PROGRAM SUMMARY: WHEN TRAMAINÉ BILLINGSLEY'S

FRIENDS TALK ABOUT HIM, THEY CAN'T HELP BUT SMILE. [TAKE SOT OUTCUE:
"...." AT: 18:49:49 TO: 18:49:53 DURATION:0:04][***SOT***] (He always kept my spirits up, whenever I was down and out, he kept my spirits up) 18:47:48 he was just a ball of energy, just loved having him around.
TO HONOR TRAMAINÉ, FAMILY AND FRIENDS GATHERED TODAY OUTSIDE
BOOKER T. WASHINGTON -- THE HIGH SCHOOL HE GRADUATED FROM JUST TWO YEARS AGO. WITH TAPS PLAYING,
THE FLAG WAS SLOWLY LOWERED AND PRESENTED TO HIS FAMILY. THEN,
WRITING ON A LARGE BANNER,
FRIENDS TRIED TO PUT THEIR LOSS
INTO WORDS. 18:49:09 he's made just a great impact on the students. HIS FORMER CLASSMATES SAY TRAMAINÉ HAS LEFT HIS MARK ON THE SCHOOL. HE SERVED AS BOTH COMMANDING OFFICER FOR THE NJROTC AND DRUM MAJOR IN THE MARCHING BAND. 18:48:11 he was a great leader, he pulled our troops together same way he did in rotc , inspired them to work hard and be the best they could be :21 THAT QUALITY IS PART OF WHAT LED TRAMAINÉ TO BECOME A CALVARY SCOUT IN THE ARMY. I guess that's why he wanted to serve in the military because he wanted to lead his troops in the war 18:50:01 AND AFTER GIVING SO MUCH TO HIS SCHOOL, HE WANTED TO DO THE SAME FOR HIS COUNTRY. 18:48:34 he thought it would be something positive for him in a way that he could give back to his country

AS NEWSCHANNEL 3 FIRST REPORTED YESTERDAY, THEY WERE SENT TO SHARON THORNHILL WHILE SHE WAS WORKING AS REGISTRAR FOR THE CITY OF SUFFOLK BY HER BOSS, DAVID SYLVIA. HE HAS DECLINED TO COMMENT BUT WE DID SPEAK WITH KEN CARPENTER, CHAIRMAN OF THE ELECTORAL BOARD. [TAKE SOT OUTCUE: "...." SEXUAL HARASSMENT AND IS THE REASON SHE WAS FORCED TO RESIGN. SHE FILED A COMPLAINT IN EARLY OCTOBER WITH THE COMMONWEALTH'S ATTORNEY, THE CIRCUIT COURT AND BOARD OF ELECTIONS. NEWSCHANNEL 3 CONTACTED ALL THREE TODAY TO FIND OUT WHY SYLVIA-- WHO HAS ADMITTED TO SENDING THE EMAIL-- STILL HAS HIS POSITION ON THE ELECTORAL BOARD. [TAKE SOT OUTCUE: "...." AT: 54:43 TO: 54:53 DURATION:0:10][***SOT***] (all of it's based around state code, state code runs this whole, sets forth very specifically what can be done and not done in this particular case) RANDY CARTER, CIRCUIT COURT CLERK, SAYS THE COURT MUST FIRST RECEIVE A COMPLAINT FROM THE STATE BOARD OF ELECTIONS. THE STATE BOARD HAS YET TO DO SO -- UNDER STATE CODE THEY CAN ONLY REMOVE SOMEONE FROM THE ELECTORAL BOARD "WHO FAILS TO DISCHARGE THE DUTIES OF HIS OFFICE" CARPENTER SAYS THAT DOESN'T APPLY IN THIS CASE. [TAKE SOT OUTCUE: "...." AT: 1:03:00 TO: 1:03:09 DURATION:0:09][***SOT***] ( I don't know that he's not done his job, now, he shouldn't have sent that to her but I don't see why that should have been a problem) AS FOR THE COMMONWEALTH'S ATTORNEY, PHILLIP FERGUSON, SAYS THE ONLY ACTION HE COULD TAKE IS IF IT WAS A CRIMINAL MATTER. [TAKE SOT OUTCUE: "...." AT: 50:33 TO: 50:36 DURATION:0:03][***SOT***] (sexual harassment is basically a civil action) LEAVING THORNHILL WITHOUT MANY OPTIONS EXCEPT TO SEEK AN ATTORNEY. HONOR AND GLORY. THAT'S WHAT DEFINES ALBERT G. HORTON, JUNIOR MEMORIAL VETERANS CEMETERY. AND FOR ME, IT'S PERSONAL. MY GRANDMA AND GRANDPA ARE BURIED HERE. EVEN NOW. {SOT - standup 01:33:26} (here at the veterans cemetery, the backside of the gravestone is for information on the spouse. You can see here my grandmother is not just a spouse, but a veteran of world war 2. That was so unusual for my grandma and grandpa to both be members of the military back during that time. But my grandma was proud to be a pioneer, and both my gma and gpa were proud to be veterans. I know they would be so happy to be buried in such a special place.)

[Duration:0:25] BILL AND FRAN MET IN EUROPE AFTER WORLD WAR 2. I ALWAYS LOVED HEARING GRANDMA'S STORIES OF SERVING IN THE WAVES.

{SOT - FROM HONOR AND GLORY PKG}
(The whole country was like that -- very, very patriotic. That's what drove me too -- was patriotism. And a great sense of adventure.)

[Duration:0:11] THAT WAS TWO YEARS AGO ... WHEN I WAS LUCKY ENOUGH TO TELL MY GRANDMA'S STORY.

[Notes:FADE TO BLACK] [Notes:FLIPCAM VIDEO] THAT INSPIRATIONAL WOMAN PASSED AWAY IN AUGUST ... AND WAS BURIED WITH MILITARY HONORS. THIS IS SOME VIDEO I TOOK THAT DAY.

MANY TOUCHES THAT MAKES ALBERT HORTON CEMETERY A PLACE OF HONOR. AND NOW WITH THE HOLIDAYS UPON US, IT'S A TIME OF YEAR WHEN WE MISS THOSE WHO ARE GONE THE MOST. THE CEMETERY GIVES US A CHANCE TO REMEMBER AND MOURN WITH A WREATH LAYING CEREMONY.

