HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Friends of SDPB is happy to present Volume 54, Number 1 of SDPB Magazine. For 54 years we have offered a monthly publication that highlights the programming, educational efforts, and outreach opportunities that are available through your public broadcaster.

With a new year comes change. Thanks to feedback from our loyal readers, we are adjusting the layout of the magazine beginning with this issue. Some of the content is being moved around, but rest assured that we'll continue to offer TV listings and program highlights, as well as interesting stories about what's happening at South Dakota Public Broadcasting.

Thank to your support, SDPB has recently offered wonderful local programs – The Pride of the Dakotas, Tales of the Gridiron, Preserving South Dakota's Pioneer Past, and beautiful holiday specials featuring the South Dakota Symphony Orchestra and Chorus performing Handel's Messiah, the Mount Marty Christmas Vespers, and the Laura Ingalls Wilder Players' A Barrel Full of Christmas Memories.

A new year brings new episodes of your favorites: Finding Your Roots, Antiques Roadshow, All Creatures Great & Small on Masterpiece, Frontline, Nature, and American Masters, and local shows Wish You Were Here with Eliza Blue, Dakota Life Greetings from Buffalo, Music Matters and South Dakota Focus. SDPB Radio offers daily news and nightly jazz. Our social media pages and website present fresh content.

Perhaps our most impactful programming is coverage of your legislature in action. SDPB offers comprehensive coverage of legislative committees that you can watch and listen to without filters, as well as interviews with lawmakers, experts, and pundits on In the Moment, and news reports from a team of reporters.

SDPB offers this programming thanks to your support. We appreciate your financial contributions and welcome you as we journey through 2023 together. Tell a friend!

Access To Democracy

SDPB devotes a team to coverage of the legislature in Pierre. Staff includes engineers, videographers, directors, reporters and producers.

Our team includes Jackie Hendry, Producer and Host of South Dakota Focus, and Lee Strubinger, Politics and Public Policy Reporter for SDPB News, who provide insight into what this time of the year means to them and why our coverage is vital.

Why is covering the legislature important?

Jackie: SDPB's coverage of the legislative session is one of our most critical services to the citizens of South Dakota and anyone interested in the way laws are made here. Every public hearing in the process of making new laws is available online and floor debates air on TV. That public record is essential for an informed electorate. You've elected these people to represent you—now you can watch them at work. This record informs much of the coverage of session from us and other outlets, but anyone can go and listen to the entire proceedings for themselves. From start to finish, gavel-to-gavel, we livestream and archive the governmental process in South Dakota for audiences today and in the future. No one else in our state offers that service, and I'm proud to be a small part of that work by hosting December's budget address and January's inauguration and State of the State address.

Lee: What happens in the state legislature affects all South Dakotans. People need to know what is happening with their elected officials and why.

What benefits can South Dakota citizens realize by following our coverage?

Jackie: I understand why lots of people don't engage directly with the legislative process—it's a little confusing! Covering my first session as a new reporter a few years ago was a learning process. 'What are the steps for a bill, again?' 'What does hoghouse mean?' 'What does it mean to send a bill to the 41st day?' But understanding the process means citizens can play a more active role in the governmental process beyond election day. You can follow the process in real time and communicate with your legislators and even testify in bill hearings. Civic engagement is among the most patriotic things a person can do, in my opinion, and my colleagues and I at SDPB work hard to make that process as accessible as possible

Lee: Democracies require a well-informed public. I view SDPB's role in covering the state legislature as vital to the American/South Dakotan experiment.

What are you looking forward to in the upcoming sessions?

Jackie: This is going to be an especially interesting session. I'm very interested to see what if any action is taken to address ongoing high rate of nursing home closures around our state. I'm also closely watching how the state adopts Medicaid expansion now that voters have made their voices heard on Amendment D. And of course, I'll be watching for any adjustments to the state's trigger law related to abortion in the wake of the overturn of Roe v. Wade and see how the legislature responds to Governor Noem's intention to cut the grocery tax.

Lee: I'm keeping an eye on how Governor Kristi Noem gets her food sales tax cut passed in the legislature. The state is facing increased costs with infrastructure projects, a nursing home crisis and still remains 50th in teacher pay—to name a few. Others want to bring property tax relief. I'm also interested to see where the state's abortion policy goes following the SCOTUS Dobbs decision. The list is by no means exhaustive and there is plenty in play for the upcoming session.

Anything else you would like to add?

