President Trump caused a flurry by announcing he canceled a planned military strike on Iran only minutes before it was scheduled. Syndicated columnist Mark Shields and New York Times columnist David Brooks join Judy Woodruff to discuss the week's political news. After tensions with Iran nearly resulted in U.S. airstrikes last week, President Trump has fired a different type of weapon, leveling the playing field. Republican Paul Ryan, former speaker of the house and congressman from Wisconsin, has kept a low profile since his departure. Most of the contenders for the 2020 Democratic presidential nomination attended South Carolina Democratic Rep. Jim Clyburn's event. NPR's Tamara Keith and Thelisha Eaddy of South Carolina Public Radio join Lisa Desjardins to discuss the latest political news. The White House has unveiled part of its Israeli-Palestinian peace plan, a $50 billion economic blueprint designed to double the size of the Palestinian economy. Recently, another woman stepped forward to credibly accuse President Trump of a forcible, violent sexual assault — one that she says changed her life. Peter Wehner served in three Republican White Houses. Now, he's written a book about the current state of national politics. In our news wrap Tuesday, President Trump and Iranian President Hassan Rouhani traded insults over new U.S. sanctions. Rouhani said the U.S. is the aggressor. In Miami, a crowded stage is set for the first debate of the 2020 Democratic presidential primaries. With Sen. Elizabeth Warren leading the field, the debate over the Mueller report and its political fallout continues. More than three months after the investigation concluded, the Israeli-Palestinian conflict has endured for over half a century, through violent eruptions and pushes for peace. A weak U.S. position is seen as a major obstacle. In our news wrap Wednesday, the House Oversight Committee issued a subpoena for Kellyanne Conway after the White House refused to release her records.

Description

More than 35 U.S. states have laws classifying a fetus as a victim in a homicide or an assault. Those laws can result in criminal charges. We continue our woman thought leader series with renowned journalist Linda Greenhouse. The Yale Law lecturer spoke with Christiane Amanpour about the Supreme Court's decision on Roe v. Wade. Christiane Amanpour speaks with George Packer about the legendary diplomat Richard Holbrooke; and Kate Pakenham about the U.S. trade deficit. As Americans consume less milk and turmoil in international markets challenges the country's dairy industry, many dairy farmers are struggling. As national attitudes and laws around cannabis use have evolved, so have the commercially grown strains of the plant. Some states that have legalized marijuana for recreational use have experienced a surge in the drug's black market activity. Over the past two decades, hundreds of thousands of Americans have died during a national opioid addiction crisis. As the country grapples with the crisis, Bisbee '17 follows several members of the close-knit community of Bisbee, Arizona. Meet the pioneering Air Force scientists and pilots whose Project Manhigh, which collected data about the biological and psychological effects of high altitude, led to the development of the space shuttle. A Place Beyond the Sky begins in 1957 and tracks the early years of the space race as the United States struggles to catch up with the Soviet Union. Earthrise covers 1964-1968, four heady, dangerous years in the history of the space race, focusing on the events surrounding the Apollo 11 mission. Magnificent Desolation, which covers 1969-1970, takes Americans to the moon and back. Dreams of space dramatically introduced the world to the possibilities of space exploration. Christiane Amanpour speaks with iconic editor-in-chief of Vogue, Anna Wintour. Michel Martin speaks to Mississippi author J. Morgan Kousser about the history of the state. Christiane Amanpour speaks with Kris Kobach and Cecillia Wang about Trump's racist tweets. Steven M. Gillon and Carole Figlio speak with the author of The Book of David. Christiane Amanpour speaks with Apollo 11 astronaut Michael Collins about the fiftieth anniversary of the moon landing. On the Moon picks up where the first film left off—Scott Kelly's last day in space and return to Earth—the final installment also introduces the new film On the Moon. Join Apollo 11 on its historic journey. The film seamlessly blends mission audio featuring conversations among Neil Armstrong, Michael Collins and Buzz Aldrin. In the 1992 U.S. presidential election, Texas billionaire Ross Perot earned 19 percent of the popular vote, making him the nation's first major third-party candidate. This week marks the 50th anniversary of the Apollo 11 mission, which first landed American astronauts on the moon's surface.