AND NEWSCHANNEL 3 HELPED MAKE THAT HAPPEN. {SOT - 01:28:59} (when I heard about this ... And that they were looking for donations ... This means a lot to me and my family ... It's such a special project we were so excited to take action and try to help get those donations.) [Duration:0:16] NOW, THE

MONEY IS RAISED, THE WREATHS ARE

PROGRAM SUMMARY:

Curtis Connell was so angry he couldn't vote this morning he tore up the paperwork.
23:06:55 It just got to the point where I was so irritated and upset and I was going to be late for work if I had to sit around and fill this stuff out just to cast my vote. He was marked absentee. But he never requested a ballot. The 20-year Navy veteran had been deployed in 2008, but even though he was back in Virginia Beach he was still marked absentee. Frustrated he had more paperwork to fill out, and late for work, he didn't get the chance to vote this morning.
23:04:35 It stings because I feel betrayed but hopefully we can take this taken care of. So News Channel 3 took action... And found out why Connell, like many soliders across Hampton Road were still marked as absentees. Virginia Beach's general registrar Pat Harrington says it's no error. Federal law requires that ballots be sent to military members for two years after they've requested one. 23:17:56 The first worked out fine. They were overseas they received their ballot. The second time they probably came home, the ballot still had to be sent to the old address because we didn't have a new address for them. After getting answers for Connell, his wife Carol wrote on News Channel 3's facebook page. Saying...My husband EN1 Connell went back and got to vote!!! Thank you for taking action!

DATE AIRED:

10-09-2010

TIME AND DURATION:

10:00PM - ONE HOUR

PROGRAM SUMMARY:

48 HOURS MYSTERY:

• - a report on the three-year international manhunt and eventual capture of Dr. Yazeed • Essa, a Cleveland doctor accused of murdering his wife, Rosemarie. In February 2005, Rosemarie, the mother of Essa's two children, was in a minor car accident. She suffered no physical injuries, but she passed out and shortly afterwards died in a Cleveland hospital. Her best friend, Eva McGregor, voiced her own suspicion that Essa had tampered with the calcium supplements that Rosemarie had taken on the morning of her death. Weeks later, tests of the calcium tablets proved that she had died of cyanide poisoning. Police went to charge Essa, but he had fled from the U.S. to Canada and eventually to Beirut, Lebanon, where he hid, knowing that he could not be extradited back to the U.S. In October 2006, he went to Cyprus, a country that does have an extradition treaty with the U.S. Interpol and the FBI alerted the Cyprus police that Essa was traveling under an alias; he was apprehended at the Larnaca airport and brought in for questioning and fingerprinting. His true identity was established, and he was arrested for using a doctored passport and held in a Cyprus prison. He fought extradition for two years but was returned to the U.S. In January 2010 his trial began. His protector in the Middle East and Essa's brother, Firas, both testified that Essa had told them that he had killed his wife by putting cyanide in her calcium pills. He was found guilty of aggravated murder and sentenced to life in prison with the possibility of parole in twenty years. Onscreen graphic at conclusion: The Essa family has asked to visit the children. For now, Rosemarie's family won't allow it. After the trial, the children were told that their father killed their mother. They haven't asked about him since. 48 HOURS MYSTERY: • - a report on the 26-year effort of Bruce Lisker to overturn his conviction for the 1983 murder of his mother. In March 1983, 17-year-old Bruce Lisker hysterically called 911 to tell Los Angeles police that he had found his mother, Dorka Lisker, beaten severely and stabbed in her Sherman Oaks home. Police arrived to find him hysterical and on drugs. They arrested him, and a young detective, Andrew Monsue, proceeded to build a case against Bruce. Bruce's father believed that his son was innocent, and urged police to investigate Bruce's friend Mike Ryan, a 15-year-old with a criminal record, who had gone to the house to see Bruce's mother the day before. But Monsue focused on Bruce, and presented what he maintained was evidence that Bruce was guilty. Bruce was tried as an adult; the jury found him guilty and he was sentenced to 16 years to life. In 1999, Bruce, still in prison, hired ex-cop-turned-private-investigator Paul Ingels to help him overturn his conviction. With the aid of then-Sgt. Jim Gavin of the Los Angeles Police Department, Ingels discovered that the evidence against Bruce had apparently been fabricated. Ingels and Gavin gave their findings to the LA Times, and on May 22, 2005, the newspaper ran an article questioning the evidence that had put Lisker behind bars. Two months later, a federal judge granted a hearing to consider new evidence in the case. Four years passed, and in August 2009 a federal judge ruled that Lisker had been convicted on false evidence and must be retried or set free. On August 17, 2009, he was set free on bail. Six weeks later, he went back to court, at which time the prosecutor said that too much time has passed to retry the case and they had no choice but to dismiss the charges. One year later, the state asked the court to return Lisker to prison based on a technicality arguing that Lisker was late filing his petition for release. A judge rejected that motion. Concluding onscreen graphics: Bruce Lisker remains free...for now. Includes interviews with: Bruce Lisker; Phillip Rabichow, prosecutor; Scott Glover and Matt Lait, LA Times reporters; Robert Hughes, one-time prisoner in the cell next to Lisker; Paul Ingels, private investigator; Sgt. PROGRAM SUMMARY: 48 HOURS MYSTERY - "The One Who Got Away" • - a report about how serial killer Andrew Urdiales was identified, arrested and convicted, and about the young woman who became the only one of his victims to survive. Between 1986 and 1996, Andrew Urdiales attacked, tortured and killed eight women, first in California and then in Illinois. His first victim was Robbin Brandley of Mission Viejo, California. In 1992, he charmed 19-year-old Jennifer Asbenson, potentially his ninth victim, who accepted a ride from a seemingly kind stranger and was then driven into the California desert, where she was tortured, made to perform sexual acts and strangled, then put in the trunk of his car. Summoning all the strength she had, she escaped and found safety when a passing truck stopped and rescued her. Urdiales disappeared. In 1997, Chicago police were interested when they received a tip from a prostitute that a client had wanted to tie her up, place her in the trunk of his car, and then drive her out to Wolf Lake. Prior to the tip, the bodies of three other women had been discovered in the lake, all killed with the same gun. The client turned out to be Andrew Urdiales and the gun used in the murders belonged to him. Chicago police brought him in for questioning and Urdiales matter-of-factly confessed to eight unsolved murders in Illinois and California, including Robbin Brandley's and the attack on Jennifer Asbenson. Fifteen years after her attack, Jennifer Asbenson faced Urdiales in a Chicago courtroom; a jury convicted Urdiales and sentenced him to death. California authorities must wait until the appeals process is completed in Illinois, before they can begin their proceedings against him. Onscreen graphic: Andrew Urdiales remains on death row in Illinois. Jennifer Asbenson is writing a book about her life. Interviewed: Jennifer Asbenson, Genelle and Jack Reilley, Robbin Brandley's parents, Jayeson Brandley, Robbin's brother, Helen Moreno, supervising investigator with the Orange County DA's office; Howard Gundy, Orange County Deputy Attorney, Palm Springs Lieutenant John Booth; Chicago Homicide Detective Don McGrath; Cook County Assistant State's Attorney Jim McKay; Jennifer Asbenson's daughter Augusta. 48 HOURS MYSTERY: The Preacher's Wife • (9:00-10:00pm) - In April 2006, Matt Baker, a pastor from Waco, Texas, returned home to find his wife Kari unconscious, with an empty bottle of Unisom and a suicide note beside her. Paramedics arrived within minutes, but it was too late. Based on the note, the empty bottle of sleeping pills, and the fact that Kari was described as still struggling with the loss of her daughter Kassidy seven years ago, police ruled it a suicide. In a county with no medical examiner, police described the case over the phone to a justice of the peace, who determined that no autopsy was needed. Kari's parents, Jim and Linda Dulin, had no choice but to believe Matt. However, Linda's sisters, Nancy, Kay, and Jennifer, and niece Lindsey believed otherwise. Dubbed "Charlie's Angels", they began their own investigation. After uncovering a possible motive, Linda hired Bill Johnston, a dogged former federal prosecutor, had her daughter's body exhumed and autopsied, and filed a wrongful death suit against Matt. Five months after Kari's death, the justice of the peace declared that her death was no longer classified as a suicide and police subsequently arrested and charged Matt with murder. Believing Matt would be tried in criminal court, Linda dropped her wrongful death suit. After six months, the district attorney still hadn't taken Matt's case to a grand jury -- a requirement under Texas law. Linda eventually refiled the wrongful death suit, shortly before attorney Guy James Gray filed a successful motion to dismiss Matt's criminal case, as a grand jury indictment had not been returned within 180 days. Matt Baker is no longer charged with any crime, though the district attorney continues to investigate and could refile criminal charges. There is no statute of limitations for murder. (C: Erin Moriarty - P: Lisa Freed, Gail Abbott Zimmerman) (OAD: 05/10/08; 1st Rebroadcast: 06/09/09). Update for the 06/09/09 rebroadcast: On March 25, 2009, a grand jury indicted Baker for the murder of his wife, after a surprise witness -- Vanessa Bulls, a girlfriend of his -- came forward and testified. He will go on trial in September. Graphic postscript: Baker was released from jail on $250,000 bond, pending trial. He's again living in Kerrville, Texas, with his parents and daughters.

