PROGRAM SUMMARY:

THE NORFOLK POLICE CAPTAIN WHO OVERSAW THE TRAINING ENDED IN THE DEATH OF A POLICE RECRUIT SHOWED UP AT CITY COUNCIL ANGRY TODAY. BUT HE LEFT WITHOUT ADDRESSING COUNCIL MEMBERS. HE

DID HOWEVER HAVE A SERIES OF ODD EXCHANGES WITH CITY OFFICIALS. The man in the hallway, waving his hands and with his back to the camera, is Paul Galligan. He was the supervisor of training when a series of head punches ended the life of 40-year-old recruit John Kohn. Former police chief Bruce Marquis lost his job in the fallout, accused of not being fully truthful with the City Council and the public. But now some on council are asking whether the blame should go deeper, to Galligan, and to the woman who is now the acting police chief, Sharon Chamberlin. Galligan, not in uniform, showed up apparently angry. I asked him, Captain, what brings you here today. His gruff reply: None of your business. I asked him if I had personally offended him with any of my stories. His answer: I don't talk to the press. I don't take any of this personally. Moments later, the city attorney addressed him. Paul, how are you, the attorney asked. Galligan replied: I've been worse, and I've been better. That's when assistant city manager Stanley Stein took Galligan into the hall for this conversation. If Galligan came to address the city council today, he didn't get the chance. Councilman Paul Riddick, one of two members calling for punishment for other ranking police officers, asked to air his concerns in private. 34:01 The issue I am speaking of, I just don't believe we can let it go away. And personally, I thought it would be closed session because it's a personnel issue. [TAKE VO]{VO} Mayor Paul Fraim asked if he wanted to make a general statement in public. Riddick said no. He wanted to talk about a specific employee -- Sharon Chamberlin -- and asked for a private council session. The council met in private, and Galligan headed for the elevators.

PROGRAM SUMMARY:

• - a report on programs created by faith communities to assist people with their job searches and job retraining. The programs are free of charge, conducted by experienced professionals, and most do not require job seekers to be members of the church or religion. This special focuses on four programs: 1) New York City's Riverside Church offers a free six-week barber training program, taught by master barber Dennis F. Thomas, who since 1997 has trained nearly 2,000 people in the basics of barbering. 2) In Chicago, St. Chrysostom's Episcopal Church offers workshops and monthly meetings through their Employment Council, and the Career Transitions Center of Chicago (CTC) offers professional, spiritual, and emotional support to those looking for work or undergoing a career transition. 3) St. James, a Roman Catholic Parish in Stratford, CT offers jobless support groups that help bolster job seekers with new skills, as well as insights as to what employers are seeking today. Includes comments from: Reverend Paul Sherry, Interfaith Worker Justice; Patrick Carolan, Executive Director, Franciscan Action Network; Debra Northern, Director of Social Services, The Riverside Church, NY; Anita Jenke, Executive Director, Career Transitions Center of Chicago; David Kaiser, volunteer career coach, Career Transitions Center of Chicago; Reverend Larry Green, St. Chrysostom's Episcopal Church; Michel Cade, Program Director, St. Chrysostom's Council Employment. (Narrator: Ted Holmes. Producer & Writer: Elizabeth Kineke. Associate Producer: Kathleen Fieffe. Executive Producer & Director: John P. Blessington. Produced in consultation with: National Council of Churches; United States Conference of Catholic Bishops; The Islamic Society of North America; Union for Reform Judaism; New York Board of Rabbis.)

And then begin the process to wheel it out to the flight pad it can only move about 2 to 3 miles an hour.) (AUDIO) only news channel 3 is showing you that flight pad--at nasa wallops....under construction by mid-atlantic region spaceport. [TAKE SOT

But if the rocket goes out of control and becomes a safety issue---the person at the control has the authority to take action. Here is the video the defense wanted kept away from the jury. It was captured by an HRT bus on the way back to the garage. (up full). Take a look again. It shows Richard Freeman's car speeding through a curve on Granby Street, perhaps as fast as 80 miles an hour. The BMW bounces over the curb, goes airborne, and the smashes into a tree. Cameron Richardson died in the passenger seat. Lauren Kok died hours later at the hospital. Tom Jaskel suffered permanent brain damage and paralysis. Freeman, the driver, needed stitches. He is charged with killing and maiming while driving drunk. But on the stand today, Freeman would not concede the car in the video was his. This video was rushed into the manslaughter trial because Norfolk police didn't know about it until the bus driver mentioned it in the middle of testimony. The prosecutor says it shows a drunk driver out of control, without any regard for the safety of his passengers. The defense says it shows a car out of control because a passenger in the back punched Freeman in the head. Not long after the jury saw this video, they heard from a pair of employees at the Red Dog Saloon on Colley Avenue, the place where Freeman met some strangers and offered them rides home. The waitress and the bartender both testified they know Freeman well, and he did not appear intoxicated. A blood test later showed his alcohol level was at least point one-zero, over the legal limit.

it's the season FOR political ACTIVITY -- and ONE OF THE CANDIDATES RUNNING FOR SENATOR JIM WEBB'S SEAT IN 2012 UNVEILED HIS PLAN TO HELP THE NATION'S ECONOMY. REPUBLICAN GEORGE ALLEN CALLS HIS PLAN THE "BLUEPRINT FOR AMERICA'S COMEBACK." ALLEN REVEALED HIS PLAN IN RICHMOND TODAY. HE SAYS ONE KEY TO HELPING THE ECONOMY IS REDUCE THE TAX ON CORPORATIONS FROM 35-PERCENT TO 20-PERCENT. HE SAYS BETTER ENERGY POLICY WILL CREATE JOBS AND GENERATE MORE REVENUE WITHOUT RAISING TAXES. AND HE SAYS THE GOVERNMENT NEEDS TO SPEND LESS. DEMOCRAT TIM KAINE SAYS ALLEN'S SPENDING CUTS COMES AT PRICE OF MEDICARE. Let the sparring begin-- IN A WRITTEN STATEMENT, KAINE'S SPOKESMAN SAYS ALLEN, QUOTE, "PRAISES A PLAN THAT WOULD EFFECTIVELY END MEDICARE AS WE KNOW IT AND PROMISES FISCAL CONSERVATISM DESPITE A RECORD THAT SHOWS ANYTHING BUT." BUT ALLEN SAYS MEDICARE WILL BE IN JEOPARDY UNLESS SOMETHING CHANGES. OF COURSE KAINE SAYS THERE ARE MANY OTHER PROBLEMS WITH ALLEN'S PLAN AND RECORD. HE SAYS THE ECONOMY COLLAPSED BECAUSE OF POLICIES ALLEN VOTED FOR WHEN HE WAS IN THE SENATE BEFORE JIM WEBB. And to think they are just warming up.

A business owner accused of stealing cars turns himself in to police following a NewsChannel 3 investigation. 10:03 Hey guys. Do you work here? No comment. [TAKE VO]{VO} These workers at Chino's Auto Repair wouldn't identify themselves when we found them Friday, working on cars in a building that's supposed to be shut down. 10:13 Clean up crew. You're a cleanup crew? You were in there working. Anything you want to say? [TAKE VO]{VO} But instead of explaining themselves, the driver hit the gas. The business is owned by this man, Anthony Clayton Bates. Police search warrants described him as the ringleader in an car-theft operation that used tow trucks to snatch cars. This morning, police confirmed Bates turned himself in to the Norfolk Police Department. [TAKE: GFX:]{GFX} Court records show Bates has a history of felonies for distributing cocaine and marijuana, along with misdemeanors for marijuana possession, and probation violations. [TAKE VO]{VO} At his Virginia Beach house, according to a search warrant, police found a quarter-pound of pot and a handgun. The investigation into Chinos involved detectives and agents from several cities and agencies. All declined to talk on-camera today about the investigation. But police sources gave a general outline of how the operation worked: [TAKE: GFX:]{GFX} Tow trucks stole cars disabled on interstates, parked in parking lots, even parked in neighborhoods. In most cases, workers altered the cars' identification numbers. Metal recyclers shredded the cars, making it sometimes impossible to identify the stolen cars. [TAKE VO]{VO} Police sources told NewsChannel 3 workers for Chinos turned in more than 50 cars to local scrap yards. In almost all the cases, the ID numbers were changed.

