The listing is by no means exhaustive. The order in which the issues appear does not reflect any priority or significance.

Description of Issue	Program/Segment/Source	Date	Time	Duration	Narration of Type and Description of Program/Segment
Community: Personal Involvement/ Economic/Business	Public Report #1	12/10/01	10:30AM	30:00	Host Patrick Lannoye, talks about the Dodge County Volunteers in Action with executive director Ruth Lindegarde. Ruth said that the Volunteers in Action is a faith based action group that helps the elderly and disabled people to live in their homes longer. They have volunteers that provide meals, respite, home visits, yardwork, shoveling snow, etc. They do not provide any personal care. In one year's time the organization has grown to about 200 volunteers and provides 1000-5000 hours of service. They serve the following communities: Mayville, Watertown, Horicon, and Beaver Dam.
Education/Schools	Public Report #2	12/12/01	10:30AM	30:00	Host Patrick Lannoye, talks to Dodge County School District Superintendent, Dr. Howard Moon about the new school being built in Juneau and the positive ways that it will help the children and the community. The school will house all grades K-12 in one building. It is a 17 million-dollar project that is one month ahead of schedule for operation. The school will have a statewide library system and an agricultural room with a green house. Functions in the school will be digital throughout. Computers will run everything. The community will be able to use their technology after hours and they will hold adult educational programs. They also will give passes to senior citizens for sporting events. The school also will house special needs students, which are 20% of the student population.

Youth	Public Report #3	12/19/01	10:30AM	30:00	Host Patrick Lannoye talks to Renee Soroko about the Family Partnership Initiative. The program started 5 years ago. They work with families and the Lutheran Social Services partnering with 13 counties. They share cases with the county that include families and children with problems. They provide in-home therapists, parent aides, mentors ect. They use incentives to help the youth find out what their strengths are, and build on that. It is a 12 month program, but in order for it to work the families and the child have to want the help from the organization.
Local Government	Public Report #4	12/26/01	10:30AM	30:00	Host Patrick Lannoye talked to Dodge County Sheriff Steven Fitzgerald about the new jail that has been up and running since February 2001. It is a 358 bed facility. The jail is filled with 260 prisoners. The jail houses 75 inmates from the state prison system and the other spaces are filled from other counties that rent it, due to the lack of space in their own facility. The cost of the new jail was 36 million dollars. It costs $23,000-24,000 per inmate to keep them in the system. The jail created 21 new jobs. They are stable jobs with good benefits. Mr. Fitzgerald believes that if more money is spent on educating our children, with the cost of about $7,000 per child, it may help keep them out of the prison system.