PROGRAM SUMMARY: 48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Dirty Little Secrets" • (10:00-11:00pm) - a followup to "The Preacher's Wife" • (OAD: 05/10/08; 1st rebroadcast and update on 06/09/09; 2nd rebroadcast on 10/30/10). In April 2006, Matt Baker, a pastor from Waco, Texas, returned home to find his wife Kari unconscious, with an empty bottle of Unisom and a suicide note beside her. Based on the note, the empty bottle of sleeping pills, and the fact that Kari was described as still struggling with the loss of her daughter Kassidy seven years ago, police ruled it a suicide. Linda Dulin, Kari's mother, was convinced she had been murdered and set out to prove it by hiring attorney Bill Johnston and his team of investigators, who had Kari's body exhumed and autopsied. Five months after Kari's death, the justice of the peace declared that her death was no longer classified as a suicide. In September 2007, the police felt they had a homicide on their hands and Matt Baker was arrested and charged with murder. He was released on bond, thanks to attorney Guy James Gray, who took the case pro bono. However, six months later, assistant district attorney Crawford Long dropped the murder charges because the evidence was too speculative. Unwilling to give up, Linda Dulin decided to again sue Matt for wrongful death. Bill Johnston, assistant district attorney Long and prosecutor Susan Shafer continued to investigate. Armed with new information and damning testimony provided to the grand jury by Vanessa Bulls, a woman long suspected of having an affair with Matt before Kari's death, prosecutors were able to arrest Matt and charge him with murder. At the trial, it was revealed that Matt told Vanessa how he planned to murder Kari, the reason why, and even the exact date, but Vanessa chose not to notify the authorities. After seven hours of deliberation, the jury found Matt Baker guilty of first-degree murder. He was sentenced to 65 years with the possibility of parole. Matt still insists he did not kill his wife. The Bakers' daughters live with Matt's parents, where they want to stay. Kari's parents are now fighting for custody of the girls. Onscreen graphics: In January a jury will decide who will get custody of Kari Baker's daughters. No charges will be filed against Vanessa Bulls. After testifying, she lost her job as a teacher. Matt Baker is appealing the verdict. PROGRAM SUMMARY:

Virginia Beach Police arrested 21-year-old Robert Sadler, a married sailor who works at the Norfolk Naval Shipyard in Portsmouth. Sadler was arrested after Beach investigators got the lead they needed from NCIS. Police say Sadler willfully, deliberately, and with premeditation, killed Shana Hight, the 24-year-old Navy wife who died while her husband was overseas. Sadler, also a sailor, had gotten back from the Arabian Gulf in July. -----

--- Follow NewsChannel 3 on Facebook -----

----- Sadler and Hight were not only neighbors on Bayhead Drive in Virginia Beach - Hight's apartment was just two floors below Sadler's. In the days after Shana's murder, the Virginian-Pilot interviewed Sadler, where he told them when he moved into his apartment, he knocked on Hight's door to ask whether her husband could help him move his couch. She told him that her husband was deployed. For more than seven weeks, Sadler was not even on the police's radar. "Not sure what's going through his mind as the detectives are out there interviewing people, and as the media is out there doing these stories. Knowing all the while that he's the one that did it, and then close to two months later detectives show up at his workplace and say we need to talk to you," said