10:07 Why are you guys still in the business if it's been closed up. Clean up crew, no comment. [TAKE VO]{VO} Workers at Chino's Auto Repair didn't want to tell us anything about the business when we confronted them last week. But today, a task force of local investigators detailed how employees here used tow trucks to efficiently snatch cars from parking lots and neighborhoods. (22:08) Just terrorizing the citizens of Virginia Beach to begin with. [TAKE VO]{VO} Beach Sergeant Dave Ford said he started noticing odd patterns in car thefts, called some neighboring police departments, and found they'd seen the same thing. 24:55 When we sat down in that meeting and started sharing names and suspects, everything that's going on with the cases, it really opened our eyes that we stumbled into something that's not just a local, couple-city issue, it's the whole eastern seaboard. [TAKE VO]{VO} They formed a task force and soon centered on Anthony Bates, owner of Chinos Auto repair. Police said in a little over a month, Bates and his workers netted $43,000 from scrap yards. Each car brought in between $400 and $800. Ford said the thieves made lots of money, often by preying on poor car owners, like a struggling father who just bought a used car for his son. 32:10 He didn't have it registered, didn't have insurance. He bought it for his son's high school graduation. He took the vehicle on Sunday night to a repair shop. Monday morning, it was at a recycling center, destroyed. When I talked to the man on the phone, he didn't have two nickels to rub together. I felt really bad for him because he had to scraped bottom to surprise his son with the car for graduation.

DATE AIRED: 04-09-2011

TIME AND DURATION: 10:00PM - ONE HOUR

PROGRAM SUMMARY: 48 HOURS MYSTERY - Name, Rank and Serial Killer? • - a report on Colonel Russell Williams, a highly-regarded Canadian military officer, and a crime spree that began with a series of bizarre thefts of lingerie and ultimately led to the discovery that he was a serial killer. In 2007, a series of crimes occurred in and around the town of Tweed, Ontario, where Col. Williams lived. In 2009, Laurie Massicotte, one of Williams's neighbors, was sexually terrorized in her home. Shortly afterwards, Marie France Comeau, a corporal at Trenton

Airbase, where Williams was stationed, was beaten, raped, and suffocated to death. There were no leads in either case. Two months later, Jessica Lloyd went missing in the nearby town of Belleville, and authorities discovered their first solid clues: tire tracks and boot prints. In 2010, Col. Williams was stopped at a random roadblock. Police noticed his tire tracks matched the ones found near Jessica Lloyd's home. He was brought in for questioning and the ensuing battle of wits between the colonel and Det. Sergeant Jim Smith, the police interrogator from the Ontario Provincial Police, would uncover the details of his chilling double life. After nine hours of interrogation, he confessed, and told police where they could find videos of the crimes. The most surprising evidence however, were the trophies Williams kept to commemorate his crimes: thousands of underpants, bras and camisoles, found in his garage, and photos of him modeling the items. Authorities also found child pornography on his computer. In a deal that almost fell apart over the pornography issue, Williams pleaded guilty to the murders of Comeau and Lloyd, to two sexual assaults and to eighty-two counts of breaking and entering -- the bizarre underwear thefts that started it all. The judge sentenced him to the maximum, life behind bars, which he is serving at the penitentiary in Kingston, Ontario. Although the Canadian government stripped Williams of his rank, burned his uniform and crushed his car, he got to keep his air force pension. Concluding onscreen graphic: Laurie Massicotte is planning to sue the Ontario police for failing to protect her from Russell Williams. Interviewed: Laurie Massicotte, Anne Marsand Cook, victims; Tim Appleby, crime reporter who is writing a book about Williams; Angus Watt, retired general; Paul Ciolino, 48 HOURS consultant; Andy Lloyd, brother of Jessica Lloyd; Jeff Farquhar, college roommate; Alain Plante, ex-boyfriend of Marie France Comeau. • The Untold Story of Caylee Anthony • (OAD: 10/17/09). Caylee Anthony was a 2-year-old who went missing in 2008, only to be found dead six months later near her grandparents home in Orlando, Florida, where she resided with her 22-year-old mother Casey Anthony. Now, as the trial is about to begin, 48 HOURS takes an inside look at her defense. Her attorneys, Jose Baez and Cheney Mason, discuss issues regarding her defense. Their team also consists of forensic expert Larry Kobilinsky and entomologist Tim Huntington who say there is not enough forensic evidence to prove Casey's guilt, and even express doubts as to whether Caylee was actually murdered. Noted forensic anthropologist and novelist Kathy Reichs is also a defense expert who speaks about the case. Jury consultant Richard Gabriel says the most difficult aspect of the case will be finding Florida residents who are impartial because of all the attention the case has garnered: many are convinced that Casey Anthony was responsible for her daughter's death. Florida attorney general Pam Bondi, a former prosecutor herself, speaks about the prosecution, and is convinced the state has enough evidence for a conviction. There also has been speculation that the defense will try to pin the murder on Casey's father, George Anthony. Also interviewed are forensic expert and former member of the defense team, Linda Kenney Baden who comments on this; and fiancé-turned-friend Jesse Grund.

Includes previously seen interviews with Cindy and George Anthony, parents of Casey Anthony. Concluding onscreen graphic: Opening arguments in the trial are expected to begin May 17. The judge has the right to have jurors consider a lesser charge than first-degree murder. (C: Troy Roberts - P: Ira Sutow, Jonathan Leach, Gail Abbott Zimmerman)

PROGRAM SUMMARY: "Grave Injustice" • - a report on the case of Anthony Graves, who spent eighteen years -- twelve of them on death row -- in a Texas prison for murders he did not commit. In 1992, the Davis family, four of them young children, were found bludgeoned, shot and stabbed to death, in the charred remains of the family home in Somerville, Texas. Texas Rangers quickly zeroed in on Robert Carter: father of the youngest victim, 4-year-old Jason, he was recently served with papers for child support and Rangers believed he wanted his boy dead. Carter eventually admitted that he was at the crime scene, but said that another man, Anthony Graves, committed the murders. There was little to connect Graves to Carter or to the Davis family, but justice was swift, and Anthony Graves was convicted of six counts of capital murder and sentenced to death. He always proclaimed his innocence. Carter was also convicted. In 2000, while in the death chamber, Robert Carter took sole responsibility for the murders. In fact, he had been saying much the same for years. Then in 2002, the case caught the eye of Professor Nicole Casarez and her journalism students. After a four-year investigation, the students concluded that Anthony Graves was a innocent man. Texas Monthly editor Pam Coloff, who herself spent months investigating the case, reached the same conclusion. The students turned their findings over to Graves's attorneys, helping to trigger a chain of legal maneuvers that, in 2010, freed him from prison. Now, he is fighting to get compensation for his wrongful incarceration. Concluding onscreen text graphic: Due to a technicality in the wording on his release papers, Texas is refusing to compensate Anthony Graves. Otherwise, he would be entitled to $1.4 million for wrongful incarceration. Includes interviews with Anthony Graves; Nicole Casarez, professor, University of St. Thomas, Houston; Pam Coloff, Texas Monthly editor; Charles Sebesta (District Attorney); Kelly Siegler (District Attorney); Meghan Bingham (student); Arthur Curry (Graves's brother); Katherine Scardino (attorney); Jimmy Phillips (attorney); Roy Rueter (Graves's friend); Otto Hanak (investigator). PROGRAM SUMMARY:

48 HOURS MYSTERY - "Last Chance for Justice" • - a report on the investigation into the 1980 murder of Marilyn McIntyre, who was found dead in her Columbus, Wisconsin home. Her husband, Lane McIntyre, had returned home from work that morning and found her body. As police checked into his alibi, he named his friend Curt Forbes as a potential suspect. The investigation found that Forbes was out that night trying to pick up women and even showed up at his girlfriend Debby Attleson's home at 4 am, but everything was circumstantial. Forbes abruptly left town. Suspicion shifted back to Lane because he had taken out a life insurance policy less than a week before Marilyn's death. Neither man was arrested and the investigation came to a halt. Forbes married Debby Attleson. The case went unsolved for thirty years, until Marilyn's niece -- upset because her mother, Carolyn Rahn (Marilyn's twin sister) was distraught and could not get over the murder -- decided to call the Columbus Police Department. Instead, she accidentally contacted the Columbia County Sheriff's Department, who were unaware of an unsolved murder in their county and decided to launch an investigation. In 2007, the case was reopened. Blood and hair samples taken in 1980 were sent to the Wisconsin State Crime Lab for DNA testing. Lane McIntyre was not a match for the DNA evidence, but when police examined a sample from Curt Forbes, he was then listed as a possible contributor. Detectives spent the next two years sorting through evidence and re-interviewing witnesses. Curt's wife Debby now admitted that she saw blood on his shirt on the night of the murder. Curt was then arrested for Marilyn's murder and in November, 2010, the trial began. He was found guilty of first-degree murder and sentenced to life in prison. Concluding onscreen text graphic: Curt Forbes will be eligible for parole in 2020. Debby Forbes divorced Curt after his sentencing. She is now engaged to someone else. Included interviews with: Lane McIntyre and Chris McIntyre (Marilyn's husband and grown son); Carolyn Rahn (sister); Terra Doucette (niece); Brenda Daniels (sister); Debby Attleson Forbes (wife of Curt Forbes); Lee Erdmann (former Police Chief); Det. Lt. Wayne Smith (Columbia County Sheriff); Lori Heft (former girlfriend of Forbes); Betty Klentz (neighbor); David Wambach (Assistant Attorney General); Mike Forbes (brother of Curt Forbes). 48 HOURS MYSTERY: • The Facebook Detectives • - A report about three Texas housewives, Tammy Markle, Joni Shannon and Tina Wiley, who call themselves the "Facebook Detectives" and who used the Internet to try to find their friend Lisa Stone, who disappeared from her Dallas home in June 2010. The four women had been friends in high school, but now kept in touch with each other via Facebook. Lisa posted every day, and her friends became worried when she abruptly stopped posting in June 2010. They confronted Lisa's former life partner Sherry Henry, who said that Lisa was out of town. That is also what she told the police. The three friends did not believe her and feared for Lisa's safety. They formed a Facebook page dedicated to finding Lisa. One evening when Joni Shannon was going back to question Sherry Henry, she realized that Sherry was in the car next to hers and she followed her. Sherry pulled in to a 7-11 parking lot, took things out of her car and put them into a dumpster. When Sherry left, Joni examined the dumpster and found personal items which had belonged to Lisa, including her birth certificate. When the women brought this new information to the attention of the police, they agreed to take another look at the case. The police confronted Sherry Henry, who still insisted that she did not know where Lisa was. She said that Lisa had financial problems and was dependent on medication for depression. Sherry claimed she was also using cocaine. Sherry said Lisa often went off for a few days, and that is why she didn't file a missing persons report. Homicide detective Jim Gallagher believes that Lisa Stone is dead. He feels that Sherry Henry is a person of interest in the case, but does not have enough evidence against her. Sherry Henry insists she is innocent and does not know where Lisa is. Lisa's friends are continuing their investigation on Facebook. PROGRAM SUMMARY:

48 HOURS - "The Boy Next Door" • - a report on the hunt for a serial killer suspected of murdering three young women from Los Angeles, California to Chicago, Illinois. In 2001, Los Angeles resident Ashley Ellerin was planning to attend a Grammy party with actor Ashton Kutcher. When Kutcher arrived at her home, she never answered the door; it turned out that she had been brutally stabbed to death the night before. Her friends directed the police to Michael Gargiulo, a former boxer and aspiring actor who was working as a repairman -- friends said that he was oddly fixated with her. In the course of the police investigation, the police learned Gargiulo was being investigated for another crime -- the unsolved murder of Tricia Paccaccio, who had lived in Gargiulo's former Glenview, Illinois neighborhood. Due to lack of evidence, he had never been charged, and he left for California. Five years after the Ellerin murder, another woman, Maria Bruno, was found dead just steps away from the apartment where Gargiulo lived. In that case, detectives found a blue cotton boot, with a drop of Maria's blood on the bottom. In 2008, a Santa Monica woman was attacked, but survived. Blood evidence and DNA (which had been filed in the National Database by Cook County Illinois authorities) led investigators to Michael Gargiulo, who was living just across the alley from where the woman was attacked. Police arrested Gargiulo and the investigation led to a connection to all of the cases involving the several young women. Gargiulo insists he is innocent. Onscreen text graphic: Michael Gargiulo is scheduled to stand trial for the murders of Ashley Ellerin and Maria Bruno in California in 2012. If convicted, he will face the death penalty. Interviewed: Rick, Diane and Doug Paccaccio, Tricia's father, mother and brother; Karen Jones, friend of Tricia's; Ray Salihovich, Illinois police officer; Justin Peterson, Chris Duran and Jennifer Disisto, friends of Ashley Ellerin; Tom Small, Los Angeles Police Department homicide detective;

Temple Brown, Los Angeles filmmaker; Scott Olsen, friend of Michael Gargiulo; Jack Reed and Mark Baldwin, Cook County sheriff's detectives; Mark Lillienfeld, homicide detective with the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department; Richard Lewis, Santa Monica Police Sergeant; Jack Blakey, head of cold case prosecutions for the Cook County state attorney. 48 HOURS MYSTERY: • - On September 4, 2006, Kathy Wangler, wife of anesthesiologist Dr. Mark Wangler, died from carbon monoxide poisoning in their home in Lima, Ohio. Their thirty-year marriage had been falling apart; three years later, in 2009, investigators came to the conclusion that Dr. Wangler had murdered his wife. They did not believe his story that the death was caused due to a faulty water heater. On the night in question, Mark was sleeping downstairs with the window open and had a fan blowing. Fourteen months after Kathy's death, Mark had gotten remarried to Esther Erkman, a woman he met at church. Esther, along with Mark and Kathy's two sons, believed him to be innocent. Kathy's mother and sisters felt that since Mark was familiar with gasses that he was able to plan and execute the perfect murder. Mark was arrested and the case was brought to trial. The jury found him guilty of aggravated murder and he was sentenced to life in prison. Onscreen text graphics: Mark Wangler will be eligible for parole in twenty-five years. He will be eighty years old. Kathy's $600,000 life insurance policy was split between her two sons. Her mother plans to file a wrongful death suit against Mark Wangler. PROGRAM SUMMARY:

48 HOURS MYSTERY - Follow the Money • - a second update to Blood and Money • (OAD: 11/18/06, updated 07/14/07). In April 2006, Andrew Kissel, a real estate mogul who had embezzled more than $40 million, was found tied up and stabbed to death in the basement of his Greenwich, Connecticut mansion, just days before he was to plead guilty for his crimes. He was said to have never recovered from the Hong Kong murder of his brother Robert (in a case which was dubbed the "Milkshake Murder" •). Andrew began spending lots of money -- money that wasn't his. He stole millions before he was arrested and charged with bank fraud. Nearly two years after his death, his driver and confidant, Carlos Trujillo, was arrested for the crime. In November 2010, Trujillo went on trial for murder and attempted murder. Trujillo had been the last person to see Andrew Kissel alive, but police had no viable case against him, until Trujillo's own cousin, petty thief Lenny Trujillo, came forward. Lenny said he helped Carlos plan the murder. The motive was that after federal authorities froze Kissel's assets, members of the Trujillo family had been enlisted by Kissel to help launder money; but in the process, $200,000 of Kissel's money disappeared, and Kissel was about to turn Trujillo in. After a ten-day trial, with Lenny as the star witness against Carlos, Carlos was found not guilty of murder and the jury was deadlocked on the charge of attempted murder. Authorities planned to re-try him, but three months after being found not guilty, Carlos Trujillo pleaded guilty to attempted murder. He still maintained his innocence, and claimed that a plea bargain was a practical decision in order to get credit for time already served. Authorities are satisfied, although they believe that they will truly never really know what really happened to Andrew Kissel. Onscreen text graphics: After serving his six year sentence, Carlos Trujillo will be deported to Colombia. Interviewed: Steven Garfinkel, retired FBI special investigator; Philip Russell, Andrew Kissel's attorney; Pasquale Iorfino, Greenwich Police Detective; Carlos Trujillo; Carol Horton, Danny Williams, Frank Shea, Trudy Samra, friends of the Kissels; Brian Howie, producer of a play that Andrew invested in; Andrew Wong, journalist who covered the story of Robert Kissel's murder for The Standard in Hong Kong; Andrew Tanzer, journalist and neighbor of Robert; Peter Chamberlain, board member in a luxury high rise where Andrew was the building's treasurer; Nancy Walkley, title search attorney; Vito Colucci, private investigator; Lindy Urso, defense attorney for Carlos Trujillo; Paul Ferencek, prosecutor; Mark Sherman, defense attorney for Lenny Trujillo. PROGRAM SUMMARY:

48 HOURS MYSTERY: The Whole Truth • - a report on the 26-year effort of Bruce Lisker to overturn his conviction for the 1983 murder of his mother. In March 1983, 17-year-old Bruce Lisker hysterically called 911 to tell Los Angeles police that he had found his mother, Dorka Lisker, beaten severely and stabbed in her Sherman Oaks home. Police arrived to find him hysterical and on drugs. They arrested him, and a young detective, Andrew Monsue, proceeded to build a case against Bruce. Bruce's father believed that his son was innocent, and urged police to investigate Bruce's friend Mike Ryan, a 15-year-old with a criminal record, who had gone to the house to see Bruce's mother the day before. But Monsue focused on Bruce, and presented what he maintained was evidence that Bruce was guilty. Bruce was tried as an adult; the jury found him guilty and he was sentenced to 16 years to life. In 1999, Bruce, still in prison, hired ex-cop-turned-private-investigator Paul Ingels to help him overturn his conviction. With the aid of then-Sgt. Jim Gavin of the Los Angeles Police Department, Ingels discovered that the evidence against Bruce had apparently been fabricated. Ingels and Gavin gave their findings to the LA Times, and on May 22, 2005, the newspaper ran an article questioning the evidence that had put Lisker behind bars. Two months later, a federal judge granted a hearing to consider new evidence in the case. Four years passed, and in August 2009 a federal judge ruled that Lisker had been convicted on false evidence and must be retried or set free. On August 17, 2009, he was set free on bail. Six weeks later, he went back to court, at which time the prosecutor said that too much time has passed to retry the case and they had no choice but to dismiss the charges. One year later, the state asked the court to return Lisker to prison based on a technicality arguing that Lisker was late filing his petition for release. A judge rejected that motion. Concluding onscreen graphics: Bruce Lisker remains free...for now. Update: Concluding onscreen text graphics for the 05/28/11 rebroadcast: On August 13, 2011, the second anniversary of his release, Bruce Lisker is getting married. Paul Ingels will be his best man. PROGRAM SUMMARY:

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "My Mother's Murder" • - On the morning of June 5, 2005, Noura Jackson, a teenager, called the police to report that she had discovered the body of her mother, Jennifer Jackson, in their Memphis, Tennessee home. Jennifer, a 39-year-old divorced single parent, was a successful bond trader, who provided Noura with a generous lifestyle. Due to the brutality of her murder, police initially considered a possible link between Jennifer's death and the unsolved shooting death of her estranged husband, Nazmi Hassanieh, seventeen months prior; they also focused on Jennifer's ex-boyfriend, Mark Irvin, a minister, who had an alibi. Although there was a lack of physical evidence at the crime scene, Noura's conflicting accounts of her activities in the hours before she called 911, a gap in her cell phone usage, and an early morning trip to Walgreen's to purchase first aid supplies for a cut on her hand, caused police to focus on her as a suspect. While none of the DNA at the crime scene matched Noura's, she was eventually charged with her mother's murder. Four years later, at her trial, prosecutors alleged that the seemingly good relationship between mother and daughter was strained due to Jennifer's criticism of Noura's hard-partying lifestyle and charged that this was the motive for the crime. The jury found Noura guilty of second-degree murder -- she still maintains her innocence. Onscreen graphics: Noura Jackson was sentenced to 20 years in prison. She will be 39 years old when released -- the same age her mother was when she was murdered. Interviewed: Noura Jackson; family friends Susan Tobey, Renea McMillan, Ansley Larsson, Dana Frederick; Sergeant Tim Helldorfer with the Memphis Police Department; Memphis detectives Lieutenant Mark Miller and Sergeant W.D. Merritt; Sergeant Connie Justice, the first officer to interview Noura; Valerie Corder, Memphis Defense Attorney; Prosecutor Amy Weirich. (C: Richard Schlesinger - P: Jay Young) (OAD: 04/10/10)

PROGRAM SUMMARY:

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Taken: The Amber Dubois Story" • - a report on the February 13, 2009 disappearance of Amber Dubois, just blocks from Escondido High School in Southern California. 48 HOURS examines the permanent impact her disappearance has had on her family, even after the discovery and conviction of the murderer. Initially, with no clues as to her whereabouts, investigators began to look at her mother Carrie McGonigle's live-in boyfriend, Dave Cave as a person of interest. Carrie herself and Amber's father, Moe Dubois, soon began believing that Cave was responsible for Amber's disappearance. Almost a year later, another teenage girl, Chelsea King, went missing. Chelsea had been running just ten miles from where Amber disappeared. Police quickly found Chelsea's underwear with DNA evidence that would lead them to the arrest of convicted sex offender John Gardner, who was out on parole. Gardner was then also identified by another woman, Candice Moncayo, as the man who attacked her on the same jogging trail just two months earlier. Then police found Chelsea's body and Gardner was charged with her murder and the attack against Moncayo. Under interrogation and facing the death penalty for the murder of Chelsea, Gardner agreed to lead police to Amber's body in exchange for avoiding the death penalty. John Gardner was convicted of both Amber's and Chelsea's murders and sentenced to life in prison without the possibility of parole. In his exclusive interview with 48 HOURS MYSTERY, he recounted the day he murdered Amber and admitted he is the most dangerous type of sexual predator. He said he needs to be locked up forever. Onscreen graphics: Moe Dubois helped pass new laws in California that help track sex offenders and speed up police response in missing children's cases. Interviewed: Carrie McGonigle, Amber's mother; Dave Cave, Carrie's boyfriend; Maurice "Moe" • Dubois, Amber's father; Bonnie Dumanic, San Diego District Attorney; John Gardner, convicted murderer. PROGRAM SUMMARY: Last week, Beach police charged Norfolk officer Kristin Harris with more than a dozen drug crimes. The officer -- 6 foot and nearly 300 pounds -- is accused of dealing steroids and marijuana. Today, Norfolk police officials confirmed two other officers are on desk duty now because they are facing internal investigations. Police did not identify them because no one other than Harris has been charged. However, in Norfolk Circuit Court today a prosecutor identified one of them as Michael Prins. Prins wrote the arrest warrants for Richard B. Freeman, a sailor who crashed his car on Granby Street two years ago. His trial is scheduled to start tomorrow. Two passengers -- Cameron Richardson of Virginia Beach, and Lauren Kok of Staten Island -- died in the wreck. But in pre-trial hearings, Prins has run into trouble with his testimony. What he said under oath didn't match what he wrote on the warrant. That's led to credibility problems, even questions about the officer's honesty. 33:42 (4/12/2011) The witness did not tell the truth, and that is a serious problem. [TAKE VO]{vo} A circuit court judge said he needed more information about Prins, the investigation, and whether it will further affect his credibility. His exploits reminded many of legendary outlaws like Jesse James, and as news of his crimes spread beyond the Pacific Northwest, his popularity grew, even spawning Facebook fan pages. Born on Camano Island, Washington, Harris-Moore was an unpopular teen, physically neglected and mentally abused by his mother, Pam Kohler. He wanted to become a pilot, but instead turned to a life of crime at age 10, stealing laptops, cell phones, and jewelry. He was arrested and sent to a halfway house, but escaped custody and continued breaking into vacation homes and leaving his mark. He even ordered a DVD on learning to fly a plane with a stolen credit card. In 2008, he stole his first plane, crashing it 250 miles away from where he stole it, and simply walked away. He then worked in Las Vegas, then went to Canada and stole guns. In 2009, he stole his second plane, and the legend of Colton Harris-Moore was born. After stealing his third plane, the Department of Homeland Security joined in the hunt; but he still avoided capture. In 2010, he stole an airplane in Bloomington, Indiana and flew it to Abaco Island in the Bahamas, where he continued to commit break-ins. While 48 HOURS was on his trail in the Bahamas, he allegedly stole a yacht and escaped to the nearby Bahamian island of Eleuthera. He was spotted by some local teens who, knowing about the $10,000 reward offered for his capture, chased him by boat. Police joined in the hunt, and Harris-Moore was finally captured. Deported from the Bahamas, he was returned to the U.S., where he was indicted on federal charges for stealing two planes, guns, a boat and flying without a license. He faces ten years behind bars.

Onscreen graphics: Colton Harris-Moore will be arraigned Thursday in federal court. He faces additional charges in several states. Colton and his mother have not seen each other since his arrest. Sheâ€™s had offers to buy Coltonâ€™s story and has hired a well-known entertainment lawyer. Interviewed: Ashley Martin, childhood friend of Colton; Jessica Wesson, classmate; Paul Ciolino, 48 HOURS investigator; Bob Friel, Harris-Moore biographer; Jacquie Staggs, friend of Colton's mother; Harley Davidson Ironwing, burglary accomplice; Colleen Armstrong, editor of the local newspaper on Orcas Island; Kyle Ater, owner of the Orcas Homegrown Market, allegedly burglarized by Colton; Suzanne Vidal, local realtor; Marion Rathbone, operator of Vern's restaurant; Bob Rivers, Seattle radio personality and owner of the first stolen plane; Hi Stickney, Kelly Kneifl, Kristen Jones, Gary Martin Sawyer, victims of Colton's; James Coakley, club owner; Kenny Strachan, security guard; Jordan Sackett, American tourist. Update for the 06-18-11 Rebroadcast: On June 17, 2011 Colton Harris Moore plead guilty to seven federal criminal charges in U.S. District Court in Seattle and could face up to 6 ½ years in prison. Onscreen graphics: Colton Harris-Moore will be sentenced on the federal charges in October. Interviewed: Jenny Durkan, U.S. Attorney for the Western District of Washington; John Henry Browne, Colton's attorney; Paul Ciolino, 48 HOURS investigator. TIME AND DURATION:

10:00PM - ONE HOUR

PROGRAM SUMMARY:

48 HOURS MYSTERY:

• - a report on the three-year international manhunt and eventual capture of Dr. Yazeed • Yaz • Essa, a Cleveland doctor accused of murdering his wife, Rosemarie. In February 2005, Rosemarie, the mother of Essa's two children, was in a minor car accident. She suffered no physical injuries, but she passed out and shortly afterwards died in a Cleveland hospital. Her best friend, Eva McGregor, voiced her own suspicion that Essa had tampered with the calcium supplements that Rosemarie had taken on the morning of her death. Weeks later, tests of the calcium tablets proved that she had died of cyanide poisoning. Police went to charge Essa, but he had fled from the U.S. to Canada and eventually to Beirut, Lebanon, where he hid, knowing that he could not be extradited back to the U.S. In October 2006, he went to Cyprus, a country that does have an extradition treaty with the U.S. Interpol and the FBI alerted the Cyprus police that Essa was traveling under an alias; he was apprehended at the Larnaca airport and brought in for questioning and fingerprinting. His true identity was established, and he was arrested for using a doctored passport and held in a Cyprus prison. He fought extradition for two years but was returned to the U.S. In January 2010 his trial began. His protector in the Middle East and Essa's brother, Firas, both testified that Essa had told them that he had killed his wife by putting cyanide in her calcium pills. He was found guilty of aggravated murder and sentenced to life in prison with the possibility of parole in twenty years. Onscreen graphic at conclusion: The Essa family has asked to visit the children. For now, Rosemarie's family won't allow it. After the trial, the children were told that their father killed their mother. They haven't asked about him since. Includes interviews with: FBI Special Agent Phil Torsney; Leila Atassi, reporter, Cleveland Plain Dealer; Dominic DiPuccio, Rosemarie's brother; Dr. Bob Khadar, Essa's best friend; Firas Essa, Essa's brother; Alexandra Herrera, Essa's ex-girlfriend; Julie DiPuccio, Rosemarie's sister-in-law; Stephen Bradley, defense attorney; Detective Gary McKee; Jamal Khalife, Essa's protector in the Middle East; Nayla Souki, Essa's girlfriend in Beirut; Sergeant Mario Ioannou, Larnaca (Cyprus) Police; Matt Meyer, prosecutor; Ana Feralia, prosecutor; Mark Marein, defense attorney. Onscreen text graphic update for the 06/25/11 Rebroadcast: While in prison Essa attempted to sneak in a woman posing as his attorney. In May, the Cuyahoga County Court rejected Essa's appeal. PROGRAM SUMMARY:

(V/O) Mothers of newborns, like Stephanie Hinkaty, say a baby monitor offers peace of mind. (SOT: Stephanie Hinkaty) "It's really comforting to know what's going on with the baby without having to be physically in the room with her. It, you know, gives me a sense of security." (V/O) But choosing the right monitor could mean the difference between true comfort and a false sense of security. Consumer Reports tested 10 baby monitors. A basic unit cost 25 dollars, while this more elaborate video setup cost 200. (V/O) Interference is one of the biggest complaints from parents, so Consumer Reports recommends getting a unit that's digital. If you want to unplug your monitor and take it with you - battery life is key, and there were big differences. The battery charge on this Safety First True View Video Monitor didn't even last three hours. But this Sony BabyCall kept going for 28. Consumer Reports also found that signal strength really varied. To evaluate, testers set up a transmitter near a soundtrack of a crying baby. (NATSOT: Crying) (V/O) Then they measured how far away they could move the monitor while still maintaining contact. (SOT) "All the monitors worked inside this test house, but if you have a larger home or if you want to do yard work during naptime, it may be a different story." (V/O) Some monitors lost contact before the tester even stepped out of the house! That was just 37 feet. But a few monitors worked as far away as 400 feet. (NATSOT: Crying) (V/O) Among those, this top-rated Phillips Avent SCD510, for 120 dollars. It's digital, so interference is not a problem, and it had excellent battery life.

