Days/Times Program Regularly Scheduled: Saturday, 10:00-10:30am CT (7/2/05-9/24/05); Saturday, 10:30-11:00am CT (8/20/05)	Total times aired at regularly scheduled time 13	Number of Preemptions 1	If preempted, complete Preemption Report
Length of Program: 30 (minutes)
Age of Target Child Audience: from 4 years to 8 years
Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.

This program is anchored by Sportacus, a fit and agile hero, whose "kryptonite" is sugar, which makes him instantly lethargic. Sportacus and the program's cast of child characters are challenged in each episode with an issue or dilemma, and are opposed in their attempts to complete their mission by Robbie Rotten, who seeks to return Lazytown to its former lazy ways. The program seeks to impart to preschool and early school-aged children the importance of healthy living, and to help them understand the value of developing sound eating and physical exercise habits, while also providing them positive messages about friendship, empathy, self-respect, truthfulness and other age-appropriate life lessons. This program is specifically designed to further the educational and informational needs of children, has educating and informing children as a significant purpose, and otherwise meets the definition of Core Programming as specified in the Commission's rules.

Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.
 This program, based on the series by David Kirk, follows the adventures of Miss Spider's children and their friends, a hodge-podge of bug creatures of all types. Under the warm and attentive guidance of their parents, the spider children learn that showing kindness toward and understanding of others can be an effective tool in solving problems. In addition to their pro-social storylines, the episodes also include lessons in "backyard biology." The educational objectives of the program are to help children learn the value of being part of a loving, supportive family, and understand the role of family and friends as they begin to engage in new personal and social experiences beyond the home. This program is specifically designed to further the educational and informational needs of children, has educating and informing children as a significant purpose, and otherwise meets the definition of Core Programming as specified in the Commission's rules.

Length of Program: 30 (minutes)
Age of Target Child Audience: from 2 years to 5 years

Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.
Go, Diego, Go is an interactive, informational series designed for preschool and early school-age children, in which Diego, a Latino eight year old who loves nature and animals, teams up with viewers to learn scientific facts and develop strategies in order to rescue animals in each episode. In addition to imparting knowledge about animals, their characteristics and habitats, the program also introduces children to Spanish words, which the viewer is asked to then use strategically, and to Latin American music, folktales and traditions. The educational objectives of the program are to provide children imaginative stories, through which they can develop knowledge of and concern for animals, their habitats, our environment, and to introduce them to another language and culture. By actively involving children in the resolution of each challenge, the program also seeks to impart to them the importance of strategic thinking, cooperation and teamwork in problem-solving. This program is specifically designed to further the educational and informational needs of children, has educating and informing children as a significant purpose, and otherwise meets the definition of Core Programming as specified in the Commission's rules.

Neighborhood Weather Network: Many schools throughout the Kansas City metropolitan area are equipped with Automated Weather Source systems and make up KCTV5's Neighborhood Weather Network. The systems are designed so students and teachers can access their own local weather stations or any other remote station on the network and view the data collected in a number of different formats. This data can be integrated into a hands-on classroom curriculum, including lesson packs for all grade levels. The different weather networks are also used during newscasts to show current weather conditions at different locations throughout the community.