Adam Bernstein, Virginia Beach Police Department. For those who knew Shana Hight, news about the arrest of her killer is comforting but also painful as they relive that horrifying day in September, when they learned she had been murdered. Sharon Bennett, the mother-in-law of the victim says, "It brings back all the hurt and why. Shana should have been able to live a full life." Sadler is being held with no bail. Today at his arraignment he spoke to the judge through a video conference. He asked for a public defender, but his family, who drove from outside Richmond late last night, went to the judge to request they get their own attorney. Sadler agreed. His next appearance in court is scheduled for mid December. He is charged with first degree murder. Police didn't even know about him until earlier this week. The Navy was investigating Sadler for something entirely different. "It was something NCIS was working on they shared the information with us. We followed up on it and got our guy," Bernstein added. For Hight's family there is much relief, but today is still a very sad day. Her mother-in-law says she hopes that this provides closure not only to those that knew Hight, but the entire Naval family PROGRAM SUMMARY: 48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Taken: The Amber Dubois Story" • - a report on the February 13, 2009 disappearance of Amber Dubois, just blocks from Escondido High School in Southern California. 48 HOURS examines the permanent impact her disappearance has had on her family, even after the discovery and conviction of the murderer. Initially, with no clues as to her whereabouts, investigators began to look at her mother Carrie McGonigle's live-in boyfriend, Dave Cave as a person of interest. Carrie herself and Amber's father, Moe Dubois, soon began believing that Cave was responsible for Amber's disappearance. Almost a year later, another teenage girl, Chelsea King, went missing. Chelsea had been running just ten miles from where Amber disappeared. Police quickly found Chelsea's underwear with DNA evidence that would lead them to the arrest of convicted sex offender John Gardner, who was out on parole. Gardner was then also identified by another woman, Candice Moncayo, as the man who attacked her on the same jogging trail just two months earlier. Then police found Chelsea's body and Gardner was charged with her murder and the attack against Moncayo. Under interrogation and facing the death penalty for the murder of Chelsea, Gardner agreed to lead police to Amber's body in exchange for avoiding the death penalty. John Gardner was convicted of both Amber's and Chelsea's murders and sentenced to life in prison without the possibility of parole. In his exclusive interview with 48 HOURS MYSTERY, he recounted the day he murdered Amber and admitted he is the most dangerous type of sexual predator. He said he needs to be locked up forever. Onscreen graphics: Moe Dubois helped pass new laws in California that help track sex offenders and speed up police response in missing children's cases. Interviewed: Carrie McGonigle, Amber's mother; Dave Cave, Carrie's boyfriend; Maurice "Moe" • Dubois, Amber's father; Bonnie Dumanic, San Diego District Attorney; John Gardner, convicted murderer. PROGRAM SUMMARY: 48 HOURS MYSTERY: • Chasing the Barefoot Bandit • - A report on Colton Harris-Moore, also known as the "Barefoot Bandit," • because of his habit of committing crimes barefoot and leaving chalk outlines of his feet; and whose criminal exploits included stealing planes, guns, yachts, and even escaping to foreign countries. His exploits reminded many of legendary outlaws like Jesse James, and as news of his crimes spread beyond the Pacific Northwest, his popularity grew, even spawning Facebook fan pages. Born on Camano Island, Washington, Harris-Moore was an unpopular teen, physically neglected and mentally abused by his mother, Pam Kohler. He wanted to become a pilot, but instead turned to a life of crime at age 10, stealing laptops, cell phones, and jewelry. He was arrested and sent to a halfway house, but escaped custody and continued breaking into vacation homes and leaving his mark. He even ordered a DVD on learning to fly a plane with a stolen credit card. In 2008, he stole his first plane, crashing it 250 miles away from where he stole it, and simply walked away. He then worked in Las Vegas, then went to Canada and stole guns. In 2009, he stole his second plane, and the legend of Colton Harris-Moore was born. After stealing his third plane, the Department of Homeland Security joined in the hunt; but he still avoided capture. In 2010, he stole an airplane in Bloomington, Indiana and flew it to Abaco Island in the Bahamas, where he continued to commit break-ins. While 48 HOURS was on his trail in the Bahamas, he allegedly stole a yacht and escaped to the nearby Bahamian island of Eleuthera. He was spotted by some local teens who, knowing about the $10,000 reward offered for his capture, chased him by boat. Police joined in the hunt, and Harris-Moore was finally captured. Deported from the Bahamas, he was returned to the U.S., where he was indicted on federal charges for stealing two planes, guns, a boat and flying without a license. He faces ten years behind bars.

Onscreen graphics: Colton Harris-Moore will be arraigned Thursday in federal court. He faces additional charges in several states. Colton and his mother have not seen each other since his arrest. Sheâ€™s had offers to buy Coltonâ€™s story and has hired a well-known entertainment lawyer. Interviewed: Ashley Martin, childhood friend of Colton; Jessica Wesson, classmate; Paul Ciolino, 48 HOURS investigator; Bob Friel, Harris-Moore biographer; Jacquie Staggs, friend of Coltonâ€™s mother; Harley Davidson

Ironwing, burglary accomplice; Colleen Armstrong, editor of the local newspaper on Orcas Island; Kyle Ater, owner of the Orcas Homegrown Market, allegedly burglarized by Colton; Suzanne Vidal, local realtor; Marion Rathbone, operator of Vernâ€™s restaurant; Bob Rivers, Seattle radio personality and owner of the first stolen plane; Hi Stickney, Kelly Kneifl, Kristen Jones, Gary Martin Sawyer, victims of Coltonâ€™s; James Coakley, club owner; Kenny Strachan, security guard; Jordan Sackett, American tourist (C: Peter Van Sant - P: Paul LaRosa, Sarah Prior)

PROGRAM SUMMARY: In less than a month, this man has twice piqued police attention. Last night at 11, NewsChannel 3 broke the story of how a Virginia Beach bartender, going by the name Bobby The Greek, helped out at a Norfolk fundraiser. He told Chasity Brown, the charity organizer, the he was good friends with the Decker family. And he promised he'd take the $1,300 in donations to Dawn Decker. But police say that cash didn't make it to the widow. They've charged Bobby the Greek with stealing the money, crushing all the heartfelt hard work that went into the fundraiser. 1:24:25 You're shaking just thinking about it. It's upsetting. Very upsetting. I didn't see this coming. [TAKE VO]{***VO***} And now we're linking him Bobby The Greek to another piece of the Decker investigation. Just after the murder, Bobby The Greek, known in court papers as Charlampos Tsakpinis, claimed to be the last person to see the officer alive. He told a Virginian-Pilot reporter how he and the officer went to dinner together that night. Went to the go-go bar together. Bobby says they parted company around 2 in the morning. Minutes later, someone killed the officer. Last night, we went to Bobby's family's house to ask him about the missing money, and were told no one would talk. Today, we went to another house, (nats, knocks) the address listed on his arrest warrant. But he doesn't live here. Two women are renting the home. Chasity has been bothered by the missing money, but today she learned police have gotten the money back. She hopes it goes now where it was supposed to go almost a month ago. 1:20:25 I mean the money that we raised, it's not a whole bunch, but it is enough to pay someone's rent payment, or some car payments, and that could help out in any way.

TIME AND DURATION: 10:00PM - ONE HOUR

PROGRAM SUMMARY: 48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Secrets, Lies and Alibis" • - On August 22, 2004, John and Susan Sutton had a family get together in their Coral Gables, Florida home, that included their son Christopher, his girlfriend Juliette Driscoll, and Teddy Montoto, John's law partner and friend. Afterwards, when Teddy had left and John and Juliette had gone to a movie, John and Susan retired to separate bedrooms -- Susan often slept in the second room because John snored. Sometime later in the evening, a gunman entered their bedrooms and shot both of them several times. Susan was killed, but John survived. Nothing was taken from the house " not money, nor jewelry. There was no doubt that this was a premeditated effort to make sure that they were dead. Police interrogation of Teddy Montoto revealed that he had been having an affair with Susan, but further investigation eliminated him as a suspect. Interviews with some of John's closest friends suggested that the Suttons' son, Christopher, should be investigated as a suspect. He had been sent to a behavioral program, Paradise Cove, on the Polynesian islands of Samoa, when he was 16. He claims

