Format: Documentary

In 2004, Jason Crigler's life was taking off. He was one of New York's hottest young guitarists, his new CD was due for release and his wife, Monica, was pregnant with their first child. Then, at a gig in Manhattan, Jason suffered a near-fatal brain hemorrhage. His doctors doubted he would ever emerge from his near-vegetative state. The astonishing journey that followed, documented by friend and filmmaker Eric Daniel Metzgar ("The Chances of the World Changing," P.O.V. 2007), is a stirring family saga and a portrait of creative struggle in the face of overwhelming tragedy.

Length: 60 minutes
Airdate: 7/5/09 2:00 pm
Service: PBS

Can the power of music make the brain come alive? Throughout his career Dr. Oliver Sacks, neurologist and acclaimed author, whose book Awakenings was made into an Oscar-nominated feature film starring Robin Williams and Robert De Niro, has encountered myriad patients who are struggling to cope with debilitating medical conditions. While their ailments vary, many have one thing in common: an appreciation for the therapeutic effects of music. NOVA follows four individuals--two of whom are Sacks's case studies--and even peers into Sacks's own brain, to investigate music's strange, surprising, and still unexplained power over the human mind.

Episode Title: The Reckoning: The Battle for the International Criminal Court

Length: 90 minutes

Airdate: 7/14/09 11:00 pm

Service: PBS

Format: Documentary

Segment Length: 01:26:46

Over 120 countries have united to form the International Criminal Court (ICC) -- the first permanent court created to prosecute perpetrators, no matter how powerful, of crimes against humanity, war crimes and genocide. "The Reckoning" follows dynamic ICC Prosecutor Luis Moreno Ocampo and his team for three years across four continents as he issues arrest warrants for Lord's Resistance Army leaders in Uganda, puts Congolese warlords on trial, shakes up the Colombian justice system, and charges Sudan's President Omar al-Bashir with genocide in Darfur. Like a thriller, this film keeps you on the edge of your seat. Will the Prosecutor succeed? Will the world ensure that justice prevails?

To the Congress, the new senator from Minnesota and the Supreme Court term ends, tonight on "Washington Week." Gen. Ray Odierno said, "I think from a military and security standpoint it's time for us to move out of the cities." The deadline arrived and U.S. troops left town, but 130,000 service members remain. And the violence continues. Where do we stand in Iraq? At home, President Obama tackles other ups and downs, a win last week on climate change and uncertain path ahead on health care. In Minnesota, an election decided eight months after the voting ended. SEN. AL FRANKEN (D-MN) said, "Well, it was close, but we won." While winners and losers are still sorting out this year's Supreme Court term. Covering the week: Martha Raddatz of ABC News, Dan Balz of the "Washington Post," Naftali Bendavid of the "Wall Street" Journal, and Joan Biskupic of "USA Today".

In 2004, Jason Crigler's life was taking off. He was one of New York's hottest young guitarists, his new CD was due for release and his wife, Monica, was pregnant with their first child. Then, at a gig in Manhattan, Jason suffered a near-fatal brain hemorrhage. His doctors doubted he would ever emerge from his near-vegetative state. The astonishing journey that followed, documented by friend and filmmaker Eric Daniel Metzgar ("The Chances of the World Changing," P.O.V. 2007), is a stirring family saga and a portrait of creative struggle in the face of overwhelming tragedy.

Can the power of music make the brain come alive? Throughout his career Dr. Oliver Sacks, neurologist and acclaimed author, whose book Awakenings was made into an Oscar-nominated feature film starring Robin Williams and Robert De Niro, has encountered myriad patients who are struggling to cope with debilitating medical conditions. While their ailments vary, many have one thing in common: an appreciation for the therapeutic effects of music. NOVA follows four individuals--two of whom are Sacks's case studies--and even peers into Sacks's own brain, to investigate music's strange, surprising, and still unexplained power over the human mind.

Reality check, the president in Russia and in Rome, while domestic pressures build at home. Plus, Palin 2012 -- why it might yet happen, tonight on "Washington Week." Meeting popes and presidents -- it's all part of the job for any U.S. leader. Pres. Barack Obama says, "And we've not agreed on every point, but we've shown that it's possible to move forward and make real and unprecedented progress together." Still, from climate change abroad to economic and health care fixes at home, President Obama saw more hurdles than hoorays this week. Vice Pres. Joe Biden says, "The truth is there was a misreading of just how bad an economy we inherited." Pres. Obama says, "Rather than say misread, we had incomplete information." Rep. John Boehner (R-OH) says, "Now, this is the greatest fabrication I've seen since I've been in Congress." Are health care and economic stimulus off track, and what can the president do to get them back on? Plus, the week's political mystery. Gov. Sarah Palin says, "I'm not going to close any door that may be open for me out there." Is Sarah Palin's career over or just beginning? Covering the week: Doyle McManus of the "Los Angeles Times," Ceci Connolly of the "Washington Post," Deborah Solomon of the "Wall Street" Journal, and James Barnes of "National Journal."

To the Congress, the new senator from Minnesota and the Supreme Court term ends, tonight on "Washington Week." Gen. Ray Odierno said, "I think from a military and security standpoint it's time for us to move out of the cities." The deadline arrived and U.S. troops left town, but 130,000 service members remain. And the violence continues. Where do we stand in Iraq? At home, President Obama tackles other ups and downs, a win last week on climate change and uncertain path ahead on health care. In Minnesota, an election decided eight months after the voting ended. SEN. AL FRANKEN (D-MN) said, "Well, it was close, but we won." While winners and losers are still sorting out this year's Supreme Court term. Covering the week: Martha Raddatz of ABC News, Dan Balz of the "Washington Post," Naftali Bendavid of the "Wall Street" Journal, and Joan Biskupic of "USA Today".

Reality check, the president in Russia and in Rome, while domestic pressures build at home. Plus, Palin 2012 -- why it might yet happen, tonight on "Washington Week." Meeting popes and presidents -- it's all part of the job for any U.S. leader. Pres. Barack Obama says, "And we've not agreed on every point, but we've shown that it's possible to move forward and make real and unprecedented progress together." Still, from climate change abroad to economic and health care fixes at home, President Obama saw more hurdles than hoorays this week. Vice Pres. Joe Biden says, "The truth is there was a misreading of just how bad an economy we inherited." Pres. Obama says, "Rather than say misread, we had incomplete information." Rep. John Boehner (R-OH) says, "Now, this is the greatest fabrication I've seen since I've been in Congress." Are health care and economic stimulus off track, and what can the president do to get them back on? Plus, the week's political mystery. Gov. Sarah Palin says, "I'm not going to close any door that may be open for me out there." Is Sarah Palin's career over or just beginning? Covering the week: Doyle McManus of the "Los Angeles Times," Ceci Connolly of the "Washington Post," Deborah Solomon of the "Wall Street" Journal, and James Barnes of "National Journal."

In 2004, Jason Crigler's life was taking off. He was one of New York's hottest young guitarists, his new CD was due for release and his wife, Monica, was pregnant with their first child. Then, at a gig in Manhattan, Jason suffered a near-fatal brain hemorrhage. His doctors doubted he would ever emerge from his near-vegetative state. The astonishing journey that followed, documented by friend and filmmaker Eric Daniel Metzgar ("The Chances of the World Changing," P.O.V. 2007), is a stirring family saga and a portrait of creative struggle in the face of overwhelming tragedy.

To the Congress, the new senator from Minnesota and the Supreme Court term ends, tonight on "Washington Week." Gen. Ray Odierno said, "I think from a military and security standpoint it's time for us to move out of the cities." The deadline arrived and U.S. troops left town, but 130,000 service members remain. And the violence continues. Where do we stand in Iraq? At home, President Obama tackles other ups and downs, a win last week on climate change and uncertain path ahead on health care. In Minnesota, an election decided eight months after the voting ended. SEN. AL FRANKEN (D-MN) said, "Well, it was close, but we won." While winners and losers are still sorting out this year's Supreme Court term. Covering the week: Martha Raddatz of ABC News, Dan Balz of the "Washington Post," Naftali Bendavid of the "Wall Street" Journal, and Joan Biskupic of "USA Today".

Reality check, the president in Russia and in Rome, while domestic pressures build at home. Plus, Palin 2012 -- why it might yet happen, tonight on "Washington Week." Meeting popes and presidents -- it's all part of the job for any U.S. leader. Pres. Barack Obama says, "And we've not agreed on every point, but we've shown that it's possible to move forward and make real and unprecedented progress together." Still, from climate change abroad to economic and health care fixes at home, President Obama saw more hurdles than hoorays this week. Vice Pres. Joe Biden says, "The truth is there was a misreading of just how bad an economy we inherited." Pres. Obama says, "Rather than say misread, we had incomplete information." Rep. John Boehner (R-OH) says, "Now, this is the greatest fabrication I've seen since I've been in Congress." Are health care and economic stimulus off track, and what can the president do to get them back on? Plus, the week's political mystery. Gov. Sarah Palin says, "I'm not going to close any door that may be open for me out there." Is Sarah Palin's career over or just beginning? Covering the week: Doyle McManus of the "Los Angeles Times," Ceci Connolly of the "Washington Post," Deborah Solomon of the "Wall Street" Journal, and James Barnes of "National Journal."

