Radio Host, Author Joins Books Festival

SDBookFestival.com

Join SDPB's special guest, Bob Garfield, as he discusses his latest book, "Can't Buy Me Like" at the South Dakota Festival of Books in Deadwood. The annual Festival brings writers and readers together Sept. 20-22 and SDPB participates throughout with special guest Garfield, a special Dakota Midday broadcast and a booth.

Garfield's presentation will be Saturday, Sept. 21, at 10am at the Masonic Temple in Deadwood. His new book, co-written by Doug Levy, discusses social media and how companies must create an "authentic customer relationship" in order to be successful.

Garfield also will participate in author gatherings at the event and be one of the panelists for a discussion on "What's Next for News" on Saturday, Sept. 21, at 3pm at the Deadwood Mountain Grand.

Garfield is one of the hosts of On the Media, a national program that airs on Sundays on SDPB Radio. He is an author, columnist, critic, essayist, pundit, and international lecturer who specializes in quirky Americana. Other recent works include "Bedfellows," "The Chaos Scenario," and "And Now a Few Words From Me."

As the festival gets under way, SDPB Radio will feature several authors with a special Dakota Midday Book Club program at Noon (11 MT) on Friday, Sept. 20, with Host Karl Gehrke. SDPB staff will be on hand throughout with a booth at the Deadwood Mountain Grand.

The annual Festival of Books is a project of the South Dakota Humanities Council.

Reserve a Time with StoryCorps

Tell us your story. StoryCorps' Mobile Booth will be parked at Main Street Square, in Rapid City, from Sept. 20-Oct. 16. Reservations open on Sept. 6 and can be scheduled by visiting SDPB.org/StoryCorps, StoryCorps.org, or calling 800-850-4406. StoryCorps collects and preserves the personal stories of thousands of people to tell the story of America, and now people in Rapid City and the Black Hills have a chance to add theirs.

Here's how it works. Two people – friends, spouses, relatives, whatever – come to the booth; one “interviews” the other as he or she tells the story. Sometimes participants interview each other, or tell a story together. There are no limits to what you can talk about – the result can be a snapshot of a shared history, a love story, or a story of heroism. It can be a record of the way we live now, or have lived in the past.

At the end of the session, participants receive a free broadcast-quality CD to share with family and friends; a second copy will be archived at the American Folklife Center at the Library of Congress.

An interview takes place in StoryCorps' Mobile Booth.

StoryCorps selections regularly air on NPR's Morning Edition on Friday, and on Weekend Edition on Saturday. Several stories from Rapid City will air on SDPB Radio over the course of the visit.

StoryCorps' MobileBooth visited Sioux Falls in June 2007, recording dozens of South Dakota stories for the archives. Over the past 10 years, StoryCorps has recorded nearly 50,000 stories nationwide. In Rapid City, StoryCorps is made possible by YOU with your membership in the Friends of SDPB.

New Season of Focus Starts in September

SDPB1: Starting Sept. 12, Thursdays at 8pm (7 MT) & Sundays at 1pm (Noon MT)

SDPB2: Starting Sept. 16, Mondays at 4pm (3 MT) & Wednesdays at 11am (10 MT)

Join SDPB's Stephanie Rissler as she hosts a new season of South Dakota Focus, a show that brings experts together to discuss important topics affecting South Dakotans.

Sept. 12: The Lakota Voice Project

To bring attention to suicide issues on the reservations, the Lakota Voice Project gave small handheld cameras to junior high students and asked them to videotape life on the reservation and express what "hope" looks like to them.

Sept. 19: Human Trafficking

Human trafficking has received a lot of attention over the past year. Focus will take a closer look at the issue here in South Dakota and what is being done to stop it and prosecute those found guilty.

South Dakota FOCUS

Sept. 26: Infrastructure – Bedroom Communities

South Dakota's larger towns are seeing growth when it comes to business. However, many families are choosing to live in smaller communities just outside of the larger cities. Piedmont, Hermosa, Hartford and Humboldt are examples of "bedroom communities" that are seeing new homes and no new businesses, leaving the cities short on sales tax to pay for infrastructure.

What Makes South Dakota Unique?

SDPB1:

Thursday, Sept. 5, 8pm (7 MT)

Sunday, Sept. 8, 1pm (Noon)

SDPB2: Sunday, Sept. 22, 5:30pm (4:30 MT)

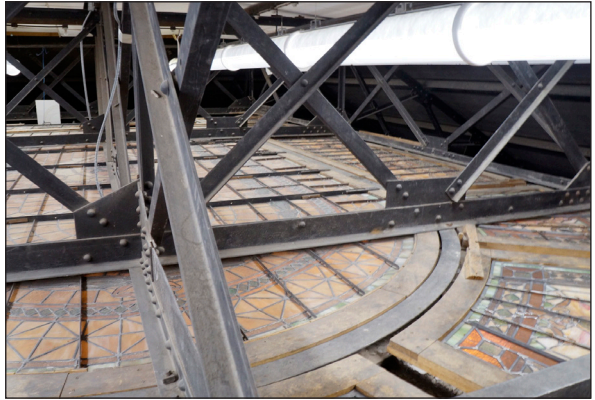

SDPB.org/DakotaLife/

Tune in Sept. 5 for a new season of Dakota Life as we continue to celebrate the people, places, and things that make South Dakota special.