he was abused there and tried to tell his parents about it, but they didn't believe him, and he was kept there until he was 19. He became the prime suspect. After checking his cell phone records, authorities noticed more than 300 calls to his friend Garrett Kopp, who had been arrested less than 24 hours after the Suttons shooting for attacking someone else with a gun. That turned out to be the same gun that was used to shoot the Suttons. Kopp told police that he was hired by his friend Christopher Sutton to kill his parents. Christopher's then-fiancee Juliette Driscoll told the police that Christopher had a deep-seated resentment towards his parents for sending him to Samoa. She said he often spoke of how great their lives would be if his parents were dead. Garrett Kopp and Juliette Driscoll testified against Christopher in court. Christopher claimed that Kopp had gone to the Suttons' house to steal marijuana and that Driscoll testified against him because she had been threatened by police. After a day and a half of deliberations, the jury found Christopher Sutton guilty of first-degree murder as charged. He was sentenced to life in prison with no possibility of parole. Onscreen graphics: Christopher Sutton is planning to appeal his conviction. Hit man Garrett Kopp is scheduled to be released in 2035. John Sutton vows he will fight to keep Kopp and his son Christopher behind bars. Interviewed: John Sutton; Melissa Sutton, Christopher's sister; Mary Marier, Susan Sutton's sister; Rosanna Cordero, Miami-Dade Detective; Larry Belyeu, lead Detective; Christopher Sutton; Erik Polk, friend of Christopher; Randy Rogers, who was at Paradise Cove with Christopher; Juliette Driscoll, Christopher's fiancée; Kathleen Hoague and Carin Kahgan, prosecutors; Bruce Fleisher, Christopher's attorney; Mitchell Kopp, Garrett's father. 48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Shootout at the Hills" • - a report on the November 14, 2006 shooting of Danny Hill, by his wife, Charlene. Charlene claimed that their seemingly happy life together was all a facade and that she shot him in self-defense, as Danny came at her after an argument. Charlene's years of suffering physical abuse from Danny was well documented by police reports and hospital visits. Their children -- sons Jeremy (from a previous marriage), Joby, and daughter Jamie -- even admitted that their father, Danny, was abusive, but that he had mellowed after he and their mother had survived a near-fatal motorcycle accident in August 2003 and that their mother had often instigated the arguments, leaving Danny with no choice but to react the way he did. Arrested for her husband's murder, Charlene faced life in prison. Months before the trial began, her son, Joby, committed suicide on the eve of his 27th birthday. Joby was supposed to be a witness for the prosecution, but according to his brother Jeremy, dreaded the thought of testifying. At the trial, prosecutors questioned Charlene's claim of self-defense and claimed that the multi-million dollar estate was the motive. Defense attorney George Parnham believed that her children's desire to gain control of the family fortune drove them to testify against their mother and was able to get Jeremy to reveal that a million dollars Charlene had transferred to him for safekeeping was withdrawn and split with his siblings to pay off debts -- all without his mother's knowledge. The jury deliberated for two days, before the judge declared a mistrial due to the lone juror who believed in Charlene's innocence. In addition to the criminal trial, Charlene also faced a wrongful death lawsuit from Jeremy, Jamie and Dannyâ€™s mother, Barbara Graham. Onscreen graphics: The Hill familyâ€™s civil suit has been settled. Charlene Hillâ€™s new trial is slated for January. Interviewed: Charlene Hill; her children Jamie and Jeremy Hill; Barbara Graham, Danny Hillâ€™s mother; Jennifer Hinch, a friend of Charleneâ€™s; Susan Watts, friend; Bev Carter; publisher of the Fort Bend Star; George Parnham and Dee McWilliams, Charleneâ€™s defense attorneys; Kelly Siegler and Dean Blumrosen, former prosecutors who represented Jamie, Jeremy, and Barbara in the civil lawsuit; Silvia Les-Sie, juror who thought Charlene was innocent; Quenton, Karen and Levon (did not want their last names used), jurors who thought Charlene was guilty; and Bailiff Mary Charles. â€œFull Moonâ€• - On the night of August 28, 1996, Yvette Rodier and her friend, Zach Snarr, went up to the mountains outside of Salt Lake City, Utah for their first date. Their special plans to take pictures of the full moon were interrupted when a stranger drove up, pulled out a gun and opened fire, emptying every bullet out of his gun. Zach was killed. Yvette, who was shot four times, survived by pretending to be dead. Within days of the shootings, authorities caught 19-year-old Jorge Benvenuto, whose reason for the attack was for the thrill of watching them die. He expressed disappointment when he found out one of his victims had lived. It took Yvette three years and five operations to repair her physical injuries that still left her with permanent nerve damage. She faced her attacker in court. Prosecutors had planned to request the death penalty. Benvenuto asked for a plea bargain and, upon consideration, Zachâ€™s family agreed to this in exchange for a life sentence in prison without parole. Afterwards, Benvenuto filed several appeals, saying he had been depressed when he agreed to the plea bargain. He lost these several appeals. Yvette became a lawyer so she could help other victims. Onscreen graphics: Jorge Benvenuto lost his most recent appeal in 2007. It is probably his last. Last year, a judge let Richard Freeman be with his family in Tennessee for nine days. This year, Freeman asked for even more time off, 13 days. And today a judge said OK. 3:45 It's not fair that he gets to go home. I don't see the justification in that. 2:30 We were hoping for a different outcome this year. We were hoping that it wouldn't be granted this year. We're disappointed. [TAKE VO]{***VO***} Freeman, a Navy petty officer, used to show up to court in his dress uniform. Today, both he and his chief came in jeans. He's accused of killing two people and badly hurting a third, but he's not been in jail. He's been confined to the Norfolk Navy base -- the largest in the world. He told a judge today his family couldn't afford a trip to Norfolk, so he wanted to go home to Tennessee. It's the second Christmas he has asked for this, because the manslaughter case against him is at a standstill. 3:25 Eighteen months later and we are still dealing with it. [TAKE VO]{***VO***} At least four scheduled trial dates have passed without a trial. Defense delays and problems with the prosecution have put the case on hold. In October, a judge ordered new prosecutors to take over, and they are starting from scratch. 48 HOURS MYSTERY: LIVE TO TELL:

â€œThe Railroad Killerâ€• - A report on the August 29, 1997 attack on two University of Kentucky students as they walked along the railroad tracks in Lexington, Kentucky. Chris Maier was killed by his attacker who then proceeded to stab, beat, and rape Holly Dunn, who miraculously survived her injuries. Fourteen months after Holly's attack, Dr. Claudia Benton was murdered inside her Houston, Texas area home, located near railroad tracks. Lexington Detective Craig Sorrell received a call from ViCAP, a national crime registry database, linking the crimes. Through fingerprint analysis, they identified Rafael Resendez-Ramirez as the suspect. After his arrest, he was ultimately identified as Angel Maturino Resendiz. His trial started in May of 2000 in Houston; he was found guilty of capital murder. Holly testified in the penalty phase of the trial and identified Resendiz in court. The jury decided he was a future danger to society and the judge sentenced him to death. He was executed in June of 2006. Holly chose not to attend the execution. She has dedicated her life to helping other victims and founded Holly's House, a child and adult advocacy center in Evansville, Indiana. Onscreen graphics: By the time of his execution, Resendiz was linked to at least fifteen murders in six states. Authorities learned he killed a teenage couple in Florida, just months before he attacked Chris and Holly. Narrated by: Holly Dunn; Heather Dunn Niemeier, Holly's sister; Chad Goetz, who called 911 to help Holly; Detective Craig Sorrell, Lexington Police Department; Drew Carter, Texas Ranger; Devon Anderson, Harris County Prosecutor. 48 HOURS MYSTERY: "In Too Deep" • - a followup to "In Too Deep" • (OAD: 01/22/08), presenting a further examination of the story of Laura Hall, who was convicted and sent to prison for the crime of dismembering the body of Jennifer Cave in 2005. As previously detailed, she admitted to going to the apartment of her boyfriend Colton Pitonyak, at his request, and was confronted with the dead body of Cave in the bathtub. She then -- out of fear for her own life, she says -- drove Pitonyak, at his insistence, to Mexico. After their arrest, Hall was interrogated and charged with hindering the apprehension of Pitonyak. At his own trial, Pitonyak implied that Hall took part in the dismemberment of Jennifer Cave's body after her death. Put on trial for this crime, and for helping Pitonyak escape, she was found guilty and sentenced to five years in prison. However, after 17 months in jail, Laura Hall was released because a court ruled that her sentencing hearing wasn't fair. Her conviction was upheld and she is out on bond while prosecutors fight to put her back in jail. She could be sentenced to more time or released. And Pitonyak's new lawyer, says that they have new evidence and that Hall is also responsible for the murder. At Hall's new hearing, the judge rules against her: she's going back to jail. Her sentencing is set for May 2010, where she faces up to ten years in prison. Unless he wins a new trial, Pitonyak will be eligible for parole in 2033. Update for the 12/18/10 rebroadcast: In June 2010 Laura Hall was sentenced to confinement in the Texas Department of Criminal Justice for a period of ten years. Onscreen graphics update: Colton Pitonyak's case is still under appeal. Laura Hall's projected release date is March 26, 2014. She will be 30 years old. Included interviews with Laura Hall; Sharon and Jim Sedwick, Jennifer Cave's mother and step-father; Loren and Carol Hall, parents of Laura Hall; Joe James Sawyer, Hall's attorney; Bill Bishop, prosecutor; Joe Turner, Pitonyak's attorney. PROGRAM SUMMARY: ) When it comes to space heaters, there are lots of choices. There are floor models, and this one you can also mount on the wall. And then there's the Heat Surge that looks like a fireplace. Consumer Reports has tested 13 space heaters ranging in price from about 30 dollars to more than 500. Most are 15-hundred watts. (SOT) "Heaters that use the same amount of watts produce the same amount of heat. But they differ on how well they can maintain a set temperature and what features they offer." (V/O) Testers use this special chamber to assess space heaters. Sensors measure the temperature in different parts of the room, checking how evenly heat is distributed. The 550-dollar Heat Surge wound up at the bottom of Consumer Reports' ratings. (SOT: Jim Nanni) "The Heat Surge lacks a thermostat. That's what helped the best heaters we tested stay within three degrees of the set temperature." (V/O) The 35-dollar SoleusAir heater didn't have a thermostat either - a key feature at any price. In the end, top ratings went to this 70-dollar heater from Honeywell. It's model HZ-817. It's excellent at controlling temperature and it has a helpful temperature display. But Consumer Reports says don't count on it, or any space heater, to slice your heating bills on its own. (SOT: Jim Nanni) "Unless you turn the heat down in the whole house and just use a space heater in one or two rooms, you won't see much of a savings." (V/O) Adding insulation, especially in the attic, is a far better way to cut your energy costs. )

(SOT: Douglas Stansfield) "Overall, I use it for my local travel back and forth to the doctor's office, to the dentist's office, to the kids' school - things and all that." (V/O) Electric cars' limited driving range is a key consideration, says Consumer Reports. The Chevy Volt can go 40 miles on an electric charge. But it does have a small gas engine that can go another 300 miles on a tank of gas. The Nissan Leaf, powered solely by an electric battery, has a 100-mile range before it has to be plugged in. (SOT) "But driving isn't the only thing that's going to drain your battery. Headlights, wipers, the heat, the air conditioning, it all uses electricity, even just playing the radio. So how far you can actually go on a charge, it's going to vary."

(V/O)Recharge time is another important consideration. On a regular household 110-volt outlet - the Chevy Volt takes about 10 hours to recharge. With the Nissan Leaf's larger battery, you need about 16 hours. But federal tax incentives will cut that cost dramatically for many early adopters. Then, of course, there's the cost of the vehicle itself. The Chevy Volt retails for 41-thousand dollars. The Nissan Leaf, around 33-thousand-600. And there's a 75-hundred dollar federal tax credit available for both. (SOT: Jake Fisher) "Electric cars hold a lot of promise. Clearly two big pluses are the ability to reduce gasoline consumption and run cleaner cars. But there's a lot to consider before you know they're right for you."

(V/O) Need a sonogram for your pregnant dog? Or does your cat need major surgery? All that is possible, but it's very expensive. (SOT) "Veterinary medicine has essentially caught up with human medicine in technological advances. The problem is we don't often have health insurance the way humans do, and the costs are dramatic." (V/O) To see if pet insurance is worth the cost, Consumer Reports Money Adviser analyzed nine plans from the three biggest companies - V-P-I, A-S-P-C-A Pet Health Insurance, and 24 Petwatch QuickCare, as well as Trupanion, a newcomer. (SOT) "The pet insurance plans cost anywhere from ten to 90 dollars a month." (V/O) Consumer Reports used "Roxie," a ten-year-old beagle, as a "test" pet. She's been a healthy dog, in general, with lifetime veterinary bills totaling around six thousand dollars. (SOT: Mandy Walker) "With all of the plans, the insurance cost more than Roxie's medical care - from two to five thousand dollars more, depending on the coverage." (V/O) But what if a pet develops a serious disease and has big medical bills? (SOT: Mandy Walker) "If your pet does become ill, the insurance can pay off, but you have to check the plans carefully. There may be lots of restrictions." (V/O) Pet insurance may exclude pre-existing conditions or specific health problems for certain breeds. And check if there are maximum limits on what the company will pay out in a year or for a particular illness. (SOT: Mandy Walker) "If you do decide to get pet insurance, don't pay extra for wellness care that covers things like annual checkups. In our analysis with Roxie, it wasn't worth it."

PROGRAM SUMMARY: (V/O) Consumer Reports tester John Banta has an illuminating visitor in his home - the Cree C-R-6 L-E-D floodlight. It's the latest in lightbulb technology. (SOT: John Banta) "It's very similar to an incandescent bulb, but it doesn't get hot. It doesn't use as much energy." (V/O) Back in the labs, Consumer Reports testers have this bulb burning continuously. The new Cree says it will last a whopping 50-thousand hours! (SOT) "To reach 50-thousand hours - let's say you have the light on for six hours a day - that means this bulb would last for 22 years!" (V/O) In a first look at the Cree L-E-D lightbulb, Consumer Reports found it has some advantages over C-F-Ls. When you turn it on, the L-E-D brightens right away, but some C-F-Ls take a couple of minutes to fully illuminate. (SOT: Dan DiClerico) "And with this LED, colors under the light look similar to how they appear under a regular incandescent. But the downside with LEDs is their price. A single floodlight can cost 60 dollars." (V/O) But Consumer Reports tests show there are plenty of good-performing C-F-Ls that cost far less. Top-ratings went to some EcoSmart bulbs from Home Depot. (V/O) These EcoSmart floodlights cost 13 dollars for two. They're number 780-758. And these EcoSmart lamp bulbs cost six dollars for four. They're number 423-599. Consumer Reports' tests find they'll burn thousands of hours longer than incandescent bulbs.

