48 HOURS: "Death on the Hudson" (9:00 – 10:00p) – a revised and updated rebroadcast on the case against Angelika Graswald, who has been charged with killing her fiancé Vincent Viafore, during a kayaking trip on the Hudson River in April 2015. New information and evidence may prove there was no murder. Ten days after Viafore's death, Graswald was questioned by police for approximately 11 hours, then arrested for murder in the second degree. Investigators maintain Graswald killed Viafore for financial gain after their relationship soured. Her defense team argues his death was a boating accident. The case is examined through interviews with legal experts, friends of the couple and an examination of key evidence in the case. 07/29/17 Epilogue: After years of proclaiming her innocence, Graswald pleaded guilty to criminally negligent homicide. The Orange County District Attorney explained the decision to downgrade the charges, saying it would be difficult to prove intent, even though she did admit to pulling the plug from the kayak. Pulling the plug would only cause death when combined with a number of other factors. This plea spares her a possible twenty-five years to life prison term; with time served, she could be on parole by the end of the year. Epilogue for the 08/18/18 revised and updated rebroadcast: On December 21, 2017, Angelika Graswald was released on parole. She had served less than 32 months behind bars. Her future is uncertain; when her parole is completed, she could be deported back to Latvia. Original On-screen text graphic: Angelika has been in jail for more than four months. Her trial is expected in Spring 2016. Angelika's family says they are giving their life savings to help pay for her defense. On-screen text graphic for the 07/29/17 updated rebroadcast: Angelika Graswald is scheduled to be sentenced November 1, 2017. On-screen text graphic for the 08/18/18 revised and updated rebroadcast: Despite her conviction, Angelika Graswald had not forfeited her right to claim to Vincent Viafore's life insurance. His policies reportedly totaled around five hundred thousand dollars. But earlier this week, Graswald and the Viafore's family agreed to a confidential settlement over the life insurance proceeds. Interviewed: Amanda Hoysradt (Viafore's former roommate); Sheri Parte (friend of Graswald's); Monte Nesheiwat (Sheri Parte's boyfriend); Michael Colin (Graswald's former boyfriend); Buddy Behney (kayaker); Jeff Schaack (Cornwell Yacht Club Commodore); Michael Archer (defense expert); Jeff Chartier (defense attorney); Richard Portale (lead defense attorney); Jim Tranium (former detective/interrogation expert) (C: Peter Van Sant – P: Patti Aronofsky, Lourdes Aguiar, Elena DiFiore) (OAD: 09/12/15; 1st Rebroadcast: 07/29/17).

48 HOURS: "Sins of the Father" (9:00 – 10:00p) – a followup to 48 HOURS: "The Last Confession" (OAD: 03/01/14; 1st rebroadcast: 07/26/14; 2nd Updated Rebroadcast: 04/16/16), which was a report on the investigation into the 1960 murder of Irena Garza, in McAllen, Texas, and the efforts that family members and police have taken to bring the suspect, a Roman Catholic priest, to trial for the crime. Nearly 60 years after Irene Garza disappeared after going to confession on Easter weekend, the priest accused of murdering her goes on trial. In 1960, Irene Garza told her family she was going to church for confession but never returned home. Five days later, her body was found in a drainage canal. Police say she was beaten, sexually assaulted and suffocated. The investigation kept leading to Father Feit, who admitted hearing her last confession in the church rectory. Information about another attack, also led to Father Feit. He pled no contest to aggravated assault and was fined, but the Irene Garza case went cold. Rumors swirled that there was a conspiracy between the church and the authorities. Feit was re-assigned. In 2002, the McAllen Police Department asked the Texas Rangers' cold case unit to re-examine the evidence. The investigation took a dramatic turn when a former monk, Dale Tacheny, told police that Feit admitted to killing a young woman while Tacheny was a counselor at a monastery. Despite the new finding, Hidalgo County District Attorney Rene Guerra did not believe the case was strong enough to take to court. In 2016, the new District Attorney said he had new facts and evidence and that a jury would get past the threshold of reasonable doubt in this case. John Feit was arrested, and flown back to Texas to stand trial. In December 2017, at trial, the latest details, including evidence and testimony from witnesses that the prosecution said was evidence of the long-suspected cover-up between authorities