Can the power of music make the brain come alive? Throughout his career Dr. Oliver Sacks, neurologist and acclaimed author, whose book Awakenings was made into an Oscar-nominated feature film starring Robin Williams and Robert De Niro, has encountered myriad patients who are struggling to cope with debilitating medical conditions. While their ailments vary, many have one thing in common: an appreciation for the therapeutic effects of music. NOVA follows four individuals--two of whom are Sacks's case studies--and even peers into Sacks's own brain, to investigate music's strange, surprising, and still unexplained power over the human mind.

Format: Documentary

Segment Length: 01:26:46

Over 120 countries have united to form the International Criminal Court (ICC) -- the first permanent court created to prosecute perpetrators, no matter how powerful, of crimes against humanity, war crimes and genocide. "The Reckoning" follows dynamic ICC Prosecutor Luis Moreno Ocampo and his team for three years across four continents as he issues arrest warrants for Lord's Resistance Army leaders in Uganda, puts Congolese warlords on trial, shakes up the Colombian justice system, and charges Sudan's President Omar al-Bashir with genocide in Darfur. Like a thriller, this film keeps you on the edge of your seat. Will the Prosecutor succeed? Will the world ensure that justice prevails?

TIME TEAM AMERICA wades into the swamps of South Carolina to find the truth about North America's first human inhabitants. Experts debate about when people first came to this land. Did they follow big game across the continent 15,000 years ago or did they arrive much, much earlier? TIME TEAM AMERICA has just three days to search out evidence that could shed light on the controversy. What they find could rock the archaeological world. Along the way, they glimpse what life was like in North America 15,000 years ago, and what may have happened to the continent's first people.

TIME TEAM AMERICA digs for the remains of the first American town founded by former slaves. In 1836 "Free Frank" McWorter purchased his freedom from a Kentucky plantation owner and headed North. When he reached Illinois, he planted roots, started a town, and sold enough property to purchase the rest of his family out of slavery. Now a farmer's field covers this dramatic testament to victory over enslavement. The local landowners and the McWorter family want to uncover what remains of New Philadelphia to memorialize its history and the history of their ancestors. TIME TEAM joins in the search for the remains of the schoolhouse where New Philadelphia's black children learned to read and write in freedom.

Sotomayor at the Senate, health care reform lurches forward, mixed news on the economy, and keeping secrets from Congress, tonight on Washington Week. Sonia Sotomayor said, "Many senators have asked me about my judicial philosophy. Simple: fidelity to the law." Sonia Sotomayor speaks and so do senators, firefighters, supporters and detractors. After four days of Judiciary Committee hearings, were any minds changed? Sen. Dianne Feinstein (D-CA) said, "I find her remarkable. She gets a 10 for judicial temperament." Sen. Lindsey Graham (R-SC) said, "Unless you have a complete meltdown, you're going to get confirmed. But what lines were drawn in the sand by the time the hearings were over? Elsewhere on Capitol Hill, health care legislation began emerging from the House and the Senate complete with deep partisan fault lines. Sen. Chris Dodd (D-CT) said, "Even though this wasn't a bipartisan vote, it's a bipartisan effort. Sen. Orrin Hatch (R-UT) said, "Democrats have completely shut us out of the process." And the nation's economic dilemma grows even more complicated. Pres. Barack Obama said, "I'm absolutely confident that we will weather this economic storm." But as big firms post new profits, some economists wonder if there really is a life at tunnel's end. Plus, a controversial plan to assassinate al Qaeda terrorists runs afoul of Congress. Covering the week: Joan Biskupic of USA Today, Karen Tumulty of Time Magazine, Jeanne Cummings of Politico, and Mark Mazzetti of the New York Times.

The professor, the policeman, and the president: did Barack Obama step on his own healthcare message, tonight on Washington Week. The first black president steps into his first racial controversy. Pres. Barack Obama said, "The Cambridge Police acted stupidly in arresting somebody when there was already proof that they were in their own home." And then, attempts to step away. Pres. Obama later stated, "There was an overreaction in pulling Professor Gates out of his home to the station. I also continue to believe, based on what I heard, that Professor Gates probably overreacted as well." The uproar threatened to overwhelm the administration's health-care push. A week of interviews, Rose Garden announcements, news conference and rallies. Pres. Obama said, "This nation cannot afford a future where our government spends more on Medicare and Medicaid than we spend on anything else. This is the price of doing nothing about health care." But some remain unmoved. Rep. Eric Cantor (R-VA) said, "This administration, this president has no one else to blame. They have no straw man, they have no press conferences left." On the Hill, Fed Chairman Ben Bernanke pushes the reset button. Ben Bernanke [Federal Reserve Chairman] said, "We have a much better situation today than we would have if we had seen a collapse of the global financial system last October." Is anybody listening? Covering the week: Peter Baker of the New York Times, Michael Fletcher of the Washington Post, Marylyn Werber Serafini of National Journal, and David Wessel of the Wall Street Journal.

TIME TEAM AMERICA wades into the swamps of South Carolina to find the truth about North America's first human inhabitants. Experts debate about when people first came to this land. Did they follow big game across the continent 15,000 years ago or did they arrive much, much earlier? TIME TEAM AMERICA has just three days to search out evidence that could shed light on the controversy. What they find could rock the archaeological world. Along the way, they glimpse what life was like in North America 15,000 years ago, and what may have happened to the continent's first people.

Sotomayor at the Senate, health care reform lurches forward, mixed news on the economy, and keeping secrets from Congress, tonight on Washington Week. Sonia Sotomayor said, "Many senators have asked me about my judicial philosophy. Simple: fidelity to the law." Sonia Sotomayor speaks and so do senators, firefighters, supporters and detractors. After four days of Judiciary Committee hearings, were any minds changed? Sen. Dianne Feinstein (D-CA) said, "I find her remarkable. She gets a 10 for judicial temperament." Sen. Lindsey Graham (R-SC) said, "Unless you have a complete meltdown, you're going to get confirmed. But what lines were drawn in the sand by the time the hearings were over? Elsewhere on Capitol Hill, health care legislation began emerging from the House and the Senate complete with deep partisan fault lines. Sen. Chris Dodd (D-CT) said, "Even though this wasn't a bipartisan vote, it's a bipartisan effort. Sen. Orrin Hatch (R-UT) said, "Democrats have completely shut us out of the process." And the nation's economic dilemma grows even more complicated. Pres. Barack Obama said, "I'm absolutely confident that we will weather this economic storm." But as big firms post new profits, some economists wonder if there really is a life at tunnel's end. Plus, a controversial plan to assassinate al Qaeda terrorists runs afoul of Congress. Covering the week: Joan Biskupic of USA Today, Karen Tumulty of Time Magazine, Jeanne Cummings of Politico, and Mark Mazzetti of the New York Times.

The professor, the policeman, and the president: did Barack Obama step on his own healthcare message, tonight on Washington Week. The first black president steps into his first racial controversy. Pres. Barack Obama said, "The Cambridge Police acted stupidly in arresting somebody when there was already proof that they were in their own home." And then, attempts to step away. Pres. Obama later stated, "There was an overreaction in pulling Professor Gates out of his home to the station. I also continue to believe, based on what I heard, that Professor Gates probably overreacted as well." The uproar threatened to overwhelm the administration's health-care push. A week of interviews, Rose Garden announcements, news conference and rallies. Pres. Obama said, "This nation cannot afford a future where our government spends more on Medicare and Medicaid than we spend on anything else. This is the price of doing nothing about health care." But some remain unmoved. Rep. Eric Cantor (R-VA) said, "This administration, this president has no one else to blame. They have no straw man, they have no press conferences left." On the Hill, Fed Chairman Ben Bernanke pushes the reset button. Ben Bernanke [Federal Reserve Chairman] said, "We have a much better situation today than we would have if we had seen a collapse of the global financial system last October." Is anybody listening? Covering the week: Peter Baker of the New York Times, Michael Fletcher of the Washington Post, Marylyn Werber Serafini of National Journal, and David Wessel of the Wall Street Journal.

Six months in, is the president truly hitting a rough patch, or are the White House and the Congress in a standoff? We take a look, tonight on Washington Week. As the president's popularity begins to slide, the test narrows down to the future of health care. Pres. Barack Obama said, "Nobody is talking about some government takeover of health care. I'm tired of hearing that." Sen. Harry Reid (D-NV) said, "The only problem we have with having a bipartisan bill is the Republican leadership in the Senate." Sen. Mitch McConnell (R-KY) said, "Some in Congress seem to be in such a rush--such a rush to pass any reform rather than the right reform." Sen. Chuck Grassley (R-IA) said, "The trouble is you folks are looking for news and there ain't no news." But there has been news and it's all about complicated choices, whether it's about reviving the economy. Pres. Obama said, "We now have problems. We're going to have to tighten our belt. But we can't do it in the middle of the stimulus. We can't do it in the middle--just as the economy is coming out of recession. Sen. Jim Demint (R-SC) said, "He's taken a bad economy and made it worse." Or tackling racial reconciliation by photo-op, whatever happened to the summer doldrums?. Covering the week: Charles Babington of the Associated Press, Dan Balz of the Washington Post, and Alexis Simendinger of National Journal.

Variety describes it as a film "mixing ferocity with tenderness, delicacy with tenacity" -- exactly like the unusual school it explores. In Hold Me Tight, Let Me Go, one of Britain's leading documentary filmmakers takes a verite look at Oxford's Mulberry Bush School for emotionally disturbed children. Mulberry's heroically forbearing staff greets extreme, sometimes violent behavior with only consolation and gentle restraint. Kim Longinotto's unblinking camera captures an arduous process and a nearly unhinged environment, but it also records the daily dramas of troubled kids trying to survive and the moments of hope they achieve with Mulberry's clear-eyed staff.