Jackie: One of our college interns was helping me prepare to track the progress of bills this session. I walked him through my notes from last session, and he had many of the same procedural questions I had when I was new to covering the legislature. I'm excited to create some bite-sized explanations for our social media spaces, along with info about other South Dakota session traditions, so our younger audiences can be as informed as possible.

Lee: Thank you for listening, reading, watching and for your support. Please reach out to me if there is something missing from our coverage.

Pierre In Your Palm

South Dakota Public Broadcasting offers comprehensive news about the 2023 legislative session and provides access on many platforms. This year we begin with the inauguration of Governor Kristi Noem for her second term in office. SDPB1 TV offers live coverage Saturday, Jan. 7 at noon Central (11 MT) and provides all the pomp of the Grand March from the Capitol Rotunda at 6:30pm Central (5:30 MT).

The 98th South Dakota Legislative Session gets underway Tuesday, January 10 at 1:00pm (noon MT) with the Governor's State of the State Address – available live online, on SDPB1 TV and SDPB Radio. The address will repeat that night at 10:00pm (9 MT) on SDPB1 TV.

ONLINE

All of SDPB's coverage of the legislature is streamed online at SD.net, SDPB.org, and is available on the SDNet app. Monitor committees, follow legislation, and watch the general sessions on your device.

Coverage is also available on our SDPB News social media channels on Facebook and Twitter. Hashtag #SDLeg

SDPB TV

Coverage of the general sessions of the House and Senate are offered live each legislative day, beginning at approximately 1:00pm (noon MT).

SDPB2 World: Live coverage of the SD House of Representatives

SDPB3 Create: Live coverage of the SD Senate

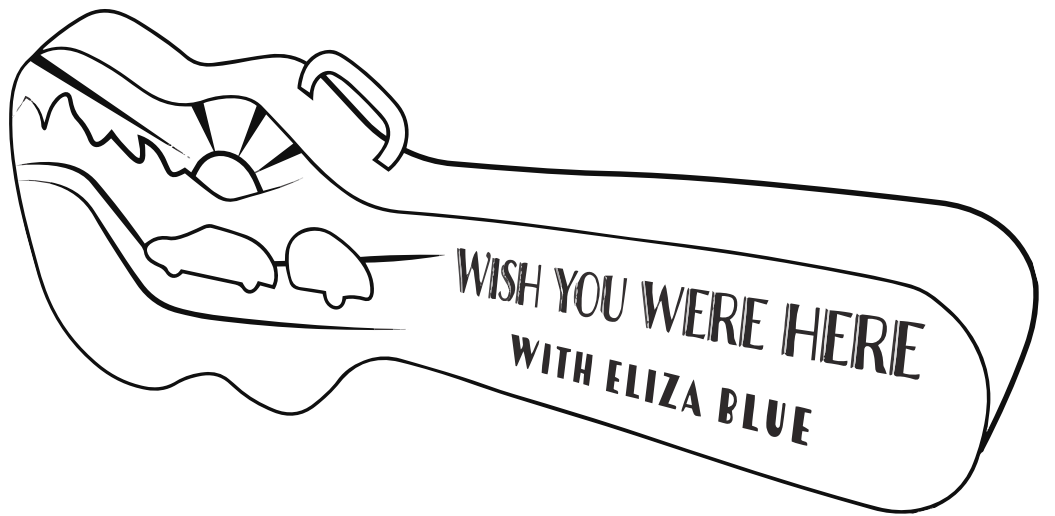

South Dakota Focus: Join host Jackie Hendry Thursdays, January 26th, February 23rd, and March 30th at 8:00pm Central (7 MT).

Visit SDPB.org/tv/tv-schedules for specific days and times.

SDPB Radio

SDPB News covers the legislature. Listen for news reports from Lee Strubinger and our team of reporters during Morning Edition, All Things Considered, and throughout the day. In the Moment with Lori Walsh features discussions with lawmakers and South Dakotans about legislation. More at SDPB.org/InTheMoment.

SDPB Radio is also available by streaming at SDPB.org, on the app, or through your smart speaker.

Wish You Were Here, a traveling concert series on SDPB, features Bison-based Eliza Blue, Lemmon-area musicians Todd and Judy Larson, and Mason Dauwen. This month's episode of Wish You Were Here with Eliza Blue, the premiere episode of the third season, takes viewers to Good Roots Farm and Garden just outside Brookings, South Dakota. Good Roots is a family-run organic farm and community gathering place. They offer a plethora of events but are perhaps best known for their seasonal pizza nights, which feature farm-fresh ingredients. In addition to touring the farm, Eliza will be talking and singing with Jon Bakken, songwriter, multi-instrumentalist, and editor of South Dakota music magazine Tiger Meat. Jon and Eliza will play songs from Jon's album Return from the City of Afterwall, out January 2023.

