KTMW produces and airs a number of live locally produced studio productions each week. Each program has open phone line available for viewers to call-in to talk with the host and guests to ask questions or make comments. Among the programs are:

“This Week in the Word” Mondays 11am and repeated at 8pm ....which includes a discussion between various local area Church Ministers dealing subjects of interest to the Christian Community. During the program, the pastors also discuss verse by verse different bible passages and how it relates to us today. During this past quarter, they are studying life application principles from the book of John and how the teachings affect our daily lives today. They also discuss the weekly activities planned in the local area churches.

Wednesdays at 8pm the hour long live studio program “Ancient Pathways”, hosted by Jason Wallace, brings in local people for discussions of different issues of concern to Utah people today. They have discussed many issues from racialism to areas dealing with Christianity and Mormonism, living in a Mormon community . This quarter, the program featured several programs on doctrinal differences between various evangelical Christian groups. Callers are encouraged to call to add to the discussion or voice opposition or ask questions.

Thursdays at 8pm Doris Hansen hosts “What Love is This” dealing with people involved in polygamy. Each week the program has people on the program who have been involved in various polygamy communities around Utah. A number of guests appear on her program including many former polygamists who openly described the physical abuse they’ve received while involved in the groups. They also described what led up their departure and escape. Phone lines are open for viewers to call in questions or comments during the program.