Format: Documentary

The hurricane season of 2004 is categorized as one of the most active on record. It begins with an uneventful June and July then suddenly turns violent in August. Forecasters at the National Hurricane Center in Miami are confronted with satellite images showing a steady stream of tropical storms spinning across the Atlantic from Africa. Combining their experience with the latest technology, they focus on making the most accurate predictions. As Hurricane Specialist Jack Bevens says, "If you get it wrong you can get a lot of people killed." No one wants to risk a wrong forecast. Anatomy of a Hurricane goes behind the scenes at the National Hurricane Center to see forecasters on a mission to save lives and property. It is a look at the stressful work of a dedicated staff as they track Charley, Frances, Ivan and Jeanne - all major hurricanes with unexpected challenges. It is also a look at the complicated dynamics of the atmosphere - why these hurricanes form and where they go.

Filmed over 23 years, The Betrayal is the Academy Award®-nominated directorial debut of renowned cinematographer Ellen Kuras in a unique collaboration with the film's subject and co-director, Thavisouk ("Thavi") Phrasavath. After the U.S. government waged a secret war in Laos during the Vietnam War, Thavi's father and thousands of other Laotians who had fought alongside American forces were abandoned and left to face imprisonment or execution. Hoping to find safety, Thavi's family made a harrowing escape to America, where they discovered a different kind of war. Weaving ancient prophecy with personal testimony and stunning imagery, The Betrayal is a story of survival and the resilient bonds of family. A Diverse Voices Project co-production with support from the Corporation for Public Broadcasting (CPB); funded in part by the Center for Asian American Media (CAAM). An Official Selection of the 2008 Sundance Film Festival.

Sotomayor at the Senate, health care reform lurches forward, mixed news on the economy, and keeping secrets from Congress, tonight on Washington Week. Sonia Sotomayor said, "Many senators have asked me about my judicial philosophy. Simple: fidelity to the law." Sonia Sotomayor speaks and so do senators, firefighters, supporters and detractors. After four days of Judiciary Committee hearings, were any minds changed? Sen. Dianne Feinstein (D-CA) said, "I find her remarkable. She gets a 10 for judicial temperament." Sen. Lindsey Graham (R-SC) said, "Unless you have a complete meltdown, you're going to get confirmed. But what lines were drawn in the sand by the time the hearings were over? Elsewhere on Capitol Hill, health care legislation began emerging from the House and the Senate complete with deep partisan fault lines. Sen. Chris Dodd (D-CT) said, "Even though this wasn't a bipartisan vote, it's a bipartisan effort. Sen. Orrin Hatch (R-UT) said, "Democrats have completely shut us out of the process." And the nation's economic dilemma grows even more complicated. Pres. Barack Obama said, "I'm absolutely confident that we will weather this economic storm." But as big firms post new profits, some economists wonder if there really is a life at tunnel's end. Plus, a controversial plan to assassinate al Qaeda terrorists runs afoul of Congress. The professor, the policeman, and the president: did Barack Obama step on his own healthcare message, tonight on Washington Week. The first black president steps into his first racial controversy. Pres. Barack Obama said, "The Cambridge Police acted stupidly in arresting somebody when there was already proof that they were in their own home." And then, attempts to step away. Pres. Obama later stated, "There was an overreaction in pulling Professor Gates out of his home to the station. I also continue to believe, based on what I heard, that Professor Gates probably overreacted as well." The uproar threatened to overwhelm the administration's health-care push. A week of interviews, Rose Garden announcements, news conference and rallies. Pres. Obama said, "This nation cannot afford a future where our government spends more on Medicare and Medicaid than we spend on anything else. This is the price of doing nothing about health care." But some remain unmoved. Rep. Eric Cantor (R-VA) said, "This administration, this president has no one else to blame. They have no straw man, they have no press conferences left." On the Hill, Fed Chairman Ben Bernanke pushes the reset button. Ben Bernanke [Federal Reserve Chairman] said, "We have a much better situation today than we would have if we had seen a collapse of the global financial system last October." Is anybody listening? Covering the week: Peter Baker of the New York Times, Michael Fletcher of the Washington Post, Marylyn Werber Serafini of National Journal, and David Wessel of the Wall Street Journal.

Six months in, is the president truly hitting a rough patch, or are the White House and the Congress in a standoff? We take a look, tonight on Washington Week. As the president's popularity begins to slide, the test narrows down to the future of health care. Pres. Barack Obama said, "Nobody is talking about some government takeover of health care. I'm tired of hearing that." Sen. Harry Reid (D-NV) said, "The only problem we have with having a bipartisan bill is the Republican leadership in the Senate." Sen. Mitch McConnell (R-KY) said, "Some in Congress seem to be in such a rush--such a rush to pass any reform rather than the right reform." Sen. Chuck Grassley (R-IA) said, "The trouble is you folks are looking for news and there ain't no news." But there has been news and it's all about complicated choices, whether it's about reviving the economy. Pres. Obama said, "We now have problems. We're going to have to tighten our belt. But we can't do it in the middle of the stimulus. We can't do it in the middle--just as the economy is coming out of recession. Sen. Jim Demint (R-SC) said, "He's taken a bad economy and made it worse." Or tackling racial reconciliation by photo-op, whatever happened to the summer doldrums?. Covering the week: Charles Babington of the Associated Press, Dan Balz of the Washington Post, and Alexis Simendinger of National Journal.

Lindsey Graham (R-SC) said,

"Unless you have a complete meltdown, you're going to get confirmed. But what lines were drawn in the sand by the time the hearings were over? Elsewhere on Capitol Hill, health care legislation began emerging from the House and the Senate complete with deep partisan fault lines. Sen. Chris Dodd (D-CT) said, "Even though this wasn't a bipartisan vote, it's a bipartisan effort. Sen. Orrin Hatch (R-UT) said, "Democrats have completely shut us out of the process." And the nation's economic dilemma grows even more complicated. Pres. Barack Obama said, "I'm absolutely confident that we will weather this economic storm." But as big firms post new profits, some economists wonder if there really is a life at tunnel's end. Plus, a controversial plan to assassinate al Qaeda terrorists runs afoul of Congress. Covering the week: Joan Biskupic of USA Today, Karen Tumulty of Time Magazine, Jeanne Cummings of Politico, and Mark Mazzetti of the New York Times.

The professor, the policeman, and the president: did Barack Obama step on his own healthcare message, tonight on Washington Week. The first black president steps into his first racial controversy. Pres. Barack Obama said, "The Cambridge Police acted stupidly in arresting somebody when there was already proof that they were in their own home." And then, attempts to step away. Pres. Obama later stated, "There was an overreaction in pulling Professor Gates out of his home to the station. I also continue to believe, based on what I heard, that Professor Gates probably overreacted as well." The uproar threatened to overwhelm the administration's health-care push. A week of interviews, Rose Garden announcements, news conference and rallies. Pres. Obama said, "This nation cannot afford a future where our government spends more on Medicare and Medicaid than we spend on anything else. This is the price of doing nothing about health care." But some remain unmoved. Rep. Eric Cantor (R-VA) said, "This administration, this president has no one else to blame. They have no straw man, they have no press conferences left." On the Hill, Fed Chairman Ben Bernanke pushes the reset button. Ben Bernanke [Federal Reserve Chairman] said, "We have a much better situation today than we would have if we had seen a collapse of the global financial system last October." Is anybody listening? Covering the week: Peter Baker of the New York Times, Michael Fletcher of the Washington Post, Marylyn Werber Serafini of National Journal, and David Wessel of the Wall Street Journal.

Six months in, is the president truly hitting a rough patch, or are the White House and the Congress in a standoff? We take a look, tonight on Washington Week. As the president's popularity begins to slide, the test narrows down to the future of health care. Pres. Barack Obama said, "Nobody is talking about some government takeover of health care. I'm tired of hearing that." Sen. Harry Reid (D-NV) said, "The only problem we have with having a bipartisan bill is the Republican leadership in the Senate." Sen. Mitch McConnell (R-KY) said, "Some in Congress seem to be in such a rush--such a rush to pass any reform rather than the right reform." Sen. Chuck Grassley (R-IA) said, "The trouble is you folks are looking for news and there ain't no news." But there has been news and it's all about complicated choices, whether it's about reviving the economy. Pres. Obama said, "We now have problems. We're going to have to tighten our belt. But we can't do it in the middle of the stimulus. We can't do it in the middle--just as the economy is coming out of recession. Sen. Jim Demint (R-SC) said, "He's taken a bad economy and made it worse." Or tackling racial reconciliation by photo-op, whatever happened to the summer doldrums?. Covering the week: Charles Babington of the Associated Press, Dan Balz of the Washington Post, and Alexis Simendinger of National Journal.

Format: Documentary

Filmed over 23 years, The Betrayal is the Academy Award®-nominated directorial debut of renowned cinematographer Ellen Kuras in a unique collaboration with the film's subject and co-director, Thavisouk ("Thavi") Phrasavath. After the U.S. government waged a secret war in Laos during the Vietnam War, Thavi's father and thousands of other Laotians who had fought alongside American forces were abandoned and left to face imprisonment or execution. Hoping to find safety, Thavi's family made a harrowing escape to America, where they discovered a different kind of war. Weaving ancient prophecy with personal testimony and stunning imagery, The Betrayal is a story of survival and the resilient bonds of family. A Diverse Voices Project co-production with support from the Corporation for Public Broadcasting (CPB); funded in part by the Center for Asian American Media (CAAM). An Official Selection of the 2008 Sundance Film Festival.

