Description of Issue	Program/Segment/Source	Date	Time	Duration	Narration of Type and Description of Program/Segment
State/Local Government	PR 04-046	07/03/04	12:00 PM	29:15	The recently elected mayor of Beaver Dam, Jack Hanks, and Host Jackie Kahlhamer talk about the current issues in that city. One of these is a "culture change". That being that he wants city employees to see the citizens of Beaver Dam as customers rather than as taxpayers. That affects many things, such as the hours they city offices are open, the times meetings are scheduled, how people are treated and other aspects. State budget cuts were brought up. He wants to determine how cost-effective the services they provide are. These will take up to 2 years to know the results. Mayor Hanks always makes sure he returns calls from his "customers". He wants to sincerely serve the citizens of Beaver Dam the best he can.

Family Issues	PR 04-054	07/10/04	11:00 AM	29:15	Host Jerry Sherstad welcomes Pastor Scott Roen of Harvest Evangelical Free Church in Beaver Dam. Pastor Roen believes that post-modernism has caused a blur in truth. People do whatever they want to do. This has tremendous implications for families. Children without boundaries grow up insecure. They become confused about what a family is, and what marriage is. They need to grow up to be equipped to engage the world. He feels the issue of same sex marriage is hitting at the heart of families. The desire of that is to redefine families. This will harm and mar the soul of the nation. Pornography is also an issue that is affecting families. Pastor Roen believes people need a relationship with God to be free of these things.

State/Local Government	PR 04-053	07/10/04	12:00 PM	29:15	The Mayor of Mayville, Ron Sternat and Host Jerry Sherstad talk about the effects of budget constraints on the community. When the state cut shared revenue support to the city, they had to come up with ways to reduce budgets in departments. They were able to do this with no tax increases on the city portion. No services were cut, nor were buildings closed or employees laid-off. This year's budget will be more difficult. The city had more housing starts, which will be helpful. Some departments may be able to consolidate services. Communities may need to come together for cost-sharing of large equipment.

Family Issues	PR 04-052	07/12/04	10:30 AM	29:15	Bob Marsh, the Pastor of Gateway Community Church in Mayville, and Host Jerry Sherstad relate on issues surrounding today's families. Pastor Marsh feels that the lose of a moral compass has greatly affected families. This is the root that leads other societal ill issues. These affect the ability for families to be in order. Pastor Marsh states that people need a relationship with God and that church is likened to a family reunion. Parents then know they can raise their children with a moral compass point and generations to come are left a godly heritage.

(Un)employment	PR 04-051	07/19/04	10:30 AM	29:15	Senator Ted Kanavas is welcomed by Host Jerry Sherstad. Senator Kanavas spoke about moving the state from manufacturing to an innovation and knowledge based economy to bring in high paying jobs. The Legislature has focused on capitol formation, regulations and infrastructure. An innovation economy is an evolutionary process. Wisconsin's strengths lie in its people, who are very talented and smart. Many ideas come out of the UW system. The goal is to take the knowledge from inside the UW system to outside its walls and have entrepreneurs willing to take the risks to start companies. Senator Kanavas spoke on the need for venture capitol and angel investors and how they play a major role in the start-up of new businesses that have the potential to offer high wage jobs. It is very important to keep the younger people in this state. The need for more broadband is vital to bring this type of economy to the state and is being dealt with by the Legislature.

Health Care	PR 04-050	07/24/04	12:00 PM	29:15	Host Jerry Sherstad welcomes Lois Augustson, the Executive Director of Church Health Services (CHS) in Beaver Dam, which serves all of Dodge County. CHS serves those who are medically underserved and who do not qualify for other health plans. CHS's philosophy is to deal with the whole person- physical, psychological, social and spiritual. Churches in Beaver Dam have come together to help supply the county with this need. There is a network of people in the communities to serve the people. There are 3 arms of ministry- the clinic where patients are seen by a team of professionals, the Parish Nurse Program and My Building Blocks for Health. Lois believes that faith has a positive impact on health. Each person needs to take responsibility for their health by living properly to maintain health.

