

Date	Reporter	Key	Segment
1/5/2021	Boose	Arts & Life	Musician Robinlee Garber keeps performing despite losing paid gigs during the
1/11/2021	Medlin	Education	Teachers watching the attack on the Capitol last week wondered how they would discuss it in the classroom
1/12/2021	Boose	Health	A recent virtual meeting answered COVID vaccine questions and tackled concerns for the Black community
1/13/2021	Cavanaugh	Health	Kishwaukee Hospital in DeKalb is vaccinating its employees. A check-in with its Infection Preevntion director
1/15/2021	Libman	Arts & Life	Jason Cregier and Dan Libman speak with some of the people who are turning old places into new spaces
1/15/2021	Medlin	Education	How do you train nurses to go into hospitals during a pandemic, when many won't allow students to do clinicals?
1/21/2021	Medlin	Education	Q & A with Minerva Garcia-Sanchez, new school superintendent in DeKalb
1/22/2021	Boose	Arts & Life	Rockford high school art students created a project combining visual art, poetry,
1/28/2021	Ramirez-Franco	Health	Family members remember a man who died in the COVID outbreak at the LaSalle Veteran's Home
1/29/2021	Medlin	Education	How are private religious schools handling COVID-19 and the vaccine rollout?
2/1/2021	Boose	Arts & Life	A traveling exhibit featuring racist imagery opens at Northern Illinois University
2/1/2021	Cavanaugh	Health	The COVID-19 pandemic is affecting people struggling with addiction and how they're being treated
2/3/2021	Medlin	Education	Schools have identified far fewer homeless students this year than last, but that's not good news
2/5/2021	Cavanaugh	Politics	Candidates for Rockford alderman recently spoke at a forum
2/5/2021	Boose	Arts & Life	More than four million dollars in grants have been given to Illinois organizations to promote racial healing
2/12/2021	Boose	Arts & Life	A married couple in Rockford found themselves out of work when the pandemic
2/18/2021	Boose	Arts & Life	A DeKalb musician started performing virtual concerts when the pandemic
2/19/2021	Medlin	Health	What happens when you file a COVID complaint with the health department?
2/19/2021	Libman	Arts & Life	Under Rocks heads to southern Wisconsin to go ice fishing
2/26/2021	Boose	Arts & Life	Rockford jazz musician and educator Dorothy Paige-Turner reflects on her
3/1/2021	Medlin	Education	Local solutions might be the answer to the state and nationwide teacher
3/3/2021	Boose	Health	COVID-19 vaccinations for Black residents in Kane and DuPage counties are significantly lower than white residents
3/9/2021	Medlin	Education	The Biden Administration announced schools must administer standardized tests during the pandemic
3/12/2021	Ramirez-Franco	Politics	Transparency advocates are worried that Illinois' new police decertification process shuts out the public
3/12/2021	King-Cargile	Arts & Life	STEM Read Podcast on "The Code Breaker: Jennifer Doudna, Gene Editing, and the Future of the Human Race"
3/15/2021	Cavanaugh	Politics	DeKalb mayor candidates hold a forum
3/16/2021	Boose	Arts & Life	Despite not having a home, L.I.F.T Aurora continues to fulfill its vision with the
3/16/2021	Cavanaugh	Business	Revenue from gaming is way down in municipalities across Illinois
3/17/2021	Cavanaugh	Arts & Life	A new book aims to shine a greater light on the history of Irish immigrants to
3/19/2021	Buchanan	Arts & Life	Claire reflects on one full year of working from home
3/23/2021	Medlin	Education	Illinois nonprofits are trying to make those youth in foster care get the school support they need during the pandemic
3/24/2021	Boose	Arts & Life	After tackling her own demons, a northern Illinois musician transitioned to
3/29/2021	Medlin	Education	Five DeKalb High School students talk about what it's like to be back in school