Fighting Child Prostitution: Child prostitution is on the rise not just in other countries around the world, but right here in America. The Department of Justice says, on any given day, tens of thousands of children across America are involved in prostitution. But what's being done to stop it? This week NOW on PBS visits Atlanta, Georgia to see how one American city is handling the tragic phenomenon of child prostitution. It is one of 27 American cities where the problem seems to be spinning out of control.

Sotomayor at the Senate, health care reform lurches forward, mixed news on the economy, and keeping secrets from Congress, tonight on Washington Week. Sonia Sotomayor said, "Many senators have asked me about my judicial philosophy. Simple: fidelity to the law." Sonia Sotomayor speaks and so do senators, firefighters, supporters and detractors. After four days of Judiciary Committee hearings, were any minds changed? Sen. Dianne Feinstein (D-CA) said, "I find her remarkable. She gets a 10 for judicial temperament." Sen. Lindsey Graham (R-SC) said, "Unless you have a complete meltdown, you're going to get confirmed. But what lines were drawn in the sand by the time the hearings were over? Elsewhere on Capitol Hill, health care legislation began emerging from the House and the Senate complete with deep partisan fault lines. Sen. Chris Dodd (D-CT) said, "Even though this wasn't a bipartisan vote, it's a bipartisan effort. Sen. Orrin Hatch (R-UT) said, "Democrats have completely shut us out of the process." And the nation's economic dilemma grows even more complicated. Pres. Barack Obama said, "I'm absolutely confident that we will weather this economic storm." But as big firms post new profits, some economists wonder if there really is a life at tunnel's end. Plus, a controversial plan to assassinate al Qaeda terrorists runs afoul of Congress. Covering the week: Joan Biskupic of USA Today, Karen Tumulty of Time Magazine, Jeanne Cummings of Politico, and Mark Mazzetti of the New York Times.

The professor, the policeman, and the president: did Barack Obama step on his own healthcare message, tonight on Washington Week. The first black president steps into his first racial controversy. Pres. Barack Obama said, "The Cambridge Police acted stupidly in arresting somebody when there was already proof that they were in their own home." And then, attempts to step away. Pres. Obama later stated, "There was an overreaction in pulling Professor Gates out of his home to the station. I also continue to believe, based on what I heard, that Professor Gates probably overreacted as well." The uproar threatened to overwhelm the administration's health-care push. A week of interviews, Rose Garden announcements, news conference and rallies. Pres. Obama said, "This nation cannot afford a future where our government spends more on Medicare and Medicaid than we spend on anything else. This is the price of doing nothing about health care." But some remain unmoved. Rep. Eric Cantor (R-VA) said, "This administration, this president has no one else to blame. They have no straw man, they have no press conferences left." On the Hill, Fed Chairman Ben Bernanke pushes the reset button. Ben Bernanke [Federal Reserve Chairman] said, "We have a much better situation today than we would have if we had seen a collapse of the global financial system last October." Is anybody listening? Covering the week: Peter

Baker of the New York Times, Michael Fletcher of the Washington Post, Marylyn Werber Serafini of National Journal, and David Wessel of the Wall Street Journal.

Six months in, is the president truly hitting a rough patch, or are the White House and the Congress in a standoff? We take a look, tonight on Washington Week. As the president's popularity begins to slide, the test narrows down to the future of health care. Pres. Barack Obama said, "Nobody is talking about some government takeover of health care. I'm tired of hearing that." Sen. Harry Reid (D-NV) said, "The only problem we have with having a bipartisan bill is the Republican leadership in the Senate." Sen. Mitch McConnell (R-KY) said, "Some in Congress seem to be in such a rush--such a rush to pass any reform rather than the right reform." Sen. Chuck Grassley (R-IA) said, "The trouble is you folks are looking for news and there ain't no news." But there has been news and it's all about complicated choices, whether it's about reviving the economy. Pres. Obama said, "We now have problems. We're going to have to tighten our belt. But we can't do it in the middle of the stimulus. We can't do it in the middle--just as the economy is coming out of recession. Sen. Jim Demint (R-SC) said, "He's taken a bad economy and made it worse." Or tackling racial reconciliation by photo-op, whatever happened to the summer doldrums?. Covering the week: Charles Babington of the Associated Press, Dan Balz of the Washington Post, and Alexis Simendinger of National Journal.

Format: Documentary

The hurricane season of 2004 is categorized as one of the most active on record. It begins with an uneventful June and July then suddenly turns violent in August. Forecasters at the National Hurricane Center in Miami are confronted with satellite images showing a steady stream of tropical storms spinning across the Atlantic from Africa. Combining their experience with the latest technology, they focus on making the most accurate predictions. As Hurricane Specialist Jack Bevens says, "If you get it wrong you can get a lot of people killed." No one wants to risk a wrong forecast. Anatomy of a Hurricane goes behind the scenes at the National Hurricane Center to see forecasters on a mission to save lives and property. It is a look at the stressful work of a dedicated staff as they track Charley, Frances, Ivan and Jeanne - all major hurricanes with unexpected challenges. It is also a look at the complicated dynamics of the atmosphere - why these hurricanes form and where they go.

TIME TEAM AMERICA wades into the swamps of South Carolina to find the truth about North America's first human inhabitants. Experts debate about when people first came to this land. Did they follow big game across the continent 15,000 years ago or did they arrive much, much earlier? TIME TEAM AMERICA has just three days to search out evidence that could shed light on the controversy. What they find could rock the archaeological world. Along the way, they glimpse what life was like in North America 15,000 years ago, and what may have happened to the continent's first people.

TIME TEAM AMERICA digs for the remains of the first American town founded by former slaves. In 1836 "Free Frank" McWorter purchased his freedom from a Kentucky plantation owner and headed North. When he reached Illinois, he planted roots, started a town, and sold enough property to purchase the rest of his family out of slavery. Now a farmer's field covers this dramatic testament to victory over enslavement. The local landowners and the McWorter family want to uncover what remains of New Philadelphia to memorialize its history and the history of their ancestors. TIME TEAM joins in the search for the remains of the schoolhouse where New Philadelphia's black children learned to read and write in freedom.

Filmed over 23 years, The Betrayal is the Academy Award®-nominated directorial debut of renowned cinematographer Ellen Kuras in a unique collaboration with the film's subject and co-director, Thavisouk ("Thavi") Phrasavath. After the U.S. government waged a secret war in Laos during the Vietnam War, Thavi's father and thousands of other Laotians who had fought alongside American forces were abandoned and left to face imprisonment or execution. Hoping to find safety, Thavi's family made a harrowing escape to America, where they discovered a different kind of war. Weaving ancient prophecy with personal testimony and stunning imagery, The Betrayal is a story of survival and the resilient bonds of family. A Diverse Voices Project co-production with support from the Corporation for Public Broadcasting (CPB); funded in part by the Center for Asian American Media (CAAM). Sotomayor at the Senate, health care reform lurches forward, mixed news on the economy, and keeping secrets from Congress, tonight on Washington Week. Sonia Sotomayor said, "Many senators have asked me about my judicial philosophy. Simple: fidelity to the law." Sonia Sotomayor speaks and so do senators, firefighters, supporters and detractors. After four days of Judiciary Committee hearings, were any minds changed? Sen. Dianne Feinstein (D-CA) said, "I find her remarkable. She gets a 10 for judicial temperament." Sen. Lindsey Graham (R-SC) said, "Unless you have a complete meltdown, you're going to get confirmed. But what lines were drawn in the sand by the time the hearings were over? Elsewhere on Capitol Hill, health care legislation began emerging from the House and the Senate complete with deep partisan fault lines. Sen. Chris Dodd (D-CT) said, "Even though this wasn't a bipartisan vote, it's a bipartisan effort. Sen. Orrin Hatch (R-UT) said, "Democrats have completely shut us out of the process." And the nation's economic dilemma grows even more complicated. Pres. Barack Obama said, "I'm absolutely confident that we will weather this economic storm." But as big firms post new profits, some economists wonder if there really is a life at tunnel's end. Plus, a controversial plan to assassinate al Qaeda terrorists runs afoul of Congress. Covering the week: Joan Biskupic of USA Today, Karen Tumulty of Time Magazine, Jeanne Cummings of Politico, and Mark Mazzetti of the New York Times.

In this classic 1969 documentary, the Man in Black is captured at his peak, the first of many in a looming roller-coaster career. Fresh on the heels of his "Folsom Prison" album, Cash displays the dark intensity and raw talent that made him a country music star and cultural icon. Director Robert Elfstrom got closer than any other filmmaker to Cash, who is seen performing with his new bride, June Carter Cash; in a rare duet with Bob Dylan; and behind the scenes with friends, family and aspiring young musicians. This program paints an unforgettable portrait that endures beyond the singer's 2003 death.

TIME TEAM AMERICA heads to the picturesque and remote canyons of southern Utah to examine what remains of the Fremont Indians who vanished 1,000 years ago. The Fremont stashed their food in clay granaries high on the cliffs of these canyons. They entered their underground homes through a hole in the ceiling, and they decorated rock walls with petroglyphs that remain a mystery to this day. Utah's state archaeologist calls in TIME TEAM AMERICA to examine some of the most pristine and puzzling archaeology in the United States. The team probes the ground, scales the cliffs, and learns what life was like in these canyons a thousand years ago.