NewsChannel 3 takes a look at the iPad and it's competition so you don't waste your money. (V/O) Peter Scherer has the original iPad, and says it's changed his life. (SOT: Peter Scherer) "After I looked at it a little bit, I realized it filled that perfect niche between the laptop that's sometimes too heavy and too awkward, and the iPhone." (V/O) Now there's the iPad 2. Consumer Reports' first look at the iPad 2 finds it's an improvement. It has two cameras - one on the front and another in the back, so you can video chat and take photos. (V/O) It also has a sleeker profile and weighs less, making it more portable. And it processes graphics more quickly, which will be most evident if you play serious video games. With everyday tasks, you might not notice a big difference. As for competition, there are two tablets giving Apple a run for its money. The newest is the Motorola Xoom, which is about the same size as the iPad and has a built-in USB port, which the iPad 2 doesn't. But it's a little thicker and heavier. The Galaxy Tab from Samsung is smaller than the iPad, making it easier to carry around. And both include a memory card slot, something else the iPad 2 lacks. (SOT) "Both of these tablets run on the Android platform, and, unlike the iPad, they support the Flash videos used by many websites. But there are fewer apps in the Android Market than there are in Apple's iTunes store." (V/O) Of course, price factors in, and at most configurations, the iPad still costs less than these competitors. Bottom line? Apple improved the iPad - and kept the price relatively low, starting at 500 dollars - making the iPad 2 the tablet to beat.

) Everything's coming up roses at this flower store. Florists say making Mother's Day arrangements keeps them busy. (SOT: Kevin Kegan) "I would say it's a good 50 percent of all our business sales. So it's quite huge." (V/O) But if you can't choose your own bouquet, you can shop online for arrangements that are bursting with color. Consumer Reports ordered from three national websites - ProFlowers, 1-800-Flowers, and FTD. (SOT) "We wanted to see if the arrangements they deliver look like the arrangements they picture online." (V/O) Bernie Deitrick opened two dozen deliveries and arranged them in vases. They included roses, tulips, and mixed flowers, as well as orchids that arrived in pots. The flowers cost 57 to 87 dollars, including delivery. Judges compared photos of the flowers to the pictures on the florist's website. (SOT: Bernie Deitrick) "This was the orchid pictured on the website. This is the orchid we received." (V/O) Some of the bouquets proved a good match. But other arrangements didn't measure up. On FTD's website, the mixed flowers looked lovely. But the flowers FTD sent, pictured on the right, looked a lot different. Overall, the mixed bouquets were the most disappointing. (SOT: Bernie Deitrick) "There were more substitutions of flowers, different colors, different sizes." (V/O) 1-800-Flowers was best at sending what was ordered. And their tulip bouquet was the best match of all. Here's how they're pictured online and here's what arrived. Of course, if you really want to plant a smile, nothing beats delivering the flowers yourself.

The call quality is better than what we were getting on any of the other services." (V/O) Carl and his family make domestic calls free, through the Internet, using a device called Ooma. This oddly named device is a top-rated phone service in Consumer Reports latest survey of phone services. It also got high ratings for value, despite having to pay at least 200 dollars for the hardware. (SOT) "It's a little bit pricey, but you don't need a computer like you do with some other, alternative phone services." (V/O) Along with the free unlimited domestic calls and cheap international rates, you get call waiting and caller I-D. But you still do have to pay some taxes and government fees. They total around three-and-a-half dollars a month. Consumer Reports tester Bernie Deitrick checked out Ooma. He had it up and running in less than 15 minutes, including the time it took to register online and connect it to the Internet. (SOT: Paul Reynolds) "In Consumer Reports' survey, Ooma's reliability and voice quality compared well with most cable-company phone services. Its rivals, Skype and MagicJack, both scored below par on those two measures." (NATSOT: Phone ringing) (V/O) Ooma works with your existing phone, or you can buy an Ooma handset for 50 dollars. (SOT: Paul Reynolds) "Also be aware if you want to use the phone number you have now, there's an extra 40 dollar charge." (V/O) But all in all, the Ellyn family finds Ooma to be quite a bargain, despite the fairly steep investment in hardware to get it dialed in.

A Consumer Reports National Research Center survey found some stores deliver much better service than others. (SOT) "While most people were satisfied with their pharmacy, Walmart was at the bottom of our ratings. Our readers complained of a lack of personal service and long waits." (V/O) The big drugstore chains like Walgreens and CVS didn't fare much better. (SOT: Kim Kleman) "Fifteen percent of those who shopped at chain stores complained that within the past year, their prescriptions weren't always ready when they were promised." (V/O) Far better was service at independent pharmacies, as well as two independently owned franchises - Health Mart and The Medicine Shoppe. Customers cited faster service and said the independents were much more likely to have medications ready for pickup when promised. But a Consumer Reports' price check found that independents can cost you more. (SOT: Kim Kleman) "If you're taking a generic drug, you can save money at big retailers and chains. For generics, they charge as little as ten dollars for a three-month supply." (V/O) For brand-name drugs, Consumer Reports found the cheapest prices at reputable online retailers such as Healthwarehouse.com and Familymeds.com. (PKG) TWINS EMMA AND CONNOR WALDRON ARE VERY ACTIVE 10 YEARS OLDS, SO THEIR MOM LETS THEM HAVE A SPORTS DRINK AFTER A TOUGH PRACTICE OR GAME. (SOT Meryle Waldron/Mother) My daughter trains for gymnastics. She's there for 3 and a half hours every evening so I let her have it after that and my son after a baseball game. SPORTS DRINKS AND ENERGY DRINKS ARE INCREASINGLY POPULAR WITH CHILDREN AND TEENS - BUT A NEW REPORT FROM THE AMERICAN ACADEMY OF PEDIATRICS SAYS MOST KIDS WHO PLAY RECREATIONAL SPORTS - DON'T NEED SPORTS DRINKS. (SOT/Dr. Alanna Levine/Spokesperson American Academy of Pediatrics) Sports drinks contain carbohydrates which can give you energy but they also give you calories and can contribute to obesity, being overweight and also dental erosion. THE ACADEMY SAYS ENERGY DRINKS ARE EVEN MORE HARMFUL - AND HAVE NO PLACE IN A KID'S DIET. (SOT/Dr. Alanna Levine/Spokesperson American Academy of Pediatrics) Energy drinks contain stimulants like caffeine and some of the energy drinks contain so much of them, it's the equivalent of drinking up to 14 cans of caffeinated soda. (STANDUP Kendis Gibson/CBS News, Los Angeles) CAFFEINE CAN AFFECT THE DEVELOPMENT OF A CHILD'S NERVOUS SYSTEM AND CARDIOVASCULAR SYSTEM. PEDIATRICIANS SAY THE BEST WAY TO KEEP YOUNG PEOPLE HYDRATED - JUST PLAIN WATER - BEFORE DURING AND AFTER PRACTICE. DOCTORS SAY A SPORTS DRINK MAY BE OKAY IF A CHILD PARTICIPATES IN REPEATED, HEAVY DUTY AEROBIC EXERCISE. (SOT Meryle Waldron/Mother) I feel like the kids can use the calories after they do their sports and they need the drink and it helps with their electrolytes and the calories aren't going to make a difference. they burn up so many calories. BUT EMMA AND CONNOR ARE ONLY ALLOWED ONE SPORTS DRINK A DAY. THE REST OF THE TIME, THEY'RE HAPPY TO DRINK WATER. KENDIS GIBSON, CBS NEWS, LOS ANGELES.)