Health Care	PR 04-058	07/31/04	12:00 PM	29:15	Host Jackie Kahlhamer and Kathleen Murphy, the Milwaukee Public School Health Services Coordinator, discuss why nurses are needed in schools. Nurses provide both immediate and preventive care for students. Kathleen has seen diseases such as diabetes and asthma rise in number among students in the last few years. Budget cuts have affected the number of nurses in schools. When there are more nurses in schools, attendance is up. Recently a medical foundation determined it will provide nurses for a number of schools. This will be very important to help ease the situation.

Taxes	PR 04-055	08/02/04	10:30 AM	29:15	Donald Kristopeit, the President of the Federation of WI Taxpayer Organizations and Host Daphene Van Hullum discuss taxpayer issues. The FWTO is an umbrella group for taxpayer organizations statewide. The issue of tax-shifting was focused on, and how a tax break to one group results in higher taxes for another, generally the homeowner. Mr. Kristopeit believes government needs to downsize in order for taxes to decrease. There are too many employees and rules and regulations. The FWTO has found a way for the state to save over 1 billion dollars in education. He wants people to become aroused to the point that they begin to participate in government. They need to sacrifice their time and go to board meetings, talk to legislators, write letters to local papers, etc.

State/Local Government	PR 04-068	08/21/04	12:00 PM	29:15	Ron Greer, a 2 nd Congressional District Candidate and Host Julaine Appling talk on the most pressing issues affecting us. Ron feels the cultural war is set to destroy the traditional moral fiber. There is more potential for destruction from that than from the war on terror. He feels the "gay marriage" issue is the most dramatic cultural shift in the last 50 years. If the basic foundation of society, the family, is destroyed, society is doomed. Children have been taught there is no clear-cut line between right and wrong. We are seeing the fruit of that. He feels that what is true for a household is true for a nation and that people of faith have an obligation to get involved in public policy in government.

The group was formed by employers to look at innovative ways to cut escalating cuts, which are a significant economic issue for communities. Their vision is to transform the health care delivery system. The challenge is to find doctors who are willing to take the maximum allowable cost for services provided. SE WI's costs are 30-55% higher than any other Midwest city. The consumer needs to be held more accountable for their health. Dianne talked about the controversial issue of why our costs are so high. TBHCG is working to have information available so consumers can make wise choices. Lifestyles need to be healthier.

State/Local Government	PR 04-062	09/11/04	12:00 PM	29:15	Michael Miller, the Mayor of West Bend, and Host Jerry Sherstad talk on the issues the city is facing. The city has lost a significant amount of state shared revenue dollars which was made up by an increase in taxes. There have been major cutbacks in the budget and they are now at a "bare bones" budget. The community is one of the fastest growing in the state which has helped increased the tax base. The cost of health insurance increased 17% last year. They have to find ways to reduce these costs. West Bend is looking to consolidate services with other communities. The city wants to get citizens more involved. Neighbors help to put together playground equipment, which saved money. It also brought a sense of ownership.

Taxes	PR 04-071	09/13/04	10:30 AM	29:15	Senator Neal Kedzie was interviewed by Host Jerry Sherstad. The state continues to have a structural deficit, due to several reasons including, too much bonding, less federal monies and sluggish revenues although these are ahead of last year. The government needs to be more creative in reducing spending without putting more burdens on the taxpayer. Senator Kedzie feels the state will have to make harder decisions as the state's taxes are too high. Government needs to be treated more like a business. He sees positive things coming for property tax relief. The Senator discussed the need for spending limits on all units of government and the need for more consolidation of services. The state spends a lot of money on education, but the money isn't being spent correctly. The children deserve a quality education.

Barbara described the 3 basic types of assisted living facilities (ALF) in the state. These are: adult family homes, community based residential facilities and residential care apartment complexes. These in differ in care from skilled nursing facilities, which provide 24-hour skilled nursing care. The credo of ALF's is to maintain independence. The resident and their families make decisions on their medical care. Medication management helps many people function more effectively. There is often mental and physical health improvements for people after entering an ALS. Funding is limited for those wanting to be in an ALF. Barbara would like to see government get smarter about this. There are people who are in skilled nursing facilities that do not need that level of care, which is much more costly than anALF.

