Manager's Memo

James Davie
James Davie
Station Manager PBS Utah

Last month, PBS Utah was recognized as an "Advocate of the Arts" as part of SCERA's STAR Awards. We were thrilled to be honored by the Utah County-based organization which is "dedicated to serving and unifying the community through involvement in the arts."

PBS Utah also believes in the power of the arts to unify, to inspire, and to deepen our understanding of the world and of one another. Our commitment to the arts is evidenced in the tremendous concerts, operas, symphonic performances, Broadway shows, and more that we broadcast and stream. Month in and month out, we bring the most talented dancers, singers, and actors from around the world right to your living room. Many of our shows also offer instruction and inspiration for those seeking to participate in the arts themselves. From Pinkalicious & Peterrific to Great Performances to The Joy of Painting, there's something for every member of the family, regardless of age, interest, or ability.

I'm incredibly proud of the work we do here to highlight local artists and arts organizations. We've shone a spotlight on Utah poets, painters, sculptors, and more through series like This Is Utah, Contact, and VERVE, and through documentaries such as Wallace Stegner, and Maynard Dixon: To the Desert

Again. A new episode of Art Elevated: The Governor's Mansion Artist Awards premieres Monday, March 25, at 8:30 p.m. and celebrates the contributions of several artists to our state's cultural fabric.

Our commitment to the arts extends beyond broadcast as we have curated art and photography exhibitions that have traveled the state and, each year, put on our Writers and Illustrators contest for elementary school children.

We again thank SCERA and their board for honoring PBS Utah with their prestigious award. And we thank you, our members, for making it possible for us to make great arts programming available to everyone in Utah through your financial support.

SPONSOR PROFILE

GETOUTPASS

In today's digital age, it can be challenging for families to break free from the hold of the internet and spend quality time together. That's where GetOutPass comes in. This innovative service is on a mission to provide an affordable solution for families to disconnect from their phones and immerse themselves in meaningful experiences.

GetOutPass opens the door to a world of adventure and excitement. With access to a variety of attractions, such as roller coasters, bowling alleys, laser tag arenas, and local aquariums, there's something for everyone to enjoy. No longer will families have to wonder if a particular attraction is worth the money or if it will be enjoyable. GetOutPass grants members free admission to numerous entertainment venues, ensuring that every experience is not only cost-effective but also memorable.

Behind the creation of GetOutPass is Charles Belliston, a father who personally experienced the difficulty of trying out local attractions with his kids. Concerned about the uncertainty of worth and enjoyment, he decided to take matters into his own hands. Thus, GetOutPass was born, offering families a chance to save money, have fun, and create lasting memories outside the confines of their homes.

Taggart Krueger, President & Co-Founder of GetOutPass, understands the impact that devices can have on family connections. He believes that spending time together without the distractions of phones and screens is vital for fostering meaningful relationships and lasting memories. The GetOutPass was specifically designed to help families save money while creating those precious moments that will be cherished for years to come.
