PUBLIC ISSUE: History of Orlando

SUBJECT MATTER, ISSUES DISCUSSED:

This week on Orlando Matters, we looked at the recent growth of Orlando, by also looking back at our history. UCF professor and historian, James Clark, joined the show to discuss how our current success is tied directly to our struggles in the past. Clark also discussed how a few specific days in Orlando history changed the future growth of the city. From Walt Disney picking a spot for Walt Disney World to builders marketing new homes in Puerto Rico, everything from our past was put in context with our present.

AIR DATE: 6/7/14              LENGTH: 30 min.

PRODUCER/HOST: John Brown/Hannah Corlew

PUBLIC ISSUE: History of Orlando

SUBJECT MATTER, ISSUES DISCUSSED:

This week on Orlando Matters, we looked at how Millenials are starting to change the workforce. Dr. Benjamin Akande joined host John Brown to discuss how businesses are now learning to deal with a generation that has different views on business, and success. The two also discussed the growing "savings" crisis in Florida. A recent poll of Floridians shows that they are extremely worried about saving for retirement, yet are unwilling to do things necessary to increase savings. Dr. Akande offered some advice on how people can have a successful working life while also having enough money for retirement. John also interviewed representatives from Canine Companions. The panel discussed how service dogs are being trained here in Orlando to help people with disabilities.

PUBLIC ISSUE: One-cent Sales Tax Vote in Seminole County

SUBJECT MATTER, ISSUES DISCUSSED:

School is out for summer, but school leaders at UCF are already gearing up for next year. This week on Orlando Matters, host John Brown sits down with UCF President Dr. John Hitt for a look back at the previous year, and a look ahead at the Fall Semester. Dr. Hitt discussed how the successful of the football team helped build a new level of interest in the university. He also discussed student retention, alumni giving, and new ways to attract the best and brightest students to UCF through the Top 10 Knights Program.

PUBLIC ISSUE: Community Activities in Orlando this summer

SUBJECT MATTER, ISSUES DISCUSSED:

The City of Orlando is well known for it's world-class attractions. But lesser known are all the cultural and civic activities that take place all summer. This week on Orlando Matters, Mayor Buddy Dyer and Parks Director Lisa Early joined John Brown to talk about some of the hidden gems in Orlando. They discussed the upcoming events planned around Lake Eola, youth athletic programs, and the city's art museums. Mayor Dyer also addressed the recent Florida Supreme Court ruling stating that red light camera tickets issued before 2010 are invalid. He also talked about the upcoming budget and the challenges the city will face, despite the recovering economy.