Taxes	PR 04-073	09/20/04	10:30 AM	29:15	Russell Kottke, the Chair of the Dodge County Board of Supervisors and Host Jackie Kahlhamer talk about the issue of high taxes. Counties continue to have to meet state mandates while receiving less funding from the state. They spoke on the different services the county has to provide, as mandated by the state, and are taxpayer funded. The county is working to not raise taxes and to keep services at the level the state requires. The upcoming budget for next year will be presented soon and the public has a chance to speak out on it. Taxpayers should take the opportunity to attend committee meetings even before the budget is determined and present their point of view.

(Un)employment	PR 04-075	09/25/04	12:00 PM	29:15	Host Jackie Kahlhamer interviews Tim Clark, the President of Mayville Engineering Company on location. Mr. Clark gave his viewpoint on the current economic situation which he believes is improving. MEC is hiring people again. Mayville has a heavy metal industry base. Diversifying would be good to help stay in line with the economy. Things are not the same as they used to be. Competition by Asian companies is a major issue. Steel is still hard to get. Employees need to think of always producing a quality product and remember the stiff competition that companies face. The 2 nd half of the program saw Host Jackie Kahlhamer interviewing Stacy Kinsley, the Executive V.P. of DCI Cheese Company in Mayville. They have been named as Entrepreneur of the Year for Wisconsin by Ernest & Young. They talked about how entrepreneurship can translate into increased employment opportunities. Stacy told what she looks for in a prospective employee. The company has an extremely great employee retention rate. They work hard to make sure they hire someone who will fit in well with the company. Employees are made to feel that they are a vital part of making the company successful.

Family Issues	PR 04-069	09/27/04	10:30 AM	29:15	Host Jackie Kahlhamer interviewed Rabbi Dr. Gideon Goldenholz on location at Beth El Ner Tamid Synagogue in Mequon. They talked about issues families are facing today. Much is the result of trying to fit into current culture. Rabbi Goldenholz believes families need to say no to the forces that try to tear them apart and stand firm. People need to acknowledge their Creator and live by His standards. When this happens, there is more stability in families. The guest for the 2 nd half of the program was Pastor Bernice Towns, the Children & Family Life Pastor at Parklawn Assembly of God in Milwaukee. Host Jackie Kahlhamer and Pastor Bernice talked on location at the church. Pastor Bernice spoke on the challenges affecting today's families and how the church works to help them through programs they have. Generational interaction in families is very important and society is losing some of that.

Jay Sekulow Chief Counsel for American Center for Law & Justice answers question from callers regarding Separation of Church and State issue not being in the Constitution. Jay explains a letter from Thomas Jefferson to Danbury Baptist Assembly that started this thinking. He explains the letter mentions a wall of separation, that they did not want the government interfering with internal operation of the churches or religious ministries. Another caller asks how can we get good judges in place. Jay explains that the President of the U.S. has authority to appoint judges to the Court of Appeals and Supreme Court and the role of the Senate Confirmation Committee is to give advice and consent. He answers another caller regarding a church being prohibited to utilize a commercially zoned building. He explains the Religious Land Use Protection Act and how a city has to show a compelling interest as to why a church can not occupy a commercially zoned building. Another caller asked about passing out religious literature at a retirement home and Jay explains that the Supreme Court has ruled that the distribution of religious literature is not unconstitutional.

this case and talks about the significance of their statements - the Pledge of Allegiance is deemed a patriot expression and not a prayer. A caller asks what the impact of the decision in the pledge case has in a lawsuit about "In God We Trust" or the case regarding the LA Seal? Jay explains Justice O'Connor's statement that says that eradicating such reference would be dangerous. Jay talks about O'Connor's statement about our founding principles should be honored. Another caller asks if the decision affects the ACLU's campaign to remove the Ten Commandments from public places. Jay says this case did not address that and is not sure they would have the votes to win the day. He discusses Justice William Rehnquist's statement about the pledge being a patriotic exercise and not a religious one. Jay talks about the founding fathers recognized we received our liberties from God.