Six months in, is the president truly hitting a rough patch, or are the White House and the Congress in a standoff? We take a look, tonight on Washington Week. As the president's popularity begins to slide, the test narrows down to the future of health care. Pres. Barack Obama said, "Nobody is talking about some government takeover of health care. I'm tired of hearing that." Sen. Harry Reid (D-NV) said, "The only problem we have with having a bipartisan bill is the Republican leadership in the Senate." Sen. Mitch McConnell (R-KY) said, "Some in Congress seem to be in such a rush--such a rush to pass any reform rather than the right reform." Sen. Chuck Grassley (R-IA) said, "The trouble is you folks are looking for news and there ain't no news." But there has been news and it's all about complicated choices, whether it's about reviving the economy. Pres. Obama said, "We now have problems. We're going to have to tighten our belt. But we can't do it in the middle of the stimulus. We can't do it in the middle--just as the economy is coming out of recession. Sen. Jim Demint (R-SC) said, "He's taken a bad economy and made it worse." Or tackling racial reconciliation by photo-op, whatever happened to the summer doldrums?. A surprise report on unemployment, the debate of health care reform begins in earnest across America, and Bill Clinton's excellent adventure. I'm John Dickerson, sitting in for Gwen Ifill, tonight on Washington Week. Tempered optimism on the economy. Pres. Barack Obama, said, "This morning we received additional signs that the worst may be behind us." From brighter unemployment news, to showrooms conducting commerce again, the economy seems to be on the rebound, but is it the president's doing? The debate over health care moves from Washington. Sen. Jim Demint said, "The Democrats are fighting any real health care reform. They're insistent on a single-payer government takeover." To the heartland, where it's gotten noisy. Sen. Harry Reid said, "In spite of those loud, shrill voices trying to interrupt town hall meetings and just throwing a monkey wrench into everything, we're going to continue to be positive and work hard." Is August make or break time for health care reform? And the secret mission to North Korea by Bill Clinton. Does the release of two captured journalists signal a thaw with the reclusive Korean leader? Six months in, is the president truly hitting a rough patch, or are the White House and the Congress in a standoff? We take a look, tonight on Washington Week. As the president's popularity begins to slide, the test narrows down to the future of health care. Pres. Barack Obama said, "Nobody is talking about some government takeover of health care. I'm tired of hearing that." Sen. Harry Reid (D-NV) said, "The only problem we have with having a bipartisan bill is the Republican leadership in the Senate." Sen. Mitch McConnell (R-KY) said, "Some in Congress seem to be in such a rush--such a rush to pass any reform rather than the right reform." Sen. Chuck Grassley (R-IA) said, "The trouble is you folks are looking for news and there ain't no news." But there has been news and it's all about complicated choices, whether it's about reviving the economy. Pres. Obama said, "We now have problems. We're going to have to tighten our belt. But we can't do it in the middle of the stimulus. We can't do it in the middle--just as the economy is coming out of recession. Sen. Jim Demint (R-SC) said, "He's taken a bad economy and made it worse." Or tackling racial reconciliation by photo-op, whatever happened to the summer doldrums?. Covering the week: Charles Babington of the Associated Press, Dan Balz of the Washington Post, and Alexis Simendinger of National Journal.

A surprise report on unemployment, the debate of health care reform begins in earnest across America, and Bill Clinton's excellent adventure. I'm John Dickerson, sitting in for Gwen Ifill, tonight on Washington Week. Tempered optimism on the economy. Pres. Barack Obama, said, "This morning we received additional signs that the worst may be behind us." From brighter unemployment news, to showrooms conducting commerce again, the economy seems to be on the rebound, but is it the president's doing? The debate over health care moves from Washington. Sen. Jim Demint said, "The Democrats are fighting any real health care reform. They're insistent on a single-payer government takeover." To the heartland, where it's gotten noisy. Sen. Harry Reid said, "In spite of those loud, shrill voices trying to interrupt town hall meetings and just throwing a monkey wrench into everything, we're going to continue to be positive and work hard." Is August make or break time for health care reform? And the secret mission to North Korea by Bill Clinton. Does the release of two captured journalists signal a thaw with the reclusive Korean leader? Presidential rumor control in the health care debate, calling the shots in the battle against swine flu, Hillary Clinton's mission to Africa, and what's next for Afghanistan. I'm Pete Williams sitting in for Gwen Ifill, tonight on Washington Week. The president takes to the road to put out wildfires over health care reform. Pres. Barack Obama said, "The way politics works sometimes is that people who want to keep things the way they are will try to scare the heck out of folks." How fear about an end-of-life provision has become the viral talking point in the reform debate. The start of the school year also means flu season is just around the corner. The younger individuals and pregnant women appear to be much more vulnerable to serious disease. The government's plan to get ahead of the swine flu virus. Hillary Clinton spends 11 days in Africa, but was it a lost-in-translation moment that overshadowed her mission? Secretary of State Hillary Clinton said, "Wait, you want me to tell you what my husband thinks? My husband is not the secretary of state. I am." Questions of substance and standing for the secretary of state. And while U.S. troops drawdown in Iraq, the fighting intensifies in Afghanistan on the eve of presidential elections there. Secretary of Defense Robert Gates said, "They're obviously holding an election in adverse circumstances. How the Taliban is forcing changes in U.S. strategy. Covering these stories this week: Janet Hook of the Los Angeles Times, Michael Duffy of Time Magazine, Janine Zacharia of Bloomberg News, and James Kitfield of National Journal.

Six months in, is the president truly hitting a rough patch, or are the White House and the Congress in a standoff? We take a look, tonight on Washington Week. As the president's popularity begins to slide, the test narrows down to the future of health care. Pres. Barack Obama said, "Nobody is talking about some government takeover of health care. I'm tired of hearing that." Sen. Harry Reid (D-NV) said, "The only problem we have with having a bipartisan bill is the Republican leadership in the Senate." Sen. Mitch McConnell (R-KY) said, "Some in Congress seem to be in such a rush--such a rush to pass any reform rather than the right reform." Sen. Chuck Grassley (R-IA) said, "The trouble is you folks are looking for news and there ain't no news." But there has been news and it's all about complicated choices, whether it's about reviving the economy. Pres. Obama said, "We now have problems. We're going to have to tighten our belt. But we can't do it in the middle of the stimulus. We can't do it in the middle--just as the economy is coming out of recession. Sen. Jim Demint (R-SC) said, "He's taken a bad economy and made it worse." Or tackling racial reconciliation by photo-op, whatever happened to the summer doldrums?. Covering the week: Charles Babington of the Associated Press, Dan Balz of the Washington Post, and Alexis Simendinger of National Journal.

A surprise report on unemployment, the debate of health care reform begins in earnest across America, and Bill Clinton's excellent adventure. I'm John Dickerson, sitting in for Gwen Ifill, tonight on Washington Week. Tempered optimism on the economy. Pres. Barack Obama, said, "This morning we received additional signs that the worst may be behind us." From brighter unemployment news, to showrooms conducting commerce again, the economy seems to be on the rebound, but is it the president's doing? The debate over health care moves from Washington. Sen. Jim Demint said, "The Democrats are fighting any real health care reform. They're insistent on a single-payer government takeover." To the heartland, where it's gotten noisy. Sen. Harry Reid said, "In spite of those loud, shrill voices trying to interrupt town hall meetings and just throwing a monkey wrench into everything, we're going to continue to be positive and work hard." Is August make or break time for health care reform? And the secret mission to North Korea by Bill Clinton. Does the release of two captured journalists signal a thaw with the reclusive Korean leader? Covering these stories this week John Harwood of CNBC and the New York Times, Peter Baker of the New York Times, and Martha Raddatz of ABC News.

TIME TEAM AMERICA heads to the picturesque and remote canyons of southern Utah to examine what remains of the Fremont Indians who vanished 1,000 years ago. The Fremont stashed their food in clay granaries high on the cliffs of these canyons. They entered their underground homes through a hole in the ceiling, and they decorated rock walls with petroglyphs that remain a mystery to this day. Utah's state archaeologist calls in TIME TEAM AMERICA to examine some of the most pristine and puzzling archaeology in the United States. The team probes the ground, scales the cliffs, and learns what life was like in these canyons a thousand years ago.

Presidential rumor control in the health care debate, calling the shots in the battle against swine flu, Hillary Clinton's mission to Africa, and what's next for Afghanistan. I'm Pete Williams sitting in for Gwen Ifill, tonight on Washington Week. The president takes to the road to put out wildfires over health care reform. Pres. Barack Obama said, "The way politics works sometimes is that people who want to keep things the way they are will try to scare the heck out of folks." How fear about an end-of-life provision has become the viral talking point in the reform debate. The start of the school year also means flu season is just around the corner. The younger individuals and pregnant women appear to be much more vulnerable to serious disease. The government's plan to get ahead of the swine flu virus. Hillary Clinton spends 11 days in Africa, but was it a lost-in-translation moment that overshadowed her mission? Secretary of State Hillary Clinton said, "Wait, you want me to tell you what my husband thinks? My husband is not the secretary of state. I am." Questions of substance and standing for the secretary of state. And while U.S. troops drawdown in Iraq, the fighting intensifies in Afghanistan on the eve of presidential elections there. Secretary of Defense Robert Gates said, "They're obviously holding an election in adverse circumstances. How the Taliban is forcing changes in U.S. strategy. Covering these stories this week: Janet Hook of the Los Angeles Times, Michael Duffy of Time Magazine, Janine Zacharia of Bloomberg News, and James Kitfield of National Journal.