(SOT: Amy Greenstein) "I pay off my bills immediately, 'cause I can't stand paying the extra interest." (V/O) A survey of Americans by the Consumer Reports National Research Center says the average credit card balance is down to about 38-hundred dollars - 11-hundred dollars lower than in 2009. But this doesn't mean people are happier with credit card companies. (SOT) "In fact, it's one of the lowest-rated services we've ever analyzed, right down there with computer tech support." (V/O) Federal reforms now require a mandatory 'minimum-payment warning' on all bills. It spells out the consequences of making only the minimum payment. In this case, a four-thousand dollar debt will take 24 years to pay off and end up costing more than eight-thousand dollars. (SOT: Greg Daugherty) "23 percent of the people we surveyed said it has encouraged them to pay off their balances quicker." (V/O) But Consumer Reports says there are still 'Credit Card Gotchas' as banks try to make up for lost revenue. (SOT) "Interest rates are the highest they've been in almost 10 years, and fees have also climbed." (V/O) First Premier Bank MasterCard is one of the worst offenders, charging as much as 59-point-9 percent interest. That's on top of a 75 dollar annual fee and a processing fee that can be as high as 95 dollars. But Consumer Reports has found two cards worth considering that don't charge any fees. They're the PenFed Promise Visa, which offers a 7-point-49 A-P-R for three years, and the Simmons First Visa Platinum, which offers a 7-point-25 variable A-P-R.

PRODUCT SET UP IS EASY â€” JUST ADD THE FILTER CARTRIDGE. POP ON THE WATER BOTTLE. THEN HIT THE START BUTTONâ€” {SOT} Press that-- oh whoa! THE COMPANY SAYS THAT AS THE TAP WATER CIRCULATES THROUGH THE SYSTEM IT INTERACTS WITH ELECTRICITY AND IS INFUSED WITH OZONE â€” CREATING AN EXTRA OXYGEN ATOM WHICH IS A NATURAL SANITIZER. BUT DOES IT WORK? VOLUNTEERS ETHAN AND EVAN TAKE BEFORE SAMPLES FROM AROUND THE FAMILY'S KITCHEN â€” {SOT} That counter! PLACES WHERE THEY ARE SURE TO FIND GERMS. (V/O) Fried turkey is a specialty at Aricka Westbrook's restaurant, and her customers rave about it. (SOT: Aricka Westbrook) "Fried turkey is nothing like roasted turkey. It's very juicy and moist. (VO) But frying a turkey can be potentially dangerous at home. This video from Underwriters Laboratories shows the danger of gas fryers. If the oil spills over, it can ignite. (V/O) Consumer Reports' Bernie Deitrick says electric turkey fryers are much safer. He tested a new one from Butterball that costs 117 dollars. You can use it right on your countertop. (NATSOT: Bubbling) (V/O) To test, Consumer Reports fried about a 12-pound turkey. Forty-eight minutes later, out came a nicely browned, juicy turkey. (SOT: Bernie Deitrick) "It's definitely faster than roasting. The turkey was great. The thighs were a little bit oily, but other than that it was delicious." (V/O) And cleanup was a breeze, too. A lid helps prevent spattered oil. And this drain makes it easy to empty out the oil. Electric fryers, like the Butterball, also come with features that make them safer to use. There's an oil "fill line" so you don't end up spilling a lot of hot oil when you put the turkey in. And a thermostat prevents oil from overheating. (V/O) Consumer Reports' take - the Butterball Turkey Fryer serves up a great tasting turkey quickly and safely.

(V/O) And while piping-hot, homemade mashed potatoes are most likely everyone's first choice, could store-bought ones do in a pinch? Consumer Reports' Erin Gudeux tested a dozen, including ones from Pillsbury, Hungry Jack, and Betty Crocker. (SOT: Erin Gudeux) "Our trained panelists tasted the potatoes not knowing which was which for two weeks to find the best." (V/O) There were seven of the dry, instant kind you add ingredients to, as well as three refrigerated ones and even two frozen mashed potatoes. (SOT: Erin Gudeux) "Several of the dry, instant potatoes were not great." (V/O) Of those, Whole Foods Original Instant Mashed Potatoes rated the lowest. (SOT: Erin Gudeux) "Testers said they were thin, soupy, and bland, and they even had a slight cardboard-like flavor." (V/O) But plenty of the store-bought mashed potatoes were pretty tasty. And testers found the best by far is Bob Evans Original refrigerated mashed potatoes. (SOT: Erin Gudeux) "They were creamy and flavorful and even had a black pepper kick." (V/O) And all you need to do is heat them and serve. Good to know, especially if your mashed potatoes don't turn out quite as good as Bodine Boling's.

(SOT) "You know, going on trips, we used to carry a separate suitcase between my husband and I of all the books we wanted to read. And he has a Kindle and I have a Kindle and it was just nothing." (V/O) Consumer Reports tested the Kindle, along with more than a dozen e-readers, including the Nook from Barnes and Noble. (V/O) Testers evaluated the ease of reading and downloading books, and how fast the pages turn. Most of the readers, including the Kindle and the Nook, use e-ink technology, which is only black and white. Others use a backlit LCD screen like a laptop. They can display color and, unlike e-ink, you won't need a light to read them in the dark. But they have a problem outdoors. (SOT: Rich Fisco) "I'd say that the color screens are almost impossible to read outdoors. On the other hand, the e-ink screens are almost like reading a real book." (V/O) In the end, Consumer Reports gave top-ratings to the 189-dollar 3G Kindle. (SOT: Paul Reynolds) "It's the best reader we've ever tested. The type is crisp and easy to read. The battery life is outstanding, as is the speed of the page turns." (V/O) But you can save money buying the 139-dollar Kindle, which is identical to the 3G Kindle except you can only download content via Wi-Fi. (SOT) "We also recommend the Barnes and Noble Nook. (V/O) Mike Sheehan's morning routine includes checking his blood pressure. (SOT: Mike Sheehan) "I got my blood-pressure monitor to keep me calm. Last year my blood pressure went sky high and it scared me." (V/O) Consumer Reports medical adviser Dr. John Santa says regular monitoring is an important part of treatment. (SOT) "Blood-pressure medications don't always work, so it's important to keep checking. And you can check your blood pressure more frequently at home." (V/O) Consumer Reports tested home blood-pressure monitors ranging in price from 30 dollars to more than 100. Testers compared the results to readings from a standard device - the kind found in a doctor's office. Some of the home monitors strap on the arm, while others wrap around the wrist. (SOT) "Wrist cuffs are small and convenient, but our tests showed they aren't as accurate as arm cuffs." (V/O) In all, Consumer Reports tested 13 home blood-pressure monitors - and named two of the arm-cuff monitors Best Buys. (V/O) The Microlife Deluxe Automatic for 40 dollars comes loaded with features - like the ability to store readings for two users and download results for easy sharing with your doctor. The second Best Buy - the 34 dollar ReliOn from Walmart - has fewer features, but is also very accurate. Both are choices you can count on to help keep your blood pressure in check.