and the church lead to a guilty verdict in this case. Original on-screen text graphic: Former DA Rene Guerra says he has no regrets about how he handled the Irene Garza case. He plans to make another run for the DA's office this year. 48 HOURS: "Mystery at Eagle Creek" (9:00 – 10:00p) – a rebroadcast of an updated report on the 2009 death of Rhonda Casto, who went hiking in Oregon's Columbia River Gorge with her boyfriend, Stephen Nichols, only to never return home, as detailed in 48 Hours: "Trail of Tears" (OAD: 03/05/16). In a new interview, Stephen Nichols, addresses what may or may not have happened that fateful day, giving bizarre answers and elusive clues. Before Casto headed out on her hike, she joked to a friend that Nichols was either - "going to propose or kill me". Somewhere along the trail, she slipped or fell 150 feet to her death. An autopsy seemed to support Nichols' version of events, but authorities declined to declare the death an accident, and Nichols was never charged. Investigation revealed several tawdry elements, including insurance policies, a potential love triangle involving Rhonda's younger sister and theft of Social Security payments by Rhonda's mother, Julia Simmons. Nichols moved to China, and began a new life with his daughter. In 2014, a secret grand jury heard evidence and indicted Nichols for murder. He was arrested during a trip home and pleaded not guilty. In 2016, while awaiting trial, Nichols pleaded guilty to two counts of sexual abuse of Rhonda's younger sister, Melanie Casto. In 2017, the prosecution decided to agree to a plea deal of criminally negligent homicide and coercion. Nichols received credit for time served and will remain on parole for three years. He says the reason he took the deal was time was running out for him to regain custody of his daughter. Original on-screen text graphic: About half of Rhonda's million dollar life insurance policy is being held in a court-controlled account for her daughter. The rest of the money has gone to attorneys' fees and Julia Simmons. Stephen Nichols still awaits a decision regarding custody of his daughter, now nine years old. On-screen text graphic for the 09/08/18 rebroadcast: Since this broadcast last aired, Stephen Nichols publicly admitted to having sex with Rhonda's younger sister, Melanie. An Oregon court terminated Nichols' parental rights. He is appealing that decision. 48 HOURS: "Death by Text" – an updated rebroadcast about the death of Conrad Roy III, and the groundbreaking case against Michelle Carter, who prosecutors say influenced Roy, via text messages, to kill himself. On July 12, 2014, Conrad Roy died of carbon monoxide poisoning after sitting in his truck with a gas-powered water pump running in the backseat. Prosecutors say Roy was driven to kill himself through hundreds of incessant messages from Carter, who was more than 30 minutes away at the time he died. Carter was later charged with involuntary manslaughter. Her defense team maintains Roy decided to kill himself on his own. As seen through his own videos, Conrad Roy talked about his own struggles with social anxiety, depression and thoughts of suicide. His mother Lynn Roy, also talks about the death of her son and the pain she lives with. Though they lived an hour apart in Massachusetts, the couple communicated almost exclusively via texts, online and by phone. The prosecution maintained Carter could have done something to stop Roy. The heart of the case is the question of whether Carter's texts and messages pushed Roy to take his life, or would he have done it anyway. Prosecutors argued that Carter played on Roy's mental health and her actions were reckless; she knew what she was doing and just wanted attention. The defense maintains Carter had her own psychological problems and that she was also involuntarily intoxicated by the antidepressant drug Celexa: she was enmeshed in the delusion that it was a good thing to help him die. The prosecution hoped the judge paid attention to the text Carter sent to her friend a week after his death, in which she admitted she could possibly go to jail. After three days of deliberation, the judge rendered his verdict, completely rejecting Carter's defense and finding her guilty. At sentencing Michelle Carter could receive twenty years behind bars. The Roy family knows that words have power, and that they can forever change lives. UPDATE for the 08/05/17 updated rebroadcast: Nearly seven weeks after being convicted, Michelle Carter, arrives for sentencing. The prosecution asked that Carter serve 7-12 years in prison. Her attorney requests probation. Judge Lawrence Moniz sentences Michelle Carter to fifteen months behind bars – a sentence that does not please the defense, who will appeal the conviction. Her attorneys request to stay the jail sentence. The judge grants the stay, meaning Michelle will be out on probation until the appeal makes its way through the Massachusetts court system. Neither Michelle nor her family, have reached out to the Roy family. On-screen text graphic for the 08/05/17 updated rebroadcast: Lynn Roy has filed a 4.2 million wrongful death suit against Michelle Carter. The goal is to establish a memorial for Conrad. On-screen text graphic for the 09/22/18 rebroadcast: Lynn Roy has filed a 4.2-million-dollar wrongful death suit against Michelle Carter. 