On August 25, 2008, just two months after undergoing surgery for a malignant brain tumor, "The Lion of the Senate" and the Kennedy family's lone male survivor -- Edward M. Kennedy -- surprised attendees with an unscheduled speech at the Democratic National Convention in Denver, Colorado. "As I look ahead, I am strengthened by family and friendship. So many of you have been with me in the happiest days and the hardest days. Together we have known success and seen setbacks, victory and defeat," Kennedy said. The Kennedy story is unlike any other: a saga of ambition, wealth, family loyalty and personal tragedy. From patriarch Joseph Kennedy's rise on Wall Street and frustrations in politics, John Kennedy's march to the White House, Robert Kennedy's near-certain presidential victory, preempted only by his tragic death, through Edward Kennedy's withdrawal from the 1980 Presidential race following the scandal of Chappaquiddick, the family legacy continues to influence politics.

The loss of a liberal lion, plus the Justice Department versus the CIA and the good news-bad news economy, tonight, on Washington Week. Thousands of mourners paid respects today to a man who lived the past and looked to the future. Sen. Ted Kennedy (D-MA) said, "This November, the torch will be passed again to a new generation of Americans." Pres. Barack Obama noted, "His ideas and ideals are stamped on scores of laws and reflected in millions of lives." Ted Kennedy's passing was not unexpected, but it leaves a void on domestic issues like health care. Sen. Chris Dodd (D-CT) said, "My hope is that this will maybe cause people to take a breath, step back, and start talking with each other again in more civil tones about what needs to be done." And on bipartisanship. Vice Pres. Joe Biden said, "He was never small. And in the process of his doing, he made everybody he worked with bigger." As Massachusetts and the nation mourns, what comes next? In other news, Attorney General Eric Holder goes toe-to-toe with CIA Director Leon Panetta over detainee interrogations. "If threatening a prisoner with an electric drill isn't torture, I'm not sure what is." How far will the investigation go? And as Fed Chairman Ben Bernanke wins reappointment, stocks gain but deficit projections explode. Is there a silver lining anywhere? Covering the week, David Broder of the Washington Post, Karen Tumulty of Time Magazine, Pete Williams of NBC News, and David Wessel of the Wall Street Journal.

P.O.V. presents a one-hour collection of acclaimed documentary shorts by established and emerging filmmakers. "Utopia, Part 3: The World's Largest Shopping Mall" by Sam Green and Carrie Lozano -- If you thought Minnesota's Mall of America was the world's biggest shopping center, think again. It's the South China Mall, a Vegas-like spectacle built in 2005 that now sits almost entirely empty. In the current economic climate, could this be the shape of things to come?; "Nutkin's Last Stand" by Nicholas Berger--Something is rotten in England. A plague of North American grey squirrels threatens the beloved native red squirrel. The English are up in arms and a band of patriots -- including lords, priests, artists and farmers -- has come together to fight back against the grey menace.; "34x25x36" -- Filmmaker Jesse Epstein's latest installment in a trilogy about body image shows the inner workings of the Patina V Mannequin Factory outside Los Angeles and the musings of the people who decide what the perfect female body should look like.; "City of Cranes" by Eva Weber -- Take a journey high up in the sky and look at the world through the eyes and words of crane operators. A must-see for anybody who has ever wondered what it is like to work hundreds of feet above the ground, surrounded only by a small metal cage.

Presidential rumor control in the health care debate, calling the shots in the battle against swine flu, Hillary Clinton's mission to Africa, and what's next for Afghanistan. I'm Pete Williams sitting in for Gwen Ifill, tonight on Washington Week. The president takes to the road to put out wildfires over health care reform. Pres. Barack Obama said, "The way politics works sometimes is that people who want to keep things the way they are will try to scare the heck out of folks." How fear about an end-of-life provision has become the viral talking point in the reform debate. The start of the school year also means flu season is just around the corner. The younger individuals and pregnant women appear to be much more vulnerable to serious disease. The government's plan to get ahead of the swine flu virus. Hillary Clinton spends 11 days in Africa, but was it a lost-in-translation moment that overshadowed her mission? Secretary of State Hillary Clinton said, "Wait, you want me to tell you what my husband thinks? My husband is not the secretary of state. I am." Questions of substance and standing for the Secretary of State. And while U.S. troops drawdown in Iraq, the fighting intensifies in Afghanistan on the eve of presidential elections there. Secretary of Defense Robert Gates said, "They're obviously holding an election in adverse circumstances. How the Taliban is forcing changes in U.S. strategy. P.O.V. presents a one-hour collection of acclaimed documentary shorts by established and emerging filmmakers. "Utopia, Part 3: The World's Largest Shopping Mall" by Sam Green and Carrie Lozano -- If you thought Minnesota's Mall of America was the world's biggest shopping center, think again. It's the South China Mall, a Vegas-like spectacle built in 2005 that now sits almost entirely empty. In the current economic climate, could this be the shape of things to come?; "Nutkin's Last Stand" by Nicholas Berger--Something is rotten in England. A plague of North American grey squirrels threatens the beloved native red squirrel. The English are up in arms and a band of patriots -- including lords, priests, artists and farmers -- has come together to fight back against the grey menace.; "34x25x36" -- Filmmaker Jesse Epstein's latest installment in a trilogy about body image shows the inner workings of the Patina V Mannequin Factory outside Los Angeles and the musings of the people who decide what the perfect female body should look like.; "City of Cranes" by Eva Weber -- Take a journey high up in the sky and look at the world through the eyes and words of crane operators. A must-see for anybody who has ever wondered what it is like to work hundreds of feet above the ground, surrounded only by a small metal cage.

On August 25, 2008, just two months after undergoing surgery for a malignant brain tumor, "The Lion of the Senate" and the Kennedy family's lone male survivor -- Edward M. Kennedy -- surprised attendees with an unscheduled speech at the Democratic National Convention in Denver, Colorado. "As I look ahead, I am strengthened by family and friendship. So many of you have been with me in the happiest days and the hardest days. Together we have known success and seen setbacks, victory and defeat," Kennedy said. The Kennedy story is unlike any other: a saga of ambition, wealth, family loyalty and personal tragedy. From patriarch Joseph Kennedy's rise on Wall Street and frustrations in politics, John Kennedy's march to the White House, Robert Kennedy's near-certain presidential victory, preempted only by his tragic death, through Edward Kennedy's withdrawal from the 1980 Presidential race following the scandal of Chappaquiddick, the family legacy continues to influence politics.

A special program this week--your questions, our answers, all on the hot topic of this hot month: health care, tonight, on Washington Week. The questions are coming fast and furious. One man asked, "Why are we inviting 50 million illegal invaders, who broke federal law, into our health care system?" Then, a woman asked, "Why do you continue to support a Nazi policy as Obama has expressly supported this policy, why are you supporting it?" Rep. Barney Frank (D-MA) said, "On what planet do you spend most of your time?" But who do you trust to give you the answers. The president is trying. Pres. Barack Obama said, "We're going to have to cut through a lot of nonsense out there, a lot of absurd claims that have been made about health insurance reform." But is it too little too late? One woman said, "Call your senator. Stop the government takeover of health care." We asked for your questions and hundreds of you responded. Tonight's answers come from the reporters who have been covering the story--Ceci Connolly of the Washington Post, Peter Baker of the New York Times, Naftali Bendavid of the Wall Street Journal, and Jeanne Cummings of Politico.

The loss of a liberal lion, plus the Justice Department versus the CIA and the good news-bad news economy, tonight, on Washington Week. Thousands of mourners paid respects today to a man who lived the past and looked to the future. Sen. Ted Kennedy (D-MA) said, "This November, the torch will be passed again to a new generation of Americans." Pres. Barack Obama noted, "His ideas and ideals are stamped on scores of laws and reflected in millions of lives." Ted Kennedy's passing was not unexpected, but it leaves a void on domestic issues like health care. Sen. Chris Dodd (D-CT) said, "My hope is that this will maybe cause people to take a breath, step back, and start talking with each other again in more civil tones about what needs to be done." And on bipartisanship. Vice Pres. Joe Biden said, "He was never small. And in the process of his doing, he made everybody he worked with bigger." As Massachusetts and the nation mourns, what comes next? In other news, Attorney General Eric Holder goes toe-to-toe with CIA Director Leon Panetta over detainee interrogations. "If threatening a prisoner with an electric drill isn't torture, I'm not sure what is." How far will the investigation go? And as Fed Chairman Ben Bernanke wins reappointment, stocks gain but deficit projections explode. Is there a silver lining anywhere? Covering the week, David Broder of the Washington Post, Karen Tumulty of Time Magazine, Pete Williams of NBC News, and David Wessel of the Wall Street Journal.

On August 25, 2008, just two months after undergoing surgery for a malignant brain tumor, "The Lion of the Senate" and the Kennedy family's lone male survivor -- Edward M. Kennedy -- surprised attendees with an unscheduled speech at the Democratic National Convention in Denver, Colorado. "As I look ahead, I am strengthened by family and friendship. So many of you have been with me in the happiest days and the hardest days. Together we have known success and seen setbacks, victory and defeat," Kennedy said. The Kennedy story is unlike any other: a saga of ambition, wealth, family loyalty and personal tragedy. From patriarch Joseph Kennedy's rise on Wall Street and frustrations in politics, John Kennedy's march to the White House, Robert Kennedy's near-certain presidential victory, preempted only by his tragic death, through Edward Kennedy's withdrawal from the 1980 Presidential race following the scandal of Chappaquiddick, the family legacy continues to influence politics.

