ISSUES

Politics & Government

This quarter WZVN extensively covered the contentious race to the White House. We investigated if buying delegates is legal. We learned delegates cannot take gifts from corporations, foreign groups or federal contractors. However, the rules say delegates can accept gifts from political PACs and people supporting the candidates. We also informed our viewers when Donald Trump and Hillary Clinton's clinched their respective party's presumptive nominations. WZVN investigates why Southwest Florida counties have received no funding to help fight the Zika virus. The Centers for Disease Control awarded $500,000 to seven Florida counties, but none in Southwest Florida. The Lee County Mosquito Control District told us it will continue to do its best to protect the residents and visitors of Lee County from local transmission of mosquito-borne diseases. WZVN learns Hillary Clinton is spending more than a million dollars in ads that will air in Southwest Florida next month. She's reserved air time in eight states considered to be prime battlegrounds for November's general election, and the ad buys suggest she's venturing into traditionally Republican areas.

Economy & Local Development

A Port Charlotte neighborhood wants sidewalks installed after a deadly accident involving a mother on a walk with her baby. Mariah Klinefelter was hit by an SUV while pushing a stroller with her baby. Pam Curtis lives in the neighborhood. She went before Charlotte County commission asking board members for help to get sidewalks put in on Appleton Boulevard where Klinefelter was killed. WZVN has closely followed plans for a major development in Golden Gate Estates. Today we alerted our viewers the development may happen sooner than expected. 2,600 acres were sold off Immokalee Road near Wild Turkey Drive. Metro Exchange Incorporated owns the property and wants to change the zoning so it can build up to 6,000 homes there. Naples residents are upset about a new gas station that was approved for Naples Park. A new lawsuit claims the neighbors' civil rights were violated by the approval. Residents say the only entrance to the proposed 7-Eleven station will clog up the only entrance and exit to their community - which could prompt safety issues.

Crime & Personal Safety

For the second time in a week, a teenage girl reported being approached by a strange man in Immokalee forcing Collier deputies to increase their patrols around area schools. Last week a 14-year-old girl told detectives a man in a white pick-up truck pulled over and approached her while she walked to Immokalee Middle school in the morning. The man asked if she wanted a ride. She kept walking and reported the encounter. WZVN is alerting our viewers about a new way to communicate with law enforcement during an emergency. Charlotte County is adding a text to 911 feature. Coordinator Laurie Anderson says the new technology allows for faster and more accurate call service if you're in an emergency. Anderson says the feature will be crucial for anyone in a crisis who may not be able to speak. The new system costs $600,000 which will be mostly covered by grants. WZVN extensively covered the tragedy at an Orlando nightclub. 49 people died when a gunman opened fire in the gay nightclub called Pulse. It is the biggest mass shooting in the history of the United States. WZVN sent our reporters to Orlando to cover the tragedy. We constantly updated our viewers as the death toll rose and we learned more about the gunman.

Health & Medicine

This quarter, the Zika outbreak is a big concern for our viewers in Southwest Florida. Top health officials say Zika is scarier than initially thought, and there are 85 cases of the virus in Florida. So far, Lee County has four confirmed cases of travel-related Zika virus. WZVN went to Lee County Mosquito Control to learn what it is doing to fight transmission of the illness. It is treating, trapping, and testing the area where the latest case was found. Sarah Bednarek, says she is frustrated with poor insurance policies available for her son with autism. She says it is nearly impossible to get him the help he needs. She and her husband are looking for ways to pay for an Applied Behavioral Analysis, it's a program proven to help children with autism assimilate to everyday life. School lunches for millions of American students could once again undergo big changes. A proposed child nutrition reauthorization bill in Congress passed its house subcommittee this week. The Improving Child Nutrition and Education Act of 2016 was approved. Right now, schools only need 40% of their students identified as eligible under other federal programs, like SNAP, to receive free meals for all their students. Under the new bill, that threshold will be raised to 60%.