48 HOURS: "Murder on the Dark Web" (9:00 – 10:00p) and "Click For A Killer" (10:00 – 11:00p) - a two-part report on the alarming world of murder-for-hire on the mysterious "dark web". The two-hour season premiere exposes an international criminal organization in a hunt for a self-described murder mastermind simply named Yura. The six-month investigation, which covered 30,000 miles, uncovered solid information that led law enforcement to arrest people in four separate cases, who were allegedly willing to pay to have someone killed. Includes: (1) "Murder on the Dark Web" - 48 HOURS learned first learned of Yura, the unknown person behind an alleged hit-man-for-hire organization, while investigating the shooting death of Amy Allwine in Minnesota. Police learned of a plot to murder Amy Allwine in 2016. The FBI investigated, but nothing was discovered. From that point on, Amy lived with the knowledge that someone wanted her dead. Another threat asked her to commit suicide. Soon after, Amy was shot dead. Police did not believe it was suicide and immediately suspected her husband Stephen Allwine. Investigation led to the conclusion that Stephen was unhappy in his marriage and divorce was not an option in his life. Stephen had hired Yura, but things did not work out and he finally took matters into his own hands – Stephen drugged and shot her to death himself. After an eight day trial, the jury convicted him of first-degree murder. He was sentenced to life in prison without the possibility of parole. (2) "Click For A Killer" – Anchor Peter Van Sant and the 48 HOURS team investigate deep into the "dark web", discovering information which lead to arrests in four murder plots. They found that anyone with money, a computer and the right software can find websites advertising hitmen for hire with as much ease as online shopping. With the help of Chris Monteiro, a white-hat computer hacker, and writer Eileen Ormsby, they continue their search for Yura. At one point, Yura agrees to meet with Van Sant in London, but he backs out at the last minute. Then Yura begins to share the names of potential hit targets, turning on the customers who have paid him thousands of dollars in bitcoins. 48 HOURS shared the information with law enforcement. One of the targets identified by Yura was Sydney Minor, a 22-year-old single mother in Tennessee. Told of the plot, she realized her married boyfriend, Brandon States, had ordered the hit, because she refused to have an abortion. Another target includes Tina Jones, a woman allegedly involved in a wild love triangle, accused of trying to pay thousands in bitcoin to have her lover's wife murdered. The team also notified authorities in India, Iran, Taiwan and Singapore about plots. Lastly, they contacted the authorities about the case of a woman named Laurie, in San Luis Obispo, California, who was the subject of a murder-for-hire plot meant to look like an accident. Ultimately, clues led to her step-son Beau Brigham, who was identified as the suspect. In yet another twist, Monteiro and Ormsby raise questions about whether Yura is running a real murder-for-hire site or just swindling people out of money. Authorities aren't sure either. On-screen text graphic: Yura is still generating new customers. One inquiry, just last week, was trying to secure a hit man in New York City. Interviewed: Chris Monteiro (computer hacker); Eileen Ormsby (writer/ CBS News consultant); 1) Terry Raymond (Cottage Grove Detective); Gwen Martin (Cottage Grove Sergeant); Randy McAlister (Cottage Grove Police Captain); Jamie Kreuser (Washington County (MN), Prosecutor); Jane Sharpe (Amy Allwine's friend); Kevin Devore (defense attorney for Allwine); 2) Sydney Minor (target); Justin Kmitch (journalist); Wong Pei Ting (journalist); Dan Dow (District Attorney, San Luis Obispo County); John Bledsoe, Suzie Welsh, Antony Peluso (San Luis Obispo law enforcement officers); John Lehr (Central Coast Cyber Forensics Laboratory); Beau Brigham (stepson of potential victim); Alexis Brigham (mother of Beau).