Presidential rumor control in the health care debate, calling the shots in the battle against swine flu, Hillary Clinton's mission to Africa, and what's next for Afghanistan. I'm Pete Williams sitting in for Gwen Ifill, tonight on Washington Week. The president takes to the road to put out wildfires over health care reform. Pres. Barack Obama said, "The way politics works sometimes is that people who want to keep things the way they are will try to scare the heck out of folks." How fear about an end-of-life provision has become the viral talking point in the reform debate. The start of the school year also means flu season is just around the corner. The younger individuals and pregnant women appear to be much more vulnerable to serious disease. The government's plan to get ahead of the swine flu virus. Hillary Clinton spends 11 days in Africa, but was it a lost-in-translation moment that overshadowed her mission? Secretary of State Hillary Clinton said, "Wait, you want me to tell you what my husband thinks? My husband is not the secretary of state. I am." Questions of substance and standing for the Secretary of State. And while U.S. troops drawdown in Iraq, the fighting intensifies in Afghanistan on the eve of presidential elections there. Secretary of Defense Robert Gates said, "They're obviously holding an election in adverse circumstances. How the Taliban is forcing changes in U.S. strategy. Covering these stories this week: Janet Hook of the Los Angeles Times, Michael Duffy of Time Magazine, Janine Zacharia of Bloomberg News, and James Kitfield of National Journal.

A special program this week--your questions, our answers, all on the hot topic of this hot month: health care, tonight, on Washington Week. The questions are coming fast and furious. One man asked, "Why are we inviting 50 million illegal invaders, who broke federal law, into our health care system?" Then, a woman asked, "Why do you continue to support a Nazi policy as Obama has expressly supported this policy, why are you supporting it?" Rep. Barney Frank (D-MA) said, "On what planet do you spend most of your time?" But who do you trust to give you the answers. The president is trying. Pres. Barack Obama said, "We're going to have to cut through a lot of nonsense out there, a lot of absurd claims that have been made about health insurance reform." But is it too little too late? One woman said, "Call your senator. Stop the government takeover of health care." We asked for your questions and hundreds of you responded. Tonight's answers come from the reporters who have been covering the story--Ceci Connolly of the Washington Post, Peter Baker of the New York Times, Naftali Bendavid of the Wall Street Journal, and Jeanne Cummings of Politico.

The loss of a liberal lion, plus the Justice Department versus the CIA and the good news-bad news economy, tonight, on Washington Week. Thousands of mourners paid respects today to a man who lived the past and looked to the future. Sen. Ted Kennedy (D-MA) said, "This November, the torch will be passed again to a new generation of Americans." Pres. Barack Obama noted, "His ideas and ideals are stamped on scores of laws and reflected in millions of lives." Ted Kennedy's passing was not unexpected, but it leaves a void on domestic issues like health care. Sen. Chris

Dodd (D-CT) said, "My hope is that this will maybe cause people to take a breath, step back, and start talking with each other again in more civil tones about what needs to be done." And on bipartisanship. Vice Pres. Joe Biden said, "He was never small. And in the process of his doing, he made everybody he worked with bigger." As Massachusetts and the nation mourns, what comes next? In other news, Attorney General Eric Holder goes toe-to-toe with CIA Director Leon Panetta over detainee interrogations. "If threatening a prisoner with an electric drill isn't torture, I'm not sure what is." How far will the investigation go? And as Fed Chairman Ben Bernanke wins reappointment, stocks gain but deficit projections explode. Is there a silver lining anywhere? Covering the week, David Broder of the Washington Post, Karen Tumulty of Time Magazine, Pete Williams of NBC News, and David Wessel of the Wall Street Journal.

AirVenture Oshkosh is the largest air show on the planet, with more than 10,000 aircraft and more than half a million people. Viewers get an insider's perspective when INSIDE flies along with the world's best aerobatic pilots as they twist and tumble through the sky, and follow a father and son crew as they fly their restored P-51 Mustang on its maiden voyage to Oshkosh after a 14-year restoration--and compete for best in show. But even with unparalleled preparation and precaution, two things could destroy this event--bad weather and bad luck.

Latinos, this nation's largest and fastest-growing minority group, are big business. This program examines how efforts to profit from this group are shaping the contemporary Latino identity. The documentary, whose focal point is George Lopez, an icon and advocate for Latinos' move into the mainstream, offers rare behind-the-scenes access to Lopez' life and world as he shares his struggles to represent Latinos in a manner true to their realities and aspirations. As Cosby did for African Americans decades earlier, Lopez, through his comedy, aspires to normalize the image of Latinos in a way that delights and entertains. This program contrasts Lopez' endeavors with the efforts of marketers intent on spinning Latinos as a wholly distinct subculture. The show also features conversations with members of the much-coveted Latino youth market, whose tastes and interests are far more eclectic than one would think.

Format: Documentary
Segment Length: 00:56:46

The most thoroughly handcrafted instruments in the world, Steinway pianos are as unique and full of personality as the world-class musicians who play them. However, their makers are a dying breed: skilled cabinet-makers, gifted tuners, thorough handcrafters. NOTE BY NOTE follows the creation of a Steinway concert grand, #L1037, from forest floor to concert hall, in a process spanning 12 months, 12,000 parts, 450 craftsmen and countless hours of fine-tuned labor. It explores the relationship between musician and instrument, chronicles the manufacturing process and illustrates what makes each Steinway unique in this age of mass production. Viewers are treated to interviews and impromptu performances with a number of world-class artists — including Chinese phenom Lang Lang, Hélène Grimaud, Pierre-Laurent Aimard, contemporary singer Harry Connick Jr. and jazz greats Hank Jones, Marcus Roberts, Kenny Barron and Bill Charlap — as they shop for and test out pianos in the basement of the Steinway showroom in New York City.

Latinos, this nation's largest and fastest-growing minority group, are big business. This program examines how efforts to profit from this group are shaping the contemporary Latino identity. The documentary, whose focal point is George Lopez, an icon and advocate for Latinos' move into the mainstream, offers rare behind-the-scenes access to Lopez' life and world as he shares his struggles to represent Latinos in a manner true to their realities and aspirations. As Cosby did for African Americans decades earlier, Lopez, through his comedy, aspires to normalize the image of Latinos in a way that delights and entertains. This program contrasts Lopez' endeavors with the efforts of marketers intent on spinning Latinos as a wholly distinct subculture. The show also features conversations with members of the much-coveted Latino youth market, whose tastes and interests are far more eclectic than one would think.

A raucous presidential speech and a grim anniversary, tonight on Washington Week. President Barack Obama said, "The time for bickering is over. The time for games has passed. Now is the season for action." Sen. Harry Reid (D-NV) said, "I think it's fair to say that the President's speech was really a game changer." However, Rep. John Boehner (R-OH) said, "There was nothing new in the president's speech last night." Game changer or nothing new? The president's big health care speech sets off another round of debate and a fair bit of recrimination too. Whether it was the president declaring that his plan would not hurt senior citizens--Pres. Obama said, "It is a lie plain and simple." -- or Republican Joe Wilson (R-SC) using the same word to denounce the president stating, "You lie." Lively debates everywhere you look in Washington this week, even as the Supreme Court weighs in on campaign finance law. Justice Stephen Breyer said, "I am suggesting we'll make a hash of this statute." While today the nation pauses to consider the consequences of 9/11 eight years later. Covering the week: Charles Babington of the Associated Press, Peter Baker of the New York Times, Joan Biskupic of USA Today, and Doyle McManus of the Los Angeles Times.

Segment Length: 00:56:46

The most thoroughly handcrafted instruments in the world, Steinway pianos are as unique and full of personality as the world-class musicians who play them. However, their makers are a dying breed: skilled cabinet-makers, gifted tuners, thorough handcrafters. NOTE BY NOTE follows the creation of a Steinway concert grand, #L1037, from forest floor to concert hall, in a process spanning 12 months, 12,000 parts, 450 craftsmen and countless hours of fine-tuned labor. It explores the relationship between musician and instrument, chronicles the manufacturing process and illustrates what makes each Steinway unique in this age of mass production. Viewers are treated to interviews and impromptu performances with a number of world-class artists — including Chinese phenom Lang Lang, Hélène Grimaud, Pierre-Laurent Aimard, contemporary singer Harry Connick Jr. and jazz greats Hank Jones, Marcus Roberts, Kenny Barron and Bill Charlap — as they shop for and test out pianos in the basement of the Steinway showroom in New York City.

The Principal Story tells two stories, painting a dramatic portrait of the challenges facing America's public schools -- and of the great difference a dedicated principal can make. Tresa Dunbar is a second-year principal at Chicago's Nash Elementary, where 98% of students come from low-income families; in Springfield, Illinois, Kerry Purcell has led Harvard Park Elementary, with similar demographics, for six years. Tod Lending ("Omar & Pete," P.O.V. 2005) and David Mrazek followed both women over the course of a school year, discovering each one's unique styles yet similar passions. The Principal Story takes the viewer along for an emotional ride that reveals what effective educational leadership looks like in the 21st century.

