WTVN
Quarterly Issues/Programs List

WTVN provides its listeners with programming and public service announcements that address issues of concern to our local community. Among the issues determined to be of most concern to the community during the preceding calendar quarter were:

- 2014 Year-End Wrap-Up: This edition featured audio clips of some of the highlight local issues covered in 2014, including teen prescription drug abuse, texting while driving, community safety, family health and fair housing.
- Breast cancer awareness: Beth Kilman of the Ohio Chapter of the National Breast Cancer Organization discussed how more than 2 million people in the United States with breast cancer face an unexpected consequence. She said their bones may become weakened because of the cancer spreading or treatments used to fight it. We posted information and practical tips on the WTVN Communities page.
- Community leadership/volunteering: Local schoolchildren and their teachers were interviewed about how their community service helps their communities grow and teaches leadership skills.
- Disability insurance: Representatives from the Ohio Insurance Institute talked about how half of Generation Y workers lacked disability insurance. They said approximately two-thirds of them between the ages of 21 and 31 are concerned about their families and themselves, but still don't access the coverage.
- Family health: Staff members from the Ohio Dairy Association talked about how diet plays a major role in maintaining good health. They said calcium can help increase bone density, lower blood pressure and help you keep a healthy weight.
- Heart health: Staff members from the American heart Association discussed atrial fibrillation, or sensations of having a fluttering or rapid heartbeat.
- Home weatherization: Ashley Willis of the Columbus Home Weatherization Coalition discussed the plans for older Near East Side neighborhoods as winter approaches.
- Managing arthritis/fundraising event: Rochelle Bailey, Director of Development for the Arthritis Foundation, talked about arthritis research and the upcoming Jingle Bell Run, a three-mile running event that helps to fund programs and services of the organization. iHeartMedia, Inc. - Columbus was the media sponsor for this event.
- Ohio State Student Ambassador Program: Ashley Thomas, a coordinator for the Student Ambassador Program at The Ohio State University, talked about how the program is good for parents who want their kids to become more globally aware. The program is for grades five through twelve and provides teacher-led educational travel for students to experience different cultures.

- Stroke awareness: This edition featured a report on stroke as the leading cause of disability in the United States. The focus was on acute ischemic strokes, which account for 85 percent of all strokes, and is caused by a blood clot in the brain. We posted awareness information on the WTVN Communities page.
- Tax breaks for college costs: Representatives from the Ohio Lifetime Learning Institute talked about how college students and their parents may be glad to learn they can qualify for thousands of dollars in savings on their federal tax return. We posted tax filing solutions and related information on the WTVN Communities page.