Weather & Environment

Our team of meteorologists provided extensive coverage of Tropical Storm Colin from its development in the Caribbean to its landfall in the panhandle. Although Southwest Florida was not directly hit by the storm, we received a lot of rain from the outer bands of the storm. Our weather team worked together to bring the most up-to-date information so our viewers were constantly informed about the storm and its projected path. Hurricane season officially starts June 1, but agencies like the National Weather service, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, and FEMA are part of a large group of agencies pleading with people to start preparing as soon as possible. Hurricane Hunters with NOAA landed in Naples. WZVN spoke with NOAA officials about their study of storms. Rick Knabb is the director of NOAA's national hurricane center. He said it's imperative for the public to start planning for hurricane season by finding out if they live in a hurricane storm surge evacuation zone. This quarter WZVN covered a controversial decision by the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission to not host a black bear hunt in 2016. FWC estimates there are 4,300 bears in Florida. Last year, about 300 bears were killed in the state's first bear hunt in more than 20 years.

Community Service

WZVN informed our viewers that the Collier County Boys and Girls Club is expanding. The group will build its first new facility in Immokalee, one of the state's most impoverished communities. The first stage of the project includes a youth center and culinary kitchen on Roberts Avenue. The organization relies on grants and donations and recently received a three million dollar donation from the owners of Racetrac, who live in Naples. A two-day conference in Fort Myers was committed to helping women stop relying on welfare. More than one in five Americans get some type of government assistance each month, and more than half of those households are run by women. A nationwide effort called "One Million Moms Off Welfare by 2025" is hosting the seminar in Fort Myers. The woman leading the conference is Laquasha Jones she spent nearly 13 years on food stamps and now is giving back to others who are facing the same challenges she did. 66 Southwest Florida female veterans will take part in the inaugural Lady Honor Flight. Veterans from 26-years-old to 95 will travel to Washington, D.C. in honor of their service to our country. They will visit national monuments and register at the Women in Military Service for America Memorial.

The following brief entries outline a sampling of the coverage provided by WZVN during this quarter. This is meant to be a sampling only and not an exhaustive list of the coverage of the previously cited community issues.

The Improving Child Nutrition and Education Act of 2016 was approved. Right now, schools only need 40% of their students identified as eligible under other federal programs, like SNAP, to receive free meals for all their students. Under the new bill, that threshold is raised to 60%. Supporters say the bill helps the schools and children with the greatest need but better targets taxpayer money. But critics say loosening dietary restrictions and cutting back the CEP program will make it harder for students to have access to nutritious meals.

Varicose veins can actually be a sign of a more serious problem: Venous Insufficiency, also known as Venous Reflux Disease or 'leaky veins,' refers to the fact that your veins aren't doing a good job of getting blood back up to your heart. It causes unsightly varicose and spider veins, but it can also cause pain and swelling, leg cramps, and even blood clots. VenaSeal uses a medical adhesive inserted into the vein through a catheter to seal the vein shut. Dr. Joseph Magnant is a vascular surgeon and vein expert. WZVN also learns water quality experts are threatening to sue if the city goes forward with development of 48 acres of land in northwest Cape Coral. The area is called 7-Islands. Michelle Newlon is a Matlacha resident. She says boats get stuck in the pass because there's sand piling up. Other people we spoke with have seen sediment accumulating in spreader canals since the Ceitus barrier was removed in 2008. The barrier was used to filter out pollution before it entered Matlacha Pass and Charlotte Harbor. Years of research by water experts indicates both the sand that's visible and the chemicals from stormwater runoff. They say it's going to get worse if construction begins. The city hasn't adopted an official plan for the Seven Islands area but a proposal includes turning the area into parks, waterfront restaurants and dining. That translates into jobs, something neighbors are all for -- on one condition.

WHAT WOULD YOU DO?

Friday, June 17, 2016 (premiere)

Hidden-camera fan-favorite returns this summer with all-new scenarios capturing unsuspecting people's reactions to everyday situations. These scenarios elicit new and sometimes surprising reactions, but what does not change is the incredible response to anchor John Quiñones when he appears on camera to ask about each person's split-second and often surprising decision-making process.