Service: PBS

In Part 1 of WIDE ANGLE's unprecedented, award-winning 12-year documentary project, Time for School, returns in 2009 with visits to seven classrooms in seven countries to offer a glimpse into the lives of seven extraordinary children who are struggling to get what nearly all American kids take for granted: a basic education. We started filming in 2002, watching as kids first entered school in Afghanistan, Benin, Brazil, India, Japan, Kenya and Romania, many despite great odds. Several years later, in 2006, we returned to film an update--and now, three years later, we travel to check in on our young teenagers who are making the precarious transition to middle school. These children's stories put a human face on the shocking fact that more than 75 million children are currently out of school; of these, two thirds are girls. One in four children in developing countries does not complete five years of basic education, and there are nearly one billion illiterate adults--one-sixth of the world's people. WIDE ANGLE plans to continue revisiting all the children, and their peers and families, through 2015, the year they should graduate--and, not coincidentally, the U.N.'s target date for achieving universal education, a Millennium Development goal endorsed by all 191 members of the United Nations. While each child in Time for School 3 has a unique story, taken together their lives tell an epic tale, shedding light on one of the most urgent and under-reported stories of our time.

Filmmaker John Grabowska presents a lyrical interpretation of the sweeping geologic story of Yellowstone, the world's first and most famous national park. Formation of glaciers, mountain ranges and the gigantic caldera of a supervolcano provide the saga of this special place. Filmed over two years through all seasons, the film delves deeply into the significance behind the scenery and illuminates the intimate bonds between the landscape and biology - how Yellowstone's geology influences where life exists and how it evolves. A short concluding film, "Yellowstone's Cascade Corner," features the portion of Yellowstone extending across the southwestern border of Montana into Idaho.

Summer vacation's over -- and how. We'll talk about it all tonight on Washington Week. It fell to the vice president to make the week's most straightforward observation about the prospects for a health care reform. The president puts all his chips on the table next week with a back-in-business address to a joint session of Congress. Health care is priority number one, but other issues loom: an increasingly unpopular war in Afghanistan. Secretary of Defense Robert Gates said, "I absolutely do not think it is time to get out of Afghanistan." -- a still struggling economy and a slippery political environment, all signal a tough autumn ahead. Joining us tonight for our Labor Day preview: Dan Balz of the Washington Post, Jackie Calmes of the New York Times, John Dickerson of Slate Magazine and CBS News, and Martha Raddatz of ABC News.

A raucous presidential speech and a grim anniversary, tonight on Washington Week. President Barack Obama said, "The time for bickering is over. The time for games has passed. Now is the season for action." Sen. Harry Reid (D-NV) said, "I think it's fair to say that the President's speech was really a game changer." However, Rep. John Boehner (R-OH) said, "There was nothing new in the president's speech last night." Game changer or nothing new? The president's big health care speech sets off another round of debate and a fair bit of recrimination too. Whether it was the president declaring that his plan would not hurt senior citizens--Pres. Obama said, "It is a lie plain and simple." -- or Republican Joe Wilson (R-SC) using the same word to denounce the president stating, "You lie." Lively debates everywhere you look in Washington this week, even as the Supreme Court weighs in on campaign finance law. Justice Stephen Breyer said, "I am suggesting we'll make a hash of this statute." While today the nation pauses to consider the consequences of 9/11 eight years later. Covering the week: Charles Babington of the Associated Press, Peter Baker of the New York Times, Joan Biskupic of USA Today, and Doyle McManus of the Los Angeles Times.

Latinos, this nation's largest and fastest-growing minority group, are big business. This program examines how efforts to profit from this group are shaping the contemporary Latino identity. The documentary, whose focal point is George Lopez, an icon and advocate for Latinos' move into the mainstream, offers rare behind-the-scenes access to Lopez' life and world as he shares his struggles to represent Latinos in a manner true to their realities and aspirations. As Cosby did for African Americans decades earlier, Lopez, through his comedy, aspires to normalize the image of Latinos in a way that delights and entertains. This program contrasts Lopez' endeavors with the efforts of marketers intent on spinning Latinos as a wholly distinct subculture. The show also features conversations with members of the much-coveted Latino youth market, whose tastes and interests are far more eclectic than one would think.

Summer vacation's over -- and how. We'll talk about it all tonight on Washington Week. It fell to the vice president to make the week's most straightforward observation about the prospects for a health care reform. The president puts all his chips on the table next week with a back-in-business address to a joint session of Congress. Health care is priority number one, but other issues loom: an increasingly unpopular war in Afghanistan. Secretary of Defense Robert Gates said, "I absolutely do not think it is time to get out of Afghanistan." -- a still struggling economy and a slippery political environment, all signal a tough autumn ahead. Joining us tonight for our Labor Day preview: Dan Balz of the Washington Post, Jackie Calmes of the New York Times, John Dickerson of Slate Magazine and CBS News, and Martha Raddatz of ABC News.

A raucous presidential speech and a grim anniversary, tonight on Washington Week. President Barack Obama said, "The time for bickering is over. The time for games has passed. Now is the season for action." Sen. Harry Reid (D-NV) said, "I think it's fair to say that the President's speech was really a game changer." However, Rep. John Boehner (R-OH) said, "There was nothing new in the president's speech last night." Game changer or nothing new? The president's big health care speech sets off another round of debate and a fair bit of recrimination too. Whether it was the president declaring that his plan would not hurt senior citizens--Pres. Obama said, "It is a lie plain and simple." -- or Republican Joe Wilson (R-SC) using the same word to denounce the president stating, "You lie." Lively debates everywhere you look in Washington this week, even as the Supreme Court weighs in on campaign finance law. Justice Stephen Breyer said, "I am suggesting we'll make a hash of this statute." While today the nation pauses to consider the consequences of 9/11 eight years later. Covering the week: Charles Babington of the Associated Press, Peter Baker of the New York Times, Joan Biskupic of USA Today, and Doyle McManus of the Los Angeles Times.

Summer vacation's over -- and how. We'll talk about it all tonight on Washington Week. It fell to the vice president to make the week's most straightforward observation about the prospects for a health care reform. The president puts all his chips on the table next week with a back-in-business address to a joint session of Congress. Health care is priority number one, but other issues loom: an increasingly unpopular war in Afghanistan. Secretary of Defense Robert Gates said, "I absolutely do not think it is time to get out of Afghanistan." -- a still struggling economy and a slippery political environment, all signal a tough autumn ahead. Joining us tonight for our Labor Day preview: Dan Balz of the Washington Post, Jackie Calmes of the New York Times, John Dickerson of Slate Magazine and CBS News, and Martha Raddatz of ABC News.

A raucous presidential speech and a grim anniversary, tonight on Washington Week. President Barack Obama said, "The time for bickering is over. The time for games has passed. Now is the season for action." Sen. Harry Reid (D-NV) said, "I think it's fair to say that the President's speech was really a game changer." However, Rep. John Boehner (R-OH) said, "There was nothing new in the president's speech last night." Game changer or nothing new? The president's big health care speech sets off another round of debate and a fair bit of recrimination too. Whether it was the president declaring that his plan would not hurt senior citizens--Pres. Obama said, "It is a lie plain and simple." -- or Republican Joe Wilson (R-SC) using the same word to denounce the president stating, "You lie." Lively debates everywhere you look in Washington this week, even as the Supreme Court weighs in on campaign finance law. Justice Stephen Breyer said, "I am suggesting we'll make a hash of this statute." While today the nation pauses to consider the consequences of 9/11 eight years later. Covering the week: Charles Babington of the Associated Press, Peter Baker of the New York Times, Joan Biskupic of USA Today, and Doyle McManus of the Los Angeles Times.

Latinos, this nation's largest and fastest-growing minority group, are big business. This program examines how efforts to profit from this group are shaping the contemporary Latino identity. The documentary, whose focal point is George Lopez, an icon and advocate for Latinos' move into the mainstream, offers rare behind-the-scenes access to Lopez' life and world as he shares his struggles to represent Latinos in a manner true to their realities and aspirations. As Cosby did for African Americans decades earlier, Lopez, through his comedy, aspires to normalize the image of Latinos in a way that delights and entertains. This program contrasts Lopez' endeavors with the efforts of marketers intent on spinning Latinos as a wholly distinct subculture. The show also features conversations with members of the much-coveted Latino youth market, whose tastes and interests are far more eclectic than one would think.

Episode Title: Time for School 3 - Part 1
Length: 60 minutes

Airdate: 9/2/2009 9:00 PM
Service: PBS

In Part 1 of WIDE ANGLE's unprecedented, award-winning 12-year documentary project, Time for School, returns in 2009 with visits to seven classrooms in seven countries to offer a glimpse into the lives of seven extraordinary children who are struggling to get what nearly all American kids take for granted: a basic education. We started filming in 2002, watching as kids first entered school in Afghanistan, Benin, Brazil, India, Japan, Kenya and Romania, many despite great odds. Several years later, in 2006, we returned to film an update--and now, three years later, we travel to check in on our young teenagers who are making the precarious transition to middle school. These children's stories put a human face on the shocking fact that more than 75 million children are currently out of school; of these, two thirds are girls. One in four children in developing countries does not complete five years of basic education, and there are nearly one billion illiterate adults--one-sixth of the world's people. WIDE ANGLE plans to continue revisiting all the children, and their peers and families, through 2015, the year they should graduate--and, not coincidentally, the U.N.'s target date for achieving universal education, a Millennium Development goal endorsed by all 191 members of the United Nations. While each child in Time for School 3 has a unique story, taken together their lives tell an epic tale, shedding light on one of the most urgent and under-reported stories of our time.
