The Heritage Classic Foundation has distributed its annual funds to local charities, thanks to a grant from the Verizon Foundation. Verizon awarded the three-year $1.5 million grant to the Heritage Classic Foundation in 2011. Half of the grant goes to the Heritage Scholar Program and the other half is used to fund nonprofits that focus on education and health care. This year there were twelve nonprofit recipients. In Focus attended the luncheon and spoke to some of the recipients and the Heritage foundation trustees.