BERN JACKSON WAS PACKING ON THE POUNDS THROUGH HER MIDSECTION? HER NUTRITIONIST SUGGESTED A LOW CARBOHYDRATE-- HIGH FAT DIET. (BERN JACKSON/DIETER)(8-13) "You feel light you feel like you can just get up and do what you gotta do and feel good." AFTER THE EXPLOSION IN POPULARITY OF ATKINS AND SIMILAR DIETS THAT ADVISE MORE MEATS AND FEWER CARBS, DOCTORS WENT ON THE DEFENSIVE SAYING THIS WAS ONE RECIPE NOT TO FOLLOW B/C IT COULD LEAD TO HEART DISEASE.. BUT A NEW JOHNS HOPKINS STUDY SAYS THESE DIETS DON'T HARM THE ARTERIES AT LEAST IN THE SHORT TERM. (Kerry Stewart, Ed.D/Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine)(32-37) "We found no evidence of any change in our measures of vascular health." (Sandra Hughes, CBS News)(37-51) ACCORDING TO THE STUDY--PARTICIPANTS WHO EXERCISED ON A HIGH FAT DIET ALSO LOST WEIGHT FASTER.. 10 POUNDS IN 45 DAYS...THOSE WHO EXERCISED ON A LOW FAT HIGH CARB DIET TOOK 70 DAYS TO LOSE THE SAME AMOUNT OF WEIGHT. BUT THE STUDY ONLY FOLLOWED 46 PATIENTS FOR THREE MONTHS. (KAREN CONGRO/ The Brooklyn Hospital Center)(55-1:08) "What will affect your arteries may take a long time to build up so in the beginning it all seems well but eventually if you remain on a very high saturated fat we know for a fact you probably will have a problem. BERN JACKSON ISN'T WORRIED. SHE'S LOST 18 POUNDS IN 9 WEEKS (SOT Jackson) "More pounds and this is it... then I'm going to start eating more regular, stay on my diet, keep with the exercise and burning fat that's it." AND SHE SAYS..

SHE'S FEELING HEALTHIER THAN EVER.

DATE AIRED:

06-12-2011

TIME AND DURATION:

2:05AM - HALF HOUR

PROGRAM SUMMARY:

• Stewards of the Earth: One Planet, Many Faiths • - a report on how people of different faiths incorporate their religion's teachings into various programs to help the earth. The special highlights the work of: 1) Earth Sangha, founded by Lisa and Chris Bright, a non-profit Buddhist ecological restoration organization based in northern Virginia. Both Chris and Lisa believe that their dharma, or life's path, is devoted to the restoration of native plants and trees. 2) The Jewish Farm School near Cold Springs, New York, founded by Scott Simcha Schwartz and Nati Passow. The mission of the school is to practice and promote sustainable agriculture using methods based on Jewish traditions. 3) Ibrahim Abdul-Matin, a Muslim environmental activist and author of "Green Deen: What Islam Teaches About Protecting the Planet". Abdul-Matin believes that caring for the environment is a cause for which people of all faiths can stand united. 4) Reverend Linda Springer Gruber of St. John's United Church of Christ in Phoenixville, Pennsylvania discusses her parish's commitment to the environment and social justice. The church has made a commitment to environmental stewardship through the creation of an organic community garden and requires the gardeners to donate at least ten percent of their harvest to local food banks and church pantries. (Narrator: Ted Holmes. Producer & Writer: Elizabeth Kineke. Associate Producer: Kathleen Fieffe. Executive Producer & Director: John P. Blessington. Produced in consultation with: National Council of Churches; United States Conference of Catholic Bishops; The Islamic Society of North America; Union for Reform Judaism; New York Board of Rabbis.)

(SOT - HAMID KARZAI/PRESIDENT OF AFGHANISTAN) THE AFGHAN PEOPLE CAN NO LONGER TOLERATE THESE ATTACKS ON THEIR HOMES. Karzai says NATO air strikes on houses must stop because they're killing too many innocent people. (SOT - KARZAI) AFGHANISTAN IS AN ALLY - NOT AN OCCUPIED COUNTRY. But NATO officials say the attacks are needed to battle insurgents. NATS....PROTEST Afghan anger is growing after NATO forces mistakenly killed a group of children and women in a strike on Saturday. NATS... NATO apologized for the deaths - saying militants were hiding in the homes. The military alliance insists strikes are only carried out with the approval of the Afghan government. NATS...KARZAI It's unclear if President Karzai has the power to stop the bombardments because NATO and American forces are in Afghanistan under a United Nations mandate. NATS....ATTACKS The U.N. says INSURGENTS are responsible for at least three-quarters of civilian casualties. This Taliban bomb attack on Monday killed at least four Afghans and injured dozens more. PRESIDENT SAID 33-THOUSAND TROOPS WILL WITHDRAW FROM AFGHANISTAN BY SEPTEMBER OF 2012. FOR MANY MILITARY FAMILIES, THE NEWS IS WELCOME. BRITTANY BARLOW'S HUSBAND IS ON A SEVEN MONTH DEPLOYMENT. I think his plan sounds absolutely wonderful. And I'm just excited if I am going to see my husband sooner rather than later. MILITARY LEADERS SUPPORT THE MOVE, BUT SOME QUESTION THE PACE OF THE WITHDRAWAL. REPUBLICAN JAMES INHOFE, THE SECOND RANKING MEMBER OF THE SENATE ARMED SERVICES COMMITTEE, SAYS HE IS CONCERNED ABOUT AMERICAN LIVES. The Middle Eastern mentality thinks in terms of years and decades. We think in terms of hours and days so they are very patient and they will sit back until they know when they can strike. SECRETARY OF STATE HILLARY CLINTON STANDS WITH THE PRESIDENT. The bottom line, as the President said, is that we have broken the Taliban's momentum so we do begin this drawdown from a position of strength. IN AN EXCLUSIVE INTERVIEW WITH CNN'S FAREED ZAKARIAâ€ | THE AFGHAN PRESIDENT SAID HIS ARMY WILL BE READY TO TAKE OVER. Regardless of what the security situation in Afghanistan is, it is the responsibility, it's the job of the Afghan people to defend their country. UNDER THE PLAN, 70-THOUSAND U-S TROOPS WOULD REMAIN IN AFGHANISTAN FOR AN UNDETERMINED PERIOD. I'M ANDREW SPENCER REPORTING.)

State police say the bus driver on this red-eye run from Carolina to Chinatown was too tired when the bus veered off the interstate this morning. Federal records show that's been frequent violation for Sky Express drivers. Around dawn, the bus smashed into a ditch and flipped, ending up on its roof. Four people died and 50 more went to several hospitals. (nats, bus flipped over) Sky Express is based in Charlotte, North Carolina. The company web site shows it also has an office in Virginia Beach, attracting passengers with a $30 fare to Chinatown in New York city. The company's safety record has attracted federal investigators.

Federal reports show safety problems in just about every category inspectors measure. When it comes to driver fatigue, driver record-keeping, and a category called driver fitness, federal records show Sky Express has some of the worst safety scores in the country. In fact, for the "driver fitness" category -- a measurement of a driver's experience, training and medical health -- the documents show Sky Express scores worse than 99.7 percent of all bus companies. Federal records show his crash is the fifth in the past three years. It closed Interstate 95 north from dawn until noon, forcing commuters into meandering detours. Patients from the crash went to nearly a dozen different hospitals.)