Wish You Were Here premieres Thursday, Jan. 5 at 8:30pm (7:30 MT) on SDPB1.

PAM EVENSON

SUPPORTER SPOTLIGHT

As a gift to our members, we offer benefits like PBS Passport. Passport is a streaming service with many hours of entertaining and educational content. Stream shows, including a Masterpiece Mystery like Miss Scarlet & The Duke, catch up on all things history with a documentary by Ken Burns, or learn about foods from across the states with Cooks Country. Whatever the interest, Passport has a variety of shows to captivate all audiences.

This month we are featuring one of Passport's biggest fans, Pam Evenson. Pam is a retired dietician and has gained a spot among our Top Ten Passport viewers. Becoming a sustaining member in late September, she has earned a place on our list of most active streamers. In her free time, Pam likes to enjoy Masterpiece Mysteries. "I am an addict to any kind of mystery show. I love the storylines. I love the scenery. I love the costumes. I love the idiosyncrasies of some of the shows. I find myself sitting and watching from one on to the next." Pam said if she could describe Passport in one word, it would be "surprising." "I really did not think that there was such a variety. It is non-traditional; not the typical TV channels, the typical TV shows, or the typical news." While Pam has seen the world through many unique and fun careers, like being a blackjack dealer, bank teller, hotel manager, and state employee for the South Dakota Department of Health, she still praises Passport for being able to transport its viewers to places they might never have had the chance to see before. She enjoys the "variety and exposure" you get from SDPB that you might not get from other stations. "It gives access to individuals that want to see something besides South Dakota Prairie," says Pam. She continues, "If you want something that has some variety and an opportunity to see places that you may never go to," you can watch Passport.

We are so thankful for our supporters and viewers like Pam. Providing Passport to our members is a way for us to thank you for how much you support us, and we hope you will take advantage of this gift. With our bi-monthly E-newsletter, Passport Picks, you can also enjoy updates on the newest arrivals to this streaming service.

For more information about Passport, visit SDPB.org/Passport. If you have yet to become a member, it is available for anyone who donates $5/month (or $60 per year); you can become a member at SDPB.org/Donate.

"WE GET TRAPPED IN THINKING, 'OH, YOU KNOW, IT'S JUST PBS,' BUT I THINK PEOPLE WOULD BE VERY, VERY SURPRISED AND AMAZED AT ALL THE STUFF THAT IS ON IT. IT IS SURPRISINGLY PLEASING."

POWER

POETRY

By Lori Walsh, host and producer of SDPB's In the Moment

Governor Kristi Noem is expected to appoint a new poet laureate this year, once she receives the official recommendation from the South Dakota State Poetry Society (SDPS).

The state poet laureate is a non-political position and governed by South Dakota law. The most recent legislation ensures the poet laureate serves four years beginning July 1st in years following gubernatorial elections. The appointment opens the door for a poet of merit to support poem reading and poem-making throughout the state.

The state's first poet laureate was Badger Clark, who preferred to be called the "Poet Lariat." Although a poet laureate receives no stipend, the appointment remains one of the state's top honors for the literary arts. Clark didn't grip accolades too tightly. He famously wrote in his diary, "Lord, how I pity the man with a steady job."

In September, the SDPS launched the state's first Poetry Walk in downtown Brookings to honor all of South Dakota's laureates. Poetry aficionados gathered to "walk the walk" and hear renowned poets read poems from each of the state's seven former laureates.

South Dakota Poet Laureates include:

Christine Stewart-Nuñez (2020-2021)

Lee Ann Roripaugh (2015 – 2019)

David Allen Evans (2001 – 2015)

Audrae Visser (1974 – 2001)

Mabel Frederick (July – October 1973)

Adeline Jenny (1958 – 1973)

Badger Clark (1937 – 1957)

EXPLORE

South Dakota

Our goal at South Dakota Public Broadcasting is to Explore South Dakota together with you.

SDPB brings you stories from across the state with the mission to inspire, connect, and entertain every South Dakotan with trusted journalism, quality education, and compelling storytelling.

We know you share this vision.

The Explore South Dakota Fund amplifies our shared vision of equipping South Dakotans with the information and education for an inspirational tomorrow.

As the media landscape changes, SDPB is focusing on in-depth reporting, original storytelling via broadcast and digital, and a return to personal engagement in communities across the state. You can support these activities with a gift to SDPB via the Explore South Dakota Fund. Your gift to the Explore South Dakota Fund will help SDPB create.