PROGRAM SUMMARY: ( (TRACK 1) Allison McLaughlin had trouble getting pregnant so she tried invitro fertilization or I-V- F Two of her fertilized embryos were implanted back in her body. But she miscarried . Doctors then tried *3* embryos to increase her chances. (SOT Allison McLaughlin/IVF Patient) 1:22:45 we said ok this is it last shot, if this doesn't work we're going to adopt Nats with little boy (TRACK 2) She and her husband had a healthy baby boy named Sean. But in a new international study, researchers find *some * women may want to consider transferring one embryo at a time - even if it reduces the chance of getting pregnant. (SOT: Dr. Peter McGovern / Hackensack University Medical Center) The point that they make is - you can make up that difference by then using that embryo that you didn't transfer the first time in a later frozen embryo cycle (TRACK 3) The study found that women who transferred one embryo were 5 times more likely to carry a baby to full term than women who had two embryos implanted. Those babies were less likely to be premature or low birth weight. (BRIDGE Randall Pinkston/CBS News) Just how many embryos should be transferred BACK INTO THE MOTHER is a controversial subject. Many patients want more embryos transferred to increase their chances of getting pregnant, BUT THAT can RESULT IN a multiple pregnancy - which can be risky for mom and her babies. TRACK 4 Those risks include low birth weight and health complications. Dr. McGovern says IVF with a single embryo can become expensive if it needs to be repeated (SOT: Dr. Peter McGovern / Hackensack University Medical Center) they may not be able to afford many treatment cycles (track 5) That's why Allison and her husband decided not to do it again -happy to be a family of three. CONTROVERSY SURROUNDING THE BRAZILIAN BLOWOUT -- A POPULAR HAIR SMOOTHING TREATMENT -- HAS BLOWN UP RECENTLY. 13:36 I was a little worried about the things I was hearing LAWSUITS HAVE BEEN FILED AGAINST THE COMPANY ARGUING THAT ITS CLAIMS OF BEING "FORMALDEHYDE FREE" IS FALSE ADVERTISING AND THAT CONSUMERS WERE NOT WARNED OF POTENTIALLY DANGEROUS LEVELS OF FORMALDEHYDE. 4:02:14 I'm a very strong believer in the brazilian blowout 4:05:12

SALON OWNER NIKKIE ZAMISKIE REMAINS A BELIEVER.. EVEN AFTER OREGON'S OSHA GOT COMPLAINTS OF THINGS LIKE NOSE BLEEDS AND EYE
IRRITATION. 5:17 I've just not had a problem
OREGON'S OSHA TESTED THE PRODUCT AND FOUND THAT THE FORMALDEHYDE LEVELS WERE A PERMISSIBLE AMOUNT, THOUGH A SPOKESMAN SAYS THAT STILL DOESN'T MEAN IT'S SAFE. 6:22 what do you tell your clients when they come to you with these concerns, you know, what they've heard about the product 6:28 that the FDA has passed it, approved it, and that it does have something, a very form of formaldehyde, but it's so small, it's a derivative, and I just tell them that I'm backing what Brazilian says to me 6:42 A REPRESENTATIVE FROM THE COMPANY WAS IN TOWN TODAY FROM LOS ANGELES AND ALTHOUGH HE DECLINED TO GO ON CAMERA, HE SAYS
THE FORMALDEYDE THAT IS IN THE PRODUCT IS NOT ADDED -- IT'S NATURALLY OCCURRING. 4:05 so you use the product on yourself? absolutely, absolutely,
4:08 AND NIKKIE ZAMISKIE ISN'T ALONE
IN CONTINUING TO USE IT. NEWS
CHANNEL THREE CALLED TWO DOZEN
LOCAL HAIR SALONS. THE MAJORITY
SAID THEY OFFER THE TREATMENT AND WILL CONTINUE TO DO SO -- ONLY ONE SALON SAID THEY STOPPED USING THE PRODUCT AFTER LEARNING OF THE CONTROVERSY. my bottom line is that anything you're going to put on your hair to make it different is going to have some sort of chemical 5:43 you're not going to get red hair if your hair is blonde 5:45

(V/O) Patricia Szczczenia says three years ago on Thanksgiving she went to baste a ham that was roasting in a Pyrex dish. She was stunned at what happened next. (SOT: Patricia Szczczenia) "It exploded. I mean all over the kitchen. I mean, there were glass shards from wall to wall." (V/O) Pyrex says it can't confirm the kind of glassware Patricia was using because she didn't send the shards to the company. Consumer Reports' Andrea Rock investigated her case, along with 151 other incidents involving glass bakeware that have been reported to the Consumer Product Safety Commission. (SOT) "Pyrex has changed over the years. It used to be made of a type of glass called borosilicate. And so did Anchor Hocking bakeware. Now they're both made of a kind of glass called soda lime." (V/O) Consumer Reports tested both kinds of glass in its lab to see how they compare in extreme conditions likely to cause breakage. The tests included brand new 13-by-9-inch bakeware from Pyrex and Anchor Hocking. Also in the tests - European-made Pyrex and Arcuisine Elegance, both made of borosilicate. All have warnings to avoid extreme temperature changes, and packaging on the American-made products contain a lot more cautions in small print. (SOT: Andrea Rock) "Our test was contrary to the instructions, but we set the bar high because people may not be aware of the instructions, and dishes that are scratched or damaged may be more susceptible to shattering." (V/O) In Consumer Reports' very tough lab tests, the glassware was filled with dry sand, which gets far hotter than food. It was put in a 450-degree oven for 80 minutes, then placed on a wet granite countertop - something you're not supposed to do. (NATSOT: Break) (V/O) Ten out of ten times the soda lime glass broke. (NATSOT: Break) (V/O) But in the same conditions, the European glassware did not break, though most did after baking at 500 degrees. The American manufacturers say soda lime glass has advantages and is less likely to break when dropped or bumped. (SOT: Andrea Rock) "Our advice is follow directions carefully." (V/O) And use metal pans, if you want to avoid risk entirely.

ALSO LAST MONTH, VIRGINIA'S DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION RECEIVED AN UNSOLICITATED PROPOSAL TO WIDEN 64 FROM TWO TO FOUR LANES IN BOTH DIRECTIONS. AND THAT WOULD COME WITH AN UP TO SIX DOLLAR TOLL. With all the studies and no action, THE ENSUING INDECISION IS COSTING MILLIONS. [TAKE SOT NAME: farmer OUTCUE: "...."