OUTSIDE THEIR RANDOLPH COUNTY HOME, IT'S SOMETHING THEY DO ALMOST EVERY DAY DURING THE SUMMER. (nats) SIERRA-- WHO'S SIX-- AND MAGGIE-- WHO'S THREE-- LOVE TO JUMP ON THEIR FAMILY'S TRAMPOLINE. "We was having fun until that dog." BUT ON WEDNESDAY, AROUND DINNER TIME, A VERY ORDINARY ACTIVITY QUICKLY TURNED INTO A TERRIFYING ORDEAL WHEN THIS ANIMAL ATTACKED. "That dog came yanking her off and pulled her to the side and tried to get her behind my mom's car and tried to drag her in the woods." THE ANIMAL-- NOW KNOWN TO BE A 100-POUND COYOTE- HYBRID, GRABBED MAGGIE BY THE SHIRT AND BEGAN DRAGGING HER. NOT SURE WHAT TO DO, SIERRA YELLED FOR HER MOM. "That's a terrifying feeling when you walk out of the house and you see your baby in the mouth of a monster and you don't know what to do." SABRINA SAYS SHE JUMPED ON THE COYOTE AND DID WHATEVER SHE COULD WITH HER BARE HANDS TO FREE HER CHILD FROM ITS MOUTH. "I don't know what I was thinking. I'm going to be honest with you, I don't. But I knew this-- I had to get to my baby or she wouldn't be here." WITH MAGGIE FINALLY FREE, SABRINA SAYS THE COYOTE STILL REFUSED TO LEAVE SHE CALLED 9-1-1 FOR HELP, BUT ,UNSURE IF THEY'D SHOW UP, SHE USED THIS OAR TO KEEP THE ANIMAL

AWAY FROM HER GIRLS. "The more I hit him, the more he got like, I don't know, he just kept dodging at me." MORE THAN A HALF HOUR AFTER THE ATTACK BEGAN, A NEIGHBOR SHOWED UP WITH A SHOT GUN. SABRINA SHOT THE COYOTE IN ITS NECK, HER NEIGHBOR SHOT IT AGAIN-- THIS TIME IN THE HEAD. "I did not want to kill that animal. I didn't. But by the time it came time to do it, I didn't have a choice." "Coyotes are usually very elusive animals." LEIGH CASAUS IS HEAD OF ANIMAL CONTROL AND SAYS WHILE COYOTES ARE NOT UNCOMMON IN RANDOLPH COUNTY-- AN ATTACK IS EXTREMELY RARE. "We can't make wild animals go away. We don't want to. That's part of the appeal, but people need to be aware and protect themselves." THE REEDS HOPE OTHERS WILL VIEW THEIR STORY, AS A TALE OF CAUTION. SIERRA SAYS SHE'S JUST PROUD OF HER MOM. "She saved our life."

PROGRAM: NewsChannel 3 @ 6

DATE AIRED: 06-30-2011

TIME AND DURATION: 1:30

PROGRAM SUMMARY: The 911 call went out around 2pm... Rescue crews from fire, ems and marine police all rushed to the waters off shore drive, just east of the lynnhaven fishing pier. There, they found the boat in question, upright, with the teenage girls leg entangled in the propellers. First sot At first, they tried to remove the propellor from the girls leg, but soon realized it would cause even more harm to the injury. So instead they started working to remove the prop from the boat itself, so the girl could be taken with it out from the water. Second sot Third sot For an hour and a half, crews worked to get the teen freed, we are told she was alert and conscious the entire time, propped up by lifejackets put around her head. Divers finally removed the prop around 330, when the girl was rushed to a waiting nightengale helicopter, with serious but non life threatening injuries. Now rescuers turn their focus to figuring out how this all happened in the first place.

THAT'S THE 338-MILLION DOLLAR QUESTION. WHEN EVER "THE TIDE" ROLLS IN TO DOWNTOWN, THE CITY IS DOING IT'S PART TO BE READY. THAT'S WHY WORKERS LIKE THESE WERE CLIMBING LADDERS TODAY...AND TAKING COVERS OFF OF 44 SIGNALIZED INTERSECTIONS THAT MAKE UP THE DOWNTOWN TRAFFIC SIGNAL NETWORK. THEY WERE TWECKING THE TIMING OF THE LIGHTS FOR A SYSTEM THAT'S NOT EVEN RUNNING YET... === ((pamela marino, norfolk public works)) (22 12 47 "((eric)) even though light rail is not moving, how do we know that these lights are going to work in conjunction with light rail once it actually does start moving.? ((pamela)) that answer is two fold, first we hired an engineering firm that helped us do a modeling simulation. ((lay video over this)) through that, they were able to simulate what light rail would be like moving through downtown. Exactly how long the vehicles were, how long it takes them to move through an intersection, etc." 22 13 12) [Duration:0:25] === PAMELA MARINO WITH PUBLIC WORKS ALSO SAYS YOU MAY SIT AT SOME LIGHTS UP TO 20-SECONDS LONGER WITH THE RE-TIMING... Today we learned HRT is kicking off a frenzied volunteer drive to recruit 200 people to be something called "Tide Guides." They'll undergo training starting next month, and they will man the stations on opening day and help riders. The application shows opening day will be a Friday, but it doesn't say which Friday.

PROGRAM SUMMARY: AT THE INTERSECTION OF BOUSH STREET AND BUTE STREET... THERE WAS ALMOST A CRASH BETWEEN A LIGHT RAIL TRAIN AND CARS. THIS PICTURE, TAKEN BY NEWSCHANNEL THREE, SHOWS VEHICLES ON BOUSH STREET HAVE A GREEN LIGHT...JUST AS A TRAIN CROSSED THROUGH. WE TOOK

THAT TO JOHN STEVENSON WITH THE CITY OF NORFOLK... === ((john stevenson, city of norfolk)) (19 07 41 "((eric)) the light is green, cars are going through the intersection and the very tail end of the train just cleared, so... ((john)) yeah, yeah, and I think that's part of, I mean it's good that we've seen that." 19 07 55) [Duration:0:14] === ((show picture of near miss with light rail)) HE THINKS THE OPERATOR OF THE TRAIN WENT THROUGH...WHEN IT WASN'T THE TRAIN'S TURN... === ((john stevenson, city of norfolk)) (19 04 12 "my best guess, because of how I know the signals are operating, is that the operator more than likely proceeded through the intersection late." 19 04 22) [Duration:0:10] ((butt to...)) ((tom holden, hrt)) (19 09 58 "((eric)) would this be listed in an incident report or would it be listed somewhere where it would need to be looked in to...to make sure that it does not happen again? ((tom)) well, I haven't seen it, but we try to learn from everything that we do, everything that we do." 19 10 13) [Duration:0:15] === BOUSH STREET AND BUTE STREET IS A PRIORITY INTERSECTION-- THERE ARE FOUR OF THOSE THAT GIVE CARS AND TRUCKS HAVE THE RIGHT OF WAY. THE OTHER 40 ALONG THE DOWNTOWN RAIL LINE ARE PRE-EMPTION...WHICH GIVES THE TRAIN THE RIGHT OF WAY ONCE THE INTERSECTIONS ARE CLEARED OUT. === ((m.e. Duff, biker)) (18 52 22 "((eric)) has it just confused you? ((duff)) no, I don't work downtown anymore, I just ride down to go to the baseball games." 19 52 27) [Duration:0:05] === BUT NEWSCHANNEL THREE CAUGHT HIM RIDING ON THE TRACKS INSTEAD OF THE ROAD... THAT'S NOT SAFE... === ((tom holden, hrt)) (19 14 04 at eyebrow lift "tracks are for trains, and he needs to keep that in mind." 19 04 08) [Duration:0:04] === ((show picture of near miss with light rail)) SO AS LIGHT RAIL MOVES THROUGH NORFOLK... THE CITY IS LOOKING AT THIS PICTURE OF A

NEAR MISS... === ((john stevenson, city of norfolk)) ("...I mean it's good that we've seen that." end at 19 07 55) [Duration:0:02] === AS AN EXAMPLE FOR TRAINING...