The season kicks off with the revival of some of our state's most historic structures. We'll see a full scale makeover of a nearly lost building in Yankton, uncover the past during a remodel of the Supreme Court Library, and preview stained glass restoration at the Capitol in Pierre.

The historic Mead building at the Human Services Center in Yankton, which was built in 1909, was facing demolition until the Yankton County Historical Society realized it could be renovated and used as a museum.

At the Supreme Court Law Library in Pierre, original stenciling was uncovered, along with the names of territorial justices. Now, work is being done to uncover the rest of the names and original stenciling and restore the library to its original condition.

The Capitol building's stained glass is currently being restored and the project is proving to be no small task. Inspectors found that the glass above the House and Senate chambers was originally installed upside down, which means the glass is not properly supported. New support structures will be put up, and the glass panes will be restored and replaced where necessary in order to preserve the historical beauty of the building. The project, estimated at more than $2.4 million, should be completed by late next year.

History, Science Combine to Fill Out Family Stories

The programs feature participants from four American cities – Nashville, Austin, Detroit and San Francisco – who want to explore a genealogical mystery.

The 12-hour, six-part documentary series is the story of an idea as uniquely American as the Declaration of Independence and just as radical: that the most special places in the nation should be preserved, not for royalty or the rich, but for everyone.

The Voices of Workers Help Mark Labor Day

SDPB Radio: Monday, Sept. 2, Noon (11 MT)

A montage of voices come together to give us a look at the state of work in Hearing Voices Nine to Five, airing on SDPB Radio on Labor Day at Noon (11 MT).

The special, hosted by Ann Heppermann and Kara Oehler, includes the work we do, from Wall Street traders to taxi cab drivers to off-the-books in the underground economy.

Some of the excerpts include:

- Filling out a job application.

- Conversations with cab drivers.
- Cleaning up after crime and tragedy.
- A "professional" golfball diver.
- The path to becoming a bullfighter.
- The challenges of a bra saleswoman.
- Trading technique on the floor of the New York Mercantile Exchange.

Hearing Voices Nine to Five is part of a series of themed compilations of broadcasts, podcasts, slam poets, sound-portraits, features, found-sound, audio art and documentaries.

Program Funders

Program Funders recognize the importance of lifelong learning by providing support for SDPB programs in South Dakota. Program funders give $5,000 or more in support of SDPB programs. Thank you.

Mr. Steve and friends dance and sing at FamilyFest in Sioux Falls.

PBS Kids Brings Mr. Steve to Sioux Falls

A grant from PBS Kids brought PBS Kids Host Mr. Steve to Sioux Falls in July. Mr. Steve sang songs, signed autographs and posed for pictures at the FamilyFest at the W.H. Lyon Fairgrounds. Thank you.

Hundreds of children and parents enjoyed the show and stopped by the SDPB table to learn about the network during the day of fun at the festival.

Steve Roslonek has been writing and performing his award-winning music for kids and families for the past 11 years. In 2008, he took on the role of “Mr. Steve,” cohost of the PBS Kids preschool programming, including Curious George, Clifford the Big Red Dog, Dragon Tales, and Super Why. Steve performs original interactive songs that reinforce the day’s curriculum theme.

SDPB Viewers Make Television Drive a Success

A big thank you to the viewers of SDPB Television who made our Festival fundraiser in August a big success.

The event brought in 277 pledges, including 218 new members for the Friends of SDPB, for a total of $61,168. The Dalesburg Team, Pi Beta Phi, Lewis & Clark Theatre Company, Vermillion Rotary and Vermillion Lions Club provided phone volunteers. Walmart of Vermillion provided refreshments.

In addition, 43 people joined the Evergreen program, bringing the network an additional $7,767 through a generous matching program funded through a gift from Van D. and Barbara B. Fishback of Brookings.

The gift allows a match of up to $250 for all Friends of SDPB donors who opt for automatic renewal (Evergreen Members). In addition, the Brookings couple are matching all new Visionary Society members ($1,000+ annual giving) with a $1,000 gift.

The Fishbacks chose to fund the match program to support public broadcasting in South Dakota and help strengthen the organization, according to Friends of SDPB Vice President of Development Ryan Howlett. “They wanted to find a way to give back to the state in a way that could impact all South Dakotans.”

The Visionary Society

The SDPB Visionary Society offers annual donors of $1,000 or more unique opportunities and a leadership role in supporting South Dakota's network: SDPB.
