PLEASE NOTE: regarding the late submission for this 1st quarter issues and programs list, during this past school year I had a student administrative assistant who was assigned the task of compiling of the list and for the uploading to the public file. I did not notice until today, 7/10/2023, as I loaded the 2nd quarter list that our 1st quarter list was missing. My apologies and regret for not catching this sooner but I'm uploading this now, so we may continue to be complete in our lists, and I will no longer assign this task to a student helper. Thank you.

"1.. Navalny - Director Daniel Roher

Director Daniel Roher explores the life and work of Russian opposition leader Alexei Navalny, who, after years of campaigning against corruption, has developed powerful enemies – including President Vladimir Putin. In August 2020, Navalny was secretly poisoned with a military-grade chemical nerve agent in a shockingly brazen attempt on his life. Beyond his staff and his loyal family, Navalny ends up being secretly surrounded by a small group of investigative journalists including Bulgarian Christo Grozev with Bellingcat and Russian Maria Pevchikh with the Anti-Corruption Foundation who knew that the state would not investigate the poisoning. What to do with their findings culminates with Navalny's highly publicized return to Moscow on January 17, 2021. After being transferred to Germany for medical attention, a recovering Navalny worked closely with international news organizations Bellingcat and CNN to investigate the crime, ultimately linking the poison to Russian security services, despite denials from the Kremlin. Eye-opening and revelatory, NAVALNY chronicles the politician and activist's brave stand against the government that tried to silence him – and his never-ending fight for democracy. Director Daniel Roher (Once We Were Brothers) stops by to talk about the 2023 Oscar nomination for Best Documentary Feature, what he did and did not know about Navalny, Vladimir Putin, Russian politics, gaining the trust of Alexei's inner circle, and his personal reaction to some of the mind-boggling events that unfolded in front of his camera.

2. Linoleum - Director Colin West

Cameron Edwin (Jim Gaffigan), the host of a failing children's science TV show called "Above & Beyond", has always had aspirations of being an astronaut. After a satellite falls from orbit and crashes into the suburban home of a dysfunctional family in Ohio, the father seizes the opportunity to fulfill his dream of becoming an astronaut by re-building it into his own rocket ship. While his wife and daughter believe he's experiencing a midlife crisis, his relationship with his wife (Rhea Seehorn) and daughter (Katelyn Nacon) start to strain. A series of surreal events begin unfolding around him -- a doppelgänger moving into the house next door, a car falling from the sky, and an unusual teenage boy forging a friendship with him. As Cameron slowly starts to piece these events together to ultimately reveal that there's more to his life story than he once thought and forcing him to reconsider how interconnected their lives truly are. Director and writer Colin West joins us for a conversation on the inspiration for Linoleum, pulling together a wonderful cast that included, Michael Ina Black, Amy Hargreaves, and Tony Shalhoub, how comedian / actor Jim Gaffigan became the lead in this whimsical and poignant tale about taking chances and living without regret.

3. The Elephant Whisperers - Director Kartiki Gonsalves

Kartiki Gonsalves' enthralling and beguiling 2023 Oscar nominated documentary short, THE ELEPHANT WHISPERERS, follows an indigenous couple, Bomman and Bellie, as they fall in love with Raghu, an orphaned elephant given into their care, and tirelessly work to ensure his survival. The film highlights the beauty of the wild spaces of South India, and the oldest wild elephant reserve in Asia, Theppakadu Elephant Camp, as well as the people and animals who share this space. THE ELEPHANT WHISPERERS marks the directorial debut of Kartiki Gonsalves, a prolific wildlife and social documentary photographer, photojournalist and cinematographer. Raised in the Nilgiris Mountains of southern India where was filmed. THE ELEPHANT WHISPERERS director, co-writer and cinematographer Kartiki Gonsalves stops by to talk about returning to this stunningly beautiful region, meeting and spending time with Bomman, Bellie, Raghu and Ammu as well as forging what she describes as an "unbreakable bond" with these elephants."

1- kuci_2023-02-23_16 I don't generally title my shows because the topics are very right brained coalitions. This show wound around Woody Guthrie the original punk and protest songwriter. We spoke of things on the road like big rig 18 wheelers and what you should know about them. Touched on Mental illness with Larry "Wild Man" Fisher because woody was afflicted by alcoholism.

2. kuci_2023-03-02_16 Sociological/spiritual sonnet. Starts with conversation with the link between Beats and the Hippies (Allen Ginsburg and Neal Cassidy) Dada uses a lot of nonsense, chaotic setups and seemingly unrelated topics. To tell the truth television show with Blues artist Paul Butterfield. Use of television documentary on Elvis in particular the Martin Sheen portion. Portions of the film Apocalypse now. Sollileque on contemporary history.

3-kuci_2023-03-09_16 Show for the winter solstice. How Dark is it and reassure everyone that it is a seasonal occurrence and the light shall return. Advantage emotional and spiritual to seeking and exploring because some thing you can only find in the dark. Digresses with 1959 recording by Del Close and John Breen called How to speak hip. Discussion of technique to banish guilt and shame that other people offload on you, using bells to pray and meditate on the nature of the moment. Patti smith interview with Tom Snyder on taking risk because "It's hard to navigate in the dark." The art community recognized the dark times that fell on the world after WWi. Punk as social movement and definition of terms, offering artists virtually invisible to the music industry to use the philosophy of Do it Yourself to shine light on their work and performances. Mojo Nixon with the darkest thing we face today, the nuclear bomb. Some of the shows are very dense.

Duration: 30 minutes

Wednesdays from 8:30 am to 9:00 am

"1. Wednesday, February 8, 2023: Learning New Languages - Featuring Michele Frolla, award-winning language educator. This episode dives deep into the process of learning a new language and the accompanying benefits. It also includes how historical contexts have influenced languages, scientific aspects, and the diverse ways people can learn a new language.

2. Wednesday, February 22, 2023: Promoting Awareness and Positive Social Change Through Music - Featuring Prof. Christiane Karam. This episode learns about how music ties into social awareness, by featuring an award-winning songwriter, film composer, educator, and author. It also covers how music can be utilized for advocacy and healing surrounding global challenges.

3. Wednesday, March 15, 2023: Educational Reform Advocacy - Featuring Ms. Komal Shah. This episode gains insight into thought-provoking educational reform topics such as STEAM, standardized testing, and the correlated impact on student wellness. It also better understands how students and instructors have been traditionally assessed on their growth and performance. Additionally, it reveals suggestions to further promote educational advocacy, including at the individual level. Furthermore, this episode is especially relatable to the UCI community also because Ms. Shah is a UCI alumna, educational reform advocate, and consultant. Her UCI experience is included in the episode to be further engaging.
