Quarterly Issues/Programs List

WTVN provides its listeners with programming and public service announcements that address issues of concern to our local community. Among the issues determined to be of most concern to the community during the preceding calendar quarter were:

- Allergies and asthma: Representatives from the American Lung Association talked about allergies and asthma and ways to reduce exposure to pollen, dust mites and other allergens.
- Avoiding foreclosure scams: Michael Wallace, a local mortgage management expert, talked about the rise in foreclosure scams. He discussed how troubled homeowners should seek assistance from a HUD-approved counselor or work directly with their mortgage lender.
- Cancer and women: Kathy York of the Department of Recreation talked about the many exercise programs developed to help battle cancers unique to women, including a regular walking activity. She said it can also help cancer survivors live longer, healthier lives.
- Career training: Officials from the Ohio Career Academies discussed how many students graduating high school make a decision to enter career training programs centering on their area of interest, sometimes in addition to college.
- Childhood cancer: Alaina Brown, a Community Director for the Children's Cancer Society, discussed how families of children with cancer often face many expenses health insurance doesn't cover. She talked about the many opportunities for help and emotional support that are available.
- College grants and scholarships: As many high school seniors are narrowing down their college choices, this special edition detailed how to explore grants, scholarships and student loans from all sources, including filing the free application for Federal Student Aid.
- Dairy and nutrition: Officials from the American Dairy Association discussed how dairy foods play an important role in helping to meet the daily calcium needs to build and maintain good health.
- Fatherhood programs: This special Father's Day edition focused on the Fatherhood Initiative, which has programs and services to help men stay active in the lives of their children.

- Heart-healthy eating: Krista Barber, Director of Communications for the American Heart Association talked about how heart-healthy eating can help protect your family from cardiovascular disease, which she said is linked to excess body weight and other risk factors.
- National Prescription Drug Take Back Day: Bernie Lucas of iHeartMedia hosted this special edition on the topic of disposing prescription drugs. Guest Uttam Dhillon, Acting Administrator of the DEA, discussed the Drug Disposal Act, gave information about legal and illegal drugs and the effects on our bodies and talked about locating authorized collection sites.
- New treatments for Parkinson's disease: Officials from the Parkinson Foundation discussed how they strive to discover new and better treatments for Parkinson's disease, a progressive neurological disorder.
- Selective Service System registration: Mark Elliott of the Selective Service System talked about how young men who turn 18 soon after graduation will need to produce proof that they have registered with the Selective Service System in order to get a job, enter training programs or college or join the military.
- Summer Food Service Program: Aleesa Boyer, Communications Coordinator for Children's Hunger Alliance, talked about the Summer Food Service Program, which feeds all school-aged children while school is out for the summer break.