- A customer is bullying a supermarket employee with Down syndrome. Will customers step up and defend him or go about their business?
- A mother and her two daughters enter a local donut shop. The mother refuses to let one of her daughters get a donut because the girl is "overweight." Will onlookers intervene or let this mother parent her children the way she chooses?
- A mother and her children are shopping in a supermarket when the children begin to misbehave. To discipline this behavior the mother begins spraying a bottle of water in the kids' faces. Will onlookers support this mother's decision or be outraged?
- A pharmacist is loudly disclosing potentially embarrassing information about one of the people waiting online at prescription pick-up. Will someone tell the pharmacist to quiet down or will everyone listen in?
- A young girl is testing out a demo video game in the store when two boys begin harassing her, telling her "girls can't play video games." Will any of the customers come to the young girl's defense?

- Drunk Cab Driver: A cab driver gets drunk on his lunch break and tries getting behind the wheel to continue his shift. How will bystanders react?
- Overwhelmed Caregiver: Our actors are a woman and her elderly mother, who needs help doing everything. Traci is at her wit's end – all of the emotion she's bottled up about having to care for her mom boils up and overflows. She complains to her mother about being overwhelmed, and her mother reacts nastily, saying things like, "I'm the one who should be overwhelmed. You're stupid and forgetful." What will people do?
- Teacher/Student: A teacher is out with her student helping him "study" when some inappropriate PDA between them starts up. They begin to discuss their relationship, and there seems to be something more going on between them than just tutoring. Do others speak up to protect the boy or stay quiet?
- Eating Disorder: Three teen girls are eating lunch together. One of the girls is curious how the other two stay so skinny despite the bad food they eat. They admit to her that they binge and purge, and they encourage her to do the same. How will other diners react to the two "skinny" girls pressuring their friend to take up their unhealthy habit?

Michele Harris, a mother of four young children, disappeared without a trace from her luxurious home in upstate New York. Many believed the 35-year-old had run away. ### FORBIDDEN LOVE

Mary Kay Letourneau was a second grade teacher at Shorewood Elementary School in Burien. She was a great teacher and her students loved her, but at home she was having marriage problems. Mary Kay taught Vili in the fall of 1990 when he was in second grade and once again when he 12 years old. Vili and his teacher became really close and he was considered as the "Teacher's pet" she focused specifically on Vili. Mary Kay and Vili had sex in the summer of 1996; Mary Kay told a friend she was in love and how Vili was her soul mate and they had not had sex (lied). A few weeks later she was pregnant by her 13-year-old student and could not hide her pregnancy because the baby would be "brown and have black hair." Her husband found out and someone had called child Protective Services and the School District to report that Mary Kay had had sex with a 13-year-old. She had their daughter, faced a trial, served time in prison and released, never to have contact with Vili nor their daughter again.

But on New Year's Day 2012, the new mother vanished, leaving her baby behind. It was the last time Shelby's family heard from her. 20/20 reports.

Murder in the Maternity Ward

- Jae Lowder checked into Alta View Hospital expecting to have a baby, but soon she was caught in a violent hostage crisis.
- Rick Worthington, himself a father of eight, had burst into the hospital demanding to find the doctor who performed a tubal ligation surgery on his wife two years earlier. Worthington erroneously claimed the doctor performed the procedure without his wife's knowledge or consent while she was sleeping.
- New mom Cindy Tovey could only listen to the scene outside her room unfold in terror since she could not move, temporarily paralyzed from the waist down after a C-section. Like Jae Lowder, she spent agonizing hours wondering if her newborn was safe.
- Glade Curtis was the doctor Worthington came to kill. He was at Alta View that night and called 911 after doing what he could to get babies out safely. But no one did more to keep moms and babies alive than the nurses, including Margie Wylar, who helped a mom deliver her baby during the crisis, and Karla Roth, who sacrificed her own life in a brave attempt to wrestle a gun away from Worthington.