- Award Winning News: Beat reporters, South Dakota Focus, and In the Moment are the core of SDPB's news team. Explore South Dakota will expand South Dakota's largest reporting team

- Stories about South Dakota: SDPB is South Dakota's storyteller. Whether it is in South Dakota Focus, Dakota Life, or digitally, these stories of place feature road trips that bring the community of South Dakota to you.

- Prestige Documentaries: Longform storytelling showcasing the issues we face, the history of our state, and the people and places we call home.

- Original Podcasts: Digital storytelling through both regular ongoing series like the "South Dakota News Wrap-Up", and one-time limited series like "Surviving the '72 Flood"

- Experiences: SDPB also exists off of your broadcast dial. With events and outreach, SDPB aims to connect with South Dakotans and grow the SDPB footprint.

Explore South Dakota is the continuation of a shared vision for the SDPB media network between you and the SDPB staff. The Explore South Dakota Fund brings you more relevant, local content because of the generosity of our donors and corporate partners. We welcome your input, questions, and financial support.

Wedding bells chime and animal ailments abound in the highly anticipated new season of All Creatures Great and Small. Season 3 begins in Spring 1939 as James and Helen prepare to walk down the aisle. Should their wedding go off without a hitch—and what are the chances of that?

SDPB1: Sundays, starting January 8, 8pm (7 MT)

Hosted by Air Force combat veteran (and Canton, SD native) Stacy Pearsall, After Action reveals the experiences of 21 diverse veterans from across the country. Conversations about life before, during, and after action provide a deeper appreciation for those who've served.

GREETINGS FROM BUFFALO

Join your friends & neighbors for a screening of SDPB's Dakota Life Greetings from Buffalo.

Tuesday, January 3rd, 7pm at the Harding County Memorial REC Center

Everyone is welcome.

Followed by Q&A.

SDPB wants to hear from you!

Episode premieres

Thursday, Jan. 5th at 8pm (7 MT)

on SDPB1-TV or view it online at

SDPB.org/Watch

Independent Lens The Big Payback: An alderwoman from Evanston, Illinois, led the passage of the first tax-funded reparations for slavery bill in U.S. history for Black Americans. While she and her community struggle with the burden to make restitution for its citizens, a national racial crisis engulfs the country. Will the debt ever be addressed, or is it too late?

NOVA Nazca Desert Mystery

Who created the Nazca lines, one of archaeology's greatest enigmas, and why? Recent finds of long-hidden lines and figures etched into the Peruvian desert offer new clues to the origins and purpose behind these giant desert symbols.

Masterpiece Miss Scarlet and the Duke

Go on the case with private eye Eliza Scarlet, Victorian England's first-ever female sleuth, as she solves crimes – and sometimes flirts – with her partner and childhood friend, Detective Inspector William “The Duke” Wellington.

Passport is available for $5/month. Visit SDPB.org/passport for details.

America ReFramed Marathon

Kick off the new year with a full day of America ReFramed on SDPB.

SDPB2: All day Sunday, January 1

FOR THE LOVE OF RUTLAND

In 2016 the mayor of Rutland, VT, an overwhelmingly white town struggling with income inequality, the opioid epidemic, and political polarization, devised a plan to bring 100 Syrian refugees to invigorate his community. What followed was a deluge of deeply partisan rancor that threatened to split the small New England town in two.

SDPB2: Thursday, January 12, 7 & 11pm (6 & 10 MT)

THE PLACE THAT MAKES US

A quintessential post-industrial American city, Youngstown, Ohio, is seen through the efforts of a new generation. Activists and leaders who have chosen not to abandon their hometown, but to stay, rebuild and make a life for themselves are beholden to the memory of Youngstown's heyday, and together they envision a new future.

SDPB2: Thursday, January 19, 7 & 11pm (6 & 10 MT)

THE AREA

When Deborah Payne discovered that her neighborhood was being demolished to make way for a freight yard, she vowed to be "the last house standing." While their neighborhood is literally being torn apart, residents maintain friendships and traditions while fighting for the respect and compensation they deserve.

Lucky Chow

Season 5 of Lucky Chow returns with six new episodes celebrating Asian culture in America through the lens of culinary makers, eaters, growers, and more. We go island hopping — from Manhattan to Honolulu, in search of next-generation tastemakers, wellness rooted in Asian heritage, and stories of activists fighting for the future while preserving the legacy of Asian food culture in America.

SDPB3: Starting Monday, January 2

See SDPB.org/tvschedules for full listings, program details and schedule changes.
