City	Morning Show Interview	13-Sep	8:15 AM	15 MINUTES	The City Council of Monmouth held their monthly meeting earlier this week and one item discussed was sending out notices to residents who had grass taller than 12 inches. Ken Helms, Director of Information Technology, states those residents have seven days to cut their grass before the city will take action. Notices were also sent out for having mowed grass blown out into the street, which is banned in the city of Monmouth. Helms discusses more on the matter: The clippings also pose as a safety hazard for motorcyclists and bicyclists, as it can cause them to lose traction. The council discussed to amend Section 78, which entitles the impound of motor vehicles used in certain offenses This amendment is intended to have the city's local ordinance of vehicle impound coincide with the Illinois vehicle and criminal code

Agriculture	Morning Show Interview	16-Sep	8:15 AM	20 minutes	Agronomist at Munson Hybrids, Craig Allaman, recently tested a pair of fields west of Monmouth. Around here the average bushels per acre are generally between 160 to 180 bushels. Allaman reports more on his findings out in the field: "We had really good soil conditions. It was warm. We didn't have pounding rains. Everything came up. So the ear count should be a little higher. The rows were around 16.7 would be the average, that's a decent row count. Of course it can vary with hybrids. That's about a foot tall corn, that V4 to V6 stage is what we determine it was around. We had really nice growing conditions, so that does coincide really well. Allaman goes on to report the kernels have a decent depth and weight, but could be better, which is due to the weather conditions our area had over the
Education	Morning Show Interview	23-Sep	8:15 AM	20 minutes	The United School Board had their monthly meeting last Friday, which happened to be midterm for the first quarter of the school year. The board approved the spending plan for the year, which is just under 12 million, and with the Evidence Based Funding Model the district will be receiving state aid for the first time in a while, which helps make a difference as to how their budget goes. Superintendent Jeff Whitsitt reports "The rest of our meeting was pretty much discussing our 10 year life safety survey that has been submitted to the state. We are still waiting for a response from them as far as what's approved for life safety spending and what's not. We looked at that list of projects in a couple of different ways. We looked at it over a timeline, over a cash flow timeline. We have some decisions to make, we have a lot work that needs to be done. We could spend up to 3.8 million dollars over the course of this school year if we really work at it and get some things accomplished going into the 2019-2020 school year Whitsitt also shares the security camera systems are
Health	Morning Show Interview	25-Sep	8:15 AM	15 MINUTES	The Western Illinois Area on Aging and OSF Healthcare Holy Family are teaming up to bring 'A Matter of Balance' to our area. Diabetes Educator, Tina Canada, shares what the program will entail: "The program is for people primarily over 60 years old, who are

				interested in improving their balance, flexibility, and strength. Or someone who has fallen in the past or is concerned that they might fall. Or anyone that is restricting their activities because of a fear of falling. So the program is really to help people to view falling as controllable, to set goals for increasing their activities, to make changes in their home that will reduce fall risks. One of the things we are going to do as homework is everybody is going to take home a little assessment to look for fall hazards in their home. Then we are going to begin doing some exercises to increase strength and flexibility," Canada reports. The program will begin on Thursday September 27th in the Wellness Classroom at OSF Healthcare Holy Family from 10 am until noon. There will be eight sessions in total, which will be held
